The Sydney Morning Herald.

No. 23,732. | Registered at the General Post Office, Sydney, for transmission by post as a Newspaper. SYDNEY, SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1914. 32 PAGES. PRICE. 1d.

SUMMARY.

The Right Hon. Ronald C. Munro-Ferguson, M.P., is mentioned as a possible successor to Lord Denman.

It is rumoured that efforts are being made to induce Mr. Lewis Harcourt, Secretary for the Colonies, to accept the appointment.

The efforts made to tow submarine A7 from the mud at the bottom of Whitsand Bay have failed.

Owing to the frequency of accidents to submarines the French Government is substituting steam for oil.

The new Aberdeen liner Euripides has been launched at Belfast.

The opinion is growing in Russia that the Powers should make a naval demonstration in Turkish waters.

Many great country houses in Ulster are being quietly prepared for use as hospitals.

Drilling of men continues nightly in hundreds of centres.

The coal porters in London have accepted the concessions offered by the masters prior to the strike.

London journals eagerly await General Botha's vindication of the acts of the executive in deporting the strike leaders.

The general impression is that the Union Government is in possession of facts justifying their expulsion.

Oliver, one of the strike leaders, who was charged with being in possession of dynamite, has been acquitted by the court-martial.

The inquest into the death of the boy William Starchfield, who was found strangled in a railway car at Shoreditch, has closed.

The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against the father of the boy.

Count Wittee appealed to the Russian Council of the Empire for a crusade against drunkenness.

Two thousand bandits sacked and burned Lao-chow, in China.

Wild scenes were witnessed at a great labour demonstration at Glasgow.

A score of women suffragists had to be carried out bodily, kicking and screaming.

Negotiations between the United States and Japan regarding anti-alien legislation are at a standstill.

The rebels are marching on the capital of Haiti in strong force. All the Ministers have fled to Jamaica.

A blazing meteor struck a mountain in New Zealand and exploded with a terrific detonation.

The municipal elections will be held throughout the State to-day. The hours of polling are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In an address at Kalgoorlie Sir John Forrest advocated a double dissolution of the Federal Parliament.

A fettler named George Ford was knocked down by a train at Redfern and killed.

The Minister has issued a minute discountenancing preference to new arrivals at Cockatoo Island.

The Workers' Compensation Bill has been passed by the Victorian Assembly.

The Power House industrial dispute has been amicably settled.

Mr. Beeby's findings are accepted as satisfactory by the Federated Engine-drivers and Firemen's Association.

The Mortlake Gasworks unions are at a deadlock in respect to the dispute over the allocation of work.

The laundry carters have prepared a log of claims for an award.

The Trades Hall secretaries are dissatisfied with their conditions, and, in some cases, with the rates of pay.

They have appointed a committee to devise the best means of making representations to the unions.

A deputation is to wait on the Prime Minister to urge him to have Australia represented at the Java exhibition.

The heads of the various branches of the Department of Agriculture have welcomed Mr. Ashford, the new Minister.

A stable at Mascot was destroyed by fire yesterday, and two horses were burnt to death.

Another dispute has occurred at the Pelaw Main colliery, the trouble being between the wheelers and the management.

A fire occurred at the sugar mill at Childers (Q.), and considerable damage was done.

At the annual meeting of the Randwick orphanage it was reported that only four deaths had occurred in the institution in 25 years.

A miner named Donald Brown was killed by a fall of ground in the British Mine, Broken Hill, yesterday.

Progress is being made by the Education Department in the development of the Trades schools under the new scheme.

At the conference of the Amateur Swimming Union the question of the suitability of baths in other States was discussed.

It was agreed to approach the municipal authorities with a request to provide more adequate facilities.

The P.L.L. Conference devoted practically the whole of last night's sitting to the consideration of the land and agriculture planks.

Citrus growers in the Dural district state that the present season is the worst they have ever experienced.

Medical representatives discussed with Mr. ... the various aspects of the Federal scheme of medical insurance.

At the annual meeting of the Balmain Hospital the need for extending the accommodation at the institution was referred to.

A widow named Johnson died in St. Vincent's Hospital from the effects of taking liniment in mistake for medicine.

Lectures on town-planning and eugenics have been arranged in connection with the Australasian medical congress in New Zealand.

A scheme for bringing English boys out and giving them a training in farm work is to be inaugurated in New Zealand.

The condition of the Nambucca bar is still a source of anxiety and trouble.

Two members of a launch party were drowned while returning from a picnic near Auckland.

The dispute over rates paid to certain carters at the Lithgow ironworks has been settled, an increase in wages being granted.

The shipowners have rejected the amended log submitted by the waterside workers in Melbourne.

Mr. Edwin Gosch, sen., aged 74, was knocked down by a tram at Circular Quay yesterday, and died an hour later in Sydney Hospital.

The Labour Federation Council at Perth returned a proposal to change the name of Eight-hour Day to Labour Day.

The chief engineer of the steamer Mamari has been killed at Napier through falling down a bunker.

The drought in the Manawatu district, New Zealand, is causing trouble to the flax and other millers.

A good volume of business was effected on 'Change yesterday at firmer prices.

The continued buoyancy of the London market and the general upward trend of values met with a ready response in the local market.

This was particularly the case with Barrier stocks, which changed hands freely at improved values.

Tin, copper and gold stocks were quiet, but dividend propositions commanded solid support.

The metal market was quiet, and business in heavy lines, except wire-netting and galvanised iron, was dull.

The tea market was firm, and full rates were obtained.

At the produce market eggs were still firm. The price of butter was unchanged.

At the Bathurst-street Fruit Markets large supplies of choice Victorian fruit were to hand.

It was cabled yesterday that a better inquiry and a healthier tone were evidenced in the Board tops.

The wheat market was quiet but steady. Millers paid £8 to £8 6s per ton for flour.

Weather.—Fine throughout, with rising temperatures and freshening northerly winds.

HAVE YOU GROWN SWEET CORN?

NO! THEN TRY IT NOW.

This is a DELIGHTFUL VEGETABLE, and—when well served and in the perfect state of growth—is PREFERRED by many to Asparagus. We can recommend those who have not grown it to do so. They will soon acquire a taste for what is a DELICIOUS VEGETABLE.

THE BEST VARIETIES ARE—

ANDERSON'S TABLE QUEEN—A superb variety; large cobs, and white grains of extra quality.

THE METROPOLITAN—Ears nine inches long; exceedingly white in colour during their eatable condition.

GOLDEN BANTAM—A yellow-seeded variety; very early, dwarf, hardy, and prolific.

OTHER FINE VARIETIES:—

EARLY CORY, CROSBY'S EARLY, EARLY MAMMOTH, TRIUMPH.

CULTURE.—Sow in rows, three or four feet apart, and one foot in the rows. Sweet corn will succeed in any moderately rich garden soil. It should be hoed and hilled when about a foot high.

HOW TO COOK.—Corn should be used as quickly as possible after it is gathered, and this should be when the cobs are soft. Before cooking remove the husks and every thread of silk, place the cob into a pot of boiling water, boil five minutes. Serve immediately, wrapped in a cloth on a dish, or like Asparagus. 9d per pint, or 1/ Post Free in N.S.W., other States 1/3. 6d and 3d per packet.

tenants yesterday speaking of "his Wednesday customers" and "his Tuesday Customers," etc.
I was glad to hear it—to the amusement caterer it means much—
It is the straw showing the direction of the wind.
It spells success!
WHY? Because if a certain crowd go to a certain place on a certain day each week, they go because they are satisfied with what they get.
Just think it over—will you?

CHAPTER V.

The Psalmist complained that when he laboured for peace other people made themselves ready for battle. Mr. Mervyn was fond of quoting this verse and Delia was nearly as tired of it as she was of Wordsworth's lines. Circumstances were for ever suggesting it. Outsiders, Mrs. Dann, for instance accustomed t. the fume and fret of a great city, invariably supposed that peace was, if anything, too easily attainable in Druminawona. The place seemed to promise, to Mr. Mervyn certainly, almost excessive peace. He had about fifty parishioners. He had only one child, and he lived strictly within his income. Yet he considered himself a harassed and a worried man.

It is recorded of one of the Egyptian hermits of the fourth century that he retired to an absolutely solitary corner of a remote desert in search of peace, and did not find it. The rustling of the reeds which grew near his cell became intolerable to him. No doubt, had the winds stopped blowing, the persistent activity of the sun, which will keep on rising and setting, would have got on his nerves—so difficult is the attainment of perfect peace.

Mr. Mervyn had more than the reeds and sun to complain of. His fifty parishioners had fifty different annoyances in their lives which Mr. Mervyn shared with them. At least, twenty-five of them had grievances as well, grievances against the Government, the Land Commissioners, the Congested Districts Board, the County Council, and other bodies difficult to get at. They one and all held that Mr. Mervyn ought to have restrained the evil-doers. Sometimes they felt they had been unjustly treated by Divine Providence in the matter of weather, whooping-cough, or the death of a cow; and Mr. Mervyn, as a clergyman, was plainly the responsible person. But, of all his parishioners, Sergeant Ginty was the one whom Mr. Mervyn dreaded most. The others grumbled politely. Sergeant Ginty spoke his mind with the most distressing bluntness.

Therefore Mr. Mervyn sighed when he saw the sergeant waiting for him at the rectory gate. He sighed again, very deeply, when he noticed that the sergeant looked particularly truculent. But Mr. Mervyn was a very good man. A bad man, who was not a clergyman, would have cursed Sergeant Ginty. This would have been very good for the sergeant, and the curser, being bad already, would not have been much injured by the outbreak. A bad man who was a clergyman, and therefore not in a position to curse, would have told the sergeant to call again the next morning, resolving not to be at home when the next morning came. But Mr. Mervyn was very good. He approached the angry sergeant with a gentle deprecating smile. He intended to return a soft answer to any angry speech.

The sergeant fully expected the soft answer and was prepared to make his own speech as hard as possible. He began by a question asked in the fiercest possible tone.

"What's this they're saying?" he said.

Mr. Mervyn did not know. He told the sergeant that he did not know. He added, without much conviction, that the sayings of the people who are described as "they" are invariably unimportant.

"That young lady knows, if you don't," said the sergeant, looking at Delia.

She did not actually know, but she was in a position to guess what was being said by the people who had gathered round her aunt at the church door. She smiled a little maliciously. She did not like Sergeant Ginty.

"She was there at the time," said the sergeant, "and she heard the language that was used."

"What language?" said Mr. Mervyn.

"Ananias," said the sergeant. "Ananias was the word used."

Delia smothered a spasmodic laugh.

"She meant Annas," she said. "She told me so afterwards."

"Who?" asked Mr. Mervyn. "Who said that? I don't understand."

"Aunt Sally May," said Delia, "said the sergeant looked like Ananias, but she meant Annas, she really did."

"Is she a Protestant?" said the sergeant.

"She is," said Mr. Mervyn, "I rather think she's a Baptist. Her husband built a church in New York."

"If she'd been a Papist," said the sergeant, "I wouldn't have said a word about it. They're an ignorant lot, and you can't expect better from them. But if she's any kind of a Protestant she'd know rightly the kind of man that Ananias was."

"It was Caiaphas she had in mind," said Delia. "She got confused about the name."

"Any way," said the sergeant, "it was Ananias she said, and there's plenty will swear to that. I'm going to take an action against her for defamation of character."

"Don't do that," said Mr. Mervyn. "It'll only lead to trouble."

"But I will. I was brought up decent and respectable. I've lived decent and respectable, keeping myself to myself and mixing with no one. It's a poor thing if I'm to be called Ananias to my face, and that within three feet of the church my children was baptised in."

"Think it over until to-morrow," said Mr. Mervyn.

"I've more respect for the Sabbath day," said Sergeant Ginty, "than to be profaning it by going to law on it. I wish there was others," he added bitterly, "that had any regard for it at all."

"I'll speak to her about the matter to-morrow morning," said Mr. Mervyn. "I'm sure there's some mistake which can be cleared up quite easily."

"There's no mistake," said the sergeant, "and there's no use talking to the like of her."

"I'm sure she will express her regret," said Mr. Mervyn. "She wouldn't hurt your feelings willingly. She means to be kind to every one."

"It's a curious way she takes of showing it then," said the sergeant.

Then Delia broke into the conversation.

"Sergeant," she said, "I'm sorry to tell you that Tommy didn't know his catechism this morning."

This was quite true. It had been true every Sunday since Tommy first began to learn the catechism. But Delia did not say it with any desire of effecting an improvement in the boy. She hoped to divert the sergeant's anger to a fresh victim. It was better that Tommy should suffer in the flesh than that her father should be worried in mind.

"Only for what happened to-day," said the sergeant, "I'd leather the catechism into Tommy with my belt. But if I was to strike a blow at him now, he'd cast it up in my teeth that the strange woman up at the church called me Ananias. I'm afeard to look my own son in the face, much less beat him as he should be beat."

This confession of fear recalled to Mr. Mervyn's mind the conversation he had had with Aeneas Sweeny. He, too, had been afraid of the young Gintys.

"It's a very curious thing," he said. "That's almost exactly the feeling that Sweeny has."

"What feelings has Sweeny?" said the sergeant.

"He's afraid of your boys."

"It's the first time I ever heard of Aeneas Sweeny being afraid of anything," said the sergeant. "It's a good thing if somebody would drive terror into him. He wants it."

"Mrs. Dann happened to say yesterday, in his hearing——"

"If the lady called him Ananias," said the sergeant, "there'd be some sense in it, for a bigger liar than Aeneas Sweeny——"

His feelings towards Mrs. Dann were becoming more respectful. He had called her "the woman up at the church." He now admitted that she was a lady. He very much disliked Aeneas Sweeny.

"What she called him," said Mr. Mervyn, "was Judas Iscariot."

"She was right enough there," said the sergeant, "and I wouldn't wonder but the young lads, as soon as they hear it, will cast it up to him and shout it after him when he's going along the street. I wouldn't blame them."

"That's just what Aeneas is afraid of," said Mr. Mervyn.

Sergeant Ginty's anger began to give way to a feeling of satisfaction.

"It's a name that'll stick to him," he said. "There isn't one about the place but will call it to him."

"I hope not," said the rector.

"They will. Don't I know them?" The sergeant chuckled grimly. He found great pleasure in the thought that his boys, and no doubt others with them, would bait Aeneas Sweeny day after day.

"The best thing," said Mr. Mervyn, "is to say nothing about either name. I'll speak to Mrs. Dann about it, and I hope, sergeant, that you'll warn your boys——"

"I'll wait Tommy, anyway," said the sergeant. "He'll be sorry before he has his dinner ate that he didn't know his 'ghostly enemy' when he was asked for it."

This was not exactly what Mr. Mervyn wanted. He intended to expostulate. The sergeant saluted stiffly. Delia was pleased. Tommy had wiped his boots on her dress persistently. He had even kicked her several times.

"Delia," said Mr. Mervyn, as they went into the house together, "I wonder if your aunt will stay here long."

"I hope so," said Delia. "I like her, and she seems very kind."

"There can't be much for her to do in a place like this," said Mr. Mervyn. "I should be sorry to lose her at once, but——"

"She's sure to stay till Mr. Sebright comes," said Delia hopefully, "and I think she's quite able to find occupation for herself."

Mr. Mervyn and Delia sat down together to a very frugal dinner. The income of the rector of Druminawona is so small that only the cheapest kind of maid-servant can be hired. Onny Donovan was paid £8 a year. You cannot expect competence or devotion to duty for such a sum. On weekdays, Onny was wonderfully forgetful, and rarely did anything unless Delia watched her do it. On Sundays she did not even profess to do anything after breakfast. It was understood that she went to Mass at 10 o'clock. This she always did. It was understood that after Mass she went home to see her mother. This she very seldom did, because there was a young man, called Jamesy Casey, who attracted her more than her mother did. Jamesy Casey was in the service of Father Roche; so there was a flavour of sanctity about Onny's love affair. Delia knew all about it. She made no attempt to interfere, and allowed Onny to spend her Sundays as she liked.

Delia's own Sunday mornings were spent in church; so the dinners eaten that day in the rectory were cooked on Saturday. They were, therefore, cold on Sundays, and there were no potatoes. The Irish people have never learned to like cold potatoes. They will not eat them even when oil is poured over them and they are called salad. Mr. Mervyn was a man of quiet and philosophic mind. He said grace over a cold roast chicken, and then quoted Wordsworth. There are quite a large number of passages in Wordsworth's poems which can be quoted appropriately about an unsatisfactory dinner. Mr. Mervyn knew them all. So did Delia. She hated them almost as much as she did the lines about the Sabbath sun. She was not inclined to grumble about having to eat cold chicken, though, in the West of Ireland, a chicken is an exceedingly lean fowl with no breast. She rebelled against being asked to believe that a poor dinner was food either for her soul or her mind. But it was only her heart that rebelled. Her father never suspected that she did not agree with Wordsworth.

A small salary is not, as a rule, preferred to a large one by any kind of man. But there are a few people in the world who are quite honestly thankful that their incomes are small so long as the amount of work expected from them is correspondingly light. Mr. Mervyn was paid no more than £180 a year, which nowadays is reckoned a very small income, so small that even the income tax collectors, a body of men very slow to give back anything, do not attempt to keep much of what they succeed, at first, in deducting from it. Many clergymen receive much larger stipends, but they are expected to do much more work than Mr. Mervyn. He would not willingly have changed places with any of them. He was a humble man, and painfully aware that he did not do what he had to do very well. If he had more to do it seemed likely that he would fail altogether. He was, also, owing no doubt to his fondness for reflective poetry, a wise man. It filled him with no envy to think that there were other clergymen, bustling archdeacons, or energetic rectors, of large parishes, who received three or four times his salary. He knew that these men were harassed with parochial organisations and an intolerable number of services on Sunday. They had better dinners than he did, no doubt, but they were forced to gorge themselves hastily. They had to rush forth, primed for fresh exertions, while chewing the last morsels of their feasts. Mr. Mervyn could eat his meals in peace. He remembered, and quite believed, what Solomon said about the advantages of a dinner of herbs. After dinner Mr. Mervyn could go to sleep.

CHRISTMAS IN LONDON.

(BY ARTHUR MASON.)

London, as is well known, makes curiously varying effect upon the Australian stranger within its gates. Chiefly, he is either fascinated by the great city, or, finding it not to his mind, he is impatient to be gone from it and homeward turned. The matter, after all, is wholly one of point of view. And point of view being no vagrant whim, or momentary caprice, but the cumulative issue of temper and habit, is not easily to be coerced to suit an occasion.

Among other things, the Australian needs for comfortable submission to London the faculty of ordering himself to changed conditions. He must spend no inconsiderable part of his time in adjustment of himself to the unaccustomed. For some tempers that is easy, for some hard, and for some impossible. Hence the tears of so many summer sojourners.

Seen through Australian eyes, the Christmas holidays of London are the merest topsy-turvy. The Londoner's dearest wish for them is that his world shall be white under snow, and that his lakes and his rivers shall have hardened into bearable ice. In any case the sky is low, the air is cold, the frosty streets ring like iron under the tread, the sun, if any sun there be, is a pale and fitful gleam. If, as is possible, the Australian eyes still have vision of what used to be, they will be looking through this world of winter, and they will be wide with the wonder born of the incredible. For they will be at gaze upon another world, a world that they half believe to be an illusion of memory, a world of summer and sunshine and a wide sky, and soft days of open air allurement.

But the Christmas holidays of London are not as yours are in any detail. Christmas Day itself finds London a deserted city. The churches are crowded well enough, but that is only in the morning. The afternoon and night of Christmas Day are sacred to home and the fireside. The streets are absolutely empty of interest, empty even of movement. The roaring life of yesterday has vanished. The most colossal aggregate of humans in any city of the world has faded like a dream. Yesterday, and for many yesterdays, you could scarcely so much as walk for the press and throng of London's immensity of life. To-day you may go freely through mile after mile of it and find yourself solitary save for a belated straggler here and there. It is as though millions of people were magically swept into nothingness. In reality they are close within doors, and if you could see behind the stretch of London's vast acreage of roof and wall you would have glimpse of them jovially there, you would find the millions of their aggregate split into fragmentary families, and their Christmas Day assured, as no other day in their year is assured, of home-keeping festival.

There is, of course, a great holiday exodus from London on Christmas Eve. Thousands of people go to the southern coast resorts in search of the sunshine and the sparkling air believed to await them there. Other thousands take train for the Continent, where Christmas has allurements of its own. The railway stations in London on Christmas Eve, indeed, are filled with proof of the faith of Londoners in the fairness of far things. But, after all, the departure of a million people from London is not noticed. The crowds in the street are still an immensity. So, though many people go away, London's Christmas remains in essence a festival of home.

Then there is Boxing Day, an especially radiant memory of the Australian, wherein the call of the sun and the sea, and the midsummer holiday spirit of a whole people, combine towards what is perhaps the most popular outdoor festival of your year. Here we have a Boxing Day, too; but we wear it with a difference. Our city is still deserted. The people are still in hiding. From this cold world of winter comes no picnic invitation. There are winter walks in the country, and there are football matches in town. But these absorb but few, comparatively, of the holiday-keeping Londoners. The streets wear no aspect of festival. No hurrying crowds are to be seen intently in quest of some or other amusement. The fixtures announced are of no particular allurement. As to Boxing Day, I confess to mystification. The Londoner has it well enough. What he does with it he keeps to himself. All I know is that all day long Boxing Day is empty of him.

But at night it will not be empty of him. On Boxing Night he awakens from his sleep of holiday. The town awakens with him. The lights of theatreland, out these few days past, flame into beacons of attraction. The West End becomes once more a clatter of hurrying thousands. Already, in the afternoon of Boxing Day, the queues are forming in theatreland. In an hour or two they will be all astretch along the pavements. And the theatres are the only things that suggest the relation of holiday to the open air, and as to them, even we only come out to go in again.

That is the essential difference between your Christmas holidays and ours. With you they are filled with the joy of the open. With us they are the pleasant cosiness of indoor idleness. An Australian at home, indeed, would be hard put to it to picture the Christmas holidays of London. But the Londoner enjoys what he has. Probably he extracts more from his Christmas because he is compelled to concentrate himself upon it without hope of diversion from outside. In any case, if you cannot imagine his Christmas, it is certain that he has no glimmer of a notion as to what Christmas under a summer sun may be.

CURED COLDS AND BRONCHITIS.

"Some time ago," writes Mrs. N. J. Johnston, Little River, N.Z., "my two boys, Leonard and Tom, had severe colds and bronchitis. Having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised for the cure of bronchitis I decided to try what it would do for my boys. After the first bottle they showed great improvement and were completely cured by the time they had finished the second bottle.—Advt.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

THE WOMAN'S QUESTION.

There seems to be no abatement in the huge volume of feministic literature which pours continually from the press. Almost every week has its book; lately three have been published, dealing with the woman's question from radically-different standpoints, and with radically-different conclusions. The most interesting of the three is, "The Vocation of Woman," by Mrs. Archibald Colquhoun, which discusses the whole subject of woman's position in society with a great deal of sound sense. Mrs. Colquhoun is an anti-suffragist, not because she objects to women having a vote, but because she regards it as childish to worry over so trifling a matter when there are issues infinitely more vital at stake.

Mrs. Colquhoun's attitude to the whole question of feminism is eminently sane, and, it may be added, very refreshing in these days of intemperate denunciation by would-be champions of either sex. She denies that considerations of superiority or inferiority enter into the case at all. "There is nothing," she writes, "in the whole range of the 'woman problem' more depressing than this perpetual comparison of the sexes, and the attempt to weigh them one against the other, not as complementary factors in nature's scheme, but as rivals for social supremacy. The inquirer who begins on that path will never arrive at any satisfactory conclusion." Moreover, it is not true, as some stalwarts of feminism would have us believe, that the world is divided into two hostile camps of sex, each engaged in a never-ending war against the other. "Sex antagonism" is a bogey who has no real existence. In the mass men and women get on excellently with each other, and man is not slow to recognise woman's practical equality in the affairs of life. Mrs. Colquhoun demolishes some of the arguments which are used to buttress up the contention that woman is treated as an inferior being. A favourite one, for instance, is that a man will give a costly education to his boys, but spends less on his girls. The author points out that this is purely an economic matter; the boys will certainly have to earn their living afterwards; the girls probably will not.

All the modern revolt and agitation for the franchise is largely due, according to Mrs. Colquhoun, to a misconception of woman's true calling. And this, whatever the "enlightened" minority may think, always will be, as it always has been—to be the wife of some man and the mother of children. The vocation of woman lies in the family. There are some to whom such a career does not appeal; there are others who have had to forego it for various reasons, and these are, broadly speaking, the ones who are loudest in protesting that wifehood and motherhood is by no means the principal function of the female sex. These must be provided for in other walks of life, but, after all, the battle of feminism is not primarily for them. The objects that women should fight for are those that concern this essential function. Their efforts should be directed to this great end. Education, legislation, propaganda—all these should have in view not vague aspirations towards sex "emancipation" or "economic equality," but the better preparation of both man and woman for the responsibilities of parenthood. "Much remains to be done to complete the task which woman, ages ago, set before herself. Man still falls far behind woman's ideal of what the father of her children should be. Here, indeed, lies a far deeper and truer ground for discontent and dissatisfaction with life, and here, perhaps, lies the sphere for the true woman's movement. Not on the mere development of her own 'individuality' nor in a self-realization which discounts the claims of others, can woman found her demand that man shall rise to a higher view of sex relations and family responsibilities. How much he has risen under the influence of her gentle stimulus no student of evolution will deny. How far he still falls below her needs and the needs of her children only the aching heart of mothers can know. . . . Woman's task, therefore, is to strive not for an egoism which will enable her to rival man, but to win him to a higher view of the possibilities of life, and of the responsibilities and duties which can only be undertaken by man and woman together." (Macmillan and Co.)

Mrs. Colquhoun is not a believer in suffragism, but her objections to it are mild compared to Sir Almroth Wright's uncompromising hatred of the movement. His famous letter to the "Times" indicated his views on the subject pretty clearly, and he has expanded and rearranged much the same arguments in "The Unexpurgated Case against Woman Suffrage." Sir Almroth Wright is perfectly frank about his estimate of women. He regards their sex as inferior to man, morally, mentally, and physically. Those who are identified with the cause of suffragism fall, according to him, into one of two classes. They are either "sexually embittered"—that is to say, their experience of man has been unfortunate, and has prejudiced them against men in general—or they are "sexually incomplete"—that is to say, young girls or mature women who for some reason or other have never fulfilled their destiny. In either case they are not representative specimens of normal womanhood.

The author believes that the whole case against woman's suffrage resolves itself into certain physiological and psychological disabilities characteristic of the female sex. He discusses these in detail, incidentally demolishing John Stuart Mill, and heaping scorn on the heads of those men who are so unfaithful to their sex as to sympathise with suffragism. He makes his points with the bludgeon rather than with the rapier, and brings the whole battery of scientific dogma to bear upon the outposts of feminism. There is a considerable element of logic in many of his arguments, but the very vehemence and acrimony of his diatribe rather defeats its end, by enlisting our sympathy with the other side. (Constable: G. Robertson.)

In "Modern Woman and How to Manage Her," by Walter M. Gallichan, the very title may put some readers up in arms. It suggests the idea of an unruly horse, who is to be schooled and gentled by the superior being, man. However, the author has no intention of offending. He is an enthusiastic admirer of woman, and all her works; he believes in militant suffragism, and he even looks forward to the prospect of a matriarchal state. His book contains nothing of any particular importance, and his discussions of sex antagonism, and love and marriage, and so forth, do not add much to the sum of our knowledge. However, it is brightly written, with an abundance of pithy sayings and apt allusions, and though Mr. Gallichan's views are not always novel, they are usually sensible enough. (Werner Laurie.)

"BUTCHER" CUMBERLAND.

In the drama of history a hero usually necessitates a villain as a foil. In order that the virtues of the one may shine the brighter by contrast, posterity demands that there should be an evil genius, and often invests the latter with a sinister reputation which he scarcely deserved. This has been the case with Prince Charlie and Cumberland, the victor of Culloden. An atmosphere of romance and glamour surrounds the figure of the one; he is the flower of chivalry and the incarnation of all princely graces. Cumberland, on the other hand, has been held up to universal execration, and has gone down to posterity under the odious nickname of "the Butcher." Yet under the impartial analysis of the historian the tradition is as groundless in the one case as it is in the other.

"William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland," by the Hon. Evan Charteris, is a belated attempt to clear the character of his subject from the slanders and misconceptions which have become associated with it. He whitewashes Cumberland by showing that he was a product of his age, and, so far from being worse, he was probably better than the majority of his contemporaries. "The charges brought against the Duke," he writes, "in so far as they are not tainted by exaggeration, are charges applicable to the England of his time. It has therefore been thought expedient in the present volume, at the risk of traversing some familiar ground, to emphasise the extent to which Cumberland was an epitome of the political, moral, and social conditions of his age." Accordingly, he gives an interesting sketch of the manners and customs of the day, which explain the callousness with which war used to be conducted. Our ancestors were a strong-stomached race, who found their amusement in watching executions, floggings, prize-fights between women stripped to the waist, the baiting of bears and bulls with fireworks tied to them in order to madden them. When they made war it would be absurd to expect them to show the same solicitude for the enemy which modern sentiment demands.

Cumberland has been accused of excessive brutality in stamping out the rising in the Highlands. He certainly left a trail of blood, but the circumstances seemed to demand it. England had been thoroughly scared at finding the prince and his wild clansmen at Derby. The English troops had become thoroughly demoralised by their defeats, and Mr. Charteris points out that it was Cumberland's business to put "heart and discipline into an army which had been cowed and disorganised by Preston Pans and Falkirk." The natural reaction from the extreme of panic was the extreme of vindictiveness, and in depopulating the Highlands the Duke was acting not on his own responsibility, but as the instrument of a policy of vengeance conceived in London. He, himself, no doubt, quite agreed with it; after the surrender of Carlisle, he writes, "I wish I could have blooded the soldiers with these villians, but it would have cost us many a brave fellow, and it comes to the same in the end, as they have no sort of claim to the King's mercy, and I sincerely hope that they will meet with none." Still, this is a very different thing to the insane and insatiable lust for slaughter with which he is usually credited.

For the rest, Mr. Charteris has a good deal to say of the European wars of the period, and of the part Cumberland played in them. He appears to have served with some credit in Flanders; he was very popular with his men, and various authorities testify to the effect that his presence had on the morals of his troops. Altogether it is an interesting biography, and though Mr. Charteris stops short at 1748 in the 28th year of his subject, he promises to deal with the rest of his career in a subsequent volume. (Arnold.)

ROUND THE EMPIRE.

Not long ago Mr. Alex Hill visited Australia, his primary object apparently being to deliver extension lectures in Western Australia. He came via the Suez Canal, and returned by way of New Zealand and Canada. His two children kept a "log" of their travels, which Mr. Hill has since written up, completed, and published under the title of "Round the British Empire." One suspects, however, that the "writing-up" was responsible for the lion's share of the contents. It is a pleasant book, which describes in an agreeable fashion the incidents of the voyage, the places visited en route, and the reflections inspired by the latter. It does not differ very materially from other productions of the kind, except that these travellers' progress was more leisurely than that of most tourists, and they had, therefore, greater opportunities for observation upon which to base their observation. They spent some time in Western Australia, visited the goldfields and country districts, and were greatly struck with the possibilities of this State. Indeed, throughout their peregrinations in Australia they showed a spirit of appreciation, and their criticisms are few and far between. Despite the inadequacy of the service and the rigidity of the hours for meals, they declare that "there is much more solid comfort to be found in a colonial hotel than in a hotel managed on the European plan." They are properly enthusiastic over Sydney Harbour, but they are moved to a very reasonable protest against our horrible habit of naming our towns and suburbs by adding a French termination to an English proper name. "Healesville" was the place that booked the protest, but, at any rate, it is better that "Emmaville" or "Daveyville" or Erskineville." There is an interesting little dissertation on the reason why imported pests flourish so exceedingly in Australia. Our flora and fauna, isolated from the rest of the world, have had too easy a time of it. They have never had to struggle for existance, and when the hardy northerner, who has for centuries fought against man and nature, arrives here, he finds himself in a species of earthly paradise. That is why the briar and thistle cover the ground; the sparrow drives the native birds far back into the bush; the European bee dispossesses the native; the fox becomes a nuisance, and the rabbit "just occupies the land."

When Mr. Hill has dealt so kindly with us, it seems ungracious to criticise his statements. But occasionally his facts and figures are inaccurate, and it is difficult to believe that at the time of which he writes he had no alternative but to travel to New Zealand in a tub of 1200 tons, which "could not steam more than 12 knots an hour, and, what was more, was dirty, ill-found, uncomfortable, and crowded;" at any rate, the "Terror," as he calls it, is the exception rather than the rule in modern Australian shipping. (Herbert Jenkins.)

A EUROPEAN IN MOGUL INDIA.

The daily experiences of a traveller through Asia in the time of Charles II. would be interesting reading however they were set forth. But when that traveller is the Italian attendant of an English nobleman, Lord Bellomont, who had to flee from Britain when Charles I. lost his life; and who, with a commission from Charles II. to collect a debt from the Shah of Persia, and an intelligent desire to see the world, set off by himself on a journey through Turkey and Persia to India, it can be imagined that the diary is doubly fascinating. In India Lord Bellomont died; and his companion, Niccoloa Manucci, had the luck to be taken on as an artillery man by Prince Dara Shukoh, eldest son of the Emperor Shajahan. How he sought his adventurous fortunes, first at one Indian court and then at another until he found retirement in the English settlement of Fort St George, married an English widow named Clarke, and acted as envoy for the British Governor there—this forms the main subject matter of the translation of his diary by the late William L. Irvine, since abridged by his daughter, and now published in popular form under the title, "A Pepys of Mogul India." Many readers will be astonished to find how constantly, even in these early days of British trade, the English trader was found established in the cities even in the interior of Asia. At Ispahan, in Persia, where the Ambassador went through a final scene with the Persian Prime Minister, which makes most amusing reading, although the humour is quite unintended, a certain Mestre Jhon (Mister Young), the head of a British factory there, held out the hand of friendship to his countryman. They found four churches at Ispahan; a Carmelite missionary at Shiraz; and an English factory at Bandar Abbas, in the Persian Gulf. Whilst at Surat, they found that the Civil War had actually followed them, and attempts were made to get Lord Bellomont on to an English ship and send him as a prisoner to England. (John Murray.)

A LAYMEN'S BIBLE.

In "The Layman's Old Testament" Canon Glazebrook has completed a very valuable work. The book is exactly what it pretends to be—a book from which the layman who has no time to be a student can draw the history and the teaching of the Old Testament in a form supported by the very latest scholarship, and yet not divorced from the text of the Bible itself. With the least possible alteration, by the inclusion of one or two books usually omitted as apocryphal, the omission of certain others, and the rearrangement of the remainder in historical order translated in accordance with the best scholarship of the revised version, and explained by a few footnotes and some excellent maps, Canon Glazebrook has produced a version of the Old Testament which will be to the layman what many laymen expected that the Revised Version of the Old Testament would have been—the offering to the plain man of a text illuminated by modern scholarship, and the whole of which can be read without the aid of a commentary. It covers the whole range of the Old Testament, although greatly smaller in bulk. It contains all that is most characteristic of Hebrew history and prophecy, poetry, and philosophy. The history has been made continuous. The books of prophets and "wisdom" writers have been arranged so as to follow each other in chronological order. And those parts of the books of the prophets which are now known to be poetry are printed in poetical form. The narrative chapters of Jeremiah, which are of very great interest although but little read, are included amongst the historical books, partly filling the gap between the books of Kings and Ezra. Parts of three very important apocryphal books have been added—the first book of Maccabees, which is an essential part of Israelite history; and the book of Ecclesiasticus and the Wisdom of Solomon, without which no adequate idea can be formed of the "wisdom" literature. (Oxford University.)

SOME NEW NOVELS.

Those who wish an admirable picture of life in Anglo-Indian official circles should read "The Unforgiving Minute," by Irene Burn. The story is put in the mouth of a young bride, who goes out to Quilabad to be married, mindful of the parting injunction of a retired pro-consul that there are three things necessary to salvation to the female in India—"a coat lined with fur, a complete set of Mr. Kipling's works, and a sense of humour." We do not hear very much of the first, but obviously Miss Burn is thoroughly acquainted with the second, while the third, and a highly developed one it is, is in evidence throughout these pages. First we are told of her initiation into the manners and customs of Indian society, and we are introduced to al' manner of people, who are sketched with a sure touch. There is no plot in the ordinary sense; the novel is one of character, and the author, in a succession of brilliant chapters, paints for us the tragedies and joys and flirtations and diversions of an Indian station. India is a land of violent contrasts. The gay and irresponsible subaltern who danced with you one night may be missing the next, the victim of some heroic and sometimes quixotic attempt to uphold the honour of the British Raj. This is a type several of whose representatives we find in Miss Burn's pages, but it is by no means the only one. We meet the matron, whose intellectual horizon is bounded by servants and "jharaus" (the native name for a duster and the shibboleth of domestic efficiency); we meet the superior young person fresh from England, who comes to teach and remains to learn; we meet the loyal wife and help-meet who, in spite of occasional "Mrs. Reever's" is to be found in India no less than in other parts of the world, and finally we are given an account of the great Durbar which affords a more vivid picture of its atmosphere and its significance than many more pretentious histories. (Fisher Unwin.)

There is good material for romance in the Scilly Islands, with their jagged rock-bound coasts, and their whirling tides, their harvests of wreck and destruction, and their fierce hard-bitten inhabitants—material which Mr. E. J. Tiddy has exploited most successfully in "Maze of Scilly." This is a collection of tales of the islands in times gone by. The first describes how Admiral Sir Cloudesley Shovel, fresh from his victories in the Mediterranean, piled up three great men-of-war on these angry reefs; the last tells of the odd caprices of wind and current, which lead a ship to the very gates of death and then snatch it away again, the sport of these inscrutable forces. In the interval Mr. Tiddy goes through the whole gamut of Scillonian life. His characters are pilots, wreckers, smugglers, and their women folk, who, hard as the granite rocks, are even swifter to take their toll of the sea. He tells of their superstitions and vendettas, their contraband runnings, their cruelty and their heroism. Occasionally the author writes in a lighter vein, but most of these stories are as grim and ruthless as the actors in them, and show that in Mr. Tiddy a new writer of unusual power has appeared. (John Long, Ltd.)

"Barbara Halliday" is the eponymous heroine of an Australian novel by Mrs. Marion Miller Knowles. She hails from Gippsland, where in the course of time she becomes a teacher in a State school. Subsequently she is sent to the Mallee country—the education authorities are evidently believers in the psychological value of contrast—and her experiences are the subject of the story. Mrs. Knowles describes the life of a country school teacher with great fidelity and painstaking accuracy, and though the action flags a little at times, the book makes quite a pleasant impression. (G. Robertson.)

An American young lady, a southerner, who reads Darwin before she puts her hair up, is naturally coming to an interesting end. Her relations think so, and the bishop thinks so—herein is the material for a character study, and a good novel in the shape of "Hagar," by Mary Johnston. From such beginnings it is only natural that Hagar—whose mother also exhibited a little originality, but lacked the strength to live up to it—should develop into a rebel and a pillar of the Women's Movement. The Women's Movement, however, does not mean the entire exclusion of man from these pages. John Fay, the bridge-builder, the worker of great man's works, succeeds in winning for himself a part of Hagar's enthusiasms—on one condition. "You're aware that I shall work on through life for the fairer social order," she tells him, "and that, generally speaking, the Women Movement has me for keeps?" "I'm aware," he answers. "I'm going to help you." It is not necessary to be interested in the Women Movement in order to be interested in this story. But if it were, the conditions of women workers in the country in which the story is placed would amply justify its theme. (Constable.)

In "News from the Duchy," Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch returns to the delectable duchy, and—in some of the stories contained in it,—to Troy Town. And as usual, when "Q" gets to Troy Town, the reader is inclined to wish that he would never leave it; not that the other stories are not good ones—breezy, hearty, characteristic yarns; but that the Troy Town stories are almost invariably the best. Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch possesses probably the easiest style of any living British author, and Troy never fails to call out the humour which is the other ingredient necessary for one of "Q's" best stories. Such a story, for example, is "The Merry-go-Round" at Troy. There is only one incident in it—the rest is "Q's" art. He might be quite content to let the book be judged by that story alone. (George Bell and Sons.)

POETRY.

It is difficult to pick the gems from a setting that is evenly filled with them. But perhaps the verses with which it is introduced will give as good an idea as any others of the scope of the series of childish songs by Rabindranath Tagore, collected in "The Crescent Moon." (Macmillan.)

> I paced alone on the road across the field while the sunset was hiding its last gold like a miser.
> The daylight sank deeper and deeper into the darkness, and the widowed land, whose harvest had been reaped, lay silent.
> Suddenly a boy's shrill voice rose into the sky. He traversed the dark unseen, leaving the track of his song across the hush of the evening.
> His village home lay there at the end of the waste land, beyond the sugarcane field, hidden among the shadows of the banana and the slender areca palm, the cocoanut, and the dark green jack-fruit trees.
> I stopped for a moment in my lonely way under the starlight, and saw spread before me the darkened earth surrounding with her arms countless homes furnished with cradles and beds, mothers' hearts and evening lamps, and young lives glad with a gladness that knows nothing of its value for the world.

It would be hard to match in baby literature the exquisite delicacy of some of these poems. Take the following passage from "The Source":—

> The sleep that flits on baby's eyes—does anyone know from where it comes? Yes, there is a rumour that it has its dwelling where, in the fairy village among the shadows of the forest, dimly lit with glow-worms, there hang two shy buds of enchantment. From there it comes to kiss baby's eyes.
> The smile that flickers on baby's lips when he sleeps—does anybody know where it was born? Yes, there is a rumour that a young pale beam of a crescent moon touched the edge of a vanishing autumn cloud, and there the smile was first born in the dream of a dew-washed morning—the smile that flickers on baby's lips when he sleeps.

This edition is illustrated with eight striking drawings, in colour, by Indian artists, which reveal the influence of Japanese methods in a remarkable degree.

FEELS A NEW WOMAN.

"I cannot say too much about Chamberlain's Tablets," says Mrs. Edith Wall, Clermont, Q., "for since taking them I feel a new woman. I was a martyr to biliousness and sick headache until I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised as a cure for these complaints. I gave them a trial and found them simply wonderful. Now I would not be without them for any money.—Advt.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

With the latest London files, closing on Boxing Day, news is to hand of the holiday attractions promised to Christmas playgoers. The children appear to be particularly well catered for this year. Drury Lane, which, of course, has great Christmas traditions to live up to, had in view a pantomime combined of modern splendours, and, for a change, the ancient harlequinade. "Sleeping Beauty Re-awakened" is its style and title, and Mr. George Graves and Miss Florence Smithson head the cast of actors, which cast, by the way, is said to contain 500 performers. Drury Lane does its Christmas pantomime in a big way, evidently as to which it is to be regretfully noticed that this production is described in the advertisements as not a pantomime at all, but a musical play. At the Duke of York's Theatre, "Quality-street" remains in the evening bill, but "Peter Pan," still refusing to grow up, makes his tenth annual appearance at daily matinee performances, with dainty Miss Pauline Chase once more the bright particular star of the piece. At the Globe Theatre, afternoon performances of a new children's play, "The Shepherdess Without a Heart," had already begun, the first night criticisms hailing it as a delightful surprise. At the Garrick, "Where the Rainbow Ends," which has charmed the children twice before, is again revived by Mr. Charles Hawtrey. At the Lyceum, the pantomime is "Beauty and the Beast," while the Comedy Theatre is providing matinees of "Alice in Wonderland." The Court has a children's theatre of an assorted kind, while the Coronet, the Brixton, the Britannia, Hoxton, and the Borough, Stratford, are but a few of the suburban London theatres announcing pantomimes.

Otherwise, the instantaneous success of a new revue, "Hullo Tango," at the Hippodrome, and the Savoy season of Mr. Granville Barker are the outstanding events of recent weeks in London. It was at the Hippodrome that the best of London revues, "Hullo Ragtime," was produced, and the new piece has the advantage of a cast which includes Miss Ethel Levey, a wonderfully versatile artist, who made the success of the ragtime revue, and many other of its favourites, besides Mr. Harry Tate, of motoring fame. Mr. Granville Barker, to whom H. B. Irving, closing down on "A Grand Seigneur," has sub-let the Savoy, will continue there the splendid repertory programme which he has been giving at the St. James's, but will presently change it for a great production of "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Miss Una Bourne, the well-known Melbourne pianist, is at present in London. She recently toured England as the solo pianist of Mme. Melba's concert party, a position which she has now filled on four tours with the great singer. Miss Bourne had a very successful time in the provinces, her press notices being consistently favourable. Accompanied by Miss Mona McCaughey, a Melbourne soprano, she is now in Germany for a series of song and pianoforte recitals at Berlin, Dresden, and Leipsic, in which the Australian musicians will be associated.

By the Otway come to Australia the new dramatic company organised in London for the J. C. Williamson direction, with a view to the performance here of the successful plays, "Joseph and his Brethren" and "Sealed Orders." The names include those of Miss Ethel Warwick, Miss Dorothy Whitaker, Miss Eva Moss, Miss Nancy Girling, Mr. Edward O'Neill, Mr. Malcolm Searle, Mr. Hodgson Taylor, and Mr. Frank Harvey. Mr. Cecil King, producer, who has been at His Majesty's, was accorded a fine "send-off" reception on the stage of that famous theatre prior to his departure from London. Incidentally, Sir Herbert Tree presented Mr. King with a scroll inscribed by some two hundred of his well-wishers, a cheque for £200, a handsome travelling-case, and, from himself, a gold cigarette case. "Joseph and His Brethren" was, at latest advices, still running strongly at His Majesty's, with children's matinees announced to commence on New Year's Day. "Sealed Orders" was a triumphant success at Drury Lane, and is not there now only because Boxing Day and pantomime had to be served.

Active preparations at Covent Garden announced, at the end of the year, the important German season of opera at which, in February, will be produced for the first time in England, Wagner's "Parsifal." The interest in this event would, naturally, be of the highest, and it is not surprising to read that the reserved seats were being rapidly disposed of in December. Miss Rosina Buckman will appear as one of the flower maidens. The principals generally will be famous German singers. Other works listed include "Die Meistersinger," "Tristan and Isolde," "The Valkyrie," and Mehul's "Joseph."

Miss Maud Allan, the great classical dancer, whose tour of Australia will shortly commence, is probably the most original dancer on the English stage. She seldom uses the scenery by which such artists as Genee and Pavlova contrive a pictorial illusion, but gets her effects by an artistic arrangement of curtains changing in colour according to the mood of the dance. Her dances vary wonderfully in character, for just so much as the "Spring Song" dance may be expressive of innocent gaiety, so is the "Salome Dance" the epitome of tragic remorse. Every mood and every emotion is cleverly described by Maud Allan. Although her repertoire is already considerable, Miss Allan is continually adding new items to the list. Most of them are inspired by famous pieces of music, and she is indebted to the composition of such artists as Chopin, Mendelssohn, and Debussy for the material for her most fascinating conceptions. Her avowed object is to reveal the spirit of the music.

With justifiable pride in the achievements of the past, and with great hopes for the musical future of Sydney, the Royal Philharmonic Society this week enters upon its thirtieth year. At the annual meeting Judge Backhouse emphasised the fact that despite the distractions of the Tango and the tendency towards the grotesque in music, the society had maintained its high level of musical culture, and still cherished its high ideals. Mr. Joseph Bradley, in outlining the coming season's work, dealt specially with the programme which is to be given at the fourth subscription concert. This class of concert, with a miscellaneous programme, allows the introduction of classical orchestral work, and has been most popular in the past. Most of the music will be entirely new to Sydney, and will include that very fine example of the modern school of descriptive writing, "Sea Drift" (Delius), the strenuous "Wanderer's Storm Song" (Strauss), Bach's motet "Be Not Afraid," and that wonderfully effective piece of music, "The Jolly Goshawk," by Hamish M'Cunn. The first three concerts of the season will be devoted to "The Passion" (Bach), Sir Edward Elgar's "King Olaf," and the third act of "Tannhauser," and Verdi's "The Requiem."

There was an interesting little ceremony at The King's Theatre, Melbourne, on January 14, when Mr. William Anderson celebrated the anniversary of his birth. After the performance of "The Land of Nod" the members of the company assembled on the stage, and the call boy was sent with a note to Mr. Anderson, stating that the company would like to see him on a very important matter. The proprietor of The King's wondered what the important matter was, but he was not left in doubt long, for the instant he appeared he was cheered, and his health was proposed and enthusiastically drunk. Mr. Anderson suitably responded. While "The Land of Nod" is proceeding merrily on its way at The King's Theatre, Mr. Anderson is busy preparing for future movements. With four companies to provide dates for, he has been kept hard at it, but after extended negotiations he has at last been able to announce their movements. "The Land of Nod" will be kept on at The King's Theatre till it makes way for Mr. Bert Bailey's Company, which will play the American drama "The Ninety and Nine." The pantomime will open at the Palace Theatre, Sydney, when the American Musical Burlesque Company starts on an extended tour, embracing Tasmania, Bendigo, Geelong, Ballarat, Auckland, and Western Australia. The new dramatic company which is being organised by Mr. Anderson will take the road early in March.

Mr. George Dean, who was tendered a complimentary farewell at the Little Theatre yesterday, has been for 30 years before the Australian public, and is now leaving for America. He came from England under engagement to Mr. George Musgrove for "Tambour Major," in which play it will be remembered Miss Nellie Stewart played the Drummer Boy. Since then he has appeared in practically every theatre in Australia, dividing his time between pantomime, comic opera, drama, and vaudeville. Twice he visited England, where he scored well in pantomime and melodrama, and at the music halls.

THE CHURCHES.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR SUNDAY.

Throughout the world to-morrow will be set aside in all Protestant Churches as "Christian Endeavour Sunday." The Christian Endeavour movement was started 32 years ago, its founder being the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, who was then in charge of the Williston Congregational Church, Portland, Maine, U.S.A. It has now spread throughout the world, and there is scarcely a country but has its national Christian Endeavour Union and its own publications. The "sun never sets" on the societies of Christian Endeavour. In the Occident and the Orient they are equally at home. From the northernmost point of inhabited Alaska, at Barrow Point, to Invercargill, New Zealand, the most southerly town of any size, Christian Endeavour is to be found. The whole of Europe is alive with Christian Endeavour, and is specially cared for by the European National Union, which has four employed field secretaries working in its interests. Right through from Spain to Russia and Norway the work is increasing rapidly. The one society has multiplied more than one hundred thousand times on the roll of the World's Christian Endeavour Union. More than five million members are at present in the existing societies in 80 countries, and working under the world-wide motto of the movement, "for Christ and the Church" in no less than 80 evangelical denominations. In missionary lands the society has been proved specially valuable in the work among the converts, enabling the missionaries to train the natives to undertake the most useful and efficient services possible. In the Far East, China, Japan, and Korea, the Christian Endeavour Society has been firmly established. Notwithstanding the unfavourable conditions in China of late there are now over 800 societies being conducted, with a membership of 25,000. The Japanese National Union not long since celebrated its 21st anniversary with a membership of many thousands, and an acceptance of the responsibility of missionary work in Korea.

BUSH MISSIONARIES.

A summary of the work of the New South Wales Bush Missionary Society during 1913, shows:—Miles travelled, 4271. Families visited, 1370. Services held, 161. Bibles and books sold (value), £139 10s 4d. Tracts and Scripture portions given away, 3000. The full story of the year's operations was told at the 57th annual meeting held in the Bathurst-street Baptist Church on Thursday. "The Bush Missionary," says the report, "visits the people in their homes in districts where the minister is but seldom, and indeed sometimes never seen, and tells the story of redemption to those who have no other opportunity of hearing it. Nor is that all. Travelling in a van drawn by a strong horse, loaded with Scriptures and other good books which plainly and faithfully declare the way of Salvation and the doctrines of Christianity—by selling them, he is enabled to leave behind him a reminder of his message and a lasting witness to the same effect."

The balance-sheet showed the year had been a successful one financially. Addresses of an inspiring nature were given by missionaries Mailer, Stevens, and Ritter. Mr. William Arnott presided during the afternoon, and the Rev. A. J. Waldock during the evening.

The Rev. J. Newton Stephen, B.A., Sydney University, and a graduate of Ridley Hall, Cambridge, was one of the two Australians ordained to the priesthood on St. Thomas's Day in St. Paul's Cathedral. The other was the Rev. James Ferguson Colquhoun, of Melbourne.

The Rev. J. A. Cawdell, formerly assitant curate of Rookwood and Auburn, recently died at the age of 85. Mr. Cawdell, who retired from active duty last year, worked for some time in the Auburn parish as a layman. He was ordained deacon in 1901, and priest in 1904.

The Rev. K. L. McKeown, of the Bush Brotherhood, who was invalided to Sydney three months ago, has now returned to his work at Gilgandra. Mr. McKeown, who has been spending a few days on the Blue Mountains, is a son of the Rev. Robert McKeown, rector of St. Mary's, Waverley.

Archdeacon Boyce, rector of St. Paul's, Redfern, leaves for England on the first of next month. His place will be taken by the Rev. H. J. Noble, rector of Liverpool.

The Rev. J. W. Symonds has begun work as curate in the parish of Lower Macleay.

The rectorship of Kangaroo Valley has been offered by Dr. Wright to the Rev. E. Shipley, curate of St. John's, Ashfield. The present rector, Rev. R. Pitt Owen, is acting as locum tenens at Liverpool for 12 months.

The Rev. H. S. Begbie, on his return from Honolulu, will spend some time in Sydney, being absent from his parish about two months.

Among recent arrivals from England is the Rev. Harry Hyde, formerly curate of St. John's, Darlinghurst, who hopes to take up work in the diocese.

The Rev. S. E. Maxted, rector of Haberfield, is officiating at All Souls', Leichhardt, in the absence of Rev. H. S. Begbie.

The Rev. W. P. F. Dorp, rector of Condobolin, who has resigned his parish, leaves for England shortly.

The parishioners of the Lower Macleay recently made a handsome presentation to their vicar, the Rev. C. J. Chambers.

The new rector of West Wallsend is to be the Rev. George Brown, rector of Gresford.

Some years ago Mr. E. W. Doulton was sent from Sydney to East Africa on missionary work for the Church Missionary Association of New South Wales. He was recently ordained deacon at Kilomani, German East Africa, by the Bishop of Mombassa, and on the following Sunday was advanced to the priesthood.

A former student of Moore College, and one of the oldest clergy in the Melbourne diocese, recently died at the age of 82. This was the Rev. Andrew Toomath, who was ordained in 1867. He retired from active duty in 1903.

Canon Flower, rector of Darling Point, and Mr. C. R. Walsh, prothonotary of the Supreme Court, and a lay canon of St. Andrew's Cathedral, have been appointed by the N.S.W. Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society as its representatives to the parent society. Canon Flower is now on his way to London.

The Rev. P. S. Moore was recently entertained by the parishioners of St. John's, Glebe, prior to his entry on his new duties as assistant curate of St. James's, Sydney, and made the recipient of a number of presentations. The rector, Canon Cranswick, presided.

The Rev. A. B. G. Hillington, whose father was at one time rector of Yass, has accepted the living of St. John's, Paddington, London.

The Rev. H. Latimer Jackson, formerly rector of St. James's, Sydney, who recently published a work on "The Eschatology of Jesus," has recently taken his D.D. degree at Cambridge.

Among those present at the special service held in St. Dunstan's in the East, London, on January 26, to mark the anniversary of Australia's foundation, were the Bishop of Rochester (formerly Bishop of Adelaide), and Bishop Thornton, formerly Bishop of Ballarat.

Dr. Kelly, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Sydney, left Sydney yesterday for Cooma on an episcopal visitation.

On Thursday last a solemn office and requiem Mass was held in the Memorial Church, North Sydney, on behalf of the late Mother Mary of the Cross, founder of the congregation of the Sisters of St. Joseph of the Sacred Heart. Dr. Kelly presided. At the close of the ceremony the remains were interred in a vault specially constructed in the church.

Dr. Carroll, Roman Catholic Bishop of Lismore, on the eve of his departure for his first episcopal visit to Rome, was presented with an illuminated address on behalf of parishioners, and also an address on behalf of the local branches of the Hibernian Society at the Cathedral recently.

The Rev. Father Little of Riverview College, Five Dock, has been transfered to Melbourne. He is succeeded at Riverview by the Rev. Father O'Sullivan.

An announcement was made at the Synod on Tuesday that the jubilee celebration of St. Patrick's College, Manly, will take place somewhere about the time of Corpus Christi.

Mr. Raymond Preston, the Yorkshire evangelist and singer, has been conducting a ten days' mission in the Rozelle Methodist Mission Hall. Mr. Preston is under engagement for a year by the evangelistic committee of the New South Wales Conference.

Mr. E. K. Bowden, ex-M.P., conducted the Orchard Hills Methodist Church anniversary services recently.

The Rev. J. H. Wheen, general secretary for Methodist Missions, was among the speakers at a one-day conference held at Beecroft last Monday, under the auspices of the New South Wales Mission Study Council.

The Rev. J. E. Carruthers, president of the conference, conducted the anniversary services of the Katoomba Methodist Church last Sunday.

Under the charge of Messrs. Hutchinson, Browne, Roberts, Cranswick, Anderson, and Orr, of the Sydney University, with the Rev. Dr. Bromilow, of Strathfield as commandant, a very successful week's camp for Great Public schoolboys was recently held at Newport.

The Rev. James Woolnough has decided to continue his work in the Methodist Home Mission Office. He is now practically recovered from his late illness, though necessarily compelled to avoid any over-excitement.

The membership of the Newcastle District Christian Endeavour Union has largely increased owing to a remarkable revival of interest. It has been decided to hold the annual convention of the northern union in April.

The Rev. Walter F. Adeney, D.D., ex-chairman of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, and ex-principal of the Lancashire College, arrived in Wellington (N.Z.), last week. After a tour of New Zealand he will, at the end of March, visit Australia.

Next wek the Rev. L. C. Parkin, B.A., will be inducted at Chatswood Congregational Church, the pastorate of which he has accepted.

The members of the Roseville Congregational Church have purchased a site on which they intend to build a new church. For some months the services have been conducted in a hall, chiefly by the Rev. Geo. Campbell.

The Rev. H. Halmarick, of Orange Baptist Church, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to return to his work.

The Rev. A. Driver, who has finished his studies at the Baptist College, Melbourne, has accepted a call to the church at Carandale, and will be ordained in the Petersham Baptist Church next Wednesday evening.

The new Baptist Church at Campsie will be opened this afternoon.

The Rev. L. Sale-Harrison, B.D., of the Ballarat Baptist Church, has been supplying the pulpit of the Petersham church during the absence of the Rev. B. Gawthrop on holidays.

At the annual meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian Church at Glen Innes, the committee of management reported that the year closed with a credit balance of £61. It was decided to increase the minister's salary by £25 per annum, and the matter of erecting a new Sunday-school was referred to a sub-committee for report.

Rev. Hugh Paton, the well-known Presbyterian evangelist, has just concluded a fortnight's services at Blackheath. Attendances were excellent, and on Saturday night the missioner addressed a crowded meeting in the open-air. Mr. Paton is now conducting a mission at Dumbleton.

Mr. F. Cockren, secretary of the Open-air Mission in England, is due in Melbourne next month, and will afterwards visit Sydney.

The first of the courses in the Association School of Christian Training began at the Sydney Y.M.C.A. on January 20. Six lectures on "Some Principles of Applied Psychology" are to be given by the Rev. J. T. Lawton.

Mr. Gillanders, the general secretary, is very enthusiastic concerning the prospects of the school, which he believes will grow into a really efficient training centre for men who want to do effective service in the churches.

The Interstate Y.M.C.A. tournament is to be held in Brisbane, beginning on Saturday, April 11. A large contingent from Sydney will go, and special preparation is being made to ensure the best representation in all the competitions.

President Wilson, of the United States, is a member of the Washington Y.M.C.A.

Commissioner Hay presided at the opening of the new Medindie Salvation Army maternity home (South Australia), a mansion purchased through the generosity of Mr. J. M. M'Bride, a wealthy pastoralist, who gave £3000 towards its purchase of the premises. The cost was £3100, and alterations, furnishings, and fencing amounted to £1500. The home contains 28 rooms, and provides for 42 patients.

Mr. M'Bride, who performed the opening ceremony, recently gave £4000 towards a new Bible Institute at Wayville, and has been a generous donor to many charities.

Mr. Wyndham S. Heathcote, B.A., formerly curate of the Anglican Church, Bundaberg, Queensland, has accepted a call to the charge of the Unitarian Church, Melbourne. Mr. Heathcote is a cousin to Sir John Fuller, recently Governor of Victoria.

At its last meeting the Foreign Mission Committee unanimously decided to extend its sphere in the New Hebrides by accepting the responsibility of placing a man in the immediate future at Nogugu, lately vacated by Dr. Taylor. This step has been taken with the generous acquiescence of the Victorian Church.

During February the Foreign Missions secretary will hold two Bible study schools, one at Drummoyne from 9th to 14th inst., and the other at Burwood from 16th to 21st inst.

MANY SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, WITH NERVES COMPLETELY BROKEN DOWN.

Until I Was Advised by My Friends to Take Clements Tonic.

I Have No More Sleepless Nights.

Here is a case of insomnia, and how quickly it breaks up the system all those who have had it know. It is a bad enough complaint in itself, but it is also the cause of other ailments which may mean permanent ill-health. All those who are martyrs to broken rest and nerve exhaustion through worry and other trouble should read this testimony:—

"90 Carabella-street,
"Milson's Pt., Sydney, 1/4/12.

"CLEMENTS TONIC, LTD.

"For the past four years I suffered dreadfully with insomnia. The many sleepless nights caused my nerves to completely break down.

"I was unable to eat, and became very weak. I was under medical treatment, but nothing seemed to do me any good, until I was advised to take Clements Tonic. After taking four bottles my health improved wonderfully, and at present I feel AS IF I HAD NEVER HAD A SLEEPLESS NIGHT. I can strongly advise anyone who may be suffering from nerves or insomnia to take a few bottles of Clements Tonic. You may use this as you wish.

"(Signed) Mrs. M. HOWARTH."

This splendid letter tells all women who are ill what a splendid medicine Clements Tonic is for the relief of ailments from which women suffer, such as Anaemia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Liver Ailments, Kidney Troubles, Constipation, Palpitation, etc. Its action is sure to cure. Thousands swear by it everywhere. Keep it in your home or when travelling. It is the greatest nerve tonic known. ALL CHEMISTS AND STORES SELL IT.—Advt.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Uric Acid Causes Dangerous Torturing Troubles when the Kidneys are Sick.

Uric Acid is a deadly poison that is produced in the human body, and it is the duty of the kidneys to collect this poison from the blood, and to pass it safely out of the system, together with all waste water.

But it does not take much to set the kidneys back, and when they get behind, they cannot right themselves without help. The uric acid clogs the kidneys, causing that dull, heavy aching in the back, and sharp twinges when stooping or lifting.

It attacks the nerves with neuralgia and sciatica. It brings headache, dizziness, languor, and disorders of the urine. Try a good kidney medicine, if you have any of the above symptoms.

There is nothing else so prompt and effective as Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and this remedy has no effect on the other organs, except to drive out the uric poison that interrupts their action.

WHAT SYDNEY PEOPLE SAY:

The Downward Course.

Lame Back,
Backache,
Weak Back,
Dizzy,
Despondent,
Too Free
Urination

of Urine,
Rheumatic Pains,
Diabetes,
Dropsy,
Bright's Disease.

FOREST LODGE.

Mr. W. R. Francis, Plasterer, 113 Arundle-street, Forest Lodge, Sydney, says:—"I suffered with severe backache, the pain was just over the kidneys. I was so bad that when I had to stoop down it was almost impossible to get my back straight again, and every movement increased the pain, and I had to knock off work. A friend advised me to use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, saying they had cured him, and he was so earnest that I got some. I used two bottles and can safely say that I am cured. I advise all who suffer with backache to get Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I feel no pain now, and can stoop without any trouble."

Nine years later, Mrs. Francis says:—"My husband has been free of backache since Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cured him nine years ago."

PARRAMATTA.

Mrs. T. Walton, Lamont-street, Parramatta, says:—"For a good while I have been suffering from severe backache. I kept on trying remedies, but the ailment seemed to be getting worse instead of better. If I were to stoop my side also became very painful. Reading of similar cases being cured by Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, lead me to try this remedy. After using one bottle I felt better, so went on with them, and six bottles of the Pills completed my cure. Three years have elapsed since then, and I have been well all that time, so my cure has been well tested. I have also a good word to say for Doan's Dinner Pills, for they cured me of constipation and relieved me of indigestion."

Two years later Mrs. Walton says:—"My cure has proved permanent, I have had no sign of backache since Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cured me five years ago."

REDFERN.

Mrs. C. Horne, Boot Store, 52 Abercrombie-street, city, says:—"For years I suffered from severe pains in my back and hips, caused through my kidneys being weak and disordered. Other symptoms were loss of appetite, sleepless nights, bad headaches, and a dull tired feeling, which I could not get rid of. No one has any idea how I suffered, and I was beginning to think life was a misery to me, but I am thankful to say all that is changed now. I heard someone speaking very well of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, so got a bottle to try them, and this wonderful remedy soon drove the pain out of my back, and restored my kidneys to a healthy state. I now feel a different woman, and I am very grateful to Doan's Backache Kidney Pills for my lasting cure. I have been perfectly well since these Pills cured me—two years ago—and I have no fear of my ailment ever returning."

PADDINGTON.

Mr. J. H. Peigrave, 45 Gipps-street, Paddington, writes:—"I think it my duty to say, for the benefit of other sufferers from weak kidneys and urinary trouble, that I have found nothing so effectual for these ailments as Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and I hope the publishing of this testimonial will be the means of benefiting many. Nearly all my life I have suffered a lot from weak kidneys and urinary trouble, and have taken all sorts of medicines in the hope of finding a cure, but none of them did me any good. I have also been under medical men, but their treatment also failed to benefit me in any way. I was advised to take a course of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and I am delighted to tell you these pills cured me, and I fell in better health now than I have done for years. I cannot praise this remedy sufficiently for the good it has done me."

LIFE IN LONDON AND THEREABOUT.

(CHRONICLED BY SIR HENRY LUCY.)

Some "Bulls"—Prince of Wales as a Gunner—Wynyard Park—Odds and Ends of London Clubs.

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 26.

It should be said that the trotting out of what are called Irish "bulls" was a custom by no means confined to the Nationalists. I recall one or two from the stockyard of Ulster members worthy of Sir Pat O'Brien in his prime. When Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Bill of 1892 was to the fore, Captain Craig declared "The naked sword is drawn for the fight, and never again will the black smoke of Nationalist tar-barrels drip on the Home Rule wind to darken the hearts of Englishmen." The spirit of prophecy was at fault, the mixing of metaphors is sublime. It was another Craig, also an Ulster member and still with us, who in debate on the Irish Labourers' Bill remarked, "If this Bill passes I see before the Irish labourer a future from which he has for too many years past been kept out." Whilst bulls are scarce in the House of Commons it is the more pleasing to hear them roaring in pastures beyond Westminster. Mr. Larkin revisiting Dublin and addressing a crowd from one of the windows of Liberty Hall, noted that the English trade delegates had shown themselves hostile to the Transport Union. "But," proudly boasted its founder, "our union can stand solid on its own bottom."

By odd coincidence Mr. Austen Chamberlain of all men, speaking at Manchester the same night, unconsciously, undesignedly, came in competition with the Irishman in this particular game. "The sands are running out," he said, "and unless the Prime Minister acts quickly, events may take the reins out of his hands." This hint of the desirability, not to say the necessity, of arresting the running out of the sands by judicious handling of the reins, is good. Perhaps because it is briefer, I should be inclined to give the palm to Mr. Stanley Wilson, M.P., who, making the best of the small Unionist majority that gave him a seat at Holderness, said "We managed by a short head to dam the flowing tide."

One of the guns included in the party invitide to meet the King at Barn Hall tells me the Prince of Wales, who arrived on the second day, established a rapidly growing reputation as a shot. The gift is hereditary since his Majesty is reckoned among the five best shots in the Kingdom. The best is the present Marquis of Ripon, whom his Majesty nearly approaches in excellence. In this respect the principle of heredity does not go far back. His late Majesty King Edward VII. did not distinguish himself behind the butts.

Wynyard Park, where Lord and Lady Londonderry have been entertaining a succession of week-end parties, is one of the houses the building of which went far towards crippling its owner. The Lord Londonderry who lived in the reign of George IV. decided to pull down the old mansion which had come into the family with the hand of the heiress of the Vane-Tempests, and build another that should excel everything. This it did excel: even the sumptuous rent-roll of the Londonderrys. When it was ready for occupation Lord Londonderry found it convenient to go and live quietly abroad in order to economise. That was an odd episode in the business, but it was not the conclusion. One day after Lord and Lady Londonderry had been living for some time in the South of Europe, saving up their money and looking forward to the time when they should get back to Wynyard and keep open house, there came a courier with the news that the newly-built palace had been burnt to the ground, and with it had been destroyed a number of pictures and a collection of china the like of which was not left on land or sea. There was nothing to be done but to set to work again, and the Lord Londonderry of 70 years ago, continuing to live in modest retirement, built the splendid mansion where the late King Edward was a frequent guest.

An interesting book might be written about the private clubs of London, whose names are not to be found in the ordinary list. One of the best known, the Eighty Club, is political. Like the Cobden Club, it has no local habitation, and does not descend to the frivolity of dinners. For many years the Cobden Club had its annual dinner at Greenwich. After dinner there was some brisk speaking. It was at one of these festivals that Mr. Chamberlain, alluding to the incoming of Lord Salisbury as the result of a chance division in the Commons, stamped him and his colleagues with the withering label, "The Stop-gap Government." The Fox Club is a somewhat similar institution, inasmuch as it has no clubhouse of its own. Once a year the members meet at Brooks's, where they dine and drink in solemn silence to the memory of the statesman whose name the club bears. On another level is a club called the Sette of Odd Volumes. These dine monthly, call each other "Your oddship," and otherwise gravely gambol. There was once, and may be still, a club called the Knights, who dined at Simpson's in the Strand. Every man at the table is for the time being a knight, and is so addressed under pain of fine—a feeble sort of humour this, such as the conies might be expected to indulge in supposing they formed clubs.

A club in the city which had its birth on the Stock Exchange, calls itself the Put and Call Club. It might just as well call itself the Contango and Backwardation Club, that serving equally as an excuse for meeting at brief intervals at one or other of the famous hostelries of the city, where the turtle soup is irreproachable and the champagne of prime vintage. There is the Thirteen Club, membership being strictly limited to that number. They sit down to dinner 13 strong, contriving, if possible, to pass under a ladder on the way. They choose Friday for their day of meeting, cross knives, spill salt, and do all kinds of things reputed to be unlucky, and yet live and thrive.

After the general election of 1892 a new club was formed, called The Articles. It consisted of 39 members, among the earliest being Lord Rosebery, Sir Charles Russell, Mr. Lockwood, and nearly a score of the younger Radical section of members of the House of Commons. They met at the National Liberal Club once a fortnight, dined together, and discussed the affairs of the nation. Another association—to call it a club would seem irreverent—is The Souls. This is a small and very select gathering of both sexes. Profound secrecy is maintained as to its relations and proceedings. It is understood that The Souls never do anything so cordial as dining, at least not in their corporate capacity. Like the Freemasons they have a secret sign, though as they are all personally acquainted it is not of practical use. Mr. Arthur Balfour was at one time a Soul, but the growing cares of State have drawn him away, and from the time he became leader of the House of Commons he ceased to perform the actual functions of membership—whatever they may be.

Another club of a different class which has also vanished from the scene was the Amphitryon. This was inaugurated in a quiet street off Piccadilly, where ladies and gentlemen duly admitted might have the best cooked viands and the rarest vintage wines at the highest prices. It was quite the thing to belong to it, and to talk afterwards of how much you were charged for a particular dish. All its arrangements were severely simple. The common dining-room was rather reminiscent of a comfortable kitchen. There was, it is true, a Louis XVI. room upstairs, where I once dined, one of a small party got together by Mr. Harry Chaplin. My neighbour at the table, a great city financier, told me a heart-breaking story of the latest charges in the public dining-room. Amongst the dishes served to a party of four was asparagus. When the bill came in the item was found at the price of 15/. A tot of old brandy, dimly discernible at the bottom of a large goblet, was half-a-crown. I expect these would be quite reasonable charges compared with those prevalent in the splendour of the Louis XVI. room. Among the regular frequenters of the Amphitryon was Lord Randolph Churchill. His first letter on the great problem of the Government of the Cape, opening a series he communicated to a London morning newspaper, described the sorrowful daily fare provided for him on board ship. He confessed that he was forever sighing for one glorious hour at the Amphitryon.

A WOMAN'S LETTER.

Christmas Clothes.

LONDON W., Dec. 19.

I have not much to say of dress that is absolutely new. People are provided with most things, the only new touches are evening dresses, which are in great request just now, as the uses for dancing frocks are many. I went down to a place in Sloane-square, which has developed wonderfully. It began some ten years ago or more as a smart blouse and skirt shop, but now the newest designs in evening gowns, in hats, and, indeed, all manner of new costumes, are to be had there. I was particularly struck with their way of mixing colours. They put one ninon over another till you get the effect of a rainbow shadowed in mist or "rosy-fingered dawn" coming over a horizon of palest grey. It is done in this way. The foundation to all gowns is some form of charmeuse skirt. On this skirt are draped shades of ninon or chiffon. I saw purple and blue draped over green charmeuse, pink and purple over grey and pale blue, with a pink charmeuse foundation, all skilfully done, and with the happiest effects. One of the methods of making a tunic struck me as happy. You take the length of chiffon or ninon you want, and take it right across the figure, shorter in front, then the ends come to each side of the back breadth, and are allowed to hang as long as the gown. The edges are treated in any way that seems suitable. These tunics go into beautiful lines, and are a change after so much twisting and turning of drapery. They finish off some of their tunics with button-hole stitch in different colours. One trimming I thought rather novel were little trees wrought in darning stitch backwards and forwards in the shape and semblance of a tree worked in filoselle, and here and there a little orange was worked on in a fat round of padded silks. You could, of course, get the effect in ribbon work; the little green tree with a brown stem and tiny oranges made of a cluster of French knots. The little trees were put here or there, just where one thought they were most effective. I am sure many of us could make our frocks look much more "finished" if we were to touch them up with little flowers in this way. The French houses are so good at an unexpected touch of colour.

I am at this moment having some things done up for my Christmas visits, and one of them is a black ninon blouse which has thick guipure lace in an old shade of cream placed under the ninon, and in other places veiled. At the throat I have left a V-shaped piece of the lace uncovered, which I am outlining with little old-world pink roses set close together. It will form a kind of ring defining the lace, and will sit neatly against the throat. Cuffs, too, could have a few roses or other flowers set where the press hooks fasten them. We are so fond now of closely-fitting sleeves that press hooks are much used to clip the cuff a shade closer to the wrist.

House Decorations.

I shall be, ere long, in the middle of plans for the decoration of a house into which we move at Lady Day. It is, as you know, a momentous question; nothing gives rise to so much family discussion as the scheme of decoration. However, in these days of plain, patternless wall papers it is not so very difficult. In the house to which we are going the hall is a narrow one, so is the staircase, and it has occurred to me that if it were hung with a plain stone-coloured paper, the favourite thing just now, every mark will show on it, and luggage being carried up, or the laundry hampers, may mark it, so I have hit upon an idea which may be useful to others in like circumstances. I propose to paper the passages with one of the new bright papers, with a design of birds and bright flowers, a very much covered paper, full of good colour. This will come about the height of one's chin. Above that will be a distempered wall in a shade of ivory, on which we shall hang pictures, which will just touch the top line of the wall paper. It is like a scheme I saw in an artist's house, which much pleased me. This idea of mine has passed the family council without a dissentient voice. The dining-room and a room shut off by folding doors, will be done in a warm brown paper, perfectly plain. This will form a background for a large number of fine sepia-toned photographs, all framed in brown, all family things, taken while on holidays abroad, Switzerland, Brittany, the Ardennes, the East, and many places in England of beauty. The paint will be in both rooms, brown, and what cretonnes or chintzes needed will be in a well-covered pattern; possibly a chintz with lots of ripe grapes or fruits and touches of brown, with deep green leaves. Some well-covered design whatever it is. The cane chairs will be painted brown, the table slip, probably some piece of brown linen, embroidered boldly with chestnuts and leaves. With some pieces of blue and white china, and a little Belgian brass, which I have collected at Bruges, a decent dresser-like sideboard, and any amount of books, in a set of shelves, I think I shall not be ashamed of my new venture. It will have a repose that blue and white china and books always give to a room. The house looks on to an open square, so we shall at times view a sunset. The drawing-room has the same outlook, and as we have a good many pictures in water-colours, and a few bits of decent china to give colour, we think of a cream-white paper with, perhaps, a tiny stripe of the same colour. Painting all white, the ceiling shall be papered with pink roses in some kind of trellis design. I have tried the idea in our old home, and as it has proved a success, we shall again have flowery ceilings. The dining-room will be of a deeper tone, of course. Our drawing-room cretonnes are of shades of pink peonies, birds, and trees, so there will be colour enough. The carpet, I daresay, will be of some shade of brown or drab, with a plain surround of one of the new felt linoleums which are stained right through and look exactly like felt when laid down. These are done in many plain colours, green, pink, and so on, but for a background to a square of carpet the least conspicuous colour is best.

I personally propose a pink bedroom for myself, as I have several pictures framed in black, and they never look better than on a vieux rose wall. Mrs. Campbell Praed used to have a charming boudoir papered in this colour, with a fine collection of old engravings framed in carved white wood frames. I was always fond of that room. I am sorry to say that this gifted Australian is not as well just now as her friends would wish. She is trying to winter in London, in her beautiful flat at Oakwood Court, and it would seem possible she has plenty of air up there, and a sight of the fine trees in Lord Holland's estate on which these flats look. Furniture is so delightfully reproduced now from antique examples that it is easy enough to get one's house to look refined, and at the same time picturesque, while chintz and cretonnes have never been as fascinating. The great idea seems to have them well covered with design. This country is a dear, lovable place to live in, and one wants nothing better, but the crusade against dirt and darkness dismays all housewives and their maids. The fight never ceases.

The Theatrical World.

I have been to see "The Gauntlet," by Bjornsen, produced for the woman's theatre last week at the Coronet Theatre.

I did not go to Brieux's Femme Seule, which Mrs. Bernard Shaw translated and christened "Woman on Her Own." Miss Lena Ashwell and a large and brilliant company of London actresses performed "The Gauntlet" very interestingly. It dealt with the refusal of a girl to marry the man to whom she had been formally betrothed, on account of a liaison coming to light of which his fiancee was ignorant. The woman concerned was dead; her husband was out for blackmail. The two young people were very much in love, but as a modern girl, she proclaimed her right to a purity of the past in the man she was engaged to marry. No new question, of course, and the fact that the problem was not answered in the play proves that Bjornsen, like many another student of human nature, found it impossible to answer. All that could be hoped for was that Time would heal the breach. She found that her own mother had had much to bear, and bearing this the girl became less bitter. The acting was wonderfully fine. Mr. O. B. Clarence made a wonderful hit as Riis, and Miss Edyth Olive played well as his wife. Miss Erita Lascelles was the heroine Svava, and Mr. Harry Irvine, Alfred. Christensen was magnificently played by Mr. Charles Vane, an actor with a sense of character I should like to see again. The play is beautifully written, and the theme absorbing, but alas! who is to say that the question can ever be worked out to the satisfaction of the feminine party.

GRANADA.

EL PALACIO ARABE.

(BY A. B. PIDDINGTON.)

II.

But the third and crowning glory of the Alhambra, in which perhaps no rival has ever entered or will enter the lists of controversy, is the arabesque decoration which set floors and dados aflame with colour, and covered walls and roofs with an unbroken brocade of fine pencilling and intricate design. In making and applying patterns the Moor was no confectioner, cutting out shapes with a mould; he was a thinker, and, indeed, a mathematician. The use of flower and leaf is comparatively rare; that of fruit almost entirely absent, except that the pomegranate figures often as a central or terminal point in the pattern. Neither flower, leaf, nor fruit is ever reproduced in the natural; it is, as Owen Jones (the teacher of all students of the Alhambra) says, "translated through the loom." The pomegranate, for example, is much more like a pine cone than the real "granada," and its leaves are often thickened and broadened till they suggest the solid and fleshy texture and the primitive shapes of seaweed, and yet neither in this nor in their approximation to the mathematical curves are they ever allowed to become a settled conventional form, as is, e.g., the acanthus in a Corinthian capital. The Moor searched indefatigably in the recesses of a tenacious mind, brooding with Oriental patience over the matter of its thought for variety, and he may have instinctively rejected the exact mimicry of Nature and the consequential fixity of types, knowing that in halls destined for repose or meditation the mind would easily be jaded by the incessant iteration of the same image, just as a sick person finds insufferable the monotonous repetition of roses or vine-leaves in the mechanically-multiplied figuring of wallpaper. The adoption of a conventional outline for a sheaf of leaves or a flower or a fruit would have closed the door on variety, while their free treatment in a scheme of decoration by lines and curves left the Moorish artist at ease so to compound his designs as to produce an infinite variety which age cannot wither nor custom stale.

Except, however, for the rare inclusion of tribute drawn from the garden or the forest, the pattern-makers who decorated the Alhambra surfaces built up their schemes by the use of straight or curved lines which they made to stream or radiate from the central spring of the design, and then to cross one another, or to return on their direction as desired, and finally to lead to the next area to be covered. In these collocations of lines the artist, with but few exceptions, combined facet against facet, the three dominating figures of the equilateral triangle, the rectangle and the isosceles triangle, and then covered the several parts of his combination with colour in such a way as to produce effects of interlacing, not of mere juxtaposition. Suppose, e.g., that the designer is using lines in three colours—green, blue, and yellow (gold). If a green line is to go through the two sides of the yellow isosceles, he would make it pass under the first side, but over the second. As a result the pattern seems woven on a loom out of coloured plaits or ribbons, and stands out from the wall as if the decoration were in two planes. At other times a dark streak on the edge of a leaf, with a white streak on the other, will bring up the object as if in alto relievo, or a slight break of continuity—by the use of white—in the coloured lines will make the whole design simulate mosaic instead of painted work. But the fund of artifice and invention in producing multiform schemes out of the three simple geometrical figures mentioned was inexhaustible, and was drawn on always with a due regard for the part of the building to be decorated. Thus mosaics in the floors are simpler and bolder than dados or the lining of pilasters, while in such work as cornices on the upper spaces of the spandrils complexity of design gives a note of honour, and here curvilinear tracery is set running in an ordered riot of richness, which treads its sober bacchante measure onwards and upwards to the superb climaxes of the roof. In the choice of colours, too, observance of degree is lifted into the severity of a canon; and while the secondary colours were admitted to the dados, where repose for the eye was desired, the primary colours alone are seen in the roofs and the intervening high areas, where brightness and boldness can rain down their influence without producing fatigue.

The roofs of the Alhambra constitute almost a science in themselves, and have produced an equal wonder in the architect, the engineer, and the decorator. Here at least the wigwam hypothesis is certainly at fault, for the half-orange, the dome, the waggonhead and the stalactite shape of ceiling occur without anywhere an approach to the conical vault which alone could simulate the tentroof. Of these the stalactite model is the most wonderful and most original, and it is perhaps not to be seen elsewhere in Europe, except in the borrowed motives of the frieze in the Alcazar at Seville. The name is only a poor approximation suggested by the hanging pieces of painted stucco which indent the plane of the vault with clusters of climbing cusps, all absolutely regular, and all constructed on the same mathematical forms (though now with curves worked into them) which form the basis already mentioned of the rectilinear figuring. And here the art of first capturing the mind by the general effect of the mass and then retaining its attention and its wonder by the attraction of detail, is seen in its highest manifestation.

"A fairy tale, a fairy tale" (Ein Marchen, ein Marchen) was the comment of a visiting German on the Alhambra, and this it is exactly which sums up the charm, the proto-natural grace, the lightness and free poise, the romance and dancing vitality of these sunlit courts, these cool secreted chambers, these jewelled halls, these alcoves, divans, and far-glancing tower-windows. But it is the magical creation, not of some genii of the ring or the lamp, invoking in a thaumaturgic moment of power, a wealth and luxury to beggar earthly conceptions, but of serious and thoughtful men, alive to the truth that "beauty draws us with a single hair," but conscious also that many men and many generations must meditate and labour faithfully before the brilliant ambitions of the mind can take abiding shape and enduring expression in architecture. The Arabesque is, on first impression, or in the imitations made of it nowadays by machine processes, the easiest and most ungoverned of all styles of ornamentation; in its originals and in its home, it is the most intellectual, and in a good sense, laborious. It was thought of one Sultan of Granada that his profuse use of gold in a new building was due to his power of transmuting the baser metals, but he and all his race knew well that there is no alchemy but labour, and they illustrated in the centuries during which the Alhambra rose and grew the favourite moral of so many of their fables, such as that of the treasure buried in the fields, or of the healing drug secreted in the wooden handle of the tool, and only brought into healing operation by the sweat of the man who used it. And it was this governing precept of unremitting toil which led a nation whose practice was voluptuous, and whose promised paradise was abandon, to exhibit in their Art, with all its wealth, its pride, and its revelry in colour and line, a sobriety and control which redeem it from mere sensuous caprice or cloying facility. Their art is sunny, but never vicious, and it is a singular circumstance that, voluptuaries though they were, they nowhere let go the dignity of manhood, or betook themselves to that open worship of the physical senses which has pervaded much of the literature and the paintings—even in the religious art—of Southern Europe, and which touched some of the greatest of men with what Ruskin denounced as the "dark carnality" of Michael Angelo. The cooling waters of ablution carried in the Alhambra into every living-chamber, and fed perennially by near and inexhaustible snows, seem to have their counterpart of coolness and limpidity in the temperance and the decency of every foot of decoration in the palace.

In one attempt only have the Moors failed, and that is in the painted ceiling of the Sala del Tribunal, where the 12 sworded and bearded figures represented the Sultans, or perhaps the Judges, of Granada. Looking at these crude representations, and remembering that when Granada fell the Van Eyeks had been dead for 50 years, and Giotto for yet another century; Botticelli and Gian Bellini, Leonardo da Vinci and Carpaccio, were flourishing; while Raphael, Titian, and Tintoretto were close at hand, the mind of the Northerner is seized with a nostalgia for its own domicile of origin, and he feels that he would not exchange a braid of Monna Lisa's hair, or a glance from the eye, big with fate and with horror piteously overwhelming triumph, of Botticelli's Judith, for all the contents of the Alhambra," if their gift was coupled with the condition that here the art of man was to halt. In these things it is with every traveller, as it is in respect of the peoples and the manners of the countries through which he has moved. He has found amongst strangers how warm and kind is the general heart of man; he has admired the talent, revelled in the art, or gloried in the greatness of other nations; but sooner or later he turns again to faces and scenes that are familiar, to speech and ways that are his, and to that spot of earth where life, emptied of glamour, but made bracing by reality, nourishes him with the unsating daily food of work and friendships in a country of his own.

PICTURES OF TRAVEL.

VI.

NEWCASTLE TO SYDNEY.

(BY W. MOGFORD HAMLET.)

Rocks and bright gold sands,
Islands and creeks and amber-fretted strands.
—Keats.

To the ordinary business traveller, Newcastle is a well-known centre for coal and commerce; consisting of miles of straggling coal trucks, shops, and shipping—a sombre study in black and white. Were you to suggest to him a picture of the town, enriched with a splash of romantic colour in the foreground, you would only provoke his good-humoured but pitying smile. Yet the picture is there all the time. Colour, lights, shadows, historic setting, and a background of human interest, while the romance is still in the making.

Once upon a time certain pirates who lived in a secluded rocky fastness near Barrenjoey, for the ishmaelite was then in the land, cleverly contrived and successfully carried out an attack on his Majesty's sloop Cumberland; and at a given signal seized the captain and officers and made off with the vessel. Two of the ship's crew escaped and walked overland, as we are now walking, and reported the affair to headquarters at Sydney Cove, whereupon Lieutenant Shortland was despatched in hot haste with an armed band of soldiers in the gunboat Reliance, to recapture the Cumberland and take the pirates prisoners.

Shortland sailed north, making for Port Stephens, a place where they would most likely be in hiding; but they were never found; it is more than likely they were lost after venturing outside Broken Bay.

While on his way back in September, 1797, Shortland discovered a harbour, and a river originally known to the blacks as the Coquun River, which for an obvious mineralogical reason, was then called the Coal River; this name being changed in 1804, in honour of Captain Hunter, whose name it now bears.

With these old-time impressions in our minds we started at daybreak from our hotel on the Hunter, ascended the heights of Newcastle overlooking the ocean, and made our way along the cliffs just as the sun was rising; passing coal mines, factories, works, and thickly-populated suburbs until we came out on to the Old Belmont-road, which we followed, camping for breakfast at Charlestown. At the picturesque pleasure resort of Belmont, on the shore of Lake Macquarie, we again halted—to telegraph instructions for the launch to meet us at Kincumber to carry us across Broken Bay.

At Swansea we halted for 5 o'clock dinner, and learned that we had been reported as three German pedestrians walking round the world. As we sat at the dinner table, a gentleman joined us, who turned out to be an old Chillan friend of Count Podista; staying here enjoying his holidays and revelling in the schnapper fishing. He earnestly invited us to give up the walking and come out in his yacht and enjoy ourselves after a less strenuous fashion. When we decided to continue our journey he begged me to accept a big sombrero as a memento or parting gift, which he insisted I ought to wear as a protection against the heat of the sun.

Now I had always thought that the investiture of the hat, especially of a red hat, was reserved only for cardinals of high degree, but one cannot look a gift horse in the mouth, so adopting the policy of "suaviter in modo," especially where presentation hats were concerned, I donned the big hat, to my companions' intense delight, and, as I thought, ironical cheers. My new headgear, unlike the magic tarnhelm of Siegfried, was about as large as a lady's parasol, and made me look, if anything, more like a Spanish brigand than ever, and I was forthwith proclaimed to be no longer Ulysses, but the "Caballero del Sombrero." No wonder, then, that the little girl I met accosted me by saying, "If—er—if you please, sir, is the circus coming to-night?"

We went on towards Catherine Hill Bay in quest of further adventures, and began toiling slowly up the steep road, when lo! right on top of the hill, sharply silhouetted against the dusty white road, there suddenly appeared a black horseman, furiously riding a black horse and madly galloping towards us down the hill. Why, surely, it is the melkie black de'il himself! We had hardly recovered from our surprise when there appeared another, and another, followed by still more, some on bikes, some in sulkies, with others in all sorts of nondescript vehicles. On they came, until they could be reckoned up in dozens. These sooty black demons came up out of the depths of the earth; they were colliers liberated at the change of shift from the Wallarah coal pits. After they had passed us we stopped to have a chat with some schoolboys, who proudly informed us that as soon as they were old enough they, too, would leave school to go underground and join this black brigade.

Our inn stood on the top of a hill overlooking the ocean, where we tried by our unaided efforts to be comfortable. Mind you, I say unaided efforts, because no one else helped us to obtain the least comfort, peace, or quiet. The time of our arrival happened to be the practice night for the local brass band, and my bedroom was within a few feet of the weatherboard hall or shed where the bandsmen were assembling, while next to my bedroom on the other side was another room with a piano in active operation.

The band were coming up with vigorous preliminaries, and they seemed preparing to make a night of it—which they did. Our landlord rubbed his hands gleefully, and told us that we were lucky arriving as we did, and that we should have a little music—mark you, a little music! We, whose ears at another time and in another place had been ravished with the sweet strains of the Quinlan orchestra, were doomed for four weary hours to be bombarded with the Dead March and sundry solo obligatos on the cornet and trombone, while the young woman at the piano played fast and furiously in her endeavour to compete with the band. We hailed 11 o'clock—closing time—with joy. What tempo rubato! aye, and precious sleep rubato. However, we were out on the road in good trim for walking at 5 o'clock next morning.

We took a bush track from Catherine Hill Bay down to Landmark Bay, camping on the northern side of Wybung Head for breakfast. We passed Bird Island, and had a splendid walk on the amber-fretted sands until, reaching Bungaree Norah, we were welcomed by Mrs. Hargraves and her family, descendants of Mr. Hargraves, the first discoverer of payable gold, to whom the Government grant of £10,000 was awarded. The house, beautifully built of cedar, was the quiet retreat of many a statesman and politician of other times, and was especially frequented by my friend, the late Mr. Alexander Oliver. Mr. Hargraves, Jun., showed us a black snake skin 7ft 4in long, not including the head. We had not time to visit again the beautiful lighthouse on Norah Head, but went on to Tuggerah Lake entrance, where we made up for our loss of sleep. The peace and quiet comfort given us by Miss Davis was as heaven itself after our experience of Catherine Hill Bay.

Next day we walked by the road, instead of by the beach, through Wamberal to Terrigal Haven, where we dined with a party of tourists. Then, up over the Skillion and through the bush to Bulbabaring Bay; and there, looming ahead of us, were the Three Points of Captain Cook; discovered and named by him in 1770, while to the left we perceived our next place of abode, charmingly situated and happily named—Avoca, after the lovely Irish Ovoca or Vale of Avoca.

On the morrow we walked to Kincumber, and arrived at the head of the creek at nine o'clock, expecting to find our oil launch ready to take us to Barrenjoey. We were doomed to disappointment, and after waiting four hours only succeeded in crossing Brisbane Water to the Hawkesbury, via Woy Woy. This unfortunate breakdown in our otherwise complete and perfect arrangements disheartened us that we ignominiously took train from the Hawkesbury River to Sydney. However, we were determined to finish the walk according to the original programme, and at the earliest opportunity we came back by train to the Hawkesbury, and chartered a launch to take us up to Barrenjoey. A third friend now joined us, so that we made a party of four. What a series of beautyspots we now entered upon. Barrenjoey, Palm Beach, Bushranger's Hill, Farrell's Beach, Newport, Rock Lily, Narrabeen, Long Reef, Dee Why, Curl Curl, Brookvale—all of them so very well known to every tourist, cyclist, walker, and week-ender in Sydney that they need no description. They are delightful pictures of travel, easily accessible to everybody. At the turn-off on the Narrabeen road our party divided. I came on to the Spit, and thence to Mosman; while my three friends marched in to Manly, and took the boat to Sydney.

Nearly all the places of our last day's walk are intimately associated with the men who made history in the early days. I can imagine the many and frequent visits, in the whale boat of the Sirius, to Manly, Narrabeen, and Barrenjoey, made by Governor Phillip, Captain Hunter, Dr. Balmain, Surgeon-General White, and Lieutenants Shortland and Bradley.

SOCIAL.

All contributions and accounts of weddings or other social entertainments intended for the "Social" Column in Saturday's issue should reach this office not later than Friday morning, and be fully endorsed.

His Excellency the Governor and Miss Strickland will motor across from Sutton Forest to Berry on Wednesday, and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hay at Coolangatta. Sir Gerald Strickland will open the Berry Show, and will return to Sutton Forest on Thursday evening.

In connection with the dolls' carnival, which is being organised in aid of the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children, to take place at the Sydney Town Hall in October, a meeting will be held at the Hotel Australia on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. A. Naylor and Miss Ruby Naylor, of Penshurst, intend leaving Sydney by the Ceramic for a 12 months' tour of England, Europe, and the United States.

Active preparations are being made for the forthcoming campaign in aid of the Royal Hospital for Women and the Renwick Hospital for Infants, by the committee which has been organised under the direction of Mr. Neville Mayman and the Lady Mayoress, Mrs. R. D. Richards. A number of sub-committees have been formed, and the members of these are now busily engaged in carrying out the work in the different divisions into which it has been divided. These divisions are finance, publicity, and the sale of flowers, fruit, and programmes. The public is appealed to for its assistance in the work of raising the £12,000 which is required to set the two institutions on a sound financial basis. The first of the series of matinees which are to be held will take place in a few weeks, and it is anticipated that there will be a large attendance.

Captain Simpson Baikie, R.N.R., and Mrs. Baikie, on the afternoon of January 24, entertained a number of young people on board the Eastern liner, St. Albans, in honour of the third birthday of their little daughter. Several original amusements kept the little ones merry during the afternoon, and a band played on the lower deck.

On the evening of December 24, at the Grosvenor Hotel, London, Dr. and Mrs. Stohr (Miss Elsie Stanley Hall) entertained a number of guests in honour of their wedding, which took place a short time previously. The hostess wore a graceful gown of white duchesse satin draped with lace and encrusted with pearls. The guests included Mrs. Donald Mackinnon, Sir Walter and Lady Napier, Dr. and Mrs. Glanville Corney, Miss Margaret Baxter, Dr. and Mrs. Mercier Williams, Major Gordon, Dr. and Mrs. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Ashburton Thompson, Sir David and Lady Prain, Dr. Mary Booth, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Reid, Dr. and Mrs. M'Donagh, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Simon, Dr. and Mrs. Eason, Mr. G. H. Smith, Mrs. Bousfield, Madame Montague, the Misses Borchardt, Major and Mrs. Hewett, Dr. and Mrs. Bagshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. King, of Inglewood, near Moree, recently celebrated their golden wedding, at which over 160 friends and relatives were present, including seven sons, four daughters, and 29 grandchildren.

At St. John's Church of England, on Wednesday last, Miss Nellie Moss, of Woolgoolga, was married to Mr. A. V. Hutchby, of Lower Bucca. The Misses E. Hutchby and Allen acted as bridesmaids, and Mr. D. Hayes was best man. The Rev. W. Ashley Brown officiated at the service.

On January 20, at St. Peter's, Church of England, Nana Glen, the Rev. Cecil Robert Wilson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ingle Wilson, of Moruya, was married by the Rev. W. Ashley Brown, Vicar of Coff's Harbour, to Elsie Matilda, second daughter of Mrs. J. J. Morrow, of Nana Glen. The Rev. R. V. Rigby acted as best man, and the bride was attended by Miss Wilson (sister of the bridegroom) and her sister, Miss G. Morrow, as bridesmaids.

A wedding took place at St. David's Church, Surry Hills, on December 20, when Grace, youngest daughter of the late Robert Sindel, of Braidwood, and Mrs. Sindel, of Randwick, was married to Mr. George Hemmingsen, younger son of the late Captain James Hemmingsen, of London. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. E. H. Hardy, wore a trained gown of ivory crepe de Chine, arranged with fine guipure and pearls, and a veil of Brussels net and honiton braid. The bridesmaids were Miss Olive Dutton, dressed in white embroidered voile and a mob cap, and Miss Laurel Hardy (niece of the bride) in white silk and a mob cap. The bridegroom's gift to the former was a cameo ring, and to the latter a gold cable bracelet. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Harold Sindel, as best man, and Mr. Wilfred Cooper as groomsman. After the ceremony Mrs. Sindel held a reception at the A.B.C. Cafe, where about 60 guests were entertained.

A wedding was celebrated at St. Thomas's Roman Catholic Church, Lewisham, on January 14, when Mr. Robert H. Geoghegan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Geoghegan, of Leichhardt, was married to Miss Alice Climpson Matterson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Matterson, of Lewisham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father McGuire. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in ivory charmeuse satin, with an overdress of silk lace, draped and caught up with drop pearl ornaments. The court train was arranged with silk Chantilly lace, and finished with silver and pearl embroideries. An embroidered tulle veil was arranged over a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet with tulle streamers, and wore a gold bangle, the gift of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss L. Matterson, who wore a frock of apricot-tinted satin charmeuse, with a coatee of ninon, relieved with shadow lace, and Miss H. Geoghegan, in maize-tinted crepe-de-Chine and lace. Both wore mob caps of pleated tulle finished with wreaths of pink roses. The first bridesmaid carried a silver bag purse, and the second wore a gold bangle, which, with their bouquets, were gifts of the bridegroom. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. W. Geoghegan, as best man, and Mr. J. Matterson, as groomsman. After the ceremony a reception was held by the bride's parents at the Petersham Town Hall, where 60 guests were entertained. Later Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Geoghegan left for the Tuggerah Lakes, where the honeymoon is being spent. The bride's travelling dress was of powder blue crepe-de-Chine, the coatee being finished with Limerick lace and worn with a hat to match.

At St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Gulgong, on Thursday, January 15, the wedding was solemnised of Milo Roger, only son of the late Mr. R. Bourke, of Craboon, and Josephine Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Duggan, of Turill, Cassilis. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Joseph Duggan, wore a gown of ivory satin charmeuse veiled with white embossed pointed net, the bodice was trimmed with pearls and lilies of the valley, and the court train was finished with true lovers' knots, seed pearls, and roses. She also wore the customary wreath and veil, and carried a shower bouquet of roses, hydrangeas, and lilies, which, with a diamond ring, were the gifts of the bridegroom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Duggan, as bridesmaid, who was attired in a gown of cream duchess satin, draped with pale pink crepe-de-Chine, the bodice having a V-shaped yoke of net. She wore a white aerophane hat, arranged with chiffon and cream roses, and carried a posy of pink roses, and wore a pearl spray brooch, the gifts of the bridegroom. Mr. Jack Duggan acted as best man. After the ceremony the wedding party motored to the Prince of Wales' Hotel, where the wedding breakfast was served. In the evening the bride and bridegroom left for the mountains, where the honeymoon is being spent. The bride's travelling dress being of cream, silk poplin, finished with guipure and buttons with which was worn a hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Bourke's future home will be at Craboon.

The wedding was celebrated on Tuesday, at Scots' Church, Melbourne, by the Rev. Dr. Alex. Marshall, of Mr. John Thompson, M.P., one of the Whips of the Commonwealth Liberal party, and Mrs. Langlands Jack, of Melbourne.

On November 14, a quiet wedding took place at the Presbyterian manse, Vancouver, the Rev. Leslie Pidgeon officiating, when Elva A., youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Young, Armstrong, B.C., was married to Mr. Norman W., second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stephenson, of Sydney, New South Wales. The bride was gowned in a royal purple plush costume, with Balkan trimmings, and hat en suite, and wore a corsage bouquet of violets and rose buds. She was attended by Miss Vera Muddell, in a pheasant broadcloth tailored suit and hat to match. The bride was given away by her sister, Mrs. C. M. Henderson, who wore a green broadcloth costume and a velvet hat with plumes. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. O. C. Rutledge.

A quiet wedding took place on Tuesday, 27th, at St. James's Church, when Mr. Ernest Lyndon Piddington, sixth son of the late Archdeacon Piddington, of Tamworth, was married to Miss Jean Thomson, third daughter of the late Rev. H. E. Thomson, of Cooma. The ceremony was performed by Canon E. H. Lea, of Dubbo (cousin of the bride). The bride, who was given away by her brother (Mr. Charles R. Thomson, manager, Bank of New South Wales, Forbes), wore a white crepe de Chine coat and skirt and a white satin hat lined with black velvet, trimmed with white ostrich feathers; and she carried a bouquet of pale pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Rhoda Thomson (sister of the bride), wore a dainty gown of white crepe de Chine and a blue tulle hat. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Wallace Hogg as best man. The Wedding March was played by Mr. G. H. Turner. The bride's mother wore black crepe de chine, relieved with touches of silver. Mrs. Piddington (the bridegroom's mother) wore black silk, relieved with white. After the ceremony a reception was held at Baumann's Cafe, and later the bride and bridegroom left for Hobart.

An interesting wedding was solemnised by the Rev. W. Coleman, in the presence of a large congregation, at the Methodist Church, Moree, on Monday, January 26, between Joseph Bertram Berry, of Victoria, Pallamallawa, near Moree, and Mabel Victoria, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Blunt, of Emu Park, Pallamallawa. The bride was dressed in cream ninon over cream silk, arranged with lace over chiffon, and worn with a hat to match. The bridesmaid was Miss Ida Blunt (the bride's sister), who wore white silk, trimmed with touches of pink. Mr. H. T. Harris, of Pallamallawa, was the best man. After the ceremony a reception was held by Mr and Mrs. Blunt at the Criterion Hotel.

On Saturday afternoon, December 27, there was celebrated at the Kogarah Congregational Church the marriage of Miss Constance Mary Pugh, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Pugh, of Cooyong, Arcadia-street, Penshurst, granddaughter of Mrs. Duprez, of Bowral, and Mr. W. E. O. Middleton, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Middleton, of Wandene, Carlton. The Rev. R. B. Reynolds, M.A., B.D., chairman of the Congregational Union, officiated. The service was choral. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a graceful gown of ivory crepe de Chine, prettily draped and arranged with lace encrusted with pearls, the bodice being finished with handmade roses. The court train was suspended from the waist, and finished with the same lace and sprays of orange blossoms. She also wore a Breden net veil, arranged over a chaplet of orange blossoms (worn by her mother at her wedding), and carried a bouquet of white Christmas lilies, roses, and bouvardias, which, with a gold, diamond, and sapphire bangle, were the gifts of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids were Miss Middleton (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Muriel Parker (cousin of the bride). They wore dainty frocks of silk voile, relieved with heliotrope sashes, and worn with white hats finished with heliotrope ribbons and orchids. Their bouquets of cactus dahlias and bouvardias, and gold bangles, were the gifts of the bridegroom. Miss Clarice Tyler presided at the organ. The best man was Mr. Charles Holloway, while Mr. Roy Ogilvy acted as groomsman. Later a reception was held at Brett's Hall, Kogarah, where over 70 guests were entertained by the bride's parents. The bride and bridegroom subsequently left by motor for Jenolan Caves and Katoomba, the bride travelling in a blue costume relieved with Bulgarian buttons, and showing a waistcoat of platinum embroidery, her hat of white satin straw, with folded crown of blue corded silk, was swathed with shaded ostrich tips, and lined underneath with black.

A simple wedding, at which only immediate relatives were present, was solemnised on January 8 at St. Philip's, Church-hill, by the Coadjutor Bishop of Grafton and Armidale, assisted by the rector, Canon Bellingham, when Nellie Evelyn, eldest daughter of Mr. J. L. Lillyman, was married to the Rev. Harold Border, rector of St. John's Church of England, Collarendabri, eldest son of Mr. Thomas Border, of Muswellbrook. The bride was attired in a gown of ivory satin charmeuse, the bodice and tunic composed of Honiton lace, and the long, narrow, square train was lined with shell-pink plisse ninon, and caught up with a cluster of pearls. The veil was of Honiton lace. She wore a pearl and diamond necklace, and carried a shower-bouquet of white carnations. One bridesmaid and two train-bearers were in attendance, the former, Miss Dorothy Lillyman (the bride's sister), wearing a gown of ivory crepe de Chine, the blouse and tunic being of shadow lace, worn with a shell-pink sash, and a hat of shadow lace trimmed with touches of pale pink. She carried a posy of pink carnations tied with pale pink and white tulle, which, with a pearl pendant, were gifts of the bridegroom. The two little train-bearers (niece and sister of the bride and bridegroom) were frocks of silk muslin arranged with Malines insertion and lace, and sashes of shell pink, and mob caps of Malines lace. They carried crooks with clusters of pale-pink carnations, which, with gold cable bracelets, were gifts of the bridegroom. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Dick Border. A reception was afterwards held at Petty's Hotel. The bride's aunt, Mrs. J. Lillyman, who received the guests, wore a gown of black crepe de Chine, embroidered in jet, and a small black Tagal hat finished with tulle. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Thomas Border, wore a nattier blue silk crepe gown, and a black Tagal hat ornamented with nattier plumes. The Rev. H. and Mrs. Border left for a month's motor tour of the South Coast, the bride travelling in a frock of hydrangea-blue crepe de Chine, arranged with Venetian point lace, and a black velvet hat with Chantilly lace halo and white plume.

Mr. Ralph Liddle, second son of Mrs. and the late Mr. R. Liddle, of Cometville, Delegate, was married to Miss Ethel Hammond, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hammond, of Rous Hill, Richmond River, at St. Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney, on January 15. The bride's father was formerly headmaster of the Bombala Public school. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. D. Reynolds. The bride's dress was of white charmeuse, embroidered with pearls and shadow lace. The three bridesmaids wore white voile frocks, trimmed with Irish crochet, and worn with picture hats to match. After the wedding breakfast had been served, Mr. and Mrs. Liddle left for Melbourne, en route to Tasmania.

A wedding was celebrated on Tuesday, December 23, at the Mosman Methodist Church, when Mr. Horace Stuart M'Clelland, youngest son of the late W. H. M'Clelland and Mrs. M'Clelland, of Mosman, was married to Miss Winifred Mary Hebblewhite, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hebblewhite. The Rev. M. Reavley was the officiating clergyman, assisted by the Rev. W. Theobald, brother-in-law of the bride. Mr. H. E. M'Clelland presided at the organ. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. W. Rayner Hebblewhite, B.E., wore a gown of white embroidered ninon over white satin, with a square train embellished with orange blossom, and a true lovers' knot worked in ruched satin ribbon. Her veil of white tulle was arranged over a coronet of orange blossom, and she carried a sheaf of Christmas lilies, which, with a gold wristlet watch, was the gift of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Hebblewhite, and her cousin, Miss Muriel Board, who wore frocks of pink floral voile, and hats of white crepe de Chine, wreathed with pink roses. They also wore gold bangles, and carried bouquets of Christmas flowers, the gifts of the bridegroom. Dr. R. E. M'Clelland, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. A reception was held in the Mosman Town Hall, and after refreshments had been served Mr. and Mrs. M'Clelland left for Blackheath.

At St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Casino, on Saturday last, the Rev. J. B. V. Steel was the celebrant at the wedding of Mr. Augustus Charles Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hurst, of Back Creek, Casino, and Miss Lena Jessie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mulvena, of South Casino. The bride, who was attired in white silk, with customary wreath and veil, and carried a large bouquet of white blooms, the gift of the bridegroom, was given away by her cousin, Mr. W. Mulvena. She was attended by her sister, Winnie, as bridesmaid, and Mr. James Hurst, brother of the bridegroom was best man. The subsequent breakfast was held at the residence of the bride's parents, and was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst left during the afternoon for Byron Bay, en route to Sydney, where the honeymoon is being spent.

On January 3, at St. Michael's Church of England, Wollongong a wedding was solemnised between Frederic Charles, eldest son of the late Mr. Charles M. Chopin, M.D., of Bombala, and Rosie Lena, second daughter of Mr. H. P. Whyte, Amaroo, Waverley. The Rev. W. Newmarch (uncle of the bride) was the officiating clergyman. The bride wore a walking dress of ivory crepe de Chine, and shadow lace, a tulle hat, and carried a bouquet, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by two little bridesmaids—Miss Emilie Chopin and Miss Betty Whyte (niece of the bride)—who were daintily frocked in white, each carrying a posy of flowers. Mr. Arthur Whyte acted as best man. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the rectory, and later on Mr. and Mrs. Chopin left for their honeymoon, the bride wearing a dress of nattier blue charmeuse poplin and hat to match.

A rainbow evening wedding was celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Saturday, January 17, by the Rev. C. H. Clark, when Miss Rose Oliveen, elder daughter of Mrs. M. E. Cobb, of Kiora, Marrickville, granddaughter of the late Mr. R. Mulholland, Morpeth, England, and great-granddaughter of the late Sir Charles Monks, Carlisle, Cumberland, England, was married to Mr. James Andrew Craine, only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Craine, of Gundagai, New South Wales. The service was choral. The bride, who was given away by her elder brother, Mr. James J. Cobb, wore a gown of ivory charmeuse trimmed with silk Limerick lace, and finished with pearls, chiffon roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The long court train was caught up by a cluster of pearls and orange blossom, and her hand-embroidered Limerick veil fell from a coronet of orange blossom. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley, which, with a diamond cluster ring and an aquamarine and pearl pendant, were the gifts from the bridegroom. The maids of honour were Miss Lillian Cobb (chief), Miss Agnes Donohue, and Miss Vera Todd, who wore dainty frocks of pale pink, apricot, and pale blue crepe-de-Chine, and Juliet caps with clusters of hydrangea. Their bouquets, together with silver toilet requisites to Miss Lillian Cobb and silver chain purses to Miss Agnes Donohue and Miss Vera Todd, were gifts from the bridegroom. Two tiny trainbearers were the Misses Vera Swain and Beryl Traynor, who wore American frocks of ivory charmeuse, with over-dresses of white ninon, arranged with Malines lace and pale pink chiffon roses. They also carried baskets of pale pink carnations, and wore gold Nellie Stewart bangles, the gifts of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. Arthur Sydney Gawne, and the groomsmen were Mr. Albert William Cobb (youngest brother of the bride) and Mr. William Drummond. After the ceremony a reception was held at Baumann's Cafe. Later Mr. and Mrs. J. Craine left by motor for Bundanoon. The bride wore a costume of Nattier blue crepe-de-Chine, with gold passementerie, and white Tagal hat finished with pale pink silk roses, tulle, and white Lancer plumes.

34. R to Q 5	34. P to R 3
35. Q to K B 3	35. B to B 3

Adjudged a drawn game.

(a) The right reply was P to Q 4, turning the opening into a French defence in White's favour. The text move shuts in the K B unnecessarily.
(b) Either 5 P to Q R 3 or B to Q 3 was imperative.
(c) Because White should now get a winning position by playing 6 Kt to Q Kt 5
(d) A poor move.
(e) Inferior to 16 K to Kt 1.
(f) White's play from the 22nd move has much improved.

LATE MR. F. W. EDWARDS.

Probate has been granted of the will of Mr. Frederick William Edwards, who died at his residence, Victoria-square, Ashfield, on December 7 last. The deceased appointed his widow, Elizabeth Edwards, his sons, John Morris Edwards (clerk), and David Sutherland Edwards (barrister-at-law), and his son-in-law, Hermann Augustus Herborn (accountant), executrix, executors, and trustees of his estate, the net value of which was estimated at £17,373 3s 7d. The whole of the estate passes to the widow and children of the deceased.

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS.

THE LATEST SOLUTION.

(BY B. R. WISE.)

It has been said with truth that "What young Oxford is thinking to-day, England will think to-morrow," so that the current ideas of the undergraduate of that ancient University must have always a certain interest for those who may desire to guess at what the future may bring forth. And, even if these guesses do not always hit the mark, yet they may point in the right direction.

Oxford has its cycles of intellectual interests; and the wheel seems now to have come full round to an interest in politics, which had been waning as the memory of T. H. Green and Arnold Toynbee became more faint, until a "Programme for the Liberal party," which was published in 1891 by "Six Oxford Liberals," of whom the present Attorney-General, Sir John Simon, was the leading spirit, marked the last flicker of an expiring interest. Great, indeed, is the contrast between the work and that which is now under review*—a contrast which will illustrate the difference between the fruits of a philosophy based on "Rights" and those of a philosophy which is based on "Duties." Mr. Mann and his colleagues may not solve all their problems, but they probe them to their roots; and if they do not always hit the mark, they often point out the true direction of enquiry. Their work is a searching examination of first principles which shirks no difficulties, and, although their remedies may be questioned, at least they avoid the sentimental rose-water treatment of social problems which roused Carlyle's ire—"the calling of the swine to wallow in the trough, and increasing their modicum of hog-wash in order to keep them quiet"—and, whether practicable or not, they strike at the root of the matter, which, in the view of the writers, is the "wage system." For, both in their statement of their case and their proposed remedies, the writers show all the refreshing confidence of youth; so that many grave persons may be shocked to learn that, although none of the old reformers has yet reached his goal, yet both the aims and the methods of all of them are out of date already. To hope for salvation, for instance, through trade unions is, in the opinion of these writers, only less absurd than to rely upon a labour party; while as to Socialism or the bureaucracy favoured by Mr. Sidney Webb, the only question is, which of the two theories has the more baleful tendency towards aristocracy. Thus do the young lions roar, exulting in their youth; and we, who are older but impenitent, gleefully note their renunciations of the hide-bound "conservatism" of Labour and the "tyranny" of Socialism—grateful that all these new theories, which we have never understood, are out of date already, so that we need no longer read the letters of Mr. Bernard Shaw, and can sleep at nights without fear of Mr. Sidney Webb.

The purpose of the book, as declared in the preface, is "to explain and defend the principle of property," which the writers justify by reference "to history, to present fact, and to certain root principles in morals and politics." Holding this view of the value of property, the writers of these essays discuss the obstacles to its wider diffusion and how these may be overcome. The "wage-system" is the object of their attack, and a restoration in a modified form of the old-craft-gilds their panacea. The first essay, by Mr. Sievers, whose work has a special interest because he is a Sydney boy, gives a clear historical account of the process by which the workman was transformed from an independent craftsman into a wage-earner—and the process of dispossession is indeed a sad story. In the second essay, Mr. Mann, also from Sydney, examines the working of the wage system; and in the other Mr. Cox, in a very close argument, discusses current political theories. The same writer, in a second essay, justifies the family as the basis of society and property as its cement; and the last two essays, on "The Association State," by Mr. Sievers, and "The Process of Repossession," by Mr. Mann, explain the constructive proposals of the new school. The volume should be read by all who are interested in the problems of modern industrialism, and the freshness of its ideas and fairness of its criticisms justify fuller review.

The destruction of the gild system was by no means the inevitable consequence of widened markets and "la haute industrie," as we are too ready to believe, but was part of a deliberate policy, first by the Tudor Monarchs, and later by the Hanoverian Whigs, with the results of which we are too painfully familiar, and which are described quite temperately in his second essay of the volume by Mr. Mann. The argument which he sets himself to meet is that of the well-meaning person, who, while admitting all the evils of the present system, questions whether production on the large scale necessary to modern need is possible without it. Mr. Mann first meets this doubting sympathiser with an argument ad hominem, and points out that the "greater the achievements of the present wage system the more obviously does it register its complete failure. The extension of the system demands a corresponding increase in the number of those who have no resource but their labour and the wages they receive for it." These he calls "the proletariate class," and he continues—"As the system, if it is to be permanent, requires also the permanence of such a class, it follows of necessity that, even though the spread of it over the widest possible area were to cause an increase by a hundredfold of the volume of production, yet of that increase no more can go to the now very large class of proletariate workers than is necessary to keep them efficient as workers. Never can they get so much as would enable them to set aside such a reserve as would allow them to establish a proper economic resource other than wages. For that would be to destroy their proletariate condition, and so cut at the root of the whole system." It is questionable whether Australians, who are familiar with Arbitration Courts and the principle of the minimum wage, will accept this sweeping proposition without qualification, although it may have a closer application to industrial conditions in Great Britain. Yet it is true universally that the wage-system does create a real inequality between employer and employed. Mr. Mann says quite truly "Where a wage is paid and the relationship of wages arises, one party retains his rights of property, while the other surrenders his, and takes a fixed money return."

But it cannot be said of Australia, at any rate, that in fixing wages the wage-earners "are not considered as having any inherent right to control their own lives"; and since the establishment of Arbitration Courts, a man here certainly has "a right to say how and under what conditions he shall work." Yet in England it is probably true, as Mr. Mann insists, that relatively to the increased power of capital the position of the worker has not improved in the same proportion during the last thirty years, and the wage-earning classes have not made the fullest use of their Parliamentary franchise. The essay which Mr. Cox contributes on "Democracy and Current Theory" is too close a piece of reasoning to epitomise, but it will delight readers of all schools by its trenchant analyses of the phrases and programmes of all political parties, and its pleasant treatment of the Fabians and other reformers whom the writer impales. Mr. Sievers in a second essay discusses the root principles which underlie the right to private property, which he finds in the institution of the family—"The institution of family and property are, as it were, correlaries one of the other, for through them man can best come to understand his nature both of what is personal and of what is impersonal—and how these interact"—so thoroughly has the philosophy of Hegel and Green displaced the old materialism. Mr. Sievers and the younger school accept as axiomatic that the test of all political institutions is their effect on human character, and that liberty is nothing more than the power to do at all times that which is best. Holding these views, Mr. Sievers naturally rejects the drill sergeant theory of socialism, and unreservedly supports the independence of the individual. His dialogue on this subject between Normalis and Abnormalis is one of the best things in the volume, which brings the professors of rival schools upon the stage in excellent Aristophanic manner. In the last essay Mr. Sievers examines "the appropriate means by which a society founded upon a distributive economic basis can be developed out of the existing anarchy of temper and organisation."

But the value of the book lies more in its suggestive criticisms than in its constructive proposals, which are not worked out fully. It deserves to be read widely, and will furnish food for thought to all who believe, with John Stuart Mill, that "It is not to be expected that the division of the human race into two hereditary classes, employers and employed, can be perpetually maintained." We have cause to feel proud that two young Australians are joint authors of such a work.

THE MURRAY.

A THOUSAND-MILE RUN.

(BY A. H.)

Nothing could offer a more delightful rest to the nerve-racked city dweller than this thousand miles up and down stream on the Murray, where the steamer company has so arranged its passage that on the down-stream journey the tourist sees those points of interest passed during the night on the up-stream trip, thus the seven or eight days do not become in any way monotonous.

So far we owe to American, not to Australian, enterprise the fine irrigation colonies already in existence, which after many setbacks now seem well on the way to a splendid success. When it is considered that Mildura occupies a site, right in the centre of the Mallee scrub, formerly reckoned by the State Government to be worth not more than half a crown an acre, and that this despised land has just recorded the sale of dried fruits to the value of £100,000 from 9000 acres of the redeemed Mallee, one can understand that the prospect is a cheering one. This return might easily be increased by one half if greater facilities were available for placing fresh fruit on local markets. Better and quicker railway transport is ahead, and with this citrus, pome, and prune fruits, grapes and melons will all add to the dividends of growers. In Sydney there is a fairly big import of apples from California, as well as from Tasmania. This trade might well be kept within the State's boundaries.

Dried fruits are quoted on the English, as well as on foreign markets, at from £100 to £110 per ton, and Australian dried fruits are growing in favour, as are also the fresh fruits, so that there is no fear of supplies outgrowing the demand for years to come. In many parts of Australia, too, fruit supplies are only procurable at famine prices, while there offers to the grower a chance to build up a trade with Singapore, the China coast, Manila, and Java in the export of apples and grapes, for both of which fruits there is a lively demand. Of course, there is within the tropics a good and cheap supply of tropical fruits, luscious and delicate, but the European there, as well as the native, delights in a change, and apples and grapes always find ready sale.

Most interesting lessons offer themselves to observant eyes in making even the most rapid circuit of the irrigation areas. In Mildura the holdings are irrigated to a 90ft level, and watering operations go on for about 183 of the 365 days of the year. The pumping plants operate at three levels, and most striking is that line which cuts off the irrigated plots from the surrounding Mallee; indeed, the hand of some wonderful enchanter might have been stretched forth making this garden in the desert, for more wretched and depressing country than Mallee scrub could not be found on the earth's surface. Then there is the beautiful town site, its prosperous people, the lovely homes in the settlement beyond the town, and the cheering air of busy prosperity, due to the bountiful season, with its heavy harvest of apricots, currants, raisins, and sultanas—the best paying and most staple of the many crops ready to be harvested. The currant vines, heavy with fruit on their trellises, make a lovely sight, as do also the Tamarisk groves and olive gardens. Strangely enough, any table fruit fresh in the Mildura shops comes there from Ballarat, or from Melbourne, as do also all fresh vegetables, the fruit-drying industry being so absorbing and so profitable that no local grower considers the question of growing for the town itself.

Apart from the commercial and agricultural interest of a trip up the Murray, there is another attraction, to me much more potent. The tourist must not expect to find the deep gorges, the lakelike reaches, the fern-decked heights, nor the sparkling rapids which give their charm to many of the Eastern Australian rivers. With this great western stream the attraction is of that subtle, half-mournful kind so well voiced by Dorothea Mackellar in her poem, "My Country, the core of my heart"—a charm of sunburned plains and barren sandstone ridges, of lonely lagoon or creek or odd-shaped billabong, or again of the quaintly-worn cliffs, which take on an aspect half gnome-like, half human. Then, too, there is the never-ending interest for the scientist in the old bed of a gigantic stream, which must have followed almost the same but a much wider and grander course in long, long gone by ages; and doubtless hereabouts will be found fossil remains of fauna and flora from prehistoric ages, when this part of the world raised itself earlier than its neighbouring continents from its enveloping waters. Far out beyond the bed of the present-day river can be seen the old, old time-worn cliffs which once bounded the flow of that older and mightier stream, and here the geologist can find ample material for keenest research while enjoying a holiday.

There is something eminently soothing and wholly delightful in this trip up or down the river waters, the stillness, the swing and murmured melody of the strong, slow, amber-coloured current, the colouring at dawn and sunset, all this in exquisite contrast to the rush, the noise, and the nerve-racking experiences of city life.

Even the retrospect of the early risings, to breathe in the dry, cool air of dawning, while watching the great petals of light unfolding themselves through the trees, making lacelike shadows across the polished face of the stream, even in retrospect these will be a tonic to tired nerves through the coming year. How lovely were the billabongs and lagoons, set like jewels in their reed beds, as they gleamed with the passing of the colours from above. Like facets they showed responsive to the crimsons, the golds, the ambers, the rose, or amethyst of the skies in the east or west, while the rushes made a jade green shadowy setting for all this brilliance. Pelicans bathed in all this glowing colour, or stood musing and motionless in thousands amongst the reeds. Sometimes one of their number would give a little plaintive cry, then rise and float off towards the very heart of the sunset, to be followed by the others, rising slowly in turn, until some hundreds at least were on the wing, and there, higher and higher they would float, until they were almost lost in the brilliance, describing circles, spirals, curves, and crescents, as though flying to some delicate aerial wind instrument to which our less fine ears were deafened, but which must have conveyed to the birds the rhythm, regular, strong, and beautiful, of the flowing water, and the wind's song in the trees. Soon as one company of these birds had performed these beautiful evolutions they returned with the same languorous grace, to be replaced by a second, then a third company, until the entire colony had exercised in the same way.

Not the least of the pleasures of the trip was the chance given by the steamer's passage to observe the bird life along shore. Sand martins, pee-wees, pewits, thrushes, teal, wood duck, black duck, herons, ibises, Nankin cranes, magpies, black and white cockatoos, parrots, and pigeons abounded, and in the season the river is a happy ground for the sportsman, duck and snipe being easily obtained. Fishing, too, is excellent; our menu was enriched daily by fresh perch and by Murray cod, as well as other fish with local names, which I have forgotten.

The more important calling stations have wharfs and goods sheds, but at the usual settlers' holding the little steamer is run nose in on the mud banks, secured by cable to the nearest reliable gum tree until the work of loading and unloading be finished, and what work this is, with neither steam crane nor other mechanical appliance, and heavy wheat and flour bags to be carried up or down the steeply-sloping banks. I have often heard it said that the Australian is lazy. Not so the deck hand on a Murray steamer. Long, lean, and brown and lazy-looking enough as he lounges forward when off duty, he shows what he is fit for when he swings a great wheat bag of 150lb on his back and races joyously up a steeply-inclined plank to deposit it ashore, with a cheery "Right Oh" as he races down again. Sometimes it is heavy timber, sometimes a great heavy piece of machinery to haul ashore, but he never hesitates. Used to the coolie labour of the East Indies, I could only regard with astonishment, and even alarm, these herculean tasks, undertaken with the most careless nonchalance. On the north-west coast of Australia and in the inter-island schooner trade of the East Indies it is customary to work an 80-ton schooner with a crew of from 15 to 20 coolies, and it is reckoned necessary to allow from eight to ten days to shift a full cargo, for, if prudent, the skipper will handle his crew carefully, letting them rest from 12 to 3, or during the hours of extreme heat, else the coolie will become sullen, will malinger, or will refuse to work altogether. As a contrast, it is worth mentioning that the Marion, the steamer on which I travelled, loaded and unloaded some 160 tons of cargo, at all times and seasons, from midday to midnight, as we happened to touch a station, and, in addition to this being done with no aid from any mechanical appliance, we covered in 10 days 1400 miles of river navigation—not a bad record for the Murray lumper. There should be tens of thousands of the same kind of somewhat casual Australian within the Commonwealth to answer for her when the day comes for her to defend herself; unfortunately, under existing conditions, he can be reckoned by hundreds. The steamers are, however, made most comfortable; large, commodious, with fine promenade decks above and below, with fine lounge and dining saloons, and comfortable, roomy cabins, with hot, cold, and shower baths; they offer comfortable quarters to anyone wishing to see Australian history being written in the works along the banks of this, the monarch of Australian rivers.

ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY.

(BY J. H. WATSON.)

If Watkin Tench, a captain-lieutenant of the Marines (they were not Royal Marines until 1802), who came to New South Wales in the "first fleet," under Governor Phillip, had been a little more explicit when he wrote, "On the first Sunday after our landing Divine service was performed under a great tree by Rev. M. Johnson, chaplain of the settlement," there would not have been the difference of opinion which exists at the present as to the actual day on which that first "Divine service" was held. Some, including those well read in the history of the early days, hold the opinion that it was on the day after the arrival in the Cove—that is, on Sunday, January 27, 1788; whilst others believe it to have been on Sunday, February 3, just one week later. It is remarkable that, as far as information we have at present, neither Governor Phillip in his despatches, Captain David Collins, the Judge Advocate and historian of the colony, nor Captain Hunter, of the Sirius, alludes to the incident in any way at all. We must therefore seek to find out what actually took place, after the arrival of the ships to see the possibilities and probabilities of a service of worship being held so soon as the day after arrival.

In the "Voyage of Governor Phillip to Botany Bay," published in London in 1790, it is stated, after the arrival of the fleet in Sydney Cove on January 26, that "the debarkation was now made at Sydney Cove, and the work of clearing the ground for the encampment. . . . was begun without loss of time;" then gives a long description of the nature of the work, till it is said that "from this time to the end of the first week in February all was hurry and exertion."

Captain John Hunter, of the Sirius, and afterwards the Governor of the colony, in his "Historical Journal of the Transactions at Port Jackson," does not mention any incidents of the few days following the arrival; but Captain Collins, in his account of the English colony in New South Wales, deals at length with what took place. After narrating the arrival on Saturday evening of the fleet (the Supply had arrived on Friday evening), it proceeds with "The disembarkation of the troops and convicts took place from the following day until the whole were landed." He then goes on to describe that the forest was to the water's edge, and that the clearing operations, the pitching of tents, and the bringing up the stores occupied till February 6, when the women convicts were landed, bringing the total number up to 130 persons belonging to the settlement. So far there is no indication of a Sunday service; but there is much to suggest that the work went on through the first day after the arrival

One of the most active officers of the Sirius was Lieutenant Philip Gidley King, who was also afterwards Governor of New South Wales, and to whom history is much indebted for the information contained in a journal he kept, and from which it is gathered that on "the next morning, January 27, a great part of the troops and convicts were landed, and the latter was immediately sett to work clearing away the ground ready for ye encampment. . . . On ye 28th all ye marines and male convicts were disembarked from ye different ships and encamped." It is evident from this, clearing operations occupied the whole of this day, so as to make room for the tents of "ye marines and convicts" to be landed on the following day. In the journal of Dr. Bowes, surgeon of the Lady Penrhyn, transport, the earliest notice of the chaplain is under date, "Sunday, February 17.—This morning Rev. Mr. Johnson went on shore to preach and administer the Sacrament," and then again, "March 2.—Mrs. Johnson keeps very ill. No Divine service this day." The log-book of the Sirius shows that "the chaplain came on board and performed Divine service" on the afternoon of February 3; and on the next Sunday, February 10, "the people on shore at Divine service, a.m."

An extract from the log-book of the Scarborough, transport, reads:—"January 27, 1788: Warped up to the head of the Cove, and moored the ship with the stream cable out abaft, the ship lying E. and west. Delivered ashore one forge, one pair of bellows, nine iron bars, one bundle of smiths' tools, one box of splitting wedges, one dozen of crosscut saws; sent on shore five marines and 100 convicts." A journal kept by Robert Brown, master of the storeship Fishburn, has an entry, on "February 3, 1788, went on shore and heard Divine service per the Rev. Mr. Johnson," which is the only definite statement that there was a service held on the second Sunday after the arrival in Sydney Cove.

From the above extracts and quotations it will be seen that there is no clear statement that any religious service was held on Sunday, January 27; but, on the other side, there is the evidence of Captain Brown, of the Fishburn, who says that he went ashore on Sunday, February 3, and heard Divine service by the Rev. Mr. Johnson. The same afternoon the log-book of the Sirius states that the chaplain came on board and performed Divine service. The next Sunday, February 10, the crew went ashore to attend service in the morning. Dr. Bowes, of the Lady Penrhyn, says that on the 17th service was held ashore by Mr. Johnson. Some writers argue from this that the chaplain availed himself of every, and never missed any opportunity of performing his duty, and as he held services on these specified Sundays, so also would he on the first Sunday after arrival. Against this argument there is the statement of Dr. Bowes that on Sunday, March 2, there was no Divine service held. The whole case rests on the meaning of the words "on the first Sunday after our landing." The "landing" cannot be interpreted to mean the going on shore of working parties of convicts, with their marine guard, but the landing of the whole body of male convicts and the marines, together with the Governor and the officials of the settlement. The whole of these, numbering about eight hundred and fifty people, with their baggage, had to be housed in tents before the landing was completed, and this went on during the week, and this only can be described as the landing. And on the Sunday after the landing, February 3, the service under the great tree was held, as stated, by Tench, and the date given by Captain Brown, of the Fishburn.

How it could have been possible to conduct a service "in the presence of the troops and convicts," numbering about seven hundred, in the very limited space cleared on the 26th, by the working party brought round in the Supply, it is difficult to conceive, and no more improbable theory was ever put forward. Some years ago Archdeacon Gunther wrote a paper on this subject, which was published at the time, his view being the same as the one now advocated. It is a great pity that the clergy of the Church of England cannot agree to adopt the resolution as agreed to by the Provincial Synod, which fixed the commemoration of the event for the Sunday after Anniversary Day, and which this year falls on February 1. If this was done, it would prevent a repetition of what has taken place two years in succession of Anniversary services being held on two succeeding Sundays.

MENELIK AND THE MODERN "NUT."

Menelik, who has just died for the tenth time, could give points to any modern "nut" for taste and fancy in dress. When interviewed by one of his latest British visitors he was arrayed in white trousers, brown clocked socks, very large patent-leather dress shoes without laces, a long coat of green silk with yellow stripes, and a black satin burnous, embroidered with gold down the front and the hood lined with pink silk. In his left ear he wore a rose-cut diamond stud to show that he had killed an elephant. His head was bound with a piece of white muslin, on top of which was a large-crowned, broad-brimmed straw hat, covered with gold leaf, the band dotted round with rubies and sapphires. On the little finger of his left hand he wore two huge diamond rings, one of which was set with a miniature watch.

"MUDLARKS."

(BY E. S. SORENSEN.)

Often do we hear sympathy expressed for the barefooted, dirty-faced little urchin, who, in old and tattered clothes, finds amusement in a city gutter; also for the dull, monotonous life of the youngster in the bush. But a study viction that such sympathy is wasted. Feed of the irresponsible little animal brings conhim well and let him play in his own way, and he is quite happy in either sphere of existence.

The boy to be pitied is the one who is sent out well-dressed to play, with a severe caution to keep spotlessly clean, and who is scolded or otherwise punished for the smallest tear or the least smudge on his clothes. Fine raiment to that youngster is a burden. The maternal warning restrains him from racing with his fellows for fear he will fall down. He always seems to fall down somehow when he has things on that will spoil. He cannot join heartily in "chasings" and such games for fear of rough hands clutching hold of the precious coat. He stands aloof from a happy group enjoying themselves in a puddle-hole in case some spots might lodge on him; and he dare not climb, though he simply aches to do so, since the most harmless looking obstacles have lurking talons waiting to grip and to rend. There is no pleasure anywhere for him, because he is imprisoned in clothes.

A waterhole is an irresistible attraction to a boy. After an inward struggle and a good show of resistance against the persuasion of his mates, he decides at last to take his boots off and have a paddle in the shallows. He is a fortunate exception if he emerges as clean as he went in. Most probably he will be liberally splashed within a few minutes, or a fall will result either accidentally or from malice aforethought. Then the anticipation of "what he will get," enlivened by voluntary suggestions from his compatriots, is worse than the punishment itself. His best boy friends escort him home with delirious joy, and cluster in front of his premises to see the welcome he gets, and dance an accompaniment to his loud remonstrances when the rod is used as a corrective agent.

Every boy is a little savage by nature, a rebel at heart, especially against the parental brand of law and order imposed by clothes. The young aborigine gets no whippings, and juvenile existence is stripped of half its terrors for him, because he has no clothes to spoil. In his bitter moments the white boy wishes he had the same privilege.

"I don't know what I am going to do with him," says his mother, in a state of distraction. "I send him out like a new pin, and he comes home as black as the pot. I really cannot keep him clean."

Poor, long-suffering imp, he does not want to be kept clean. Why parents worry so much over that trying imposition he cannot understand. He is a peculiar creature, with something of the habits of the pig and the monkey in his composition. If you want to gladden his heart, and see him enjoy himself in a boy's way, turn him out in a dress that tumbling and rolling and romping won't spoil; in which he can paddle and wade, and make mud-pies; play horses and leap-frog, stand on his head and move about on all fours for a change, do gymnastic exercises on the fence, and climb trees and lamp-posts.

He likes new boots, even if he has to clean them himself; but rest assured if he is allowed to take them off when he likes, he will have them off more often than on. He is naturally a mudlark, and if permitted to enjoy himself in his own way, he is mostly "like a little nigger." He seems to thrive on that kind of play; and when parents make a clothes-horse of him they place restrictions on his exercises that are injurious to his health and development. It is an interference with his natural rights as a freeborn citizen. Boyhood stage does not last long, and while in it he is entitled to have his fling.

No matter how limited his home comforts may be, he can always be happy if his freedom is not also unduly limited. His life is never monotonous. There is always something passing in his neighbourhood, always something happening, if it is only a funeral, or a spirited argument between two hostile termagants. He loves excitement; he revels in sensations. He would willingly sacrifice a night's sleep to watch his neighbour's house burn down. He roams about street and lane, in park and garden, finding new attractions everywhere and every day. The surroundings are sometimes unwholesome and sordid, and harmful in shaping the mind and moulding the character; but generally they constitute a school in which he becomes smart and shrewd, and well able to look after himself long before he reaches his teens.

No one is prouder and more eager than the mudlark to be well dressed when "going out," as on a holiday, but as soon as he reaches the seashore he wants to change—or strip—so that he can roll about and root in the sand, and splash around in the water. Sand was made for his enjoyment. If he cannot get to the beach, he will find a sandhill somewhere about, and there he will burrow and gambol in sweet content for hours.

Cheap shows and other attractions, not the least of which is the work on the roads and footpaths, add their quantum of interest to the passing days. He finds the merry-go-round and the circus, though they may be several miles from his home; and he gets a lot of fun out of both, even though he cannot afford a joy ride, and get more than a glimpse of the circus performance through a hole in the canvas. He has plenty of mates, and is always meeting some new boy to try his mettle with. His interest in neighbours moving in and moving out never flags; and what joy is his when a pipe bursts, and when the roof is blown off a neighbour's house in a storm!

In the bush, no matter how remote his situation, he is much the same sort of boy. He has few playmates; not infrequently he has no playmates at all, except at school, and that school is usually a good distance away from most of them. His mornings and evenings are spent in tramping to and fro. But he gets a lot of fun along the road, though his amusements are principally of the primitive kind, and the sights he sees are mainly the ordinary variations of a virgin bush. He is more resourceful, more imaginative than the city boy, but he is the same happy mudlark, who makes mud pies at the edge of a lagoon, sails Dreadnoughts of his own fashioning down running creeks, and plays "shops" with little bags of sand and collections of berries by the river.

Game being generally plentiful in his world of wide spaces, he is first and foremost a hunter. On days when there is no school—unless he is on a dairy farm, where his portion is much work and little play—he roams about the bush, looking for sugarbags, hunting for 'possums, climbing trees for nests and wild fruits, and searching hollow logs for wild cats and bandicoots. He is a cunning trapper, and an artist with fishing line and net. He has rides and drives, and there is not an animal on his father's estate that does not contribute something to his amusement. Penning the calves day after day might become monotonous if it were not for the fun he gets out of them when he has them penned. The calf that objects to being ridden and bucks off his boy mate is a treasure. The dog is a welcome ally on land and water, and by day and night. Another joy is the billy-goat, that can be harnessed to the home-made chariot, or used as a cavalry mount.

Floods and fires provide glorious spectacles and much excitement. Killing day is as good as a funeral any time, and what a fine entertainment he has when a bullock-driver's team gets stuck at the crossing down in front of the house. Nearly everybody who calls has a dog or two, and it does not cost him much effort to start a fight with old Rover. Of course, he likes to see Rover win, but he enjoys the fight even if Rover gets half killed.

He has to do chores as soon as he is able, his most laborious task being wood getting; but even that he makes interesting. In his vivid imagination the boxcart becomes the great transcontinental express, and he himself a steam engine, which puffs importantly across the paddocks and emits an ear-splitting toot before stopping to pick up a fresh bit of wood. The engine also blows off some steam before it picks up the wood. Sometimes the sticks represent passengers, who are duly presented with tickets when put on board; the tickets are punched from time to time with a rusty nail, and collected according to regulations when the passengers are delivered at the woodheap. If he has no train experience, his humble vehicle becomes a steamship, or a mail coach which is stuck up by bushrangers, who steal the wood, and that leads to a desperate encounter, which invariably ends in the wood being recovered. This method of working may not be expeditious, but it lightens labour and keeps the worker cheerful.

His surroundings are healthy, and the primeval forests have attractions for him at all times. The city boy would find them delightful for a while, then, doubtless, he would wish himself back in the livelier sphere of his nativity, and the bush boy would likewise soon grow tired of urban delights and yearn for hus rural pleasures. The former is lonely when he gets away from houses; the latter is lonely when he gets into town.

SEVERE IRRITATION WITH SKIN TROUBLE.

Cr. Wemyss and Harrington streets, Marrickville N.S.W.—"I suffered very greatly from skin trouble, which was confined to my head. It commenced with severe irritation of the scalp, and the continual scratching, consequent upon this, caused small sores to appear.

"I heard of Cuticura Remedies, and sent for a sample of Cuticura Ointment. I used it as directed along with Cuticura Soap, and these very speedily relieved, and I can now say have completely cured me, as the irritation and sores have quite disappeared. The Cuticura Soap is, I consider, so nice for toilet purposes." (Signed) S. D. Campbell, June, 1912.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a sample of each, with 32-page Skin Book, will be mailed free on application to R. Towns and Co., Dept. T., Sydney N.S.W.—Advt.

REAL ESTATE.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

The real estate market has been fairly active this week, one of the principal features being the success of the subdivision sales on Saturday and Monday last. These were all well attended, and quite a number of allotments were sold at satisfactory prices.

The indoor auctions were also well attended, but although there was a fair amount of bidding, the sales recorded were few under the hammer, but a number of the properties changed hands immediately after the sale was over. For instance, Messrs. Raine and Horne had a very good list of properties on their catalogue, and a room full of people, yet not one property was sold from the rostrum. Within an hour of the sale, however, three cottages in Westbourne-street, Petersham, were sold for £1350, a cottage in Old Spit-road, Mosman, brought £1200, and a block at Balmoral realised £300. The buyers were all at the sale.

Messrs. Richardson and Wrench this week sold a large block of land in Ashfield South for £8800, and another block in the Hurlstone Park Estate, Ashfield, for £580.

Messrs. Stanton and Son had a fairly busy week. A brick cottage at Haberfield was sold for £1170; another in the same suburb brought £1255, while a third realised £1435. At Dobroyde land realised £2/10/ per foot on the Dobroyde Park Estate. A brick cottage known as "The Bungalow," at the corner of South Head-road and Cameron-street, changed hands at £2300. A cottage in Summer Hill was sold for £675, and another at Belmore for £370.

Messrs. Coyle and Whyte sold five acres of land at Little Coogee this week for £4000, which means that land at Little Coogee in a good position is worth £800 per acre.

Messrs. Arthur Rickard and Co., Ltd., report having negotiated the sale of about 750 acres of land at Wentworthville, extending close up to Toongabbie Station. This property has an extensive frontage to the main Great Western-road. The purchase money was £15,000. It is intended to subdivide the property, and offer it in areas of from five acres upwards. The Wentworthville district is now progressing apace, and as settlement increases, values advance accordingly. Some excellent soil is found in this neighbourhood, and there is great development in orchard and kitchen garden properties.

Messrs. Hardie and Gorman included in their sales for the week a cottage at Coogee for £1077, a pair of houses at Randwick £1150, a cottage at Wollstonecraft for £725, and two blocks at Narrabeen for £3 10s and £4 10s per foot.

In spite of the dry weather, business in small farms since the opening of the new year has been better than is usually the case in the month of January. The demand for suburban farms continues good for poultry, orchard, or mixed farms.

Mr. C. H. Crammond this week sold several cottages at Marrickville and Leichhardt at from £450 to £650 each, also a block of land at Cronulla at £7 15s per foot.

Bankstown still continues to make progress. At the last meeting of the council the Mayor gave a resume of the year's doings, and said that during 1913 299 building applications were granted, and 26 additions to buildings were approved. The estimated number of buildings in the municipality was 931, and 56 in course of erection, making a total of nearly a thousand. The value of new buildings was £49,800, and additions £450. As soon as the Bankstown railway extensions are completed this district will become the byway for all the produce from the great southern plains, tablelands, and irrigation areas, and from the rich South Coast districts, while the connection between Bankstown and Liverpool will reduce the mileage between Liverpool and Sydney for the Melbourne express and all southern trains by over 25 per cent. Bankstown then will assume large proportions.

On Monday, February 9, there is to be a sale of city and suburban properties in the rooms of Messrs. Richardson and Wrench. The catalogue, a lengthy one, includes properties in O'Connell-street, Darlinghurst-road, Dowling-street, near William-street, Darlington, Newtown, Marrickville, Paddington, and Woollahra.

On Friday, February 13, Messrs. Richardson and Wrench will offer in their rooms quite a number of investment properties at Bondi and Lindfield, which are being sold by order of the Perpetual Trustee Company, in the estate of the late Mrs. Henrietta Blake.

Mr. C. Monro sold this week several properties, at from £100 to £485, at Cronulla.

SUBDIVISION WORK.

HOLIDAY SALES.

The outdoor sales last Saturday and Monday were numerous and successful. One of the principal sales took place at Balmoral, when Messrs. Richardson and Wrench offered the Balmoral Beach Estate. Just before the sale the Government stepped in, and resumed the water-frontage lots. This caused some disappointment to prospective buyers, but it was done in the interest of the public, who will now get the benefit of 13 lots that otherwise would have been sold. Of the remaining blocks 30 were sold at from £3/10/ to £14/15/ per foot. There was a large attendance. The bidding was spirited, and the sale realised £9663.

The same firm on Saturday disposed of 28 lots of the McLachlan Estate at Narrabeen at prices ranging from £2/1/ to £5/10/ per foot. This gave a total of £2223.

On Monday Messrs. Hardie and Gorman sold land at Narrabeen at from £3/10/ to £4/10/ per foot. It was part of the Heart of Narrabeen Estate.

Messrs. Horning and Co. sold 28 lots of the Taren Point Estate, at prices ranging from 12/6 to 70/ per foot. The sale realised £2057. This makes, with previous sales, £12,657 worth of this estate already disposed of.

There was a very good sale at Beecroft on Saturday last, when Messrs. Hardie and Gorman sold the whole of the Beresleigh subdivision at prices from 15/ to £3/2/6 per foot. A cottage on the ground brought £2257.

Another successful sale last Saturday was conducted by Messrs. Raine and Horne at Concord West, when the whole of the Banks Estate was disposed of at prices ranging from 25/ to 42/ per foot.

There was a successful sale at Bankstown on Saturday, when Messrs. Arthur Rickard and Co., in the presence of a large gathering, sold 66 lots of the Beaconsfield Estate at from £12 to £44 per acre. The sale realised £2454.

Quite later on Monday Messrs. Richardson and Wrench sold 38 blocks of the Clareville Estate at prices ranging from 5/ to £1/15/ per foot. This gave a total of £1782.

In the same district on Monday Messrs. Stanton and Son disposed of 23 lots of the Careel Beach Estate at prices from 7/ to 27/ per foot—an average of 15/ per foot.

At a sale of the Wentworth Lake Estate, Wentworth Falls, 12 lots were sold, realising £1002. The prices were as high as 31/6 per foot, but the average worked out at 25/ per foot.

On Monday last there was a big attendance at Como, where Messrs. Horning and Co. sold 148 lots, at prices ranging from 10/ to £2/15/ per foot. The sale was most successful, and realised over £9000.

There were several sales on the mountains during the holidays. Messrs. Chapman and Candell, Ltd., report a very successful sale in the Blue Mountains Estate, Linden, on August Day. Sixty lots were offered and sold at prices ranging from £22 to £93 per block, making a total of £1827. The bungalow, making a total of £1815, making a grand total of £3342. Mr. E. W. Cansdell wielded the hammer to a large audience, and the bidding was spirited.

Mr. R. B. Paterson conducted a sale on Anniversary Day at Wentworth Falls. He disposed of 12 lots of the Wentworth Lake Estate for £1092. The prices obtained averaged 25s per foot. Several lots have since been sold, and there is a good inquiry for the balance.

Messrs. Goyder Bros. report the sale of 14 lots out of 21 offered of the Cevedigion Estate, Katoomba. Prices ranged from 11s to 31s per foot. The total sales reached over £600.

TO-DAY'S SALES.

Owing to the municipal elections, the list of sales for to-day is small. One of the principal auctions this afternoon will take place at the Grasmere Estate, Mortlake. Messrs. Arthur Rickard and Co. will submit an excellent subdivision of good building land. The property extends practically from the Burwood-Mortlake tramline, and gently slopes right to Major's Bay, a secluded and picturesque arm of the Parramatta River. Well-made roads divide the estate, and these are planted with trees. There is a picturesque view from the estate, and churches and schools are on the ground. Gas and water are available, and the district is a growing one. The estate is close to the Mortlake Gas Works, and the City Gas Works are now being removed to Mortlake. This will no doubt largely increase the population which has grown so much of late that houses are not procurable, and families are in some instances sharing houses between them. The allotments have a frontage of 50 feet each, by a depth of 170 feet and more.

This afternoon Messrs. Hardie and Gorman will offer the Manning Estate, at Maroubra, between Broad-road and Maroubra Bay. Section 1 of the subdivision comprises seven lots close to the business centre, and on the way to the famous beach at Maroubra. Section 2 consists of three lots fronting Broad-road.

The same firm has a sale this afternoon of the Linsley Estate, at Gladesville. The land lies between the steamer and the tram, and near to both. The estate commands good views, and is in a locality that is fast improving. There is a 10 minutes' tram service to the district.

A sale this afternoon which is sure to attract attention is at Edgecliff, Woollahra, where Messrs. Raine and Horne will offer the Wallaroy Crescent estate, situated one minute from the twopenny section of the Double Bay tram, and close to the Edgecliff Post-office. The land is elevated, and is sheltered from the westerly winds. There are 34 residential sites fronting Manning-road and Wallaroy-crescent to be offered. These command views over Sydney Harbour.

PROGRESS OF THE SUBURBS.

PADDINGTON IV.

A CHAPTER ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

The municipal history of Paddington is perhaps the most important from the standpoint of the district's progress. It was in September, 1859, that a petition signed by 172 persons residing in Paddington was presented to the Government, and duly gazetted. The prayer of the petition set forth a request for the incorporation of the district. The proposed municipality was said to contain 1000 houses, with 5000 inhabitants. The area was not mentioned, but the boundaries set forth excluded the Victoria Barracks and all that now densely populated area between Oxford street and Park-road, but it took in Darling Point and a large portion of Double Bay. Yet the residents were not pleased over the proposed boundaries. They did not want included anybody but democrats, and when one excited orator at a public meeting declared that "they did not want them 'ere geebungs of Darling Point," he found he had quite a following in his ideas; so when the municipality was proclaimed in 1860 the boundaries were so fixed that the southern line was the Sydney Common and the northern boundary New South Head-road but in 1866 the Sydney Common Act was passed, and the control of the water reserve was vested in the City Council. Lachlan swamp and a portion of the adjoining land had been previously included in the Borough of Randwick, and when that was taken away it left a corner of that municipality completely isolated. This corner contained St. Matthias' Church, half the Roman Catholic school and grounds, the building itself being half in Randwick, and half in Paddington. About 40 or 50 houses were in a similar position. Confusion arose, and people very often came to Paddington Town Hall on municipal business, only to find that they would have to journey to Randwick. They had the city boundary between them. In fact, the city, Paddington, and Randwick boundaries all converged to a point at St. Matthias' Church, at the junction of Park and New South Head roads (now Oxford-street). The confusion continued until 30 years ago, Paddington then paid the Randwick Council £500, and took over the isolated corner.

It was not long after the issue of the proclamation creating Paddington a municipality under the first Local Government Act that the first council was elected. It consisted of the following nine councillors:—Messrs. Alston, Blumer, Lynch, Perry, Reddy, Steel, Taylor, Underwood, and Westaway. The first meeting of the council was held on Friday, May 25, 1860, in the Paddington Inn, when Councillor W. Perry was elected chairman, for under the first Municipal Act the term councillor and chairman were used; but when the Municipalities Act of 1867 was enacted, terms were changed to alderman and Mayor. At its second meeting, the council decided to rent Mr. Logan's house for council's offices for 12 months at 15s per week, and to advertise for a council clerk at a salary of £100 per year. Mr. Mortimer was appointed first town clerk, but he did not occupy the position for more than a week or two. He resign d, and Mr. Meyers was elected to the position, and acted in the dual capacity of clerk and borough surveyor. The council was without funds, but acting on the authority of the Government, a cash credit to the extent of £400 was obtained from the Bank of New South Wales, on the joint and several bonds of members of the council. Messrs. W. and E. Bradridge's tender for valuation for £70 was accepted. The council had not been elected more than a month when Councillor Underwood was forced to resign, and his place was filled by the election of Mr. J. P. Smith. The estimated expenditure for the first year was set down at £2000, and to meet this, when the valuer's returns were handed in, it was decided to levy a shilling rate. The first municipal work recorded was in May, 1860, that five men were repairing Underwood-street, which would cost £30. The first letter of complaint from a ratepayer was from Mr. Kenneth Stewart, drawing attention to dangerous holes in front of his residence in Gordon-street; but the council searched in vain on the official plan for Gordon-street, and at last decided to inform Mr. Stewart that there was no Gordon-street as far as they knew. To-day Gordon-street is one of the leading streets in the North Ward. The 'bus proprietors then petitioned for a stand to be appointed, and the council fixed the first 'bus stand on the south side of Old South Head-road, just within the boundary of the municipality, near Point Piper-road (now Jersey-road).

The following year three of the councillors, in accordance with the Act, had to submit themselves for re-election. They were the three lowest on the poll at the first election. The following year the next three on the poll had to face the electors, and the third year the remaining three went through the same ordeal. That meant that an alderman was elected for three years, and that a third of the council of nine aldermen retired each year, but were eligible for re-election. That system prevailed right up to three years ago, when the present Local Government Act was brought into operation, and now, at the end of every three years, the whole council retires in a body. Councillor Humphrey was elected chairman of the council for the second year. At this time Mr. John Sutherland, "Honest John," as he was familiarly called, was the member for the hamlet of Paddington in the Legislative Assembly.

The council was thus fairly under way, but there was much to be done in the pioneering work, which lay before the residents. The municipality was in darkness, roads were wanted in all directions, a water service was needed—no Water Board in those days—estates had to be cut up, and the land sold for building purposes, in order to meet the demands of the increasing population. Money had to be borrowed in large sums to meet such a big, but necessary, undertaking on the part of the council. Twelve months after the first council was elected (1861) gas lamps for street lighting cost £12 per annum each. The council resolved on erecting 10 on the Old South Head road, if so many were necessary, and five on the New South Head-road. This meant £180 for 15 lamps for 12 months. Today they would not cost a fourth of that amount, but it had to be done, and the expenditure for the second year of the existence of the Paddington Council was £1802 10s. The first piece of kerb and guttering was laid on Old South Head-road, by contract, at 11s per yard. During the third year of the existence of the first council the question of a water supply from the Lachlan swamps, or otherwise, was considered. To get a plan of this work £220 was paid, and several months later the work of laying the pipes was commenced, and Paddington people finally discarded their wells and the purchase of water by the bucket, and were delighted to see it flowing from the taps in their back yards. From that period onward Paddington made good progress. The pioneering days were over. Estates were subdivided and sold. Houses were erected in all parts of the municipality, and the population increased rapidly. In fact, Paddington became a suburb which was immensely popular. The income of the council increased. Much work was undertaken, some of which in those days was looked upon as almost beyond the scope and anticipations of the aldermen, for in 1867 the district was created a borough, the chairman of council became Mayor, and the councillors were termed aldermen. But the work was heavy. Great sandhills had to be removed. One of these extended from Dowling-street to the Barrack wall, and was bounded by Old South Head and Park roads. From this immense sandhill hundreds of tons of beautiful yellow sand were carted to the buildings in course of erection throughout the metropolitan area. In fact, it was from this hill that most of the sand used in building was obtained. The filling-in and levelling of Moore Park also took a large quantity of the sand. Finally the immense sandhill disappeared, and to-day the land is covered with houses and well-metalled roads are running through the area. But it was not only sandhills which had to be levelled, but immense quarries from which the building stone of Sydney had been obtained had to be filled in. In fact, Paddington in the sixties was composed of sandhills, gullies, huge rocks, and hills, where the geebung and five-corner flourished. These abounded on all sides, and as a consequence road-making became a costly item, but to the credit of the aldermen of the past these features have been removed, and the streets, footpaths, and necessary drainage works of to-day bear evidence of the care and attention which have been bestowed upon them for the comfort, convenience, and healthfulness of the people.

One of the early subdivisions in Paddington was the Underwood Estate. It was in the 'Seventies that Messrs. Richardson and Wrench brought the first subdivision of this immense paddock, full of quarries, under the hammer. The best of the land brought £3 per foot; worth £20 to-day. Under the present Act the owner of an estate must make the roads and footpaths before the council will take them over. But when the Underwood Estate was sold the council made Windsor-street, Cascade-street, and the other roads which now give access to the hundreds of houses that have since been built upon every portion of this wide area, and which to-day houses an immense population.

So it was with the Gurner Estate and other subdivisions, which were in big demand at good prices, for the means of transit to Paddington by the introduction of the tramway system had so much improved; but Paddington, like the rest of the eastern suburbs, will be better served when the much-talked-of railway is an accomplished fact.

The first council-chambers for Paddington were erected in 1866 on the site of the old pound yard in Oxford-street. The land cost £225. The building was erected by Messrs. Crippe and Stoddart. Mr. T. Rowe was the architect. To-day this old Town Hall forms part of the Women's Hospital. The present Town Hall, at the corner of Oatley-road, is the largest hall outside the city. It is noted for its handsome appearance, its commodious halls, offices, vestibule, balconies, lodge-rooms, etc., and, for social functions it ranks next to the Sydney Town Hall. It was built in 1891. The cost of the hall and furniture was £13,000, and it has proved a good investment for the municipality.

When the borough had been 50 years in existence (1909) Mr. Vialoux, the present Town Clerk, prepared a return showing what had been accomplished in Paddington in 50 years. In 1860 (the first year of the council) the borough contained 500 houses, and a population of 2500. The income of the council was £439, and the expenditure £493. Thirty years later (1890) there were over 4000 houses and a population of 20,000. The income of the council had increased to £12,732. This brought the position of the borough, as far as revenue was concerned, next to Balmain, which ranked the highest amongst the suburban municipalities. In 1910 after 50 years the population had risen to 26,000. There were then 4800 houses in the borough, which had 35 miles of well-made streets, and nearly 1500 names on the ratepayers' roll. The receipts of the council were £18,011, and the expenditure £21,000. The difference was met by a temporary loan of £3500.

To-day the population is much greater, and the revenue more. In fact, there is hardly a vacant allotment in the whole of Paddington, and a walk through the streets reveals an absence of "To Let" and "Land for Sale" notices. Paddington is surrounded by parks and recreation grounds. It has its free Public Library, and in every way it is a progressive municipality. Its strides, from the days of the gee-bung and the five-corner have been marvellous. Its only drawback is the presence of that unsightly building, the Victoria Barracks, which it is sincerely hoped will shortly be removed, and its immense area which the barracks occupies will be subdivided and sold. It would mean housing accommodation for a few thousand people, and would be the finishing stroke towards making Paddington one of the largest and most flourishing municipalities around Sydney, a position it practically already occupies, notwithstanding that it was one of the most costly to form.

DRILL HALLS.

FREE OFFERS TO GOVERNMENT.

The Minister for Defence (Senator Millen) is highly gratified by the receipt recently of two offers of premises for the use of trainees. One of these is from the firm of Messrs. J. Bridge and Co., the well-known wool brokers, who have during the off season placed at the disposal of the Defence Department, the ground floor of their new warehouse. The second offer is from the Olympia Athletic Club, which has offered the ground floor hall of the club premises for similar purposes.

"This evidence of public spirit and sympathetic desire to assist the defence system is much appreciated both by myself and my colleagues," said the Minister, "more especially as one of the difficulties confronting the department to-day is the provision of drill halls for the young soldiers. I hope that further similar offers may be forthcoming."

Both the offers place the premises at the disposal of the department free of rent, the only stipulations being as to payment for light and efficient supervision during the time the premises are occupied by the military authorities.

CONDOBOLIN LAND LEASES.

Porter v Williams.

Mr. C. Davidson, instructed by Mr. F. H. Greaves, agent for Mr. C. T. A. Brodersick, of Forbes, appeared on behalf of George Benjamin Porter, and made an ex parte application for an injunction to restrain J. L. Williams, nominal defendant on behalf of the Crown and its agents, from throwing open for selection on February 2 next, certain lands in the Condobolin district, which plaintiff claimed were held by him under special leases granted in 1907.

Plaintiff set out in his statement of claim that he applied for the leases under the Crown Lands Act of 1884, section 90, on August 20, 1906. The application was approved in the Government "Gazette" of April 29, 1908, granting him certain leases as from December, 1907, to December, 1926. The Crown claimed that under regulation 215 of the Crown Lands Act it was entitled to terminate the leases at any time by giving 12 months' notice, which notice of termination had been duly given. Plaintiff claimed that regulation 215 did not apply to his leases, and that he was entitled to hold them till 1926.

His Honor granted an injunction till Tuesday next, with leave to move to continue it till the hearing of the suit.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

(Before Judge Docker and Juries.)

Mr. Herbert Harris, Crown Prosecutor.

GUILTY OF STEALING.

Thomas Bourke and Alfred James Woodward were charged with breaking and entering the warehouse of Augustus Lacey Lackerstein at the Glebe, on October 21, stealing therein 14 cases of sauce, and also with breaking and entering the premises on November 8, and stealing two cases of sauce.

The accused pleaded guilty to stealing the sauce, and the plea was accepted by the Crown.

When called up for sentence Mr. E. R. Abigail, who appeared for the prisoners, asked his Honor to treat them as first offenders, but Judge Docker said that he could not take that course. Each of the prisoners was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labour in Goulburn Gaol.

ACQUITTED.

William Hill, a young man, pleaded not guilty to a charge of having committed a serious assault at Sydney on October 3.

Mr. Walker, instructed by Mr. P. K. White, appeared for the defence.

Hill was on his trial for the offence at the Quarter Sessions on November 24 last, but owing to the illness of one of the jurymen at the conclusion of the case, and after the jury had been out of the Court for over an hour, it was considered that as a unanimous verdict had not been arrived at it would be improper to detain him, therefore the jury was discharged by order of the Judge and the further hearing of the case postponed to the present Court.

The jury acquitted Hill, and he was discharged.

CHIEF INDUSTRIAL MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

Next Water Police Court, Phillip-street.—Before the Chief Industrial Magistrate.—At 10 a.m.—For hearing: Pickering v Thomson and Son (part heard).

POLICE COURTS.

IMPERSONATING A POLICEMAN.

At the Central Police Court yesterday William John Law was fined £30, with the alternative of 3 months' gaol, on pleading guilty to a charge of having assumed the designation of a member of the police force on Thursday. According to the evidence of the arresting constable, Law had approached two people in Prince Alfred Park, when he told them that he was a policeman. He also told the constable that he was in the force, and was stationed at Tom, but from inquiries made it was learned that he was employed in the Railway Department.

ALLEGED ILL DRUG SELLING.

At the Central Police Court yesterday, Mr. Southee, S.M., fined William Wright £100, in default nine months' imprisonment, in addition to six months in gaol, on being convicted of a charge of attempting in Charles-street, Woolloomooloo, on the 26th inst. The accused sought to prove an alibi, by stating that he spent the night in question in Balmain, and was not near Charles-street after 8 o'clock. Percy Wright was charged with a similar offence, but he was acquitted.

Mr. E. R. Abigail appeared for both of the accused.

ALLEGED MALICIOUSLY WOUNDING.

At the Central Police Court yesterday, Reuben Hind, 62, was committed for trial on a charge of maliciously wounding James Murray on January 31, Murray said he met Hind in a hotel, and they went to a hotel with him. Accused took a knife and a cigar from his pocket, and without provocation struck him in the abdomen. Accused appeared to have had some drinks on board. Hind was committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions.

ALLEGED CRUELTY TO A HORSE.

At the Newtown Police Court yesterday, Mr. King, S.M., fined Frederick Arendt £1, with 6s costs, for working a horse when not in a fit condition.

STREET GARDEN PLOTS.

COUNCIL'S LIABILITIES.

BATHURST, Friday.

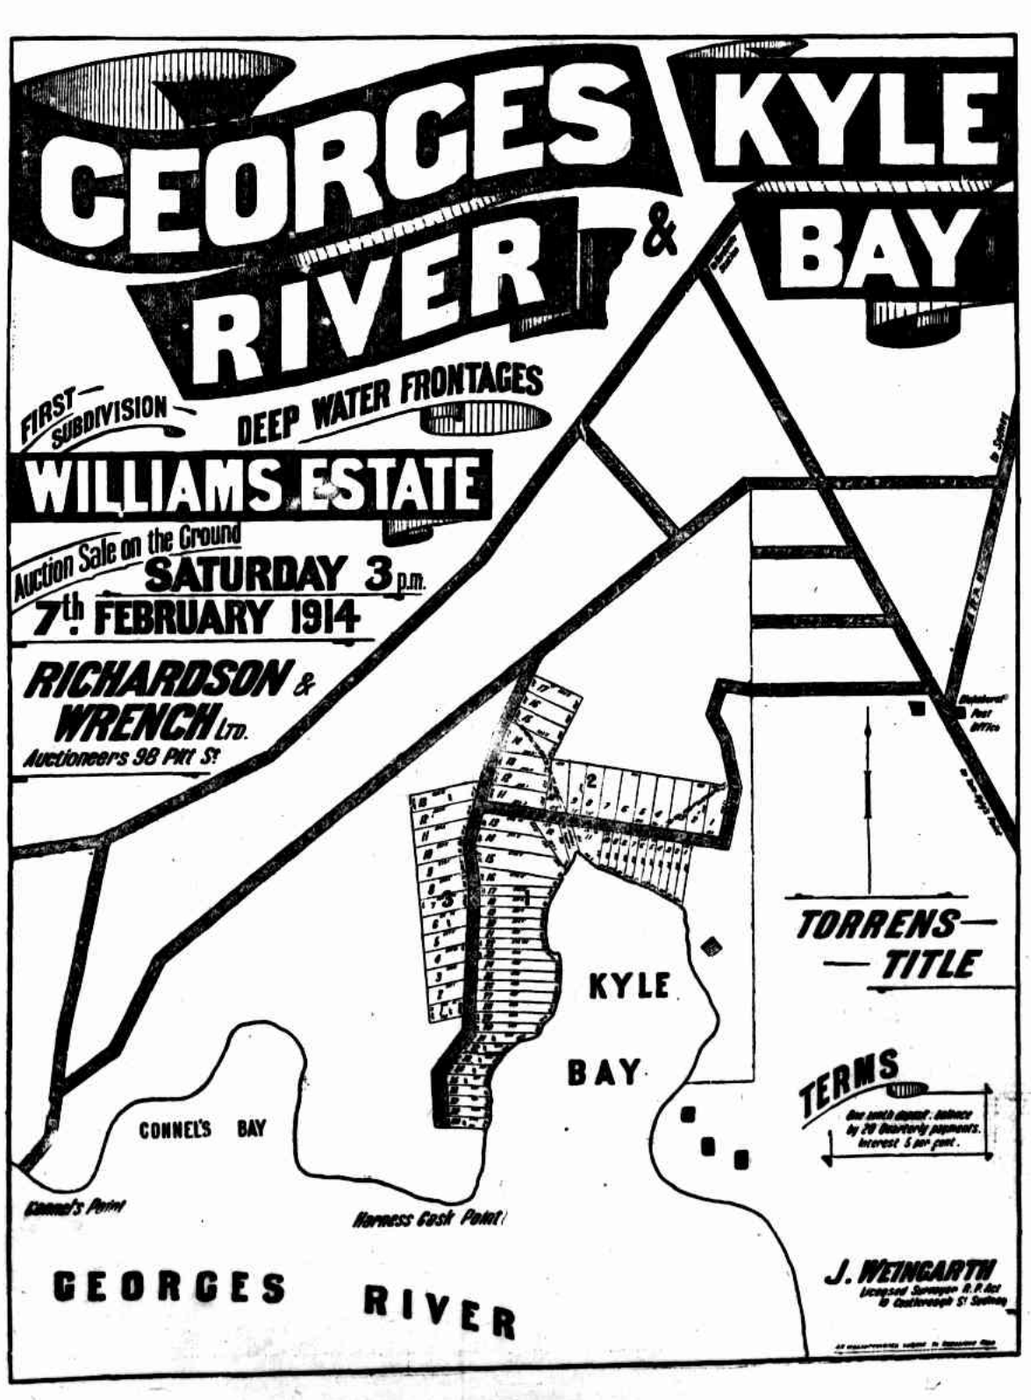

Important information affecting all municipal councils in the State was contained in a communication received by the Bathurst Council on Wednesday night from the Local Government Association concerning the legality of the council's decision to put garden plots in the streets. The advice read:—"Under section 84 of the Local Government Act councils are given power to plant trees in any street and erect tree-guards to protect such trees, provided that by so doing the width of the street shall not be decreased beyond the limit therein prescribed."

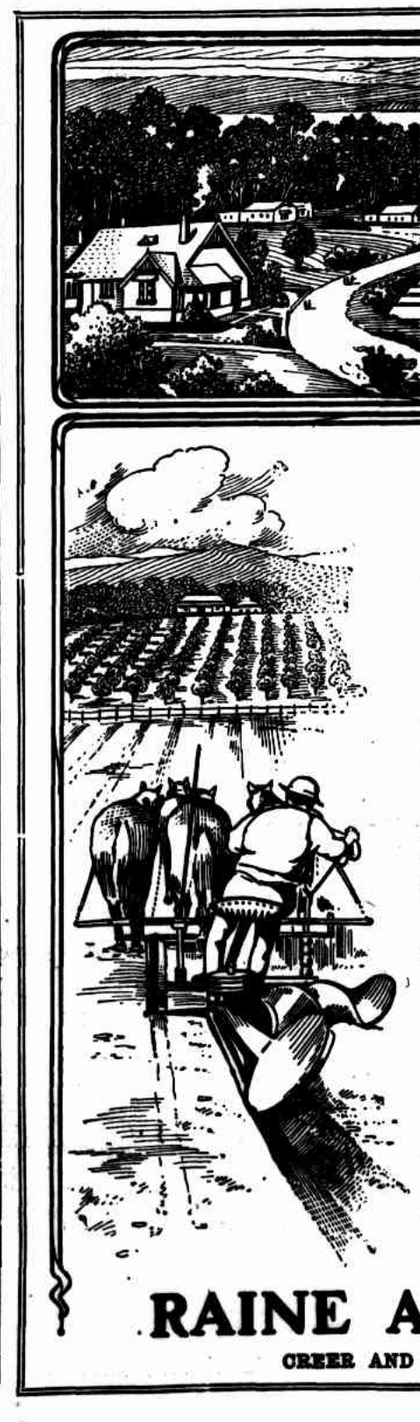

The council is desirous of setting aside parts of the streets as garden plots, and has been advised that such action in so doing would be illegal. The proposal is that the garden plot will be surrounded by borders of stone or concrete. It is submitted that there is nothing illegal in what is proposed, and that the term "trees" does not exclude the planting of shrubs, flowers, and grass; nor does it appear that a piece of land set aside as a tree reserve must necessarily and immediately be covered with large trees, to come within the section.

Council advises that such plots for trees are authorised by section 84, so long as such plots are for the purpose of planting anything that could be called a tree, a term that would not be interpreted strictly. There is no personal liability of aldermen in connection with the affair.

FARM AND STATION.

THE GREY FORESTER.

The ordinary life path of the grey forester was happily easy, marred only by dread of the insidious man foe, for where he roamed there was generally an abundance of grass and water. When he was four years old, however, a long drought changed the whole aspect of his usually bountiful domain. The ground became baked and bare, and with the scarcity of food he grew thin and weak. He had been driven to the farthest bounds of his run in search of sustenance, obtaining water at a hole that became dangerously boggy, as the thick scummy liquid receded. One evening he sank deeper than usual into the glutinous mud, and it was a desperate struggle to get out. When at last he reached the bank, stiff and benumbed, he lay there for a long while, hobbling away at last as soon as he could use his benumbed legs. Gleaning a few roots and dry stalks here and there, he made his way slowly and painfully down to the creek. It had long ceased to run, but he followed the dry sandy course in search of potholes. Finding none, he dropped on his hands in the deepest hollows, and, raking a little of the surface soil carefully to the excavation, found a watery smell. Greedily he lapped the refreshing water at last, he rooted deep down with his sharp front claws, and obtained a cool, refreshing drink.

For a week he returned daily to his soaker, widening and deepening it as necessity demanded. Several of his mates shared it with him, the rest made soakages for themselves in other parts of the creek. Half a dozen of them perished from starvation before the drought broke; and after the rains, which came in torrents, and flooded the country, he was marooned on a broad island. His only companions were a bandicoot and two koalas. But the island was alive with crawling things, especially ants, which tormented him day and night; and at dawn and sunset the sandflies were such a pest that in desperation he plunged into the brown sea. He was not much of a swimmer, and a few strokes convinced him that a long swim was beyond his capabilities; but he profited by the plunge. He learnt that by standing up to his shoulders in water the sandflies could only attack his head, which he could defend with comparative ease. Luckily the grass grew quickly, and in the young shoots he kept himself alive until the waters subsided. In a couple of months he was fat again. At next mating time, being then five years old, his 6 feet of stature entitled him to the rank of boomer. His mate, who was the same age, was not nearly so big. The fore part of his trunk was narrow, gradually extending to massive proportions behind; the fore limbs short, the hind ones long and powerful. The head was small, the neck slender, and the muzzle elongated. His nostril interspace was naked, which specifically distinguished him from his smaller relative, the wallaby, whose nostril interspace was hairy. His general colour was grey, lighter on the underparts, and darker on the thick muscular tail.

In company with the doe he was feeding on a small plain. Rising frequently to scan the horizon, he at length observed a horseman in the distance. He gave the danger signal, jumping twice and alighting on the foot and tail simultaneously, thus causing a heavy thump, whop! which instantly brought the doe to an upright posture. Other kangaroos were lying across the plain, and, as he turned and faced with them, he descried another horseman further along in the timber. He followed the mob down a long valley, and ever the mob increased, as kangaroos came dashing in from left and right, and the two horsemen became two lines of horsemen, one on each flank, drawing together as the valley narrowed. He had felt no fear at first, but now he realised that he and his mates were being driven into a corner. Below him was a deep gorge, with a bottle neck. He thought of it and stopped, with the intention of turning back. But his retreat was cut off. Clattering down behind him came an old man, and with him were two shaggy-coated dogs. The mob were rushing helter-skelter down between the closing hills. Seemingly it was the only way; at a speed tha' left the man far behind, he dashed up to the mouth of the gorge. There he halted abruptly. Along the heights in front of him were many men, with guns. Below he saw numbers of his fellows dropping under the fusillade, others halting in confusion, leaping frantically at the barrier that had been raised across the neck, or plunging wildly back over their dead compatriots. The old man and his two dogs approached. With his back to a tree he faced them. Generally timid and inoffensive, he was now worked into a state of frenetic savagery.

The leading dog made a spring at his throat, whilst the man was hastily pulling up a few yards off. The next moment the dog was stretched on the ground, mortally wounded, struck down with a single blow of the boomer's hind foot. Before the latter could lift the foot again, the other dog fastened on to his chest. In an instant, however, his arms closed round him, and, held in a suffocating embrace, the dog whined and kicked helplessly, until the man rushed up with a heavy stick. At the first blow the stick broke, and, throwing the dog from him, the indignant marsupial at once caught the man in his arms and hugged him. The man kicked and gasped, and heaved and groaned, and between whiles endeavoured to incite his dog to lay hold. But that animal, having been caught once, kept at a respectful distance, jumping and barking excitedly round the combatants. The noise attracted the hunters below, and presently, out of the corner of his eyes, the boomer saw two of them galloping up the gorge. He struck desperately with his hind foot to end the conflict. Getting his long toe in the man's belt, with a mighty wrench he hurled him to the ground, and darted away up the rugged hillside, mounting with alternating bounds and side springs that baffled pursuit.

In the days of truce that followed he mustered up his few scattered mates who had escaped from the battue. They were mostly flyers, bucks and does; the old man of the mob and most of his big fellows were missing. Thenceforth he was leader; the privileged king. Three good seasons, with comparative peace, resulted in the survivors increasing to a goodly mob. But danger now hemmed the leader more than ever. He had grown to 7ft in height, and measured 9ft from the tip of his tail to the tip of his ears. He represented the greatest of all the marsupials, which luckilessly made him an attractive object to the hunter. His biggest relative was the Euro, or red kangaroo, who, like himself, was a forester, frequenting the open forests, the clear hills, and plains. The next most important in size and weight was the wallaroo, an exceedingly timid animal, ranging in colour from dark brown to jet black, who lived among the ranges and mountains. The Boongarry, or tree kangaroo, who lived in trees, and the largest of the several species of wallabies, whose haunt was scrubby and rocky country, were only half as big.

An ambitious kangaroo-shooter, riding down the creek, allowed the wallabies, who and fled out from the brush, to regain their cover without hindrance. His roving eye had detected the great grey forester, standing erect on the far side of a small plain. The grey forester saw him, but, feeling safe at the distance, he stood and watched him. The man was not looking towards him, neither was he riding in his direction. In a little while the man crossed at a bend of the creek and disappeared. For some time the big kangaroo watched along the timber, then dropped down to feed. A little later he rose with a jerk, and turned partly round. Something moved among the trees between him and the nearest point of the creek. What it was he could not tell. In a moment he saw it again, low down against the butt of a big red gum. Suspicious and uneasy, he signalled to his mates. As he stood up for another look a puff of smoke shot up from the root of the tree, and instantly he felt a sharp sting in his chest. The grey forester made several rapid bounds in a half-circle, then dropped dead.

WORLD'S HIGHEST TREES.

Mr. J. H. Maiden, Director Botanic Garden, writing with reference to a paragraph in the "Herald" entitled the World's Highest Trees, points out that the biggest Australian tree is not eucalyptus amygdalina, but E. regnans, and the old statement that it attains a height of 480 feet was exploded by a commission of inquiry in 1888.

THE WOOL TRADE.

AN EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD DEMAND.

Excellent selling conditions have ruled for the bulk of the wools offered in the Sydney market this week. The catalogues were necessarily more or less of a clearing-up character, and included a sprinkling of previously offered parcels. As wool was wanted, there was no discrimination on the score of some lots having previously figured in the catalogues. It was simply a question of supply and demand, with more demand than stocks to go round, eloquently testifying to the strong position of the staple and the needs of wool manufacturers. All the factors at present are very favourable for a continuance of firm values. Wool production is evidently keeping well within trade requirements, and the moderate increase in the current season's clip was needed to keep the mills moving, especially with American users able to take as wide a range of wools from oversea markets as manufacturers in the United Kingdom, on the Continent, and Japan.

When the market opened this week it was evident that the strong tone and small carryover at the London sales last week would be reflected in the Sydney saleroom. The easier money market in Europe, the general tranquil state of affairs internationally, trade fairly good, the standard of comfort on the increase, a wider use of woollens—all tend to take the clip each year straight from the shearing sheds to the mills. There may be a little talk occasionally about wool banking up at Bradford—strange to say, too, at a time when a smaller proportion had been secured from Australia than usual; but it is only "bear" feelers put forth to try and drag wool values down during the height of the weekly selling season. This season some topmakers may have had to sell to keep down the overdraft, may also have been strained in finance to secure a good position of the clip, and simply looked to sailing ships instead of steamers as a means of overcoming their difficulties. Yet, oddly enough, while that was the position they were quoting forward delivery of tops on a lower basis than current wool rates could get them out to profit.

What may be reasonably looked for after the experience since the recess this year is that there will not be the same clamour on the part of growers to sell before Christmas, or the Bradford trade to sell ahead in December, on the strength of cheaper wool in January. Last year there was not the same "bear" policy as this year, because the Australian clip for the 1912-13 season was obviously likely to be below requirements. Growers had blind faith in selling before Christmas, just when a heavy weight of wool is being catalogued in interstate markets, and very little hope of doing a trifle better by helping to spread the wool-selling period a little more evenly over the second half of the statistical year. A few years ago there were marked fluctuations in wool values; going to boom heights and dropping to zero depths in a very little while. Wool did then bank up, but latterly the requirements have been such that in spite of small wars, rumours of big wars and financial stringency each clip has gone to the mills without hindrance or very serious depressions, at satisfactory prices to woolgrowers.

Those growers who have had their wools catalogued this week have fared exceptionally well. Medium and low-scoured did not fare too well, but those descriptions were in very small supply proportionately to the other wools offered. From the very commencement of the season the Continental buyers took possession of the market and supported it consistently throughout. For short periods they were barely so active; but in the main they were a tower of strength; they anticipated the position, and will doubtless profit by it. The French and German buyers have secured the bulk of the purchases in the Sydney market. The "open door" in the United States has led to good business from America, and when the 76,500,000lb of wool that was in bond when the free wool bill came into operation is cleared up, still larger orders will come this way. Japan, with the local mills, have also been no mean factors in the season's business. More recently Yorkshire has been to the fore, and, when the clearing-up sales are held during the second week of next month, doubtless will give a good account of the textile shire.

Rates current for the principal descriptions of the staple may be given as follows:—

In consequence of the Anniversary Day public holiday on Monday, auctions were confined to three days this week; the sales opening on Tuesday and concluding on Thursday. Two catalogues were submitted on Tuesday, totalling 9155 bales, of which 8226 were sold at auctions. The wools were drawn largely from the tablelands and slopes; comprising a fair average selection in the grease, including a few well-bred clips, but small unstinted lots preponderated. There was a good display of country scoured, with some locally treated parcels. Buyers were in very full attendance, and from the first lot offered it was apparent that a strong market would be met. All sections were active, and even medium wools and unskirted lines were in brisk demand at firmer values, being generally 2½ to 5 per cent. higher on greasy and 2½ on scoured, except locks, which were firm. Greasy sold to 13½d, paid for 29 bales 1st com w e of RRD/Wongalee/New England, a fine, soft, bright wool in good condition. The same figure was obtained for seven bales 1st of JK/New England from Armidale, a showy wool of nice growth and good character; and for 29 bales w h e of JTF/New England, also from Armidale, a bright, showy wool, of nice character. Scoured sold to 22½d, for 20 bales 1st com of BGH/WD (Carlindai), a good quality wool, bulky and bright, rather fatty; Brenda (Brewarrina) sold to 22½d.

On Wednesday three catalogues aggregated 9554 bales, and the clearances at auction 8989 bales. The selection was a fair average one, the wools coming principally from the tablelands and slopes. There was a sprinkling of attractive lines in the grease, with a proportion of faulty and skirty wools. The catalogues were of a clearing-up character, and included a sprinkling of previously offered parcels. There was a fair display of scoured, including two or three lines from Queensland. All the best features of the previous day were again in evidence; the market being buoyant for all grades. Greasy sold to /14, obtained for 12 bales sup com of HFM/King, Glen Innes/New England, from Urella, a fine wool of good length in attractive condition. Close up came 20 bales 1st com c h of the trident/Waterloo/New England brand, from Glen Innes, that sold to /13½, 20 bales 1st com w making /13½, a wool of good staple, very good colour and quality, free and in good condition. Scoured sold to /22½, paid for 9 bales of CB/New England, from Dundee, a wool of fair length, good colour, and quality, not free. The MC/Pendine/Queensland sold to /22½, for 17 bales c w e, good length, colour, and quality, free, and in dry condition.

On Thursday two catalogues totalled 7748 bales, of which 6845 were cleared under the hammer. The offerings comprised a good showing of useful wools, mainly from the tablelands, but also including some parcels from the west, with a few attractive lines. There was a fair display of scourers, including one or two super parcels. The market showed very little alteration on that of the two previous sale days; there was spirited competition for all descriptions in the grease, and best scoureds at late full rates; but medium and low scoured were irregular, and withdrawals were larger than usual. Greasy sold to /32, paid for 16 bales AAA of NH/S/Stony Batter, from Urulla, a wool of good length and quality, bright and free. Scoured sold to /33, within 1d of the highest price this season, for 25 bales 1st fl. a wool of fine quality, good colour and handle, that opened up in excellent order.

INTERSTATE MARKETS.

Auctions have been proceeding in the Melbourne and Geelong markets this week, and although some of the catalogues have reflected the nearness of the close of the season, the offerings have been large and attractive. With the Continental section more active on the last few days than previously, a very strong demand has been in force; especially for the best wools in both merino and crossbred. Some large lines of scoured have been included in the offerings. The firm closing of the London sales tended to stiffen the market; merinos, comebacks, and fine crossbreds being very firm; only medium crossbred failing to realise the full rates of last week. The regular selling season will be brought to a close next week.

The next series of sales in the Brisbane market will be held next week, when some 25,000 bales will be catalogued. This will be the most important fixture till the new clip wool comes forward in the northern State.

The offerings and sales in the principal interstate centres to latest dates are as follows:—

SYDNEY WOOL RECEIPTS.

The quantities of wool arriving now are very light, by both rail and boats. There has been a slight decrease in both forms of transits. The increase for the season, however, continues to be a substantial one. The following table shows the receipts for the week and season to date, compared to the corresponding periods of last year:—

BY RAIL.

Season.	Jan. 24-30. Bales.	July 1-Jan. 30. Bales.

BRADFORD TOPS.

According to our cable message of yesterday's date, there was a better inquiry and a healthier spirit evidenced in Bradford tops.

On the corresponding date last year there was a strong inquiry and quotations for all counts were advanced 1d. The course of prices during the current Australian wool season compares with the corresponding period last year as follows:—

Messrs. Wenz and Co., writing, Rheims, December 13, with reference to tops at that time, said that the situation had not improved, the demand keeping within very narrow limits; crossbreds were the most neglected. Prices were upheld with difficulty, and the few transactions that had taken place were concluded by means of concessions. The five chief conditioning houses in France registered in November 4,401,000 kilos of tops, against 6,643,000 in November, 1912. The total for the 11 months 1913 (58,615,000) showed a decrease of 11,428,000 as compared with the same period of 1912 (70,042,000). In noils buyers were keeping reserved, prices being weak. In the combing mills the position had distinctly improved for the near future, thanks to the first arrivals that had taken place. At Mazamont business remained quiet, prices being barely maintained.

WOOL SHIPMENTS.

Large shipments have taken place during the week, 13 vessels clearing the Sydney Customs for the United Kingdom and foreign ports, aggregating 52,724 bales, as compared with six vessels during the corresponding week last year with 30,654 bales. Since July 1 last 13,353 bales have been shipped from Newcastle to London, inclusive of 1013 bales by the steamer Themistocles on January 5. The vessels, with quantities for the week, and total for the season to date, compared to corresponding period last year, are as follows:—

ROBERTSON DISTRICT.

PROSPEROUS MOUNTAIN SETTLEMENT.

(BY G. C. P.)

The Robertson district cannot by any exaggeration be called new. Its earlier name of Wingecarribee takes the memory back to the very early times of settlement in the South Coastal highlands. The later one was bestowed in honour of old Sir John Robertson, and to mark the time when the district was the first in the State in which land was taken up in keeping with the provisions of the Free Selection Act of 1861. A reminiscence of that fact is seen in the size of the farms in this district to-day. They run from 100 to 300 acres, for the most part, though one or two reach the limit of 400. That is really a variation only of the original 320 acres selection taken up by settlers of the smaller class, and representing half of the regulation 640 acres—or one square mile—provided for in the 1861 Act. Sales and cross adaptations of one kind and another account for the variation of the older standard.

The township of Robertson is the business centre of a thriving rural neighbourhood that is destined to be heard of to good purpose in the matter of soil products in the near future. Kangaroo and Wilde's Meadow are sub-centres of a still more rural character; and balance each other on opposite sides of the township at a few miles' distance. At all three places are butter factories. The Kangaloon factory is on the west side of the neighbourhood bearing its name, on the main road from Robertson to Bowral, from which West Kangaloon, as the little village is called, is distant about 12 or 14 miles. All the roads of the district are good, though hilly everywhere. The whole place is one vast, rolling extent of mountain country. A fairly extensive valley, south of Robertson, is the only exception, and the only part on which a level farm, or even a level paddock, is to be found. The soil is of a rich reddish-brown colour, of basaltic formation, and good right to the rounded tops of the highest hills. All the usual fodder crops grow well—oats, rye, and barley on the flats and lower lands; and maize—cut green for dairy-fodder purposes—also gives a good account of itself.

Dairying is the staple industry. The altitude of about 2000ft, on the average, above sea-level, is one in which the cattle do well; and the hilly country induces sturdiness. The carrying capacity, in a normally good season, is in the proportion of about 30 cows to every 100 acres, with incidental stock thrown in. With even the comparatively dry seasons the district has had to contend with during more recent years, it has kept up a good record of general prosperity. The factories send both milk and butter to Sydney. Robertson and Wilde's Meadow sending via Moss Vale, and West Kangaloon via Bowral. Much of the milk arriving in Sydney daily by the southern trains is from the Robertson district. The practice followed by the dairy farmers is that of sending the morning's milk to the factory in their centre, the evening milking being separated, and only the cream sent. In this way a dual—or, at least, a varied—source of income is commanded. Motor-lorries have latterly been brought into requisition for transit purposes, farmers having only to deposit their tins at convenient points along the main route to the factory.

An industry of some importance beginning to emerge in this district is the profitable growing of several kinds of vegetables. In the past, potato-growing was considerably in evidence, though latterly it has been rather neglected. Possibly there may be a revival. At any rate, there is a move in the direction of a fairly extensive raising of cabbages and peas, to the profitable cultivation of which the district appears to be specially well adapted. In many places, not only cabbage patches, but actually cabbage farms, adorn the more low-lying country. The pronounced form of undulation everywhere in evidence lends itself to the training of water-races, that is an essential condition of success in this line. Water may easily be brought from the higher portions of creeks and from hillside springs for irrigation purposes. In many places there are fine examples of this, and stories are rife of surprisingly good money being put up by this method of agriculture.

It would not be in the least surprising to find the Robertson district taking its place, ere long, among the leading fruit-growing centres of the State. The soil is rigut, the altitude favourable, while the curving crowns and sloping sides of the hills seem ideal in point of situation. Something in this direction has been done, but not on any extensive or systematic scale. Enough has been done, however, to prove the suitability of the district for fruit-raising purposes. Apples, pears, and the stoned fruits do well, while there appears to be a special adaptation to the growth of gooseberries and other varieties of the berry group.

Apart from other wealth, the nigh, rounded hills cover great masses of the blue metal that is always in demand for road making and mending purposes, and for ballast for our always extending railway lines. The adoption of motor lorry traffic on country roads is all in the way of encouragement of the development of such an industry. Something might be done, also, with the timber production of this locality. All over the district a timber known as "sally wood" abounds. It is of the same class as the blackwood of Victoria and the New England district of New South Wales. It is, when cut and worked, of a rich brown colour, and handsomely marked, and is durable in quality. It is much in request for the more ornamental parts of light vehicles, and is valuable in railway carriage construction. These beautiful trees go apparently unnoted, however, to any such use.

One essential need stands back of all others in regard to this district, and that is a connecting line of railway. It is only some 15 miles from Robertson to the main Southern line of rail on the west, and something like the same distance to the South Coast line on the east. Many years ago, money was on the Estimates for a line to connect with the former, and the usual promises in official quarters have from time to time been made; but so far nothing has been done.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

CHANGE OF MINISTERS.

The heads of the various branches of the Department of Agriculture assembled in the Minister's room on Thursday, to take leave of Mr. Trefle and to welcome Mr. Ashford, the new Minister for Agriculture. Besides the Under-Secretary (Mr. G. Valder), there were present Mr. Salwey, the assistant Under-Secretary, Mr. H. W. Potts, principal of the Hawkesbury College, Mr. J. H. Maiden, director of the Botanic Gardens, Mr. Symons, chief inspector of stock, and Mr. F. B. Guthrie, chemist for the department.

Mr. Valder said they all had to thank the ex-Minister for the grand work he had done in connection with the department, and also for the great interest he had taken in the individual work of the officers. He had promoted every branch of agriculture. Agriculture was a portfolio that the Premier of South Africa, General Botha, had dignified by taking under his own administrative charge, the effect of this being to give a great impetus to agriculture throughout the Union. They were pleased that in Mr. Ashford they would again have a farmer at the head of the department, and he could be assured of the loyal co-operation of the staff in whatever policy he entered upon for the improvement of rural pursuits.

WHEAT-GROWING.

IN THE MUDGEE DISTRICT.

MUDGEE.—Mr. E. Loneragan supplies some particulars in regard to the wheat return for the year 1913 from Wallinga Farm. Mr. Loneragan, who takes considerable interest in wheat culture, thinks that Mudgee is eminently suitable for it; firstly, on account of the good rainfall and the rain falling at suitable periods for the growth of wheat; and secondly, because the Mudgee country, although the surface of the soil is not of the richest chocolate or red loam, is quite good enough to produce excellent crops of wheat. There is a natural red clay reservoir near to the surface soil, which holds every drop of moisture that falls, and enables the young wheat plant to grow and thrive, where on even a richer and deeper soil it would wither. There are thousands of acres all in the immediate vicinity of Mudgee which could be turned over for wheat crops, and if farmed under a methodical system of dry farming would, he feels sure, produce wheat crops every year. There are men in this district, like Mr. J. R. Atkinson (Galambine), Mr. Douglas Cox (Gunnagawah), Mr. Carter (Enfield), and other gentlemen, who get good yields of wheat from their farms every year, and probably not one of these gentlemen has missed a crop for the past six years, although there has been a great variation in the seasons during that time. Mr. Loneragan suggests that an association be formed, and any person interested could apply to the association for any information that they might require in regard to wheat culture.

The following are particulars of the bags of wheat and oats produced on Wallinga farm during the season 1913:—1504 bags prime milling wheat, 321 bags prime quality Sussex seed wheat, 263 bags prime quality Comeback seed wheat, 114 bags prime quality Warren seed wheat, 82 bags prime quality Federation seed wheat, 67 bags mixed and broken grain wheat, 18 bags of prime quality white oats.

The following were produced on the experimental plots:—3 2-3 bags prime Florence seed wheat, 3½ bags prime Cleveland seed wheat, 2½ bags prime Rymer seed wheat. Total number of bags of wheat produced, 2365; total number of bags of white oats produced, 18. During the year sufficient maize was produced on the farm for feed for working draught horses. In the months of May, June, and July, 1897 sheep were depastured on the growing crops. A number of these were sent to Homebush fat stock sales, and realised a payable profit. The whole of these sheep were sold by the end of August, other lots being purchased at intervals until the stubble was ready, when 868 sheep were depastured on the stubble.

The following are the yields per acre of wheat from the Government experimental plots on Wallinga farm, 1913:—Harvested on December 2, by Mr. J. W. Shaw, Government inspector:—Bunyip, 18 bushels 30 lb; Warren, 21 bushels 24lb; Bayah, 18 bushels 15lb; Florence (manured), 18 bushels 32lb; Florence (not manured), 13 bushels 24lb; Rymer, 31 bushels; Cleveland, 31 bushels 10lb; Federation (sown with 25lb seed), 22 bushels 15lb; Federation (sown with 35lb seed), 24 bushels 22lb; Federation (sown with 45lb seed), 21 bushels 53lb; Federation (sown with 65lb seed), 29 bushels 25lb.

HORSE SALE.

GUYRA.—Mr. T. E. Cole conducted his annual horse sale here on Thursday, when about 300 head of various descriptions were yarded. There was a good attendance, including several prominent buyers from the south, and draughts realised to £23, and light horses to £10. From a settler's standpoint the market was not considered encouraging.

P.P. BOARDS.

At the recent council meeting of the Sydney Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to fall in with the proposal of the president of the Shires' Association to co-operate in a demonstration, which will be held during show week, with a view of protesting against the abolition of the P.P. Boards.

BOYS FOR NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

Through the generosity of Mr. Sargood a new scheme for bringing English boys out and giving them a thorough training in farm work will be inaugurated forthwith by Mr T. E. Sedgwick, who has already brought a large number of boys to New Zealand. Mr. Sargood will provide an estate near Lake Wangaka for the purpose, and is prepared to accommodate a succession of lads on the property. He recently visited England, and was so struck by the wretched conditions of living of many of the poor there that he determined to give some boys a chance in a new land. Besides giving the use of the property, Mr. Sargood will advance money where necessary for the passage. The boys will be thoroughly instructed in farming, working limited hours weekly, at a minimum of 7s 6d and found. The boys will be free agents, and able to leave the farm at any time, but a year's training is expected to fit them for work elsewhere.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

Department of Taxation, Sydney, 24th December, 1913.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INCOME TAX (MANAGEMENT) ACT, 1912.

NOTICE is hereby given, under section 20 of the Income Tax (Management) Act, 1912, that RETURNS of Income received during the year 1913 for the purposes of the assessment of Income Tax for the year 1914 are required to be furnished to the Commissioners of Taxation, at their office, George-street North, Sydney, on or before the seventh day of February, 1914; and all persons who are in receipt of income, and all persons liable under the provisions of the above Act in any representative capacity to furnish returns for the purposes aforesaid, are hereby informed that the prescribed Forms and Returns are now available and (except those for Companies) may be obtained on application at any Post-office, Police Office, Customs-house, Railway Station, and the Office of any Clerk of Petty Sessions in New South Wales, Stamp Duties Office, Phillip-street, Sydney, or at the Office of the Department of Taxation, George-street North, Sydney.

Forms for Companies can be obtained on application at the Stamp Duties Office, Phillip-street, Sydney, or at the Taxation Office, George-street North, Sydney.

All persons carrying on any business, including grazing or farming of every description (whether the land used in this connection be Crown Lease or Freehold), trade, or profession on their own account, or who are in receipt of Income from rents of property, are required to furnish Income Returns irrespective of the amount of their income; but, unless demanded by notice in writing from the Commissioners of Taxation, a return of Income in the case of a person in receipt of salary or wages only, and who has not previously been a taxpayer, is not required if the gross annual amount of such salary or wages does not exceed £250.

All employers of labour, whether they themselves are liable to make Income Tax Returns or not, are required to furnish to the Commissioners of Taxation the name, occupation, and address of each and every employee whose salary or wage for the year 1913 aggregated £260 or upwards.

Special attention is called to the fact that, owing to recent legislation, ALL INCOME derived from GRAZING and FARMING of every description, or from RENTS of property, or from the USE, OWNERSHIP, or CULTIVATION of all classes of land in any way, is LIABLE TO TAX, and notwithstanding that the land used in this connection may be subject to a LAND TAX, MUNICIPAL or SHIRE Rate.

Public attention is particularly called to the following facts, viz., that a penalty not exceeding Twenty Pounds is imposed on any person neglecting to furnish the Return required of him within the time above mentioned, and that any person failing to furnish such Return is not relieved from liability to the penalty by reason only that a notice to furnish the Return may not have been received by, or that the prescribed Form may not have been delivered to, such person.

All Owners of Taxable Lands subject to mortgage should furnish particulars of every such mortgage, in order that they may derive the benefit of any deduction to which they may be entitled in respect of the interest on the mortgage of their lands, including improvements thereon.

Forms of the prescribed Return (Form K) may be obtained on application at the Offices of the Commissioners of Taxation, or the Commissioner for Stamp Duties, and should be furnished on or before the seventh day of February, 1914, before mentioned. J. W. HOLLIMAN, R. N. JOHNSON, W. H. WHIDDON, Commissioners of Taxation.

N.B.—Particular attention is called to the observations and directions with the Forms of Return. (2-C1)

MACHINERY.

HOW ABOUT EASY TERMS. Don't say to yourself, "I ought to have that machine in my shop because I could turn out more work at less cost, but I can't afford it." That sort of talk won't do nowadays; you must have that machine, and we are prepared to let you have it on the easiest terms possible. Come and listen to our proposition, and you will see that you can instal that machine and make it pay for itself.

COLCHESTER HIGH SPEED LATHES. Get in early and avoid disappointments; they're going fast. When buying a high-speed lathe, make sure that it is a high-speed lathe, see that the cones are large in diameter, see that they take a good wide belt, see that the weight is in the right place, compare other lathes with the Colchester, and you'll see that the Colchester comes out top.

HOEFER DRILLING MACHINES. Some so-called Drilling Machines will do the work for awhile, but how long will they work accurately? Now the Hoefer Drill is a drilling machine that we guarantee for accuracy and satisfaction. Let your next drilling machine be a Hoefer.

MASCOT RADIAL DRILLING MACHINES. Eight Machines sold in five weeks. Why? Because they are the best Radial Drilling Machine Value.

THE AMERICAN WOODWORKING MACHINERY COMPANY. Their Woodworking Machines are gaining favour every day. Their prices are right, the design is the latest, the workmanship the best.

MANY A JOB HAS BEEN "HUNG UP" ON POOR BELTING. Just as many others have been pulled to a successful issue by "PIONEER" LEATHER BELTING. "Dependable"—that's the big word written all over "Pioneer" Brand. What finer thing can be said of the Belting you depend upon to transmit your power? The function of Belting is simple enough. Its duty is to keep YOUR Machinery running full speed all the time. Strength, combined with elasticity, is what's needed, and this is the feature that has made "PIONEER" LEATHER BELTING SUPERIOR. Catalogue and Price Book ready—send for it. J. C. LUDOWICI AND SON, LTD., Pioneer Works, 117 YORK-STREET, SYDNEY.

KEYSTONE PULLEYS, THE PULLEY OF THE AGE. This Pulley is the result of careful study of the weakness of other steel pulleys, and is built strongest where other makes are weakest. TO OWN A HOME
AT ROSEBERY,
THE MODEL AND INDUSTRIAL SUBURB, is a worthy ambition easily to be gratified.
Rosebery is rightly called
"The Wage-earner's Paradise."

The man who owns a Rosebery Home has every right to the respect and congratulations of all public-spirited people. He becomes at once a substantial and honoured member of the community. He is admired as much for his sound business judgment as for his thoughtful provision for wife and children. His children in years to come will be the best kind of citizens—healthy, bright, independent.

ROSEBERY FULFILS THE BEST IDEALS IN HOME-PLANNING.
Its position is truly magnificent, right overlooking Botany Bay, with the Victoria Park and Rosebery Racecourses and the Kensington Golf Links in close proximity. Fifteen minutes by tram takes you right to the Central Railway Station for the low cost of 1d.
In the broad, open streets, extensive parks, commodious dwellings and gardens, children cannot help but thrive, while to the father after his hard day's work nothing could be more restful than to sit in his own cool home.

THE DESIGNS OF ROSEBERY
COTTAGES ARE MOST ELABORATE,
Yet the Cost is Really Low.
We have Cottages ranging from £695 to £900, and no two designs alike.
Here is a brief description of
ONE AT £750:—
Standing on land 40 x 160, built of brick, with tile roof; contains 4 rooms, kitchen, laundry, pantry, bathroom (finished in modern style), with all art furnishings, fibrous ceilings, picture rails, art mantels, gas stove, fixed tubs, copper, etc.
THE TERMS ARE ALSO UNIQUE.
For a matter of £25 to £50 Deposit one of these modern and artistic Homes becomes yours. The balance of purchase money simply dissolves as rent at, say, from £1 to 25/ per week, including BOTH principal and interest at 6 per cent. Larger deposits mean, of course, a lower rental still. No more liberal terms were ever offered.

You can also obtain on this splendid suburb
A FINE ALLOTMENT FOR £5 DEPOSIT.
Picked blocks, every one with frontages of 40ft or 50ft by 140ft to 150ft depths. The purchase price is £3 per foot, with the exception of corner blocks; and, as these properties are bound to rapidly increase in value, a more gilt-edged investment would be impossible. Balance of purchase money is payable at £1 per month, which includes interest at 6 per cent.

TORRENS TITLE.
You should write or call at once for fully descriptive Booklet, and go over this grand proposition with your wife.
STANTON AND SON, LTD., 129 Pitt-street, Sydney;
STANTON AND SON, LTD., Summer Hill, at rly. stn.;
STANTON AND SON, LTD., and at Rosebery.

WHICH IS BETTER?
A CITY PROPERTY, returning 5 per cent., and improving by at least 2½ per cent. each year.
OR A MORTGAGE, returning 5½ per cent. p.a.
The Man who does not buy a permanent home for his business is making a big mistake.
Time passes very quickly, and the longest lease comes to an end.
People get a habit of going to a place if it is always there; THAT and YOU is the secret of success.

THRIFT

is the foundation of fortune. The few pence saved on your shopping soon add to the shilling already in your stocking—before long it is a pound—a couple of pounds—then enough to pay a deposit on a choice Lot of Land. Tramways or Railways come along—population pours in—the value of your land doubles or trebles before you have actually paid for it. You sell, and find yourself with considerable cash in hand, and you go and buy some more and reap a bigger profit each time. It is being done every day. Many of our early clients who started with pence a few years back can now write their names to substantial four figure cheques.

RYDE.

Homesites, 10 minutes from tram. Nice walk to train or ferry. Elevated, with fine outlook from Ryde Heights. Level Lots, 50 x 140, from 15/, a foot.

HORNSBY.

Homesites at Hornsby North, fronting Railway Line. Free motor service to residents, pending erection of a platform, Lots 50 x 150, from 17/6 a foot.

BRIGHTON,

Homesites at terminus of Rockdale tram, fronting Lady Robinson's Beach. Close to baths, shops, etc. Lots 66 x 135, from 22/6 a foot.

CRONULLA.

The fashionable surfing resort. Half-acre Homesites of good soil, adjoining tramline—five minutes' ride to beach, from £38 each. Splendid orchards and poultry runs on the Estate. The Title is Torrens.

OUR EASY TERMS give the required start. Just a Pound Down, and 10/ Monthly (including interest) for every £25 purchased. TORRENS TITLE.

HOUSES AND LAND FOR SALE.

EVERYTHING PROSPERS AT HABERFIELD. Sydney's HABERFIELD. Garden HABERFIELD. Suburb.

The soil at Haberfield is peculiarly rich in those qualities which produce the choicest of roses, flowers, vegetables, and fruit. Thus is provided a pleasurable recreation for Haberfield dwellers with a welcome opportunity to profitably economise.

Moreover, the soil and climatic conditions which so effectively benefit plant life, are equally beneficial to human life, thus the standard of health is maintained at a higher level at Haberfield than in any other district about the Capital City. This fact should be borne in mind for the children's sake.

THEN, THE TERMS ARE SO EASY.

You can buy a beautiful Haberfield Home for an initial outlay of about £50. The balance is payable as rent, which often works out cheaper this way than when you rent an old house and the property, remember, is BECOMING YOUR VERY OWN.

BRIEFLY SUMMARISED, HABERFIELD OFFERS YOU

Charming, Healthy Surroundings, Unsurpassable Flowers, Fruit, and Vegetables, An artistically designed residence, with every modern convenience. A home in your own right.

Now, read these descriptions of two typical "Happy Haberfield Homes," and act at once to secure one.

BUILDING MATERIALS.

A BAD IMITATION IS OFTEN COSTLY TO USE.
FIBRO-CEMENT
(HARDIE'S GENUINE) SHEETS.
After standing Government and other tests in Australia for over ten years, have proved to be everything they are claimed.

EXPERIENCE
thus gained has enabled us to procure these Sheets specially suitable for the Australian climate, and they do not crack or buckle.

MADE IN ENGLAND.
Extensively used for Exterior and Interior Walls, Partitions and Ceilings.
PROOF AGAINST FIRE, ROT, HEAT, AND ANTS.
On account of the rigidity of FIBRO-CEMENT, the studs to receive the sheets need only be spaced 2ft centres.

ERECTED COST SAME AS WEATHERBOARDS.
Sizes—8ft x 4ft, 4ft x 4ft, and 6ft x 3ft.
F. C. WATER PAINT (in Paste Form).
Specially Prepared for use on FIBRO-CEMENT SHEETS, for Exterior and Interior Use.

FIBRO-CEMENT SLATES, in Grey, Purple, Red, and Dark Colours, make an ideal roofing for the Australian Climate.

Quotations given, FIXED by our Expert Slaters, in any district.

A BIG FEATURE OF CALMON'S ASBESTOS SLATES
and Shingles is their strength. They will stand a wonderful amount of heavy handling without breaking, and, being created for freighting, carry over any distance and any route with an entire absence of breakages.

This, together with their fire and water proof properties, make them ideal for roofing Australian dwellings, banks, butter factories, dairies, garages, and other buildings.

Write to-night for catalogue of
CALMON'S ASBESTOS SLATES AND SHINGLES.

ALWAYS USE
"POILITE" ASBESTOS CEMENT SHEETS AND TILES.
(GENUINE BRITISH MADE.)
"POILITE" lessens the cost of building construction, and prevents the possibilities of destruction by fire, white ants, and decay.
To know "POILITE" is to always use it. It costs about the same as weatherboard, and is easily nailed into position.
"POILITE" TILES make attractive and economical roofs.
For full particulars write for a copy of our Catalog "P."

THE HOME OF MODERN INTERIOR FITTINGS.

Your Gas or Electric Fittings should be selected to harmonise with the interior schemes of the rooms, landings, halls, etc.

A gentleman who required Electroliers to effectively set off artistic interior plans and decorations visited every house of repute in the line in Sydney, and we got the order. Enough said.

At present we are showing many of the newest and most original ideas from England and America, that we invite you to inspect.

In Mantels, Fireplaces, and other interior fittings we have a rare collection of new art designs, at a wide range of prices.

If unable to call, may we send our Representative or Catalogues?

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

PIANOS OF PROVED EXCELLENCE.

If, when purchasing a Piano, you expect to obtain an instrument which will give lasting and satisfactory service, DON'T experiment; it's too costly!

You will eliminate all chance of disappointment if you purchase one of our famous models.

For nearly thirty years we have been supplying pianos of the highest grade to many of the best homes in New South Wales, and the increasing business is due solely to the magnificent qualities embodied in these superior instruments.

The rich, mellow tone—the sympathetic touch—the remarkable durability—the handsome appearance, are features which combine to make these instruments so universally and deservedly popular.

Again, you will effect a substantial saving by purchasing at our Warehouse, as we do not merely buy wholesale, nor do we indent, but all instruments are selected at the factory, where we pay spot cash, and every advantage obtained is passed on to our satisfied clients.

Our SOLE AGENCIES comprise the following celebrated "makes":—

(1) The "Schiedmayer," used in most of the Royal Courts of Europe, and has taken first prizes at Exhibitions all over the world.

(2) The celebrated "KRAUSS," whose beautiful singing tone is the talk of the Trade.

(3) The "STEIN," which has become renowned all through the State and other colonies as a marvel of value.

(4) The "RAINSDORF," known by its sweetness and strength of tone, also perfect touch and handsome case.

Owing to the superiority of our instruments many people are parting with their pianos and replacing them with instruments selected from my stock. As a consequence we have among others the following splendid second-hand instruments for sale at reasonable prices:—

"BLUTHNER," "BECHSTEIN," "SCHWACHTEN," "SCHMIDT," "BROADWOOD."

Every new instrument is fully covered with a guarantee. A liberal discount will be allowed for cash, while terms can be arranged to suit clients. Satisfaction is always assured. Write now for catalogues to

MAX WURCKER, 99 and 101 York-street, SYDNEY.

STECK.

STECK PIANOS have an individuality, a goodness common to themselves only. Most musicians on playing over the keyboard for the first time express their wonder and delight at their tonal beauty, the faultless touch, the "JUST RIGHT" quality that appeals to the artist.

We do not exaggerate at all when we say that it is not possible to make a finer piano than the STECK.

You are invited to call and play the STECK, and we shall be glad to forward STECK Catalogue to anyone who writes for it.

Prices from 68 guineas cash, or extended terms can be arranged.

THE PIANOLA COMPANY PTY., LTD., 357 GEORGE-STREET, SYDNEY.

STECK. No matter how much a Piano may be forced to the front by means of scientific advertising, the scheme is foiled the moment the Piano cannot be depended upon.

All the claims we have ever made for the STECK PIANO have been within the bounds of truth, and never beyond. We have never said anything regarding the character or nature of the STECK PIANO that was exaggerated, never anything that was immodest, never anything that could be viewed as untruthful by our watchful competitors.

We have always referred to the merits of the STECK PIANO in a modest way, but the STECK always has been, and is to-day, much in advance of many pianos claimed to be superior. We know a better piano cannot be made than the STECK.

Prices, from 68 guineas cash, or extended terms can be arranged.

IF MUSIC BE THE FOOD OF LOVE, PLAY ON.

After a hard business day, mental relaxation is what you need most. The care-free mind induced by music makes the piano a good investment.

HAVE YOU A PIANO IN YOUR HOME?

If not, you should see the big selection of Taken-in-exchange Pianos that we have gathered together on the second floor of our Warehouse. Instruments by such world-famed makers as Ascherberg, Hoelling, Brinsmead, Ronisch, Raff.

Every one of these Pianos has been thoroughly overhauled and tuned by our expert workmen, and will give years of good musical service. Prices are at bedrock, and we are willing to help you further with easy terms of payment. Come and see the Instruments, and have a talk over the "Piano Question" with our expert salesmen. The Spacious Roof is Flat, affording a promenade and a magnificent lookout.

A neat lodge of brick is at the entrance gates, one of the most effective perps in journeying along the high road, and there are many coa office conveniences at rear of Fernleigh.

The Grounds are effectively laid out into Carriage drive, walking paths, ornamental trees, plants, and shrubs, with choice small orchard and kitchen gardens for home use.

Indeed, the spot is ideal, and an inspection will alone portray to a visitor the charm of the situation, while, as the years pass, a large increment will accrue to the realisable value of such a Freehold, spacious in area—and convertible at full value, if desired to be parcelled out later on.

THE AREA OF LAND IS 5 ACRES 1R. 25½P., or Dimensions are 540 feet curved frontage to NEW SOUTH HEAD-ROAD, 270ft to CHAMBERLAIN-AVENUE at Rear, Depth Lines Varying per sketch at Rooms.

The Attention of Squatters, Country Gentlemen, City Merchants, Professional Men, and Capitalists, is directed to this sale of one of the best-known homes in Eastern Suburbs.

CARD TO VIEW must be obtained from Auctioneers before inspection.

MEDLOW,
MEDLOW,
MEDLOW,
IN THE HEART OF THE BLUE MOUNTAINS.
Mountain Property is going to meet with a big demand this year, especially those parts which are most accessible to the city. Now, MEDLOW, without being too far away from Sydney, is in close touch with the best and most typical Blue Mountain Scenery. Majestic Waterfalls, Fern-clad Heights, and Beautiful Gullies are all within comfortable distance of HYDRO VIEW,
MEDLOW.
This Beautiful Residential Property is right opposite the Celebrated HYDRO HOTEL, and is practically on the edge of the mighty Heights overlooking the wonderful Kanimbla Valley; such famous sights as Rodrigues Pass, Evans Look-out, Govett's Leap, Wall's Caves, and the Valley of the Grose are within easy distance; so that lovers of grand and impressive scenery will find plenty of opportunity to follow their bent.
AUCTION SALE, SATURDAY,
FEBRUARY 14.
AT 4 P.M.
ON THE GROUND.
THE SALE WILL TAKE PLACE IMMEDIATELY ON THE ARRIVAL OF THE 1 O'CLOCK TRAIN FROM TOWN.
Medlow has an elevation of 3445 feet: consequently enjoys a fine, healthy climate. The journey from town occupies some three hours, but the benefits obtained easily outweigh the time of travel. MEDLOW BATH, to give it its full name, is the most select of the Blue Mountain Resorts, and, owing to its increasing popularity, Land in the district is rapidly rising in value. The Estate is within a few minutes of the railway station. The Land is of excellent quality, and most suitable for building purposes.

HARDIE and GORMAN PROPRIETARY, LTD., have received instructions to sell by Public Auction, at their Salerooms, 133 Pitt-street, at 11.30 o'clock on WEDNESDAY, 11th FEBRUARY, 1914,
THE ABOVE DESCRIBED VALUABLE BLOCK OF BUILDING LAND, WITH Nos. 164 TO 172 PHILLIP-STREET THEREON.
The Auctioneers desire to call the special attention of Capitalists, Investors, and others to this exceptional chance of securing so large a block of land in a good position in the city.
PHILLIP-STREET during the past few years has greatly come into favour, and many new buildings have been erected for business purposes, notably garages, while its proximity to the Supreme Court and other Courts makes it a favourite location for Barristers and Solicitors, and new Premises if erected here should let to advantage. The proposed extension of Moore-street to Macquarie-street if carried through must of necessity greatly enhance the value of this property.
Messrs. PRIDDLE and GOSLING, Somerset House, Moore-street, Solicitors to the Vendor.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE ROYAL.

The last six nights of the romantic love-drama, "Monsieur Beaucaire," with Mr. Lewis Waller in his famous creation of the title role, and Miss Madge Titheradge as Lady Mary, are now notified, and the final matinee will accordingly be given on Wednesday next. On Saturday next, for the last five nights of the season, Gerald Du Maurier's three-act drama, "A Royal Rival," will be produced. In the new play Mr. Lewis Waller will appear as Don Caesar De Bazan, with Miss Titheradge as Maritha. The support will include Mr. Charles Quartermaine as the King of Spain, Mr. Frank Woolfe as Don Jose de Santarem, Mr. Alec F. Thompson as the Marquis of Montefiore, Mr. Halliwell Hobbes as Captain of the Guard, Miss Marianne Caldwell as the Marchioness. Plan arrangements at Paling's are duly notified.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

"Come Over Here" is now in the seventh week of its season at Her Majesty's Theatre, where the usual matinee of the brilliantly-staged revue will take place next Wednesday. Besides the songs by Daisy Jerome, the Spider's Web Dance by Fred Leslie and Ivy Schilling, and the comic scenes in which Mr. Jack Cannot is prominent, there are such popular spectacular features as the panorama of Circular Quay, the Engulfing of the Ladies of the Lake, the Flowers of Allah Ballet, the Motor v Train race, and the dazzling Wedding Glide.

Visitors this evening will notice that all the dresses for the Gown Parade are new. Several hundred pounds have been spent on this fashion's feature.

CRITERION THEATRE.

"Officer 666" is still drawing crowded houses at the Criterion Theatre, where Mr. Fred Niblo is the central figure, as the young millionaire, who discovers that he is being impersonated by an adventurer and picture-thief (Mr. Sydney Stirling), who has even appropriated a young heiress (Miss Josephine Cohan) in his absence. Mr. Niblo's quiet humour when disguised as an Irish constable, Mr. Stirling's cool audacity as the intruder, and the excitement of the inspector in his squad in possession of the home, contribute to a mirthful complication. There will be a matinee on Wednesday.

"Never Say Die," a new American farce comedy, is now in preparation.

LITTLE THEATRE.

"His House in Order," the last Pinero play to reach this country, is drawing large audiences at the Little Theatre, with Mr. Hugh Buckler as the tactful friend, who shows a much-injured and rebellious young wife the path of duty, and Miss Violet Paget in the latter character, in which she shows out effectively. A matinee of this clever comedy-drama will be given on Thursday next. The principals do not intend to rest upon their laurels, however, but during the present Pinero season they propose to produce "Iris" and "Preserving Mr. Panmure." Revivals of such favourite costume pieces as "David Garrick" and "The School for Scandal" are in view, and Mr. Buckler is seriously considering the production of "Hamlet."

PALACE THEATRE.

"The Grafters" will be revived at the Palace Theatre at 2 p.m. to-day, and again in the evening, when Mr. William Anderson's American Musical Burlesque Company will once more be seen in a musical farce, which caused uproarious laughter on the occasion of their visit last year. Messrs. Leblanc and Stanhope will appear as the Hebrew and Dutch grafters, Mr. Nolan as the tramp-comedian, Mr. Burgess as the constable, and Misses De Guy and Martin as the soubrettes. A new feature will be Miss Alma Clark's first appearance as Maizie Fogg. New dances have been arranged by Miss De Guy, and new songs will be introduced.

ADELPHI THEATRE.

The novel sight of all the principals of the "Aladdin" company distributing toys to the children amongst the audience at the last matinee was so much appreciated that the same plan will be followed this afternoon and at all subsequent matinees. Mr. George Willoughby announces the last two weeks of "Aladdin," now about to celebrate its 50th performance, with all the new songs, dances, and specialties of the second edition. Postcard reproductions of the photograph of the audience taken last Monday evening will be distributed free to all patrons this evening. The plan is at Nicholson's.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.

This afternoon the Fuller-Brennan management will introduce Ellie Fay, a star comedienne from America, at the National Amphitheatre, where also Jessie and Dollie Millar, Ella Airlie, and Albert and Rosella will take part in the programme of new attractions. Last night a crowded house applauded the efforts of Brent Hayes, the banjo virtuoso, the Lyrical Four, Esme, Lack and Ford, Dorothy Harris, Chief Eagle Horse, Neil Cant, and Gardner's Maniac Bulldogs, who formed features in a bright entertainment.

"BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS."

Mr. E. J. Carroll, after managing picture shows and vaudeville for many years, is launching out vigorously as a theatrical manager, and during the next few months will have companies in all the State capitals simultaneously. The first to arrive will be the Leroy, Talma, and Bosco Company of illusionists, who will make a first appearance under Mr. Carroll's management at Perth on May 2. On the following Saturday (May 9) "The Rosary" will be staged at The Princess Theatre, Melbourne, while Graham Moffat has just cabled that he and Mrs. Moffat have decided to come to Australia under Mr. Carroll's management, opening in Sydney on June 27, in the successful play, "Bunty Pulls the Strings."

"AID TO MOTHERS AND BABIES."

Under the altered arrangements already noted, the hospitals matinee at Her Majesty's Theatre will take place on Friday, February 20. The institutions in question are the Royal Hospital for Women and the Renwick Hospital for Infants. The movement is with the object of eventually raising £12,000 to free these invaluable charities from debt, and Mr. Neville Mayman (president of the Benevolent Society of N.S.W.), is devoting all his time to the task of organisation. J. C. Williamson, Ltd., having generously lent the theatre, and all the artists of all the various managements cooperating in the same way, a great programme is assured. Ordinary rates will prevail.

R. GEORGE DEAN'S SEND-OFF.

Mr. George Dean enjoyed a stirring send-off at the Little Theatre yesterday afternoon, when the musical and dramatic professions united in his honour with such whole-hearted cordiality that a much larger play-house might easily have been drawn into requisition. Mr. Dean originally came from England to Australia as a youth in 1880 with Mr. George Musgrove's "Tambour Major" Company, and three years later was comedian and stage-manager with Kate Chard, Deane Brand, Appleby, Knight Aston, and other noted artists in the "Manteaux Noirs" Company. After a successful connection with the regular stage for 20 years, he became identified with vaudeville, and as a popular comic singer and character actor has been known in that capacity at all the leading Australian halls since 1899. Yesterday, in view of his approaching departure for San Francisco by the Marama next Saturday, he has made his farewell appearance, when he enjoyed an enthusiastic reception after his songs, to which he responded with a little speech. In this the actor-vocalist alluded with gratitude and pride to the fact that the J. C. Williamson, George Willoughby, Fuller-Brennan, William Anderson, J. C. Bain, and Hugh C. Buckler managements had all joined with his many artistic friends in making the send-off a success, so that in this way all the leading theatres of the city had been represented.

As a matter of fact, more than two-score artists and seven orchestras figured on the programme. Items especially appreciated were a burlesque on the Spider's Web dance from "Come Over Here," with Mr. Claude Bantock as the Spider and Mr. Fred Leslie as the Ballerina; Mr. Hugh Buckler's fiery deliverance of "The Siege of Lucknow," Bert Leblanc, Paul Stanhope, and American Girls in the "Kissing Scene," and Mr. Fred Niblo's monologue. Mr. Reginald Wykeham successfully carried out the duties of hon. stage-manager.

TOWN HALL ORGAN RECITAL.

The city organist will give a recital at the Town Hall this evening, the first part of which will consist of the beautiful first act of "Madame Butterfly." Mr. Ernest Truman's attractive programme will also include Widor's "Toccata in F," Gounod's "Berceuse," Guilmant's "Marche Funebre et Chant Seraphique," and Wely's "Offertoire in G—all of which may be described as "popular classics."

THE TOREADOR.

The Railway and Tramway Musical Society will produce "The Toreador" at the Railway Institute to-night, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings next. Included in the cast will be Miss Ethel Lace, as Nancy; Harry Teresa; Miss Hilda Trenbath, as Tom Dugmore, as Perfect, as Sammy Gigg; and Tom Dugmore, as Archie. Mrs. Arthur Hunter is stage directress, and Mr. Leo. Grouse hon. conductor. The plan is at Paling's.

ANCELON CHAPMAN RECITALS.

In St. James' Hall next Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ancelon (both of whom will appear) and some of their students, will present scenes from "Rob Roy," "Leah the Forsaken," "Ivanhoe," and "Othello," and will also appear in a number of bright one-act comedies and sketches. Torzillo's orchestra will assist. The plan is now at Paling's.

BERTRAM FLOHM RECITALS.

The Betram Flohm School of Elocution and Dramatic Art, which resumes duties on Monday, February 2, will open its series of recitals next month. Branch schools having been formed in Newcastle and Maitland, will enable many performers from those centres to make appearances in Sydney.

THE WALTER BENTLEY PLAYERS.

The Walter Bentley Players will hold their first performance for the 1914 season at St. James' Hall on Thursday, February 19, when a very interesting programme will be submitted, including the banquet scene from "Macbeth," in which Mr. Bentley will appear in the title role. The plan will open at Paling's on February 11.

A VOCAL RECITAL.

A vocal recital was given in Paling's Concert Hall yesterday afternoon by Mr. George Grimm and his pupil, Mr. Cecil Houghton, a young tenor. There was a large and appreciative audience. The long programme was an exacting one; such, in fact, as experienced professional singers would hesitate to face. It was something of a strain, for instance, to ask a young vocalist to sing "The Prize Song" (Wagner), one of the most difficult songs composed for tenors, and the interpretation was purely of a classroom character. Mr. Houghton's creditable efforts in "On with the Motley" (Leoncavallo) and "Your Tiny Hand" (Puccini) were warmly applauded. His voice was more clear and soft in the latter number than in any of the others. A most acceptable item was the duet, "La Boheme" (Puccini), in which both master and pupil were heard to advantage, the voices blending well. Mr. Houghton has already advanced considerably, and his career will be followed with interest. Mr. Grimm's numbers included "Vision Fugitive" (Massenet), "The Prologue" (Leoncavallo), "Plaisir d'Amour" (Martini), and "Eri Tu" (Verdi). Mr. Ernest Truman was the accompanist.

WEST'S PICTURES.

At both to-day's matinee and evening performance at the Glaciarium and Olympia West's directors will present for the last time the Clarendon success, entitled "The Convent Gate," which has been attracting packed audiences through the week. On Monday at both theatres West's management will screen for the first time in Australia the big Pathe production, entitled "The Stolen Child," which is stated to rival such previous successes as "Les Miserables," "Germinal," and "Alone in Paris." De Groen's orchestras will supply the incidental music.

SPENCER'S PICTURES.

The new feature film to be introduced by the Spencer management at the Lyceum this afternoon is the five reel drama entitled "By the Cross." The production deals with the persecution of the Christians under the tyranny of the Roman Emperors. Richard Ganthony's well-known play, "A Messenger from Mars," which was produced some years ago at the Palace Theatre, with Mr. William Hawtrey in the leading role, will be seen at the Lyceum on Saturday next. Unusual interest attaches to its presentation, in view of the fact that it will serve to introduce to Australian audiences the original Horace Parker, Mr. Charles Hawtrey. To-day's matinee begins at 2.30.

The story of the transition, an uncouth but loveable child of the mountains, into a fashionable woman of New York, is the theme of "Caprice," a play which is to be presented on Monday at the Crystal Palace, with Mary Pickford in the title role. Other features of interest will be Australian Gazette, "Pill Box Cupid," "Mechanical Side of an Encyclopedia," and "A Daughter of Albion."

At the Lyric on Monday, an entire change of programme will be made. The principal feature of the new repertoire is to be "Gaby's Necklace," which has nothing to do with Gaby Deslys. It does not, however, lose interest on that account. Among other features are Topical Budget, "Jim the Handyman," and "Lieutenant Pimple."

Solomon said that there was nothing so strange to him as the way of a man with a maid, but perhaps the way of a maid who has set her heart on a man is even stranger. That, at any rate, it can be decidedly interesting from a dramatic point of view, will be shown by "For the Sake of a Man," on Monday at the Empress. Another talking picture, Warwick Chronicle, "Womanly Curiosity," scenic pictures, and "Sammy comes into Money" will be also presented.

In the days of Nero, before his famous appearance as a violin virtuoso, the populace loved to see in the theatre the denizens of the jungle. So do the people of Sydney, on the screen. Monday's feature at the Colonial will be "The Judgment of the Jungle," a thrillingly romantic story of Gaumont Graphic, "Redman's Loyalty," "Holiday Night," and "Bloomer's Revolver" are to be other features.

AMERICAN PICTURE PALACE.

An attractive programme is being presented at the American Picture Palace. Among its most popular features are "Young Mrs. Eames," "Rose of Remembrance," "The Love Theft," "Love and Courage," "Geoffrey's Gladiator," "How Is It Done?" and "A Pig's a Pig."

THE DANDIES.

On Monday next Miss Marguerite Leroy and Mr. Sydney Carlton will dance the Tango at the Dandies, Eden Gardens, Manly.

WHITE CITY.

There seems to be no diminution in the attendance at the White City, for the entire population of Sydney seems to frolic in its beams every day and all day. The approaching departure of Miss Marie Thelin, the famous Swedish diver, who has been electrifying the spectators by her extraordinary plunge into a blazing pool from a burning platform, is greatly regretted, but a worthy successor is promised in a remarkable performance by Calvert, a brilliant and daring comedian, who uses the high wire as a stage. His opening appearance is announced for Wednesday next. Meanwhile visitors enjoy the clever vaudeville acts of Hennessy and Martell, while a striking exhibition of ju-jitsu is to be given to-day by Mr. W. A. Hill and Miss Edna Davis. The White City is open nightly, and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

SUMMER BASEBALL.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES.

The following matches will be played at the Agricultural Ground to-day:—

First Grade.

2.15, Leichhardt v Petersham (Messrs. Mortley and Angus); 3.30 p.m., Waverley Red Sox v Waverley Blue Sox.

Second Grade.

2.15, Waverley II. v Bank of Australasia; 3.30, Leichhardt v Tramway (Messrs. Sterling and Warton).

CANBERRA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—As my name and that of the Town Planning Association of New South Wales have been brought into the discussion of the planning of the Federal capital by Mr. Louis A. Curtis in his letter of January 28, I ask permission to state the facts.

In the first place, both Mr. Curtis and Mr. Geo. A. Taylor do not represent my association in this discussion to the smallest extent. It is true that the former is a highly esteemed member of my council, and the latter our very energetic and enthusiastic honorary secretary. The discussion was, however, started by Mr. Curtis as representing the Institute of Surveyors, and, in the absence of Mr. Burley Griffin in America, his plan was defended by his friend, Mr. Taylor.

It is quite true that after Mr. Curtis's lecture on town planning I suggested to him the desirability of referring the points in dispute to the planning committee of my association, and to this next day he courteously agreed. I then said I would see Mr. Taylor, and endeavour to obtain his consent, and bring the matter before the next council meeting of my association for ratification. Unfortunately Mr. Taylor did not see his way to agree to this proposal.

At our council meeting held yesterday, the matter was, however, discussed. The points in dispute are highly technical, and can only be thoroughly understood with the original and amended plans in front of one. Further, it was considered that a discussion of these points by the chief contestants would be of great interest to the members of the association and their friends and possibly result in still further improvements being suggested in the plan of the Federal capital. It was therefore left in my hands to arrange a meeting at the Royal Society's hall, and invite both contestants to speak, with the plans in front of us. To this Mr. Taylor, who was present, at once agreed, but as Mr. Curtis was absent owing to a pressing business engagement, I saw him this morning, but I regret to say he could not see his way to fall in with the suggestion. The proposal, therefore, falls to the ground, and both contestants, as individuals, can continue the discussion at their own and your pleasure.

As a matter of public policy, I would, however, like to point out that such a discussion has its drawbacks. There is still a considerable number of members of the Federal Parliament who would like to see the whole question of the Federal capital shelved, and expenditure stopped on what they call "a capital in the bush." The critics of the plan are therefore only furnishing them with ammunition for an attempt to destroy the work already accomplished. It must not be thought that I consider the plan absolutely perfect, there are even "spots on the sun," and no human production is so good that it cannot be bettered. Mr. Curtis admitted to me that Mr. Griffin's plan is a good one, but considers that it may be still further improved. He is also willing to discuss the matter with Mr. Griffin (another member of my council) on his return from America in April. I therefore suggest that in the public interest it would be well to defer further discussion until that date, when I am quite sure my association will be only too pleased to afford facilities for a settlement of the points at present in dispute, and possibly aid in making our Federal capital still more useful and beautiful than the present plans indicate.

In conclusion, may I add that all positions in my association are purely honorary, and each member of the council and the executive officers have an equal voice in our deliberations, while I myself am simply "primus inter pares."

I am, etc.,
JOHN SULMAN,
President of the Town Planning Association of New South Wales.

Jan. 30.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I do not intend, in the comprehensive sense, to reply to Mr. Curtis's "non-official" missive in Wednesday's "Herald." To offer further words or uselessly reiterate facts that have already undergone wearisome reiteration in the apparently vain hope of inducing enlightenment would, in Shakespeare's terse decision, prove "wasteful and ridiculous excess." Mr. Curtis knows this. I do him the credit of that generous admission, despite his regrettable divergence into personal channels.

I make no secret of sensitively feeling our trespass on editorial generosity. Actuated mainly by such feelings, I took the course laid down in my previous letter, viz., concentrated Mr. Curtis's voluminous correspondence into seven main statements of what could, in the broad sense, perhaps be regarded as constructive criticism. If Mr. Curtis were sincere in his professions I contend he should have proved these. But he has not so much as replied to them by the vague process of "beating about the bush." He has banned them altogether from his letter and, I presume, all future correspondence.

Now, sir, I made it a proviso of my previous letter that I would only reply henceforth to constructive criticism. That decision I must honour out of consideration for your space and the general public, not forgetting, of course, the subject under review. I now withdraw, feeling I have done my duty fearlessly and honestly, with every sincere thanks to the "Herald" for its generous treatment.

I have yet in conclusion, however, to add that Mr. Curtis is unfair in inferring that the president of the Town Planning Association had authority from me to make any arrangement on my behalf with regard to the discontinuance of this correspondence. I have never in your columns coupled the association's name with my views, and Mr. Curtis had no right, and it was very bad form on his part, to have done so. The Town Planning Association invited Mr. Curtis and myself to debate the matter publicly. I readily assented. Nothing would have pleased me better. Mr. Curtis, unfortunately, declined.

In this last sentence I would advocate, as I have before, the adoption by the Federal Government of the excellent suggestions in your able leader of third instant.

I am, etc.,
Jan. 30. GEORGE A. TAYLOR.

ABRIDGED PROSPECTUS

OF

McDOWELL & HUGHES, LIMITED,

Drapers, Outfitters, & General Importers,

362-384 GEORGE-STREET, SYDNEY.

New Issue of Capital:

14,000

Ordinary Shares of £1 each, carrying guarantee of not less than 8 per cent. per annum for three years.

Directors:
JOHN McDOWELL (Chairman), WALTER S. CARY, WILLIAM J. FLEET, FRANK S. McDOWELL.
Bankers: UNION BANK OF AUSTRALIA, Ltd.
Auditors: THOMAS DAVIS AND CO.
Secretary: FRANK S. McDOWELL.
Reg. Office: 382 GEORGE-ST., SYDNEY.

To our Customers and Others:

It having been frequently suggested to us that were the opportunity afforded, many clients of the company would willingly become shareholders in it, a resolution was passed at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors to the effect that the Subscribed Capital of the Company be further increased by the issue of 14,000 Ordinary Shares.

This course is taken in view of the opportunities for development which the added space and facilities will afford when the Company's new leasehold premises, now in course of erection, will have been completed.

Attention is called to the Block of our New Premises.

This magnificent structure, now in course of erection, will be one of the most notable additions to Sydney's Finest Buildings of recent years. Situated almost next door to the G.P.O., and adjoining our present premises, this central site is recognised to be the busiest in Sydney.

The original paid up Capital of the Company included 12,000 Second and Third Preference Shares, and so sanguine are the Directors of the success of the business and the probabilities of good dividends that THEY HAVE CONVERTED THE WHOLE OF THESE INTO ORDINARY SHARES, thus practically demonstrating their confidence. They have further decided that in their individual capacities THEY WILL GUARANTEE TO ALL SUBSCRIBERS OF THE PRESENT ISSUE OF SHARES DIVIDENDS AT THE RATE OF NOT LESS THAN 8 PER CENT. PER ANNUM FOR THE NEXT ENSUING 3 YEARS.

The additional capital now sought will not be fully needed until the new premises are completed, and the whole of it will be utilised in the equipment of new departments and in generally catering for an increased turnover.

Subscription for the said 14,000 shares is therefore invited thus:

2/6 per share on application, 2/6 per share on allotment, and the balance in calls of 2/6 each, one month at least to elapse between each call, the whole ranking for dividends from the several dates of receipt by the Company.

The Directors reserve the right of acceptance of applications and subsequent allotment at their discretion.

The Authorised Capital of the Company is £50,000, of which there is subscribed	£26,000
Subcription is now sought for further	14,000
Leaving in reserve for future issue	10,000	£50,000

The Directors unhesitatingly recommend investment in the Company's Shares, and desiring above all things as wide a distribution amongst the Customers of the Company as possible, they will welcome applications for 20 shares and upwards.

THE SUBSCRIBERS OF THE PRESENT ISSUE OF SHARES WILL OBTAIN REPRESENTATION ON THE BOARD BY THE APPOINTMENT OF ANOTHER DIRECTOR.

When the buildings now in course of erection will have been completed the Company will be most fortunately situated in having admirable show-rooms, adequate space for all departments for the comfort and convenience of customers, the proper display of goods and the effective administration of a large and profitable concern.

The Company possesses valuable leases in the best part of George-street, having a currency of 14 years. Subletting arrangements, several of which have been completed, point to the fact that the ultimate net charge to the Company for greatly extended premises, by the way of rent, rates and taxes, will not greatly exceed the amount per annum represented by these charges for the lesser area enjoyed by the business previously.

A Balance Sheet of the Company has been prepared as at 25th October, 1913, by the Auditors of the Company, Messrs. Thomas Davis and Co., Public Accountants, and may be inspected on personal inquiry at the office of the Company. The earnings for eight months ended that date have been based upon the same ratio of gross profit as previously shown by actual stocktaking to have been earned, from which, and in full knowledge of all the circumstances attending the trading and expenses of the past eight months, the Directors consider that the margin of profit shown for the period warrants them in guaranteeing investors' dividends at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum for the ensuing three years.

During the period of 10 years prior to the formation of the Company, the net earnings, after payment of Partners' salaries, interest on borrowed Capital, equal 11.4 per cent. per annum on the average capital employed.

The business records for the past 11 years disclose the fact that sales have been singularly well maintained, but rapid expansion was prevented by limited shop space and restricted buying facilities in the past. Despite the inconveniences caused by recent building alterations and the smallpox scare, the current year's sales have steadily increased. The Sales for the months here following have exceeded those of the corresponding months of the preceding year by the percentage appearing against each:—

APRIL	13 per cent.	SEPTEMBER	42.7 per cent.
MAY	13.5 per cent.	OCTOBER	39.2 per cent.
JUNE	23.3 per cent.	NOVEMBER	75 per cent.
JULY	14.3 per cent.	DECEMBER	95 per cent.
AUGUST	23.3 per cent.

The business connection is sound and capable of vast enlargement, and ample scope for expansion of trade should follow the remodelling and extension of the premises, beyond which most advantageous buying arrangements have recently been effected, giving the company excellent representation in England and the Continent.

The Directors, who thoroughly understand, and devote the whole of their time and attention to the business, will have pleasure in issuing application forms, and earnestly hope for full and early response.

The Directors will proceed to allotment on the 16th February, 1914.

For and on behalf of McDowell and Hughes, Ltd.

JOHN McDOWELL,
Chairman and Managing Director.

TO THE DIRECTORS,
McDOWELL AND HUGHES, LIMITED,
382-4 GEORGE-STREET, SYDNEY.

I hereby apply for .... Shares of the above, and enclose herewith £.............. being deposit of 2/6 per Share, and I request you to allot to me the said number of Shares, subject to the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company. I agree to pay 2/6 per Share on allotment and future Calls as may be required, and authorise my name being placed on the Register of Members in respect of Shares allotted to me.

PIONEER WOOD PIPE

FOR POWER PLANTS.

With the ever-increasing use of water power, WOOD PIPE finds an ever-widening field of usefulness. In conducting water from the source of supply to the Power-house, it is often necessary to construct flumes over difficult country. PIONEER WOOD PIPE is by far the most suitable conveyer of water in this class of work, being light and easily laid, with low original cost, and upkeep practically nil.

BEARD, WATSON'S BEAUTIFUL FURNITURE,

THE FINEST EXHIBITION IN AUSTRALIA.

It is not our usual custom to speak in the superlative degree. We hate exaggeration, preferring rather to understate than overstate; but if there are fifty specimen-finished and decorated modern rooms, such as ours, elsewhere in Australia, we do not know of them. Picture to yourself the advantage anyone has to choose furniture wisely and suitably, how estimable is the privilege of being able to walk through our fifty specimen-furnished rooms and choose and price everything. We are sure by the number of visitors we have every day that those who are commencing housekeeping or replacing or renewing old furniture, will see that, under such ideal conditions, furnishing, even for the first time, is not so difficult.

Your inspection is also invited to our new importations in

FURNISHINGS, LINENS, CARPETS.

We have always made a speciality of fine furniture, our designs and finished workmanship being admired by all.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1914.

THE NEW ORDER.

The Premier, when he leaves for his holiday, will do so under circumstances that might attract the envy of a great many men, and of almost all politicians. In a country of free men it is no small achievement to have risen to the most responsible position in the State. The man who after an association of many years has convinced his colleagues and competitors that he is fit to be their leader has passed a test which is always severe, and was especially so under the circumstances surrounding the election of Mr. Holman. Last year he had convinced his own party. This year he has justified their confidence, and may claim with a considerable show of reason to have convinced a majority in the State. The contrast between the position of the Premier in the last Parliament and in this is as remarkable as it is unexpected. Last year he had the lowest majority possible, and was ready to make use of the most desperate tricks to keep it. The life of Parliament had at all costs to be prolonged, since the prospect of defeat at the polls was so certain. This year the Labour majority is such as would have satisfied the most exacting standards of Sir Henry Parkes. Mr. Holman is, therefore, entitled to all the rewards due to success in a task regarded as almost impossible, even by those who supported him. But those critics who best appreciate the difficulty of the work already accomplished will be the first to recognise the fact that the severest test of the Premier's capacity is that which now lies before him. Mr. Holman was not chosen, as so many leaders are in democratic countries, for the sake of maintaining a compromise, or in order to prevent one man of commanding ability from becoming too powerful. He was chosen to displace a less brilliant man because he was known to possess qualities which are rarely found in politics in Australia, and were thought to be indispensable to the success of his party. Having gained that success, he has now to become the leader of the community, not merely of one section of it. He has to govern the country in an exceedingly difficult time, and under the handicap always imposed by the conditions of the caucus system—the perpetual jealousy of any kind of supremacy, the tyranny or would-be tyranny of ignorant and irresponsible delegates, the persistent disbelief in the value of discipline and expert knowledge, and the existence of class suspicion and hatred kept alive by men whose interest it is to do so.

We have often expressed the opinion that the influence of such bodies as the Political Labour League is estimated too highly. By constantly declaring that they are going to insist on this, and that the league has managed to persuade itself and the public that it can make and unmake Ministries. Our opinion was strongly corroborated by the treatment lately administered to Mr. Holman and Mr. Page respectively, and by Mr. Watson's statement that he would have done something serious to Mr. Holman but for the risk of losing so valuable a man. Still, the proceedings of this meeting of the league may be taken to indicate the spirit and the obstacles which must be met by a Premier who retains his self-respect and his sense of duty. If the league were to have its way the test of fitness for any appointment would be, not character, or knowledge, or skill, but political opinions. No one would be eligible who could not pass the annual test of heresy to be applied by the league's officials. Ministers, in other words, were never to regard themselves as trustees for the whole community. They were to act always as party leaders, punishing the defeated and rewarding the successful, but never considering the interests of the public or the permanent good of the State.

The consequences to a party accepting such a doctrine were seen at the last Federal elections. Nothing contributed so much to the defeat of Mr. Fisher as his consistent abuse of patronage. The result to the public has been seen throughout the Commonwealth, but nowhere as plainly as in the Northern Territory among the subordinate officials. Such a method of selection would be even more dangerous in this State. Nothing is more certain than that the participation of the State in industrial enterprises will gradually become more extended. Whether such an extension is a good or bad thing is a question on which the two parties differ fundamentally. But it will certainly be a bad thing if any test but fitness is applied in the choice of the directors of these departments, and if they are not kept free from political interference. It is equally necessary that this test should be applied to subordinates as well as to the heads of departments. If the authority of a departmental officer is impaired for political reasons, his department, and, through it, the whole State, may suffer. A Labour Government which makes its appointments and administers its departments with a sole regard to fitness and merit will meet with a great deal of abuse and many threats of destruction. But it will for the first time in New South Wales have shown that Labour has emerged from its sectional stage, and is able to apply its undivided ability to the task of government. Ministers in such a Government would probably be threatened with death by a thousand cuts by the delegates from Surry Hills and Inverell, who insist on keeping members of Parliament in their place. But we believe that they would earn the applause of men who have made the Labour movement, who have taken a personal pride in its advance, and who have always dreamed of it as an instrument of justice and good government. They would be returning to the tradition of the New South Wales Parliament in its great days. No one dared twice to ask Sir Henry Parkes for an appointment, except on the ground that his candidate was the very best man available for the work.

"LITTLE" POLITICS.

Who will have control of the shires and towns and suburbs, in which almost the whole population of this State lives, will to-day be decided by those who take the trouble to walk to the polling place. If they find that making this one small journey in three years is too much for them, they cannot well complain if they wake up some months hence to realise that the local council is saddling them with the laziest and most expensive form of day labour, is entering upon some wild scheme of municipal enterprise, and is allowing the roads and the pathways and the sanitation to manage themselves. If the electors do not trouble to express their views upon these matters to-day, they have only themselves to blame. At the same time, it is perfectly clear that the mere act of walking once in three years to the polling place is not really enough to secure the citizens' objects. We imagine that a large number of persons in such suburbs as Waverley, for example, would go to the poll to decide the question of whether that district should have electric light, if only they knew which candidates were in favour of electric light and which against it. The attitude of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, of electors throughout the country is that they would go to the poll and vote for this or that name if only they knew what the name stood for. As it is, to thousands of municipal and shire electors a list of the candidates' names is only a list of names, and there is nothing for them to do except to stand and scratch their heads over it. If there were someone at that moment by their side to tell them which of the candidates were for making proper roads and planting shady trees, which man proposed to insist on active labour instead of lazy labour, and to provide the local cricket or football ground or tennis courts out of the money saved, it is ten chances to one they would straightway go off and vote for him.

But nobody is going to inform the elector on those points if he does not inform himself. They are interesting matters, well worth going into—great men have spent their lives in forwarding similar projects in towns and shires where there was far less opportunity for them than there is in Australia. Local politics are interesting politics, because any man, if he chooses to fling himself into them, may be able to see the result of his ideas within quite a few years from his own front windows. But, like every other form of politics, the one price which they demand is action; and unless those citizens who are sufficiently interested to be good citizens take some sort of steps to formulate and propagate their thought during the three years previous to the election, they cannot expect to exercise any influence on the progress of their district on the election day itself. The progress of towns in every country depends on the liveliness of the local politics. Where there is an active progress association, where a few citizens with real enthusiasm for their town or their shire, get together on certain evenings and formulate some ideas of what they desire their township to be, and keep a narrow and critical watch upon what the town council or the shire council is doing or leaving undone, there is no fear of the elector, on the morning of the poll, being left in uncertainty as to what policy the rival candidates stand for. If the newly-formed Town-Planning Association, or any similar body, could only form branches in most suburbs, townships, and shires—if any step were taken to provide local centres for thought, debate, and enthusiasm—it would be as big a step towards the attainment of an ideal Australia as the achievement of any plank in the platform of either of the political parties.

As matters are to-day, any organisation of local politics that exists in New South Wales is left almost entirely, in the absence of local interest, to Liberal Associations and Labour Leagues. We do not suppose that any thinking politician, whether Labour or Liberal, really considers this a good thing. It means that local enthusiasm, the patriotism for the town or the district, which is an immense factor towards improvement or progress, is swamped in party enthusiasm. The political associations get most of their ideas cut and dried from headquarters; the affairs and the opportunities of their town or district are of very little importance to them; the municipal offices, in their idea, are of very small significance compared with Parliamentary billets. Perhaps, if there is no other organisation at all, it is better for the main political bodies to concern themselves with local politics than to leave them absolutely unorganised. But that is about the most that can be said for the identification of local and national politics. Local politics cannot really be disposed of as subordinate and unimportant. It is true that the shire and town councils have not at present the funds to attend to much more than the necessary services—lighting, roads, drainage. Even so, they have probably more to do with our daily comfort than any other authorities in the State. To take only one instance, the cause which makes life in Sydney on windy days such a misery, which means days of hard work to housewives and hours of annoyance to everybody, is not that the winds in Sydney are more constant or violent than in Paris, or London, or other cities. It is that the town councils—the gentlemen who are to be elected to-day—have provided this city with roads on which the dust lies inches deep, roads best paralleled in China or the more out of the way parts of Siberia. And as for the high political problems of the country—the problem, for example, of rural depopulation—which assembly has more opportunity of solving that? The State Parliament, which can deal in a general way with land tenures and country schools and police stations? Or the council of the township or shire, which can make the country town a beautiful place to live in, which can provide and maintain the parks and the cricket grounds and tennis courts, and no doubt, if it thought fit, the cricket and football and tennis organisations, the farmers' clubs, and all the other social means of making country life more interesting? Australians, like other Anglo-Saxons, have a way of discounting as immaterial or sentimental everything that cannot immediately be measured in hard cash upon the counter. The provision of a hundred amenities of life, which is, after all, what men earn and save and finally pay out that hard cash for, lies in the hands of the men who will be elected to-day. We trust that electors will be alive to the fact.

DEPORTATIONS.

AFRICAN INCIDENT.

WIDESPREAD INTEREST.

RUMOURS OF REVOLUTION.

CAPETOWN, Jan. 30.

In reference to the deportation of the strike leaders, it is pointed out that it would be easy for the Imperial authorities to intercept the steamer Umgeni, if they wished to, as her speed is only 11 knots, and it will be several days before she rounds the Cape. The cruiser Hyacinth, which is now at Capetown, could easily find her.

The vessel sailed under sealed orders, and practically under the Union Government's control. No one is to be allowed to communicate with any person aboard during the voyage, and the vessel it not to call at Las Palmas, as was at first intended.

When the prisoners arrived at Durban they had with them but few belongings, except the clothes they stood in, and the Government supplied each with a shirt, a singlet, and a pair of socks. The captain of the Umgeni was also given money wherewith to pay each man £3 on arrival in London.

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 30.

The deported men left seven wives and nineteen children, most of them without means.

Waterston's wife and four children are quite unprovided for.

Watson had only been married four months.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

The "Daily Telegraph" recalls the fact that Waterston was a member of an Australian contingent at the time of the South African War, and he represented his regiment at the Coronation of King Edward.

DEPORTATION BILL DROPPED.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

The Capetown correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" states that the South African Government has abandoned the idea of introducing a Deportation Bill, because Lord Gladstone has intimated that it must be reserved for the Home Government's special instructions.

SPEECH BY LORD GLADSTONE.

CAPETOWN, Jan. 30.

Lord Gladstone, Governor-General, in opening the agricultural show at Paarl yesterday, made an indirect reference to the present situation.

He said that some people had forgotten that the farmers were a third of the population of South Africa, and that they were industrious, law-abiding workmen, and not birds of passage. They did not wish to interfere with the rights of other workers, but they were quite determined that their own views and rights should not be trifled with.

AFRICAN PRESS OPINION.

CAPETOWN, Jan. 30.

The censorship prevents the publication of expressions of public opinion in the Transvaal; but the newspapers which are generally opposed to the Government, including the "East London Despatch," the "Kimberley Advertiser," and the "Pretoria News," are now defending the measures adopted by the Botha Government.

The "Natal Mercury" is convinced that the majority of the members of Parliament will support General Botha.

The "Bloemfontein Friend" draws a distinction between the rights of the political Labour party and the revolutionary Labour party.

INTEREST IN BRITAIN.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The newspapers eagerly await General Botha's vindication of the acts of the Executive in deporting the principal strike leaders, and also the debate in the Union Parliament on the affair.

In the meantime they are devoting many columns daily to the affair.

Some of the papers emphasise the fact that the men who were deported started a revolution which failed, but had they succeeded a native rising would have been almost inevitable.

The general impression is that the Union Government is in possession of facts justifying the deportations, and that judgment should be suspended pending the publication of those facts.

The Johannesburg correspondent of the "Daily Mail" states that there are insistent rumours that the Government has evidence that the Trades Hall extremists contemplated a revolution, and had prepared a scheme for a provisional government.

The Durban correspondent of the "Daily Mail" declares that papers seized in Johannesburg by the authorities before the deportation disclosed more than the Government expected, and as a consequence the military authorities became apprehensive.

"DAMMING THE AMAZON."

CAPETOWN, Jan. 30.

Mr. Creswell, the leader of the Parliamentary Labour party, who was recently released from prison, arrived at Capetown yesterday. He was accorded a warm welcome by a large crowd at the railway station.

Subsequently he addressed a meeting of 3000 people, who agreed to a resolution condemning the deportation of the strike leaders without a trial.

Mr. Creswell compared the Government to Levantine brigands, and added:—"If the Government hopes to damage the Labour movement by this action it is like an endeavour to dam up the Amazon with mud shifted by a teaspoon."

EXODUS OF WORKERS.

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 30.

Abnormal bookings of working men for Europe, Australia, and New Zealand continue. In some cases the shipping agents have been obliged to book the men provisionally.

Mr. Tole, who is now president of the Trades' Federation, owing to Watson's deportation, has been unconditionally released. Carbin and Campbell have also been released.

Everything is quiet on the Rand.

LIABILITY OF UMGENI OFFICERS.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

The "Star" suggests that the officers of the steamer Umgeni, on which the men were deported, are liable to be indicted for false imprisonment.

The paper mentions a similar case in 1859, when Captain Leslie, master of an English vessel, contracted with the Chilian Government to convey banished political offenders to Liverpool.

The Lord Chief Justice then held that beyond the three-mile limit the Chilian law was superseded by British law, and Leslie was convicted of false imprisonment.

CAPETOWN, Jan. 30.

It is understood that the Government has indemnified the owners of the Umgeni in the event of proceedings being instituted in the English Courts.

PICKETS FINED.

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 30.

Four strikers' pickets at Bramfontein were charged at the police court to-day with obstructing non-strikers as they were returning to work. One of them was alleged to have used threats. The latter was fined £20, and the others various sums from £2 to £5.

Oliver, one of the strikers, who was charged with having dynamite in his possession, has been acquitted by the court-martial.

MORE LABOUR PROTESTS.

At the last meeting of the council of the Amalgamated Railway and Tramway Service Association the following indignation motion was carried unanimously:—"That this association brands with shame the tyrannical action of the South African Government in deporting Labour leaders without regard to due process of law."

The A.W.U., in a resolution, referred to the action of the Government of South Africa as "brutal and unjust."

BROKEN HILL, Friday.

At a mass meeting of the Barrier Labour Federation it was resolved.—"That this special mass meeting of the Barrier Labour Federation condemns the despotism of the brutal Botha Government, and urges the workers of South Africa to unite at the ballot box to replace the representatives of capitalism by the representatives of democracy, and we pray that the workers of South Africa be treated with less martial law and more justice."

PERTH, Friday.

The Labour Federation decided to cable a resolution, protesting against the suppression of trades-unionism by armed force, and the denial of citizens' rights, to the South African Government and Labour unions, and also to the Colonial Office. It was also decided to express sympathy with their South African comrades in the brutal treatment they had been subjected to.

HOME RULE.

ULSTER RESISTANCE.

CONTINUED PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

Dozens of great country houses in Ulster are being quietly prepared for use as hospitals, with full equipment.

Drilling of men continues nightly in hundreds of centres.

INDEPENDENT NATIONALIST VIEW.

Mr. William O'Brien, M.P. (Independent Nationalist), speaking in Cork, said that the Home Rule Bill could not pass in its present form, which was fundamentally bad.

Ministers, he declared, must secure the sanction of a general election for a new bill, otherwise it would be impossible to call out the King's troops to enforce Home Rule.

THE CONFERENCE OFFER.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

Mr. A. Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in his recent speech at Bristol, denied that Ulster was to be thrust out, and declared:—"Long before civil war begins the Government will have an opportunity to tell the country what it offered, and what Ulster refused."

Mr. Birrell now explains that the offer he then indicated was the one for a conference, set forth in Mr. Asquith's famous speech at Ladybank in October last.

RUSSIAN ARMAMENTS.

THE KRUPP RUMOURS.

INTEREST IN PARIS.

PARIS, Jan. 29.

In regard to the report that Krupps were negotiating for the purchase of the Putiloff Armament Works, in St. Petersburg, which possess the latest French artillery models since the Russian Government adopted the same class of weapon, the "Figaro" asserts that an Anglo-German syndicate consisting of Krupps, the Deutsche Bank, and Vickers, Ltd., has offered Putiloffs an immediate advance of £2,000,000.

As Putiloffs required a considerable amount of fresh capital in connection with a new contract for Russian artillery, they negotiated with a Russian banking-house in close relations with Berlin. Hence the Anglo-German syndicate was formed.

Jan. 30.

The reported attempt on the part of Krupps to gain a controlling interest in the Putiloff works continues to engross public opinion.

Apparently Putiloffs, requiring further capital so as to complete the Russian Government's large artillery order, approached certain French capitalists, but the negotiations dragged until Krupps and the Deutsche Bank offered 20,000,000 roubles on condition that the amount should be accepted immediately.

Probably the difficulty will be solved by negotiations between the French and Russian banks, under the direction of their respective Governments.

Take a little Wolfe's Schnapps night and morning; it is refreshing and beneficial.—Advt.

AMERICA AND JAPAN

IN EVENT OF TROUBLE.

UNITED STATES ADMIRAL'S VIEWS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

Rear-Admiral Vreeland has had a confidential conference with the House of Representatives Committee on Naval Affairs.

It is reported that Rear-Admiral Vreeland urged upon the committee the absolute necessity for the United States to keep pace with Japanese ship-building programmes. The Admiral pointed out that the comparative ease with which Japan could secure the Philippines and Hawaii in the event of an outbreak of war made a strong United States fleet imperative.

Vice-Admiral Vreeland considered Alaska was safe from attack by Japan, giving reasons which the committee ordered should be suppressed in the report.

He declared that if Japan ever struck a blow it would be a swift and damaging one. He did not doubt, however, that the United States would win if a war occurred.

The Admiral admitted that he had not been able to secure definite information of the actual naval building programme of Japan, but he knew that Japan was spending every available sum on battleships and auxiliary craft. He thought that if Japan once equalled the United States in naval strength this country would be sure to receive a demand for the abolition of the alien immigration law.

NEGOTIATIONS AT A STANDSTILL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.

The President, Dr. Wilson, has issued a statement on foreign affairs in which he expresses the belief that the foreign Powers are doing everything possible to assist the United States in dealing with the Mexican embroglio.

He asserts that negotiations with Japan regarding the Californian anti-alien legislation have been closed for the present owing to the Federal Government's inability to coerce California.

Dr. Wilson indicates that the next move will be the negotiation of a new Japanese treaty, but nothing, however, has yet been done in this direction.

"PERFECTLY FRIENDLY."

Mr. W. J. Bryan, Secretary of State, declares that relations between Japan and the United States are still "perfectly friendly," and conferences are still being held from time to time.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

MORE SUGGESTIONS.

MR. L. HARCOURT MENTIONED.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

In connection with the Governor-Generalship of the Commonwealth, the Right Hon. Ronald Craufurd Munro-Ferguson, M.P., is mentioned as a possible successor of Lord Denman.

It is rumoured that efforts are being made to induce Mr. Lewis Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to accept the appointment.

The Right Hon. Ronald Craufurd Munro-Ferguson is a wealthy Scottish landowner, who has represented Leith Burghs in the House of Commons since 1886. He has not previously occupied any position as Governor or in any other capacity in the Dominions. He is 53 years of age, and a son of the late Colonel R. Munro-Ferguson, M.P. He was educated for the army at Sandhurst, and served as a lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards. He entered the House of Commons in 1884 as Liberal member for Cross and Cromarty, and was afterwards elected for Leith. Amongst his public positions have been vice-lieutenant for the County of Fife, Lord of the Treasury (in 1894), Provost of Kircaldy, Hon. LL.D. of the University of St. Andrew's, and referee of Private Bills. Mr. Munro-Ferguson married in 1889 Lady Helen Hermione Blackwood, daughter of the first Marquis of Dufferin. He owns about 26,000 acres in Scotland.

LABOUR.

GLASGOW CONFERENCE.

CHALLENGE TO SYNDICALISM.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

At the Labour Conference which is sitting in Glasgow it was almost unanimously resolved that the permanent improvement of the workers could only be fully realised through joint action on trade union and independent political lines.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, M.P., leader of the Parliamentary Labour party, strongly supported the resolutions as a definite challenge to syndicalism.

A motion in favour of proportional representation at Parliamentary elections was rejected by 1,387,000 votes to 704,000.

A motion in favour of alternative voting was similarly rejected.

COAL-PORTERS' STRIKE.

The coal-porters in London have accepted the concessions offered by the masters prior to the strike, which include some increases in wages.

DUBLIN STRIKE ECHO.

The executive of the Transport Workers' Federation in view of the refusal of Larkin, the Dublin strike leader, to substantiate the charges he made in November last against Mr. Havelock Wilson, general president of the National Seamen's Union, namely, that the Seamen's Union had sent blacklegs to Dublin and Leith, has decided to dissociate him from the movement.

Larkin describes the action of the executive as "bluff," and declares it will not affect him in the slightest.

RAILWAY MURDER.

INQUEST RESULT.

VERDICT AGAINST FATHER.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The inquest was concluded to-day into the death of William Starchfield, aged 7, who was found strangled in a railway car at Shoreditch.

A man named Barry, a friend of John Starchfield, the father of the deceased, stated that both he and Starchfield were in bed till 2.30 o'clock on the afternoon of the murder.

Mrs. Starchfield, recalled, affirmed that she saw Barry in the street at 12.30 o'clock, and she told her landlady. The latter confirmed this.

John White, a commercial traveller, gave evidence stating that he saw John Starchfield, accompanied by a boy, at Camden Town railway station at about 2 p.m. on January 8.

Starchfield, who was in court, dramatically exclaimed: "It's a —— lie."

Barry also jumped up and cried: "It's a lie.—It might have been his double."

The coroner, in summing up, said that there was no evidence against anyone except deceased's father.

The jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against the father.

When the finding was announced, Mrs. Starchfield collapsed, and sobbed piteously.

Starchfield was immediately placed under arrest. He did not display any emotion.

The accused served in the South African war, and has been in receipt of 20s weekly from the Carnegie Hero Fund since September, 1912, when, with exceptional bravery, he captured the Armenian Stephen Titus, who ran amok with a loaded revolver in Tottenham Court-road. Starchfield was severely wounded on that [illegible].

THE FIRE RECORD.

JANUARY, 1914.

INSURANCE COMPANIES HARD HIT.

Up to yesterday morning the metropolitan fire brigades had received no fewer than 275 calls for the month of January. This is a record for one month. It is nearly double the number of calls received in January of last year, when the number was 160. In a few cases the calls were "false alarms," or the outbreaks were extinguished before the arrival of the firemen, but even after taking this into consideration, the record is one that will come as a surprise to the citizens.

The two most serious fires of the month were those at C. A. Binns's timber yards, Glebe, and Sydney Snow's drapery emporium in the city.

Needless to say, the insurance companies have been hard hit. The year 1913 was one of the worst ever experienced by the fire insurance companies in New South Wales, but if the disastrous records of January—or anything like it—should keep up, this year will easily eclipse the last.

ACTION BY UNDERWRITERS.

Mr. G. A. Arthur, manager of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, and chairman of the Fire Underwriters' Association, told a "Herald" reporter yesterday that some of the companies were feeling it severely. The association, he added, was taking steps to ascertain the approximate amount of damage done in the State last year. No record as to the amount of damage done by a fire was kept by the Fire Brigade, and it was not an easy matter to estimate it without careful investigation. Such an investigation was now proceeding, and he had no doubt that the loss occasioned by fires last year would be found to reach an astonishing sum.

Questioned as to whether any increase in the insurance rates were contemplated, he said the matter had not been discussed, but he did not think the companies were likely to increase them.

The recent remarks of the chief officer of the Metropolitan Fire Brigade in advocacy of legislation making it compulsory for large buildings to instal automatic fire-detectors, and the fact that in the case of the latest big fire there was no such installation in the building, led Mr. Arthur to remark that the insurance companies welcomed anything that would minimise the fire risk. "For that reason," he said, "we allow a big discount on the premiums paid on buildings and stock where some sort of fire alarm, or extinguisher, or both combined, are installed. This discount runs up to as much as 40 per cent., according to the nature of the provision made to cope with an outbreak of fire."

MR. KELSO KING'S VIEWS.

The insurance companies' point of view was also stated by Mr. Kelso King, head of the Mercantile Mutual Company. "Naturally," he said, "we desire to see the fire risks of the city reduced as far as possible; but the fact that we happen to have had a large number of fires last year, and also during the present month, will not lead to an increase of the rates. The rates have been adjusted to allow for this sort of thing. There are some months when we don't get any fires, or none of a serious nature, and we must expect to get fires in other months. It is true that the number we have been getting is above the average, but there is no call at the present time for a readjustment of the rates. Some years ago it was found that certain kinds of risks were overcharged, and certain other kinds undercharged, but all that has been adjusted. If the installation of automatic fire-detectors were made compulsory, the question of a readjustment of rates might arise. The companies offer every inducement to property-owners to protect their property in this way. The granting of a discount of 30 or 40 per cent., according to the provision made, is a very substantial thing; and I know of one big business where the cost of the installation was paid off in this way in the course of six or seven years."

Mr. Kelso King added that he was also in favour of the salt water high-pressure system suggested by Chief Officer Sparks.

CITY COUNCIL.

The whole question is an important one, and touches all sections of the community. The City Council is now taking it up, the following resolution, moved by Alderman Thompson, having been carried at the last meeting, viz.: —"That, having regard to the number of large conflagrations in the city, and consequent great loss of property, it be referred to the proper committee to consider the advisability of causing a close inquiry into the causes, with a view to minimising same."

SUNKEN GOLD.

ANOTHER GENERAL GRANT SYNDICATE.

CONTRACT IN AUSTRALIA.

Another attempt is to be made to recover the gold lost in the ship General Grant, which was wrecked in the Auckland Islands in the year 1866.

A syndicate has been formed for this purpose, and, according to information brought by the Maheno from New Zealand last evening, an American auxiliary barquentine purchased by the syndicate in connection with the venture was expected to arrive at the Bluff in a few days' time.

Mr. E. C. May, managing director, purchased the vessel at Honolulu, and fitted her out at San Francisco, and she was to have left that port on December 16 for the Bluff. From there she will proceed to the Auckland Islands. Mr. May estimates the value of the gold in the wrecked General Grant at anything from £100,000 to £1,000,000. He believes that the sundries, of which there were 170 boxes, consisted of miners' gold put in as sundries on the manifest in order that the cargo might not appear too valuable.

He considers that the gold is as good as won, and states that the actual salvage work should not occupy more than five or six weeks, though the expedition will probably be at the island about six or eight months. He added that after he had finished with the General Grant he had a Government contract awaiting him in Australia, and intended to look for one or two vessels known to have been lost with treasure aboard.

SHAM LORD.

DUPES THE DETECTIVES.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

An exciting incident occurred after the arrival of the Aorangi from San Francisco.

Among the passengers was a young man known to the police as Evelyn Vine Kidson, who has been wanted for some time to answer a charge of forgery in New Zealand. Kidson is alleged to be the same person who provided American papers with much copy by posing as Lord Peveril Innesker, and brother to the Duke of Roxburgh. At San Francisco he went to the best hotel, engaged an expensive suite of rooms, the same as were occupied by Madame Melba some time before.

There he gave a dinner party, and displayed a card alleging his nobleness of birth. Trouble ensued when his cheque was dishonoured by the bank. Leaving America, Kidson went to Papeete for some time, but ventured to return to New Zealand by the Aorangi. The police had meanwhile been aware of his movements.

A number of detectives awaited the disembarkation of passengers, but Kidson, dressed as a ship's officer, calmly walked down the gangway and between the detectives.

Subsequently, however, he returned to the vessel, and was found in a recess between two cabins in a very sick condition, having taken lysol, apparently in an attempt to commit suicide. He recovered, and is now under arrest.

CITY FIRE.

THE WATCHMAN'S STORY.

BIG EXPLOSION.

Large crowds yesterday visited the scene of the fire of Thursday night at the corner of Pitt and Liverpool streets. For the sake of safety the police barracaded off the footpath and portion of the road right round the building.

The night watchman at Snow's, Ltd. (Mr. R. Oliphant) stated that a number of hands were back at work on Thursday evening. They left at 9 o'clock, and the accountant left at 9.30 p.m. In the next hour he twice visited the various floors and found everything all right. About 10.20 p.m. he heard an explosion, and at once ran to the basement, where the strong-room is situated. But on examination he found that secure. Then he heard one of the cleaners, M. Gallagher, calling to him. He attempted to go to him, and then heard Gallagher, call out that the place was on fire. It was impossible to get to the telephone, and he made his escape from the building. Gallagher escaped by way of the Liverpool-street windows on to the roof, and he was rescued by the firemen. The fire started either in the millinery or show-room, but the cause of the outbreak is unknown.

It has been learned that the back portion of the building occupied by Ainsworth's (drapers) and Ward and Farran, on the top floor, was damaged; also slight damage was done to the contents of the latter.

The explosion heard by the watchman and others in the vicinity came from the engine in the Crystal Palace.

The building was erected about two years ago, and was the property of the estate of the late Mr. Samuel Hordern (Anthony Hordern and Sons, attorneys). It covered an area of about an acre and a half, and was leased to Mr. Sydney Snow, of Ballarat, Victoria. The building was insured in various offices for £30,000; the building in which Ainsworth's is situated is insured for £7750 in the Atlas Insurance Company, and the contents of Ward and Farran's premises for £757 in the same company. The contents of Snow's Ltd., were insured for £43,000, and the fixtures for £3500 in the Atlas Insurance Company.

COCKATOO ISLAND.

A NEW ORDER.

PRIORITY FOR OLD HANDS.

Very general complaints have been voiced of late as to the alleged systematic displacement of the regular employees at Cockatoo Island in favour of new arrivals to the country. The matter has been officially brought under the notice of the Minister for Defence (Senator Millen), and as a result he has issued the following minute:—

"Several statements have reached me to the effect that the old (in point of service, not age) employees at Cockatoo are steadily being pushed out and their places filled by new arrivals. While I recognise that the management must have the fullest possible liberty in the selection of workmen—and I understand this has been accorded by the Naval Board—no discrimination against the old employees can be permitted. On the contrary, other things being equal (i.e., capacity, reliability, etc.), those who have previously given satisfactory service should be given priority."

£20 PER PUPIL.

COST OF EVENING SCHOOLS.

SOME MAY BE CLOSED.

"It is not to be expected," said the Minister for Education yesterday, "that we can maintain an evening continuation school when it costs nearly £20 per annum for each pupil."

This, in a nutshell, is Mr. Carmichael's policy with regard to the evening continuation schools. The Minister yesterday took occasion to object to the sparse attendance at certain teaching establishments of this character.

"There are," he said, "several schools at which, through the apathy of parents, the attendance has fallen so low as to justify the closing of the schools. In fact, recommendations were made by the officers concerned that work should be suspended at the Tempe, Kurri Kurri, and Woonona junior technical continuation schools, and Dulwich Hill and Tamworth commercial evening continuation schools, until an assurance was given that an average of at least 30 pupils would be maintained."

Mr. Carmichael, however, is keenly interested in the success of these evening continuation schools, because, he says, they afford the children of the people in poor circumstances an opportunity of securing educational advantages that will enable them later on to successfully compete with children more fortunately situated. It has been decided, therefore, that a further chance will be given this term, but the principals of the various schools will be notified that unless a greater interest is shown on the part of the parents, resulting in increased attendance, the schools named will have to be closed.

Referring to the case of the Tamworth school attendance dropping to less than 10, Mr. Carmichael said: "We close a primary school when the attendance drops to 10, so it is not to be expected we can maintain an evening continuation school when it costs nearly £20 per annum for each pupil. The benefits of these schools are so apparent that it is difficult to understand why the opportunities afforded are not availed of to a much greater degree."

ANGRY MINISTER.

CAUCUS REPORT.

MR. MEAGHER'S DISCLAIMER.

The Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. R. D. Meagher, yesterday made the following reply to a statement in Friday's "Herald" by the Minister for Works regarding Wednesday's caucus meeting:—

"I see by this morning's 'Herald' that the Minister for Works expresses his astonishment at the correctness of the 'Herald's' account of the Parliamentary Labour caucus meeting on Wednesday, and insinuates it was supplied by a "traitor to pay off old scores."

"At the conclusion of the caucus meeting on Wednesday, in company with the member for Bingara, I visited my room and placed all the documents I possessed relating to the caucus election in the drawer of my desk. We both then proceeded to a fish shop in Pitt-street, meeting there ex-Lord Mayor Clarke by accident, and in view of alleged political tragedies which have occurred in fish shops, let me say that neither Mr. M'Donald nor myself gave any assassin stab to a comrade.

"We left the fish shop together, and proceeded direct to the Labour Conference, and I remained there till 10.30, leaving with Mr. Barry, a well-known delegate.

"And from the time I left the caucus with Mr. M'Donald, M.L.A., until the present time I have had no conversation on the caucus election, direct or indirect, with any pressman from the 'Herald' or any other paper.

"I had not since the caucus meeting on Wednesday attended the Speaker's room till noon to-day, (Friday), and the documents were intact in my drawer, and my messenger assures me no one had access to my room since I left them there on Wednesday.

"This explanation, which to the caucus is superfluous, is given to prevent anyone being mislead by Mr. Griffiths sly innuendo. I notice Mr. Griffiths also delivers a homily on 'crooks,' and I feel sure no one would be so stupid as to discount the respect which should be paid to his opinion on such subject."

WHARF MEN.

EMPLOYERS REJECT THE LOG.

ANOTHER DEADLOCK.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The second conference between the Commonwealth Steamship Owners' Federation and the Waterside Workers' Federation failed to-day.

The employers decided they could not accept the amended log submitted yesterday.

When the conference reassembled in the afternoon Mr. Northcote, chairman of the Commonwealth Steamship Owners' Federation, announced the decision of the shipowners.

Mr. Northcote said: It devolves upon me to convey to you the decision arrived at by the shipowners. The amended proposals submitted by you yesterday were given the most careful consideration, but the closer we go into the matter and estimate the effect of the increase in pay and additional expense which would be incurred in the conditions imposed in the new log, the more we are confirmed in our opinion that we cannot make any increase in our cost of working cargo, without correspondingly increasing our freight, and this we do not see our way to do, as it would cause a serious diminution in the volume of traffic. This especially refers to the classes of cargo that you desire under the log to treat as special, and for which you ask additional pay. The cost of living is a factor that has very properly been raised in this discussion, and, taking Sydney as an example, we find that, whereas the increase in rates of pay for the waterside workers since 1905 is 50 per cent., the increase in the cost of living is 25.2 per cent. I may remark that 17.2 per cent. is (according to the Commonwealth Statistician) due to increase in house rents. It is a popular idea that Australian shipping is very prosperous, and while it is true that for a time we (I am speaking specially for Australian companies), in common with the rest of Australia, did well, I can assure you it is no longer the case, and indeed our profits have been largely utilised to build new vessels required to carry on the increasing trade of the coast. During the last five years awards and agreements have been made covering wharf and other labour, seamen, masters, and officers, cooks and stewards, engineers, firemen and trimmers (manning in accordance with Navigation Act), involving a total additional expenditure of £256,250 per annum. We had, of course, to increase our charges to help defray this great increase in our expenses. I cannot believe you gentlemen fully realise the magnitude of the sum involved, even in your modified proposals. Three pence per hour in wages alone represents at least £165,000 per annum; while the conditions included in the log represent even a greater sum. I suppose in no other country is shipping—the most important of secondary industries—carried on under so many restrictive conditions as in Australia, and great responsibility is thrown on those responsible for the administration to maintain its financial stability. We listened with great interest to the arguments advanced by all your representatives, and we do not want you to think we are unsympathetic. While unable to concede any advance in pay we would co-operate, indeed, gladly co-operate, with your unions in any effective scheme for the better distribution of work, either by successive relief gangs or some other practical method, or groups of us would undertake to employ a large body of constant men at 52s 6d per week of 48 hours and overtime. We cannot accept the view that if the union has a surplus of members the industry should be responsible for their maintenance. For these reasons we cannot recede from the position we have previously indicated, but I desire to impress upon you that the welfare of your members is bound up with the prosperity of the shipping industry. We are interdependent. We recognise the advantage that would attach to making an agreement, or having an award with your federation as the central controlling body, to which all disputes could be referred, and hope that this may yet eventuate.

THE DEBATE.

Mr. Hughes, M.P., chairman of the Waterside Workers' Federation, asked if the statement of Mr. Northcote meant that nothing more could be done in that conference.

Mr. Northcote replied that such was the case.

Mr. Hughes then inquired if the federation were given more complete control of affairs by the branches, whether it might lead to a settlement.

Mr. Northcote said he did not think so.

Mr. Hughes: Are you prepared to consider any advances in rates of pay?

Mr. Northcote: No.

After further discussion, Mr. Northcote again intimated the willingness of the employers to pay existing rates, and to discuss conditions of work, or to have the whole case dealt with in the Arbitration Court.

Mr. Hughes then left the room with the other representatives of the Waterside Workers' Federation.

A CASUAL OCCUPATION.

STATEMENT BY MR. HUGHES.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Mr. Hughes to-night said: "I regret very much that this second conference should have proved abortive. I am a little surprised as well as disappointed at the result. The present conference dealt, not with the log, but solely with the demands of the wharf labourers for increased rates of pay. Modified demands, which were for 1s 9d an hour, and time and a half overtime, were unconditionally rejected. I asked whether they were prepared to consider any advances, and Mr. Northcote said he was not. There is then no escape from the position. The shipowners are determined to resist every attempt on the part of the wharf labourers for an increased wage. The shipping industry demands that a large number of men should be always available to deal with he fluctuating and at best intermittent requirements of the trade. On one day 300 men will be sufficient to do the whole of the work of a great port; on the following day 3000 are not enough. The result is that a large number of members of our federation live from hand to mouth and do not average 30s throughout the year. Seventy-five per cent. of the members of the federation do not average 25s; yet all are required to deal with rushes of work. The principle we lay down is that this industry must support those persons who are necessary to carry it out; that is to say, the employers must pay them a living wage. One shilling and ninepence an hour may seem a high wage, so it would be if the men were to work 4[illegible] hours a week. Many of them don't work 20 hours a week, and at least 20 per cent. don't work 15 hours a week. What we are told by Mr. Northcote is this, that the companies cannot grant any more wages to wharf-labourers, because they want their profits to build new ships to grapple with the increasing trade. What better proof can there be than this that the industry is growing excellently well, so the position is that when increases of pay could be passed on to the public, the shipowners readily granted them, but when they have to pay them themselves they refused point blank, because they want them to build more ships. But this is an attitude neither logical nor tenable. Our demand should be dealt with on its merits, but this has not been done. I am very sorry for it. We are calling a meeting of the council for next week to consider the position. Each organisation will be communicated with and facts put before them. As soon as the council has decided what it is desirable to do, its recommendation will be forwarded to the branches."

UNION S.S. CO.

PROJECTED DEVELOPMENT.

NEW CARGO STEAMERS.

Sir James Mills, chairman of the Union Steamship Company, who recently retired from the position of managing director, arrived in Sydney by the Maheno last evening, en route for England.

With regard to the expected growth of the company's Pacific trade, Sir James stated that an oil-bearing steamer of the same type as R.M.S. Niagara, but slightly larger, was being built at the Fairfield works. There were two large cargo steamers also in course of building, one of 15,000 tons, and the other of 10,000. These latter would be used in the trade between Australia and Canada, in conjunction with the Federal-Shire line. Another development contemplated by the Union Company was the inauguration of a service of regular cargo steamers, having space for refrigerated cargo, between Australia and New Zealand, on the one side, and Western Canada and the U.S.A. on the other. This service had also been inaugurated by two chartered steamers, the Waimate and Canada Cape.

Referring to the recent waterside strike in New Zealand, Sir James Mills repudiated a suggestion that he said had been made to the effect that the cost of the strike would be passed on to the public. The company, he said, had been blamed for having entered into an arrangement with the Federation of Labour two years ago for an extension of the waterside workers' agreement, and for being too willing to make concessions to employees, for the reason that increased expenses in this respect could always be passed on to the public. "Passing it on has become a parrot-cry," declared Sir James. "The only increase in charges to the public the company has made was two years ago, and then not half of the extra expense was passed on to the public. Since that time we have had to employ more men and pay higher wages. The company has borne this, and has also put up with less efficient service, taking the burden itself. I hardly like to say what the recent strike cost the company," added Sir James, "but it has been very considerable—the public has no idea of it—and so far, at all events, the company has not passed it on."

He added that the strike, following upon the smallpox epidemic in Sydney and New Zealand, had caused a great dislocation of trade, and a great shrinkage in passenger traffic, not only between New Zealand and Australia, but on island routes.

Sir James Mills leaves to-day by R.M.S. Omrah. He will be absent from New Zealand for about eighteen months.

ABDUCTED.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

BOWEN (Q.), Friday.

In connection with the alleged abduction of Ivy Stevens, 11, daughter of Andrew Stevens, a farmer at Paul's Pocket, Kelsey Creek, John Scholes, aged about 60 years, has been arrested.

Alexander Pott, who was mustering cattle, came upon the man and the girl at the junction of Emu Creek with Don River. He succeeded in rescuing the girl and disarming the man. The large number of searchers who left their farms at the call of the parents were all well mounted, mostly armed with rifles, and were first-class horsemen. Most of them had been for a week riding and sleeping in wet clothes. The girl, who is now at her home, states that after wandering a long way through the bush they stopped at Bell's Creek. She was made to change into boy's clothes. Her hair was cut, and her old clothes burnt. She says she could have got away at any time, but did not know her way home, and they wandered on for several days, being short of food for the last two days. Scholes fired three shots at an old cow, which he intended to kill for food, but failed to kill the animal. She was six days out, and had travelled about 50 miles when found by Pott.

IN A STORM.

STEERING GEAR SMASHED.

The Union Company's steamer Maheno, which arrived from Auckland last night, brought further details of the rough passage experienced by the steamer Hornfels.

The German tramp Hornfels arrived at Auckland from Delagoa Bay on January 21, having left the South African port as far back as December 18 with a cargo of coal.

On Christmas Eve rough weather was met, and a fireman named Stewart, aged 34 years, was suddenly reported missing, and was believed to have been washed overboard. After this the weather became worse, and on January 8 a strong gale came up from the north-west. For three days tremendous seas struck the vessel, carrying away part of the steering gear, and leaving her at the mercy of the waves. The steamer rolled heavily in the trough of the seas, and while the hand-steering gear was being made ready heavy seas swept over her, damaging the deck fittings, carrying away companionways, and twisting boat davits. With the assistance of winches and tackle, the hand-steering gear was worked, and the vessel came through the storm.

SCHOOLBOY DROWNED.

DOMAIN BATHS.

John McGuire, of Cleveland-street, Redfern, a schoolboy of 12, attending St. Peter's, Surry Hills, was drowned in the Domain baths yesterday afternoon.

From 3 to 3.30 in the afternoon 47 boys from the school were taken to the baths for their weekly swim. They made their departure, and at 7 o'clock, Mr. Hellings, having a look round his baths, found a suit of clothes. The police were informed, and commenced searching. At 9.30 the parents of the boy became alarmed at his non-appearance, and, making inquiries at the baths, found their worst fears confirmed.

The body was recovered by the water police about 11.30. It was found in 12 feet of water, about 80 feet from the northern end.

Young McGuire could not swim.

TWO HORSES BURNT.

LOCKED IN A BOTANY STABLE.

At 6 a.m. yesterday the stables of Fred. Brown, greengrocer, in Henley-street, Mascot, caught alight. Two horses were locked in the stable, and the fire was discovered too late to save them.

By the time the fire brigade arrived the animals had been incinerated. The stable and its contents were destroyed.

MOSQUITO CAUSES DEATH.

LITHGOW, Friday.

The two-weeks-old son of Mr. Pearce Dyer, who resides on Vale-road, died last night from convulsions brought on as the result of a mosquito bite.

DILATORY ELECTORS.

BATHURST, Friday.

Louis Norman Edgley and Charles Oliver Fox failed to become enrolled under the Commonwealth Electoral Act, and at the police court to-day were each fined 10s, with 3s costs, or four days' hard labour.

ANONYMOUS GIFT.

ADELAIDE, Friday.

A gift of £5000 has been made by an anonymous donor to the Blind, Deaf, and Dumb Institution, Brighton.

BUILDING TRADES.

AT THE CRISIS.

STOP-WORK MEETING TO-DAY.

Indications of trouble in the building trade were not wholly obliterated by last night's joint meeting, and consequently the "cease work" meeting of builders' labourers will take place this morning, as originally intended.

The master builders are determined to go on with their appeal to the High Court in respect to the Federal award, which fixed the wage of these labourers at 11s per day. They contend that the building trade, being purely a local one, should come under the State industrial law. As the president, Mr. Williamson, put it last night, "We cannot send a building to Melbourne to be erected."

While, however, the attitude of the employers was firm, there was a conciliatory spirit towards the deputation—which comprised representatives of the Builders' Labourers' Union and of the Building Trades Federation.

A suggestion was made by Mr. William Stuart (employers) that a conference should be held, and this was very favourably received. The joint meeting was thereupon adjourned for a week.

It was learned from the side of the men that the employers had not agreed to withdraw the notices indicating that they would pay only under the State award. This award differs from the all-round 11s Federal award by fixing rates, acording to duties, at 9s, 9s 8d, 10s 4d, and 11s.

Mr. J. Millard, secretary of the Builders' Labourers' Union, and president of the Australian Builders' Labourers' Federation, stated that the men objected to have their wages reduced. He expected that there would be a monster roll-up at this morning's meeting at the Trades Hall. The labourers looked to the other unions allied with the Building Trades Federation to stand by them in whatever course may be deemed expedient to settle the present deadlock.

PRIEST v. L.O.I.

FATHER O'REILLY'S THREAT.

USE OF BLACKTHORN.

Replying to the Grand Master, Mr. Robinson's, letter contained in to-day's "Herald," the Rev. M. J. O'Reilly remarked:—

"I don't see that I have said anything that should offend him. It was a kind thing to promise that under Home Rule we would try to raise the standard of education in Ulster. Nine out of every ten men in Australia will say 'Amen' to that. It would soon put an end to the disreputable shivoos at Clontarf. Time was when members of Parliament attended the muster and joined in the Kentish fire. Time was also when Cabinet Ministers were not ashamed to attend, and Premiers apologised for their absence. To-day no apology would be accepted for their presence. To hint that a Cabinet Minister had been at an Orange gathering would be such an injurious suggestion that it would get the man who made it mulcted in heavy damages. I also said that there was no gratitude in politics, and instanced my support of Mr. Bruntnell for Annandale. It wasn't my fault that the New South Wales public wouldn't have anything to do with a declared Orangeman. Now the Right Worshipful Grand Master would have us believe that there are many in Parliament; and that it would give me a shock if I knew the number. No doubt; but if the people get to know of it the unfortunate fellow will not survive another election. The right worshipful is a sly dog, and keeps it dark. I fancy, however, that I gave most offence when I declared that loyalty is not compatible with taking the field against the armies of his Majesty the King. I know that I am going against the view popular in Belfast. It was somewhere up there that on the eve of Irish Church disestablishment these devoted loyalists threatened "to kick the Queen's crown into the Boyne." Of course, they never did it. They kicked a few defenceless women into Sandy Row instead. They will do something similar next 12th of July unless the police are about. Some paving stones will be missed from the streets and some nuts and rivets from Harland and Wolff's, but the King's troops will not be required. With a thousand Ulster Catholics armed with blackthorns behind them, the whole Orange army might be entered and backed at the next Olympic games.

SYDNEY'S DEATH-TRAP.

MAN KILLED AT CIRCULAR QUAY.

Mr. Edwin Geach, sen., of Hampton, Milson-road, Cremorne, was crossing the tram-line in front of the Cremorne jetty at Circular Quay yesterday afternoon, when he was knocked down by a tram. Mr. Geach was seen to be seriously injured, and he was hurried to Sydney Hospital in a cab by a constable. He was unconscious when admitted, having a fractured skull, and after lingering for about an hour he died.

When the deceased was knocked down, the brakes of the tram were quickly applied by the driver, and the car was brought to a standstill. Mr. Geach was lying on the ground, his head being badly cut. He was also bleeding freely.

The late Mr. Geach was for a number of years in business in Melbourne as a draper, having shops in Bourke-st and at Prahran. Mr. Edwin Geach, the theatrical manager and director of West's Pictures, is a son of the deceased, as is also Mr. Frank Geach, a Melbourne barrister, while a daughter, Miss Portia Geach, is a well-known artist.

GEORGE STREET ACCIDENT.

William Robertson, 22, a wholesale stationer, residing at 12 Napoleon-street, North Sydney, was run over by a tram in George-street West about 10.20 last night. It appears that he ran into George-street from a side street, and went down under the moving car, which passed over his right foot. The driver endeavoured to pull up in time to avert the accident, but there was no hope of doing so. At this spot a good deal of reconstruction work is going on, and, as a consequence, there is more space between the ground and the car than is usually the case. It was to this fact that Robertson owed his life. The Civil Ambulance conveyed the injured man to Sydney Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the foot.

DORRIGO'S PLIGHT.

RAILWAY PROMISE BROKEN.

A deputation waited upon the Director-General of Public Works on Thursday with a request that the construction of the line between Glenreagh and Dorrigo should be expedited.

The deputation, which was introduced by Mr. Briner M.L.A., represented that the settlers at Dorrigo found themselves in a dilemma, inasmuch as they had taken up their holdings on the promise by the Government that a railway line would be built. Many of them were unable to market their produce or stock by reason of the absence of railway communication, and the position of the settlers had become serious.

Mr. Davis, in reply, said that he would lay the case presented to him before the Minister, and remarked that he thought the South Grafton-Glenreagh section of the line would be open in six months.

LAND SESSION.

THE P.L.L.

POLICY DEFINED.

The Political Labour Conference resumed its sittings at Macdonell House last night under the presidency of Mr. E. H. Farrar, M.L.C. Amongst the Parliamentarians present were the Premier (Mr. Holman), the Minister for Works (Mr. Griffith), the Minister for Lands (Mr. Trefle), and the Speaker (Mr. Meagher).

The Minister for Education (Mr. Carmichael) extended an invitation to the women delegates to visit the three maternity homes controlled by the Government on Wednesday next. The invitation was accepted, and Mrs. Seery, secretary of the Central Women's Organising League, was appointed to make arrangements.

NON-UNION LABOUR COUNCILLOR.

Mr. Kelsey, the delegate of the Hairdressers' Union, secured the suspension of the standing orders, and moved as a matter of urgency,—"That, in view of the attitude of Mr. Thomas Percy Douglas Holden, M.L.C. (one of the recent appointees to the Legislative Council by the Labour Government) in failing to conform to the provisions of rule 60 of the P.L.L. constitution ('no employer shall be eligible to become, or permitted to remain, a member of the P.L.L., unless all his employees are members of their respective unions and he observes union conditions'), this conference refuses to endorse that gentleman's candidature as an alderman for the Redfern Municipal Council."

The resolution was carried unanimously and with very little discussion, the mover contenting himself by severely criticising the action of the Labour Government, under Mr. M'Gowen, who represents Redfern, in appointing Mr. Holden to the Upper House.

The following report of the lands committee, led by Mr. Trefle, Minister for Lands, was presented to conference:—

"In regard to the Closer Settlement Promotion Act, we strongly recommend that no change be made in the present legislation, principally owing to the fact that the number of propositions under that Act that are coming forward greatly exceeds the sums of money that the commissioners for the Savings Bank can make available for the purpose, and that the bill which is now before Parliament makes further provisions financing these proposals by means of inscribed stock or Treasury bills, and, with the concurrence of the vendor, by issue of a certificate by the Minister authorising payment out of the Treasury of compensation or purchase money by means of instalments.

"In regard to the setting aside of further sums of money under the Closer Settlement Act, as suggested in Resolution No. 134, provision is made for increasing facilities for financing in legislation now before Parliament, as stated in preceding paragraph.

"We recommend the executive to appoint a committee to go through the platform with the Minister for Lands, and delete therefrom any planks that have been provided for in the various Land Acts that are either passed or in course of being passed; such committee to report generally on land matters to next conference.

"We recommend conference to express its approval of a competent land valuation tribunal being appointed for the purpose of determining and keeping up to date the improved and unimproved land values of the State; such valuations to be available for all purposes of rating and taxation.

"We recommend embodying the following new sub-clause between (b) and (c) in subsection 10 of plank 2, under the heading of 'Financial Reform,' namely: 'Developmental works, such as railways, irrigation, water conservation and supply, sewerage, and harbour works.'

"We propose:—'(a) That Crown lands on the foreshores of harbours that may be required for the development of a decentralisation policy be at once reserved from permanent occupancy. (b) That all similar lands that have been alienated, and that are or may be required for shipping and other public purposes, be repurchased by the State, or earmarked for future purchase at present values.'

"We submit the following resolution:—'That permanent holdings, such as homestead farms, Crown leases, and suburban holdings, be subject to reappraisement on application by the holders during a period of twelve months after the board's allotment of the land to the settlers.'

"We also recommend the following new resolution:—'That a Royal Commission be appointed to collect evidence and make a comprehensive report upon the share-farming systems obtaining in this State, with a view to providing by legislation for the equitable treatment of share-farmers.'

"We would point out that it is unnecessary to extend the scope of this Royal Commission to tenant farmers, as we are informed it is the intention of the Government to proceed with sub-section (c) of plank 2 of the platform, which amply provides for them.

"In view of the close relationship of agriculture with land settlement, we strongly recommend conference to refer to this committee the question of submitting a further report upon urgent agricultural reforms which are essential to successful land settlement.

"(Signed) J. L. TREFLE, chairman, J. C. WATSON, TOM BROWN, WALTER J. BOSTON, JOHN LYNCH."

The Minister for Lands had a very cordial reception, on rising to move the adoption of the report. He explained that most of the new proposals had actually been drafted into two land measures, which had been presented to the last Parliament, but dropped for want of time.

Mr Lynch (Young) made his first speech at the conference in support of the adoption of the report. He said he had had 25 years' experience on the land, and was independent of a Labour or any other Government, but he was convinced that the Labour policy was the only land policy capable of permanently settling the great land problem of this State.

AGRICULTURE.

Mr. Trefle also presented the report of the Agricultural Committee, which advocated:—

(1) The establishment of State mills for sugar, grain, and other produce.

(2) The establishment of a State Export Department.

(3) The establishment of the bulk system of handling wheat.

(4) The opening up of new ports and the connecting of border railways to give producers the easiest access to market:

(5) Duplication of main trunk railways, and the extension of branch lines into agricultural areas.

(6) The development of agricultural colleges, farm schools, apprentice schools, experiment farms, and demonstration farms.

(7) Agricultural development—instruction in country centres by means of lectures, demonstrations, etc.

8. Demonstration cars on our railways to be utilised for imparting instruction upon agriculture.

9. The extension of plant breeding work, and the distribution of seed wheat and other pure seeds.

10. Demonstrations in dry farming methods, and cultivation of special varieties of wheat and fodder crops, so as to extend our wheat belt further west.

11. Legislation to insure the purity of
(a) Fertilisers.
(b) Seeds.
(c) Stock and poultry feed.
(d) Insecticides and fungicides.

12. The regulation of the production, manufacture, storage, and sale of dairy produce.

13. The extension of herd testing associations, with the object of improving the quality of our dairy cattle.

14. The extension of the breeding of horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, etc. on the Government farms, for the purpose of supplying farmers with pure bred stock of the highest quality.

15. Importation of purebred live stock, in order to improve our herds and flocks.

16. The establishment of a veterinary experiment station for the purpose of investigating stock diseases.

17. That State and Federal co-operation be encouraged in checking and eradicating cattle tick.

18. Experiments and demonstrations for the control and suppression of insect and vegetable pests, such as the blowfly in sheep, the prickly pear, water hyacinth, etc.

19. The abolition of the pastures protection board in the eastern and central divisions, and the creation of other agencies, departmental and local, to carry out those duties.

20. The registration of veterinary surgeons, with a view to the protection of the stock-owning public.

21. The licensing and control of fruit and vegetable commission agents.

22. The encouragement of the principle of co-operation in the marketing of fruit and other primary products.

23. Forestry control, conservation, and re-afforestation.

24. The development of water conservation and irrigation schemes.

25. The further utilisation of the artesian water supply and investigation of problems connected therewith.

26. To assist primary producers in the opening up of markets and the sale of their products abroad.

27. The continuation and extension of the system initiated by the Labour Government of collecting and publishing information of special value to agriculturists.

(Signed) J. L. TREFLE, Chairman; J. C. WATSON, TOM BROWN, WALTER J. BOSTON, JOHN LYNCH.

The Minister said he wanted, by means of the report which had been presented, to answer the argument that the Labour party was not prepared to do anything for the man on the land. Whilst the Labour party stood for better conditions for the workers in every sphere of industry, they were also prepared with practical proposals for the farmer and settler, which would recoup them a hundred fold for the extra amount they would pay away in wages. Farmers had failed to realise the vast amount they were paying away to middlemen and others, which, by co-operation, and assistance of the Government, they could save for themselves. The dairying industry had been built up by co-operation, and it was the aim of the Government to show other rural industries (notably fruit and vegetable growing) what could be done on the principle of co-operation.

Mr. J. D. Fitzgerald also spoke, and told of the experiences he had had, in his recent trip abroad, in watching the development of the co-operative spirit amongst the farmers of the old world. He also referred to the recent report of the Foods Royal Commission, Mr. T. R. Bavin, which, he said, had made a great impression abroad, and was being read with much interest by authorities and prominent politicians.

The report was adopted, and Mr. Trefle was accorded a vote of thanks by conference for his efforts in the preparation of this and the land reports, and his explanations of them.

BON VOYAGE TO PREMIER.

The Premier left the conference at this stage. Before leaving, however, he was made the recipient of the hearty good wishes of the delegates for a good voyage and a safe return from New Zealand, whence he goes by boat at midday to-day. Mr. Holman appreciated the kindly remarks of the delegates, and retired to the accompaniment of cheers.

THE WHEAT STANDARD.

Mr. Drumm (Orange) moved "That a Royal Commission be appointed to inquire into the action of the Chamber of Commerce in fixing the f.a.q. standard of wheat." The mover said it was a public scandal that the wheat standard was fixed yearly by 13 men, seven of whom were millers, and therefore directly interested in the purchase of the wheat from the farmer.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

ARBITRATION AND MILITARY TRAINING.

The following resolution, moved by Mr. R. J. Stuart-Robertson, M.L.A., was, after a little debate, defeated by a substantial majority: "That the plank dealing with compulsory arbitration be removed from the P.L.L. platform. That it be a recommendation that compulsory training be struck off the Federal platform, and that a plank, providing for the establishment of rifle butts, with cartridge depots and rifle stores attached, and also the right of every citizen to have rifle practice regularly or at intervals, and the custody of his own rifle, be incorporated in lieu thereof."

SPEAKER ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Mr. A. E. O'Brien, the returning officer, announced that the result of the ballot for the election of president was that Mr. R. D. Meagher, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, was elected president, he having received 109 votes, his nearest rival for the position being Mr. W. L. Duncan, of the Clerks' Union, who polled 46 votes.

Mr. John Grant was declared re-elected as general secretary by an overwhelming majority. He secured 118 votes to his opponents' 11.

The results were warmly applauded, and the officers elected briefly returned thanks.

PERSONAL.

The State Premier, Mr. W. A. Holman, leaves for New Zealand to-day for the purpose of attending the Medical Congress there. He will return to Sydney in three weeks.

Mr. A. B. Piddington, K.C., Chief Interstate Commissioner, left Melbourne last night for Sydney. He will return on Tuesday.

At the invitation of the directors of the Australian Bank of Commerce a number of gentlemen, more particularly those connected with the banking world, took lunch at the Australia Hotel yesterday, the object of the gathering being to give them the opportunity of meeting Mr. C. M'A. C Shannon, the new general manager of the bank. Sir Wm. P. Manning presided, and proposed the health of the guest, who, though a London banker of many years' experience, is a native of the Commonwealth. Mr. T. A. Dibbs supported the toast, and Mr. Shannon responded. Mr. J. Russell French proposed the health of Mr. Stewart, the retiring general manager, which was cordially received and suitably responded to.

Mr. John Hector Reid, now in the Geological Survey Department of New South Wales, has been appointed assistant Queensland Government Geologist in the room of Mr. G. T. Maunder, who was appointed but did not take up the position.

The Mayor of Redfern (Alderman Holden, M.L.C.), entertained members of the Redfern Council at supper after the final meeting of that body on Thursday night, and, in the course of a speech, stated that during his term of three years he had occupied the chair 77 out of 78 ordinary meetings of the council.

Mr. B. J. Grogan, who was unanimously elected president of St. Joseph's College Old Boys' Union, at the annual meeting on Thursday, occupied the chair at the meeting which inaugurated the union 17 years ago, and was its foundation president.

At the Australia Hotel yesterday a number of music-lovers assembled to honour Mr. H. N. Southwell, the popular concert manager, who has been very seriously ill for some time. Mr. John Lemmone presided. The Lord Mayor of Sydney presented a cheque for £500 to Mr. Southwell, who, he said, had achieved great success in Sydney, and had won the affection of all. Mr. J. D. Fitzgerald also spoke. Mr. Southwell, in responding, said he was proud that he had made so many friends. He spoke of the wonderful progress that had been made musically in Sydney. Now the standard of music in Sydney was very high. Amongst those present were Messrs. Lawrence Campbell, G. F. Earp, M.L.C., Wm. Atkins, S. Nettleton, F. M'Elhone, T. H. Howard, W. G. Layton, Mrs. Trefle and Mrs. Malcolm Stephen.

A social was tendered to Mr. Octavius W. Cowley at the Paddington Mission Hall on Thursday evening by the workers. Congratulatory addresses were made by the chairman, the Rev. E. Moore, also by the Rev. T. Davies, Messrs. Mountain and Irvine; and a pair of binocular glasses was presented to him. Mr. Cowley has acted as honorary superintendent of the local mission district, conjointly with Mr. Hugh Ross, who has just returned from England. Mr. Cowley leaves next week for a trip to Europe.

At the annual general meeting of the Dickens' Fellowship the Lord Mayor, Alderman Richards, was elected president for the year 1914, and Mr. Aubrey Halloran, LL.D., one of the vice-presidents.

At the invitation of the Mayor of the Glebe (Alderman F. L. Artlett) a large number of the ratepayers gathered at the Glebe Town Hall on Thursday in honour of Alderman H. A. Brigg, who has retired from the council. Eulogistic references were made to Alderman Brigg's services to the Glebe.

The executive committee of the Anniversary Regatta assembled on board the R.M.S. Omrah yesterday morning to make presentations to Captain Layton and the chief officer and purser of that ship, in recognition of their courtesy and kindness on the occasion of the regatta, and as a small memento of the event. Mr. Frederick Green, one of the London directors, was present, and his Honor Judge Backhouse made the presentation.

Mr. Sidney Kidman, the "cattle king," arrived in Sydney on a few days' visit yesterday.

Mr. C. E. Rogers, a director of the N.S.W. Cement, Lime, and Coal Company, Limited, will leave by the Omrah to-day on a business trip to London.

BAD WATER.

STRIKE AT FEDERAL CAPITAL.

QUEANBEYAN, Friday.

During the past twelve months many little grievances have arisen among the workmen employed at the Federal capital. The men complain that the water is not fit for consumption. Mr. Rodkin, organiser of the Railway General Workers' Union, after full inquiries at the works, interviewed Mr. Kelly at Melbourne. He asked that the best water be carted to the camp for the use of the men. This is not being done. The association has exhausted every possible means that could be adopted to bring about a settlement, and the men employed on the pipe line decided to cease work at 5 o'clock yesterday. They advocated a general strike among the men on the Cotter River, which was turned down by a narrow majority.

ALLEGED GRAFT.

LEGISLATORS CHARGED.

A CANADIAN INCIDENT.

QUEBEC, Jan. 30.

Following allegations published in the Montreal "Daily Mail," accusing three members of the Quebec Legislature of graft in connection with concessions for the formation of the Montreal Fairs Association the editor of the newspaper was summoned to appear at the Bar of the House. He then gave the names of the men accused, and the latter at once resigned their seats.

It is stated that proofs of the accusations were gained by Detective Buttinger, who secured his own election as a director of the Montreal Fairs Association, in order to get evidence against the accused members.

Mr. Buttinger has since been appointed chief of the New York police.

The Legislature has ordered an investigation into the matter, but it is understood that the members who resigned also intend to take legal action, with a view to clearing themselves.

CRUSADE AGAINST DRUNKENNESS.

COUNT WITTE'S PROPOSAL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 29.

Count Witte yesterday dramatically appealed to his colleagues in the Council of the Empire to correct his mistakes regarding the liquor laws.

He now recommended limitation of the spirit monopoly and to devote the surplus revenue from it to aid the crusade against drunkenness.

TURKEY AND THE POWERS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 29.

The opinion is growing that the Great Powers should consider the organisation of a naval demonstration in Turkish waters, with a view of enforcing Sir Edward Grey's proposed settlement of outstanding questions in regard to the Aegean Islands and Albania.

SUBMARINE DISASTER.

TOWING EFFORT FAILS.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The effort made to tow the submarine A7 from the mud at the bottom of Whitsand Bay has failed.

CHINESE BANDITS.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 29.

Two thousand bandits sacked and burned Liuan-chow, in the province of Nganhwei.

Mr. Entwistle, a missionary, and his family escaped to Lu-chou.

It is reported that the Roman Catholic missionaries are still in Liuan-chow.

MURDER OF MR. REEKS.

SEARCH FOR RAMSDEN.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

In regard to the search for Ramsden, the man who accompanied the late Mr. Reeks from Liverpool to Wolverhampton, the police have discovered that there are two families named Ramsden in Wolverhampton, and four in Leeds, but the members of all of them deny any knowledge of the man who is wanted.

The police are inquiring for Ramsden by means of a signature in the visitors' book of the Liverpool Hotel. There are no grounds for thinking that Ramsden was a passenger from Canada with Reeks, but he may have been among the crowd who saw Reeks' dollar bills when the ship arrived.

The detectives are not able to make anything of some slips of paper with the name "Parsons" written thereon which were found in Reeks' bedroom. The writing is apparently that of himself.

EMIGRATION.

DOMINION COMMISSION'S CRITICISM.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

Some misconception has arisen in regard to the Dominion Commission's criticisms of the emigrant recruiting system.

The report points out that, while Australia exercises supervision over agents selecting State-aided emigrants, the bulk of the recruiting agents in the United Kingdom are subjected to a mere semblance of authority by the Board of Trade in shipping other classes of emigrants.

ENGLISH BILLIARDS.

GRAY V NEWMAN.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The scores in the Gray-Newman match at the end of to-night's play were as follow:—

Newman (receives 4000)	8628
Gray	4498

Newman made a break of 226. Gray's chief contributions being 517 and 337.

Gray showed his poorest form in the evening, when he totalled only 324 points.

A BIG BREAK.

Playing in a match against T. Aiken today H. W. Stevenson made a break of 724.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

The British Government has proposed to the British South Africa Company that the present acute question of the ownership of land in Southern Rhodesia should be referred to the Privy Council.

The death is announced of Lady Gorst, wife of Sir John Eldon Gorst.

C. W. Hart, the runner, has issued a challenge to anyone in the world to race 100 miles and upwards for £500 a side.

The Archbishops have appointed a committee, in compliance with the resolution of the Church Council in July, 1913, to inquire into the question of what changes are advisable in the relations between the Church and the State in order to secure a fuller expression of the spiritual independence of the Church and the national recognition of religion. Lord Selborne is the chairman of the committee.

The new Aberdeen liner Euripides (George Thompson and Co., Ltd.), was launched at Messrs. Harland and Wolff's yards, Belfast, yesterday.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in the matter of the Commissioner for Railways (New South Wales) versus Hutchinson reserved judgment.

[This appeal has reference to a question of costs of arbitration in regard to the resumption of certain land at Rozelle Bay, belonging to the Hutchinson estate, by the Railway Commissioner, for the purposes of the Glebe Island railway. The parties agreed to go to arbitration on the question of compensation, and the arbitrators' award was accepted by both. On the stated facts, the arbitrators were of opinion that the Commissioner was entitled to costs, but this was disputed by the trustees of the estate, who appealed successfully to the Full Court. The present appeal to the Privy Council is from that judgment.]

PARIS, Jan. 29.

The bank rate has been reduced to 3½.

Owing to the frequency of accidents to submarines the Government is substituting steam for oil in these craft.

ALBUQUERQUE (New Mexico), Jan. 30.

A blazing meteor struck a mountain fifteen miles east of the city last night, and exploded with a terrific detonation. There was great excitement for some time, as people believed that a dynamite explosion had occurred. Houses were severely shaken, and the whole neighbourhood felt the effects of the concussion. Owing to the lonely spot where the meteor struck, however, no damage was done by it.

A.W.U.

SECRETARY ATTACKS THE FARMERS.

MR. CAMPBELL'S REPLY.

The annual report of the general secretary of the A.W.U., Mr. E. Grayndler, referred to the overtures that had been made for a conference with the Farmers and Settlers' Association on the question of wages, and conditions for rural workers, and stated that when conciliation had failed the employers had opposed a compulsory conference. The attitude of the farmers' associations proved conclusively that they did not desire a peaceful settlement. The farmers and settlers' and other rural producers' associations want war, in the mistaken belief that they are able to smash the A.W.U.

CASE FOR THE FARMERS.

Mr. T. I. Campbell, general secretary of the Farmers and Settlers' Association yesterday made a statement in reply to the references to his association contained in the report. After outlining the history of the matter, Mr. Campbell said that it was hard to understand on what grounds Mr. Grayndler accused the association of delaying negotiations. The way had been open all along for the union to bring the matter before the Federal Arbitration Court by filing a plaint, and bringing evidence to support, first of all, the allegation that a dispute existed, and then the reason for the exorbitant claims made upon farmers. "We quite expected this course to be taken," said Mr. Campbell, "if their case was nearly so good as they have represented it to be. If this course had been taken, we would have endeavoured to protect our people before the Court. They knew exactly what our attitude would be in reply to their demands, and their application for a compulsory conference. It might be as well to point out that each new demand which came along was still more exorbitant than the last. This made it all the more apparent that the A.W.U. was bent upon trying to get the farmers into conference, so that they could establish a pretext for an open rupture."

"Mr Grayndler's reference to the desire of the farmers to smash the A.W.U.," concluded Mr. Campbell, "is rather a naive admission, coming from the secretary of what is reputed to be the most powerful union in Australia. We have not set out to smash any union; but we certainly have determined to defend our interests whenever they are attacked, even against such a powerful organisation as the A.W.U. The results of this initial clash, up to the present, have, I think, indicated to the A.W.U. that they have taken on a rather tough proposal when they attempt to hold up the farmer, who is essentially a working unit. It is also rather encouraging to the farmers to have it recognised by the A.W.U. that in order to succeed against us they must widen the dispute by bringing in outside unions to their assistance. Even in this direction the A.W.U. has apparently met with very little success. I have no desire to impugn the loyalty of these outside unionists. I prefer to think that after inquiring for themselves they have come to the same conclusion I have myself all along contended for, viz., that there is no real dispute in existence, and therefore no necessity for their interference. We do not wish to create trouble in any way, but we cannot allow Mr. Grayndler or his union to take up such a 'stand and deliver' attitude as they have attempted against the primary producers of this State."

NEWCASTLE.

WEEK'S COAL EXPORTS.

NEWCASTLE, Friday.

The exports of coal for the week ended to-day reached 102,301 tons, of which 67,850 were for the Commonwealth and New Zealand ports, and 34,451 for oversea countries. The holiday last Monday considerably interfered with the progress of trade during the week. Several steamers have been lying off Stockton waiting either for coal to come forward to the dyke or cranes to become vacant.

DROUGHT AT GISBORNE.

There is a serious drought in the Gisborne district. Many creeks are drying up. A small lake disappeared at Kaitaratahi, leaving huge numbers of dead eels.

SOCIAL INSURANCE.

DOCTORS INTERVIEW MR. GLYNN.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Representatives of the medical profession waited on the Minister for External Affairs (Mr. Glynn) to-day to discuss with him various aspects of the proposed Federal social scheme of insurance.

Mr. Knibbs, the Federal Statistician, was present during portion of the interview. The members of the deputation were Dr. A. Honman (president of the Australian branch of the British Medical Association), Dr. G. A. Syme (secretary), Dr. R. Fetherstone, and Dr. M'Donald (chairman of the Colonial and British Medical Association), who is on a visit to Australia and New Zealand. The deputation was heard by the Minister in private.

Subsequently Mr. Glynn said that he had explained to the doctors that he was desirous of having the fullest information on the subject for guidance with a view to having any system which might be adopted as near perfect as possible. He was only too pleased to receive suggestions. Dr. M'Donald, he said, had a very wide experience in the matter of social insurance, having been associated with the question as a representative member of the medical profession for many years in England. That gentleman explained at length the relations of the medical profession to the friendly societies, and the administration of the Insurance Act of Great Britain. During the discussion certain alleged weaknesses in the working of the system were considered.

EAGLEHAWK TRAGEDY.

BODY TO BE EXHUMED.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The adjourned inquest concerning the death of Samuel Carter, of Marong, whose body was found in the scrub on January 22, was resumed at Eaglehawk, to-day. After hearing evidence the Deputy-Coroner said there was a good deal of mystery surrounding the case, and he was not satisfied as to the cause of death, as deceased was walking quickly along the road when last seen alive. He, therefore, ordered the body to be exhumed and thoroughly examined by a medical practitioner. The inquest was further adjourned.

VIOLENT SUFFRAGISTS.

LONDON, Jan. 30.

Wild scenes were witnessed at a great labour demonstration at Glasgow last night, when a score of women's suffragists had to be carried out bodily, kicking and screaming, during a speech by Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, M.P. One woman attempted to throw herself from the balcony into the body of the hall.

HAYTIEN REBELLION.

MINISTERS IN FLIGHT.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Jan. 30.

All the Haytien Ministers have fled to Kingston, Jamaica.

German and United States bluejackets have been landed, and are now guarding the Legations.

The rebels are marching on the capital in strong force.

COMMONWEALTH FLYING CORPS.

(BY AERONAUT.)

The first news of the Australian Commonwealth Flying Corps which has appeared for some time gives us the information in the "Herald" that a flight with the new biplanes will probably be made on the occasion of Sir Ian Hamilton's visit next month, and that a hospital will be erected on the flying ground to deal with serious accidents.

The mention of the hospital makes people think that accidents are the first things thought of here in regard to aviation. As a matter of fact, thousands of flights are made every day of the year all over the world with no greater percentage of accidents to flights made than was the case when motoring first came into vogue. One takes it for granted that there would be a casualty ward at a flying ground in the same way that there is one at the racecourse, but it need not be mentioned as the most necessary part of the equipment.

Now, what is our position in regard to aviation? One pilot, engaged in England, sent out, has been receiving a salary from the Government for the last eighteen months, and has never made a flight during that time, and the other nearly that time with the same result, the reason being that the Government will not find the money to carry on.

Australia has thus placed herself in a ridiculous position in the aviation world, and the ridicule will increase the longer this state of things continues. It is the same as a man buying a motor car and engaging a chauffeur, and then finding he cannot afford to buy petrol to run it, and allows man and car to rust and deteriorate. The biplanes have had to be recovered without ever making a flight. Aviation is considered indispensable and very necessary to a modern army, and in the older countries every endeavour is being made to gain superiority in this arm of the service. The airship (dirigible) and hydro-aeroplane with landing chassis for land and water will be of most service in Australia.

Our fighting will be in the coastal districts, where aeroplanes could not operate, owing to the broken and wooded nature of the country. An enemy attacking Australia would have flying machines, aeroplanes, and airships of the non-rigid type, which could be carried on a man-of-war. It would be our business to meet these attacking ships, which could only be done, at a distance from the coast, with airships, which would drop bombs on the enemy's aircraft. The Commonwealth would be well advised to order a small airship, say, of 150,000 cubic feet capacity for instructional purposes. The ship would take some time to build, and would not be in commission sooner than, say, a year from the time of ordering from Australia; getting it out and training a crew would take about another year.

It is true that the Commonwealth Government has found its defence expenditure much larger than was anticipated, and is in sore straits, but the situation must be faced, and vigorous measures should be taken to keep up to date. The Australian public is intelligent above the average, and progressive measures which place the country in line with the rest of the world are always received sympathetically, and the Government is sure of support if the necessary effort is made.

CASUALTIES.

KILLED NEAR REDFERN STATION.

George Ford, 35, fettler, of 11 Cooper-street, Waterloo, was yesterday working with a gang of men on the Illawarra line, near Redfern station. Two flagmen were on duty to guard the workers.

As the 8.45 a.m. train from Bankstown approached, Ford somehow got over on to that line. One of the flagmen noticed the fettler just as the train overtook him. His body was horribly mutilated. The Civil Ambulance took him to Sydney Hospital, where life was pronounced extinct.

DRANK WRONG MEDICINE.

M. A. Johnson, 70, a widow, died at St. Vincent's Hospital on Thursday. On Monday evening last deceased, who lived alone in James's-lane, off Foy-street, Darlinghurst, ran from her doorway to a neighbour, exclaiming that she had drunk liniment in mistake for internal medicine. She was taken to an Oxford-street chemist, and later to the hospital.

MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSION.

PEAK HILL, Friday.

Edward Farey, a sawmiller, went into a shed where he had powder stored this morning, and it is thought that he trod on a match, causing the powder to explode. His arms were badly lacerated, and other parts of his body were bruised. He was brought into the local hospital, and his injuries attended to.

TWO PEOPLE DROWNED.

AUCKLAND, Friday.

While a launch was returning from a picnic last night, a heavy sea washed Myrtle Rowan, 18, and a man named Bevins overboard. There were two others aboard. One of them, Robert Gorden, 24, jumped in to the rescue. Bevins was picked up unconscious, but Myrtle Rowan and Gordon were drowned.

MINER KILLED.

BROKEN HILL, Friday.

Donald Brown, a miner, while working in the British mine, Thompson section, was killed by a fall of ground at the 300ft level this afternoon. Brown and George Conway had fired in a stope, and the ground afterwards fell away. Conway escaped with minor injuries, but was taken to the hospital. Brown leaves a widow and eight children at Wonthaggi, Victoria.

A MAN DROWNED.

WELLINGTON, Friday.

The body of a man named Gray was found in the Macquarie River at the falls crossing on Wednesday evening. He was employed by Messrs. Payne Bros., one of whom went to the falls with him with the team. He left Gray in charge and went home, and when he came back in the morning the man had disappeared. Mr. Payne, after a brief search, came to the conclusion that he had left his work, so he took the team himself into Geurie. Mr. Herring, who knew of the man's disappearance, searched along the bank of the river, and discovered the body about 100 yards from the crossing where the bank is very high. It is surmised that Gray walked over the bank into the river. He is supposed to have come from Scotland, but very little is known of him.

WEAR'S DAMAGE.

MANY PLATES AFFECTED.

The steamer Wear, which grounded off Cronulla Beach on Monday night last, has been floated into dock. An inspection of the vessel's bottom showed that the damage was more extensive than had been anticipated.

Although the vessel was making no water, the effect of the grounding had made itself noticeable for some distance along the vessel's bottom, and it is stated that 30 plates will probably require attention. Of this number about 16 will have to be taken out.

The steamer will be taken out of dock to-day, as it has not yet been decided who shall carry out the work of repairing her.

DAPTO'S WATER SUPPLY.

The non-completion of the Dapto water supply scheme was the subject of a deputation which on Thursday waited upon the Director-General of Public Works. It was pointed out by the deputation, introduced by Mr. Mark Morton, M.L.A., that the pipes leading from the catchment area had been laid to within a few miles of the town, but the line was being carried no further.

Mr. Davis, in reply, stated that the trouble was that the capacity of the catchment area was only equal to supplying Wollongong, but he promised that an engineer would visit the locality, and report whether anything could be done to give Dapto a supply, which the people had stated they were prepared to pay for.

AUSTRALIAN WEATHER.

THE "HERALD" MAP.

The high pressure which was centred about Adelaide on Thursday has travelled eastward about 900 miles, and during its progress has lost considerably in pressure values. The centre is now situated between Sydney and Norfolk Island. The Antarctic disturbance has also made considerable easting, and gained in energy. It is mostly operating over New Zealand, with its centre to the south of the Bluff.

A new disturbance is now over the Bight, but up to the present it has not shown any particular characteristics; to the rear of this is another high pressure, which occupies the extreme SW corner of the continent, and over the northern half monsoonal conditions still predominate.

Ocean Forecast.—Fresh, south-westerly winds in the Western Bight.

'FRISCO SERVICE.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

The Postmaster-General says that the New Zealand-San Francisco mail service contract has been extended till March 31 pending a re-arrangement. The question is to be discussed with the shipping companies.

A house occupied by Caroline Bryant, 19 Wilson-street, Redfern, was entered by thieves on Wednesday. Jewellery of hers, valued at £7, and £3 worth belonging to a woman lodger named Mackenzie were stolen.

Mr. Emile A. Vlies writes suggesting a reform in the matter of postal clearances, and contends it would be a great advantage to suburban dwellers if an indicator would show when the pillar boxes were cleared and when the next clearance would be made.

Taxpayers are reminded that returns for 1914 income tax should be forwarded to the Commissioners of Taxation, George-street North, Circular Quay, Sydney, on or before February 7 next.

ROCKCHOPPING.

EMPLOYERS TAKE A STAND.

WAGES DIFFICULTY.

The introduction of machinery on certain jobs by sewerage contractors has been found to do away very largely with what has been known as the "deadly dust," but the wage reduction associated with the innovation is not palatable to the rockchoppers and sewer miners, who say they have to work longer hours for less pay. Before the machines were introduced they received 2s 3d per hour for a six hours day. The new rates provided in the wages board award gave them 1s [illegible] per hour for machines, and 1s 3d per hour for hand drill for a day of eight hours. There were little strikes here and there as a protest against the new rates; but, according to the employers, the vacancies were soon filled.

The position was reviewed at a special meeting of the Public Works Contractors' Association held last night at the rooms of the Master Builders' Association, when it was decided to bring the whole of the members of the association into line. With that object in view, the following resolution was carried:—"That on and after February 2 award rates and conditions be strictly adhered to on sewer contracts in regard to hammer and drill men and jumper and machine men."

TRADES AND LABOUR.

POWER HOUSE DISPUTE SETTLED.

Mr. G. S. Beeby, ex-Minister for Labour and Industry, who was appointed a special commissioner to inquire into the dispute between the Federated Engine Drivers and Firemen's Association and the city electrical engineer, Mr. Forbes Mackay, yesterday afternoon issued the report of his findings on the two questions submitted to him.

On the first question—as to whether workmen classed as trimmers at the Ultimo power-house should be so classified under the Federal award of 1913—he found that these trimmers for the work they did should be classed as firemen's assistants, and, in accordance with the compromise offered by the union, should be paid [illegible] per shift. This is an advance of 1s per day on the rate that was being paid.

On the second question, relating to greasers, the award provided, he said, that "if greasers sometimes under the control of an engine driver stop or start engines, they are to receive 1s per day more than any other greasers provided for." The evidence being clear that these greasers did sometimes stop the engines, the commissioner awarded them the extra 1s per day.

Mr. Turner stated last night that he was satisfied with the findings, and said he felt confident in saying that the men would also be satisfied with them.

GOVERNMENT OF RACING IN VICTORIA.

SUBURBAN CLUBS' PROPOSAL.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Representatives of the Victoria Amateur Turf Club and the suburban racing clubs to-day conferred with the Victoria Racing Club committee with regard to the future standing of the stipendiary stewards, who for over 12 months have had complete charge of racing in Melbourne.

The representatives of the V.A.T.C. and some of the other clubs, suggested to the V.R.C. committee that in future three honorary stewards should act with the three stipendiary stewards on all race inquiries, the chairman of the stipendiary stewards to have the casting as well as his deliberative vote. The V.R.C. committee did not favour such a drastic change; but they were, it is understood, favourable to the members of the committee of any club being present at inquiries held on their particular courses by the stipendiary stewards, one member of such committee being allowed to deliberate, subsequently, with the stipendiary stewards on the verdict to be given, such a committeeman to have a vote. There were only six members of the V.R.C. committee present to-day, and they deemed it inadvisable to commit the whole committee to such an important alteration. They, therefore, agreed to merely recommend such proposal to the favourable consideration of the full meeting of the committee, which will be held at an early date.

VICTORIAN PARLIAMENT.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The Workers' Compensation Bill was passed through all stages in the Legislative Assembly to-day, and sent to the Council. The bill is identical with that already passed by the Council, except for the addition of a new clause, by which the State [illegible] insurance of all employees [illegible] of not more than £100 a year, [illegible] two weeks' grace for notice of [illegible] being given. This covers all [illegible] during the two weeks, if [illegible] time within that period and [illegible] according to the policy.

FINANCIAL.

THE INCOME TAX.

WHAT THE COURTS SAY.

PROTECTION FOR THE TAXPAYER.

"No tax can be imposed on the subject," says Lord Blackburn in a leading case, "without words in an Act of Parliament clearly showing an intention to lay a burden on him. But when an intention is sufficiently shown, it is, I think, vain to speculate on what would be the fairest and most equitable mode of levying that tax. The object of those framing a Taxing Act is to grant to her Majesty a revenue. No doubt they would prefer, if it were possible, to raise that revenue equally from all, and as that cannot be done to raise it from those on whom the tax falls with as little trouble and annoyance and as equally as can be contrived, and when any enactments for that purpose can bear two interpretations, it is reasonable to put that construction on them which will produce these effects. But the object is to grant a revenue at all events, even though a possible nearer approximation to equality may be sacrificed in order more easily and certainly to raise that revenue, and I think the only safe rule is to look at the words of the enactments and see what is the intention expressed by those words."

A society was formed for the improvement—spiritual, mental, social, and physical—of young men, and with this object in view it carried on a restaurant as well as educational classes, a gymnasium, and publication department. The restaurant was conducted on ordinary commercial principles, and was open to the public. In these circumstances it was held by the Court that the society carried on "a trade" for income tax purposes. Under the local Act it would be taxable only if carried on for the purpose of a profit. So again, what is a vocation or calling? We have already given illustrations from the position of a bookmaker. The father of the present Governor-General of the Commonwealth laid down the law in this particular case. "I do not think," he said, "that 'employment' means only where one man is set to work by others to earn money. A man may employ himself so as to earn profits in many ways. But the word 'vocation' is analogous to 'calling,' a word of wide signification, meaning the way in which a man passes his life. The appellants (in this case) attend races, make bets, and earn profits. I think the word 'vocation' is not limited to a lawful vocation, and that even the fact of a vocation being unlawful could not be set up against the demand for income tax." Again, the same authority in another case said, "If a man were to make a systematic business of receiving stolen goods, and to do nothing else, he would be assessable under the Income Tax Act."

In the Broken Hill Proprietary Company case, which went to the Privy Council, that body decided that in the case of a mine there were four processes in the earning or production of income.

1. The extraction of the ore from the soil.
2. The conversion of the crude ore into a merchantable product.
3. The sale of the merchantable product.
4. The receipt of the moneys arising from the sale.

All these processes were necessary stages which "terminate in money, and the income is the money resulting, less the expenses attendant on all the stages." The income earned by any of these processes carried on in New South Wales would be subject to income tax. This would not, however, now apply under the present law, as far as shareholders are concerned, where a company was registered outside the State. An interesting case dealing with the question of accretion to capital was heard in Queensland. In 1903 the flocks and herds of a grazier carrying on business in the northern State materially increased as the result of a good season, but the owner did not sell. They were still depastured on his lands. It was held by the Full Court that the increase was not income for the purpose of taxation.

At this juncture we may consider the case of Mooney. That gentleman was an Irishman, and he with an Italian and another went out into the interior of this State on a prospecting expedition. They eventually purchased for a song an old working which they fancied, and operated it for a few years, when, striking it "rich," they sold out for £10,000 each. Then the Income Tax Commissioners heard of their good fortune, and assessed them on the £10,000 each for income tax purposes. The Italian demurred but paid, so did he of nondescript nationality, but the Irishman was litigious, and besides did not believe in giving the Government anything on principle; so he resisted. The case went from Court to Court, eventually terminating in the Privy Council, which held that he was not taxable, and awarded him costs against the Commissioners. Lord Macnaghten said: "Their Lordships agree with the High Court that a change in the form of property by a person who does not traffic in that kind of property cannot be regarded as producing income taxable under the Income Tax Acts."

The Commissioners are said to have whispered after the case was over: "If there had only been two mines we should have got him." The point is that Mooney did not carry on the business of a dealer in mines. He was only fairly taxable on the product of the mine, the net income he derived from the gold taken out, less expenses incurred in the process. It has been held that lending money to a friend, even at interest on one occasion, is not carrying on the business of a money-lender, but if there were many impecunious friends, and consequently many transactions of this kind, the case might go differently. So Lord Justice Brett held, "The expression 'carrying on' implies a repetition of acts, and excludes the case of an association formed for doing one particular act, which is never to be repeated. That series of acts is to be a series of acts which constitute a business."

Then another point was decided in this case of Mooney's. Mooney's income, over and above the profits, from the sale of the mine, amounted to only £50, and so he was of the opinion that he could not be called upon to send in a return. When the Commissioners worried him on the subject he took not the slightest notice. The Commissioners had issued regulations under the Act, in which they claimed the right to make anybody send in the return if they so desired, but Mooney was of the opinion that these regulations were ultra vires, that they went further than the Act permitted. This was one of the points taken to the Privy Council, and it is illuminating to hear what Lord Macnaghten said on this subject. He found, "It certainly is convenient for the administration of the Income Tax Act—it must be desirable and, indeed, necessary, in order to carry out the objects and purposes of the Act—that all persons in receipt of income should be bound to make returns if so required. If everybody is to be a law unto himself, and to judge whether he is within 'the area of taxation,' it would no doubt result in there being a wide margin of debatable ground, and the powers of the Commissioners would be crippled, if not paralysed. . . It was not disputed that in the year 1903 the respondent (Mooney) was in receipt of income not exceeding £50. He was therefore, in their Lordships' opinion, bound to make a return in the prescribed form. Not having done so, he was in default, and the commissioners were, therefore, apparently within their rights in making a default assessment."

This very point has cropped up lately. It has been discovered that since the passing of the new Act—that is, the Act of 1912—the Commissioners have issued no regulations thereunder, but are still working under the regulations issued under the old Act of 1895. As the old Act has been repealed in the ordinary course of events, the regulations would have been gone with it. A perusal of one of the earliest sections of the new Act will, however, show that till new regulations are issued under the new Act the old regulations are kept alive. The judgment of the Privy Council, therefore, still holds good.

The Chalmers and converse cases call for special consideration.

THE INVESTMENT MARKET.

AUSTRALIAN GASLIGHT COMPANY.

The report of the above company for the half-year ended December 31 shows a net profit of £74,515, which with £7571 brought forward made £82,086 available for distribution. The directors propose a dividend of 10 per cent. on the "A" and "B" shares, and 7 per cent. on the "C" shares, absorbing £72,528, leaving a balance to be carried forward to next account of £3558. The directors regret that there is nothing of a definite nature to report with respect to the settlement of the company's claim in connection with the resumption of the head station. In consequence of the increased cost of production through the wages board award the directors have made application under the Gas Act, 1912, for raising the standard price of gas. The following comparison may be made:—

THE HETTON COAL COMPANY.

The fifty-seventh half-yearly meeting of shareholders of the Hetton Coal Company, Limited, was held at the Exchange, on Thursday, Mr. W. J. Green presiding. The net profit for the half-year being £8842, from which it was decided to pay a dividend at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, absorbing £4328, and writing off property, pit, and plant account the sum of £4900, carrying forward to next half-year £3579. Messrs. William Angus and E. G. Trouton were re-elected directors, and Messrs. W. H. Perry and J. P. Larcombe were re-elected auditors.

NEWCASTLE WALLSEND COAL COMPANY.

The half-yearly meeting of this company was held yesterday, Mr. H. S. Levy presiding. The report of the directors was adopted. Mr. J. R. Hall was re-elected director, and Messrs. J. Hunter Stevenson and C. T. Metcalfe were elected auditors.

SYDNEY AND SUBURBAN HYDRAULIC POWER.

The fiftieth half-yearly meeting of the above company was held yesterday. Mr. A. W. Meeks, M.L.C., occupied the chair. The report and balance-sheet for the half-year were adopted. The two directors, Mr. A. W. Meeks, M.L.C., and Mr. J. B. Nicholson, were re-elected. Messrs. H. Dunstan Vane and William Craig were re-elected auditors.

M'DOWELL AND HUGHES, LTD.

An abridged prospectus of a new issue on the above company appears elsewhere in our columns. The company is issuing 14,000 new ordinary shares of £1 each, on which a dividend of not less than 8 per cent. is guaranteed for three years. The whole of the 12,000 second or third preference shares have been converted into ordinary shares by the directors, who apparently held them. They now personally guarantee the minimum dividend abovementioned. During the 10 years prior to the formation of the company the net earnings averaged 11.4 per cent. on the average capital employed.

NEWCASTLE GAS AND COKE COMPANY

NEWCASTLE, Friday.

The 95th half-yearly meeting of the City of Newcastle Gas and Coke Company, Ltd., was held in the company's office yesterday, and was presided over by Mr. John R. Hall. The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, congratulated the shareholders upon the success of the result of the half-year's operations. The increase in the output of gas had been equal to 24 per cent. over the corresponding half of last year. He thought that he was safe in saying that that increase had not been exceeded by any other gas company in Australia. After the motion had been carried, Mr. John R. Hall was re-elected a director.

MAITLAND GAS.

WEST MAITLAND, Friday.

The half-yearly meeting of shareholders in the Maitland Gaslight Company, Ltd., was held this afternoon. The chairman of directors, Mr. E. P. Capper, presided. The credit to profit and loss for the half-year (balance brought forward of £203) was £1449. A dividend at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum was declared, leaving £228 to be carried forward. Messrs. Charles Webster and J. W. Birkenhead were re-elected directors.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Brookers Colours, Ltd., is being wound up. All the property, assets, etc., to be bought by the Co-operative Proprietary, Ltd. Mr. F. C. G. Barry has been appointed liquidator.

Grafton Co-operative Co., Ltd., is being wound up.

Tomakin Sawmills, Ltd., is being wound up. Mr. F. P. Shepherdson has been appointed liquidator.

Fairymead Sugar Co., Ltd., has been added to the official list of the Sydney Stock Exchange. The company has a nominal capital of £265,000 in 265,000 shares of £1 each, and a subscribed capital of 265,000 shares fully paid to £1.

The South Coast Road Metal Quarries, Ltd., made a net profit of £2142 for the half-year ended December 31. They have declared a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, absorbing £1300, and carried £1374 forward, against £531 brought into the account. The shareholders met yesterday. Mr. C. A. Coghlan presided. The report and balance-sheet were adopted, and Mr. C. A. Coghlan was re-elected a director.

Consequent upon the death of Mr. Thomas Davis, it has been arranged to amalgamate the businesses of Thomas Davis and Co. and E. P. M. Sheedy as public accountants, which will in future be carried on by E. P. M. Sheedy, F.S.A.A. (Eng.), F.C.P.A., J. W. Davis, A.C.P.A., F. H. Green, T. K. Smith, A.C.P.A., and W. Forsythe, A.C.P.A., under the style of Thomas Davis, Sheedy, and Co.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The Silverton Tramway Company has declared an interim dividend of 1/, and a bonus of 2/ per share, payable on March 2.

MORT'S DOCK.

The half-yearly report of Mort's Dock and Engineering Company, Limited, covers the six months ended December 31. The net profits amounted to £7109, which, with the amount brought forward, made £20,351 available for distribution. The board proposed a dividend at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, absorbing £9000, and to carry forward £11,351, against £12,815 brought into the account. The whole of the capital of the company, £300,000, has now been fully paid up. Mr. J. L. Davies was appointed to the board of directors on the death of Mr. Lesley Herring. The net profits over a series of years is shown in the following table:—

COMMERCIAL.

THE MARKETS.

The metal market was quiet yesterday, and business was dull for all heavy lines except wire-netting and galvanised iron. For both lines there was a free inquiry, and distributing lots went out in large numbers to the country. Of the former, delivery could not be given for a fortnight after the receipt of order, so full were the local manufacturers. Wires, black and galvanised, were easy. No. 8 black to arrive sold at £7/12/6 ex Elsasse, and No. 10 at £8/2/6. This wire will be available next week. Naturally, spot prices were somewhat lower, especially No. 10. Iron tanks were also weaker. 400 gallon sold at 70/ to 72/6, and 200 gallon at 27/6. Shelf lines and general ironmongery had fair business.

Sales of linseed oil were of fair proportion, especially distributing. The cable quotation for Blundell Spence's was prompt delivery 1/11½ f.o.b., and 2/ February-May shipment, each price being 1d down since January 21. A parcel of Champion's white-lead in cwts sold at £41/10/ per ton on spot. For distributing lots 42/6 per cwt was asked. The Banffshire had commenced unloading, but so far very little had been got out of her. Copra had sales of sun dried on spot at £25 f.o.b. export steamer. This was 5/ above the parity of the London price, and was paid for covering purposes, there being little offering.

Chemicals were slow. Sodas were without change. There was hardly so free a sale of the acids. Rosin was weak. Bluestone had better sales at the reduced price of £29 per ton lots and 31/ for cwts.

The tea market was firm, and full rates were obtained. Among the sales were 200 packages of Ceylons up to /10½, 120 packages of Indians up to /9½, and 250 packages of Chinas for export.

Advantage was taken of the market being bare of woolpacks to try and hoist it, and some very high prices were asked. Melbourne, however, was offered at the equivalent of 3/4, and this thenceforward kept the price within reason. Forward the position continued much lower, 2/9½ less discount for season's shipment. Branbags were steady. Ex Uganda a sale was made at 6/3 slings. For other lots 6/7 less discount was asked, or 6/5 net. Cheaper lots were on offer from Melbourne and Fremantle, but as they would not be available before the arrival of the Santhia it was not worth while purchasing them. Cornsacks were dull at unchanged rates.

TARIFF DECISIONS.

The following decisions in interpretation of the tariff are announced:—

Electrical Appliances.—Bases, trolly pole, item 178 (D); poles, trolly, for use in connection with electric tram cars, item 178(D). The decisions re trolly pole bases and trolly poles, in cir. F'13/44, cancelled. Ears, brass, for use on overhead wires of electric tramways, item 178(D); frogs, brass trailing, for use on overhead wires of electric tramways, item 178(D). (See also decision on frogs, trolly, malleable iron, in cir. F'13/3.

Foods, Invalids'.—Laibose (Fairchild Bros. and Foster), item 88(B).

Paints, Colours, etc.—Fillers, mercury filler (Lewis Berger, Ltd.), according to size, item 235(A), or 236(B).

Spars, textile, for billiard tables, item 108.

Springs for gramaphones, being similar to clock main springs, item 330.

Trimmer, eclipse No. 1, operated by means of a hand-wheel bearing a cog-wheel which engages in a rack, as a draw-stroke trimmer, item 168.

Wafers, for fastening tips to billiard cues, item 201(B).

Yarns.—Jute, hemp, and flax, single yarns, when in balls, cops, or reels, weighing not more than 2lb. (Vide decision in Guide, page 478.) Security is to be given for yarns delivered free under the above decision; item 402.

Bacteriological Products, etc.—L'Institut Pasteur de Tunis, dmegon (vaccin antigonococcique curatif), item 288.

LONDON MARKET CABLES.

SILVER.

LONDON, Jan. 28, 7.40 p.m.

Bar silver was quoted to-day at 26 9-16d per ounce standard, a fall of 1-16d since yesterday.

DAIRY PRODUCE.

LONDON, Jan. 30, 1.59 a.m.

Large supplies of butter, especially New Zealand butters, have caused a slight dulness among colonial brands, but a steady demand continues. Choicest Australian salted is selling at 110/ to 112/ per cwt., unsalted 112/ to 114, a few 116/. New Zealand salted 114/ to 115/, a few 116/, unsalted 116/ to 118/. Secondary Australian butters are selling well at 106/ to 108/. Danish is selling at 126/ to 128/ per cwt.

Cheese is quiet, owing to large arrivals. New Zealand white 64/ to 65/, coloured 66/ to 66/6 per cwt.

Bacon is dull. A few Queensland Cumberlands are selling at 62/ per cwt.

WHEAT.

Wheat was in quiet demand on Thursday, and sellers were disposed to make concession, as the River Plate, Canada, and Russia were offering more freely. Little inquiry was made for cargoes. 2700 tons by an Australian steamer from one of three ports, February-March shipment, sold at 35/6 per quarter of 496lb c.i.f. and e. Australian wheat on spot is nominally 36/6 per quarter of 496lb. Stocks of New Zealand wheat are exhausted.

Liverpool futures were quoted:—March 7/2½ (unchanged), May 7/2¾ (unchanged), July 7/2¼ (unchanged) per cental.

FREIGHTS.

The market for freights is easier. Fixtures include steamers for despatch from Sydney, Melbourne, and Geelong at 27/ per ton, and a sailer from a South Australian port in February or March, at about 28/9 per ton.

FLOUR.

Flour on spot has a fair business. Australian patents of January-February shipment are selling at 25/ to 25/3 per sack of 280lb c.i.f. and e.

OATS.

The market for oats is neglected. La Plata, February-March shipments, is selling at 14/4½ per quarter of 364lb.

BEANS AND PEAS.

Beans are in good supply, and with a fair demand realise 36/6 to 41/6 per quarter of 504lb on spot.

The market for peas is firm, and sales of new crop Maples of March-April shipment have been made at 44/ per quarter of 504lb c.i.f.

METALS.

Closing quotations on Thursday were:—

BREADSTUFFS.

A STEADY MARKET.

The wheat market yesterday was quiet. Shippers were paying the same rates as on the previous day for growers' lots, 3/1½ to 3/1½ at country stations, the equivalent prices ex trucks Sydney being 3/6½ to 3/6, occasionally 3/6½. Parcels were dull. For prompt delivery most buyers quoted 3/6½, but there was a shipper willing to give up to 3/6½. This was for loading January cargo, but the demand will be over to-day. For spread delivery February to April sellers wanted 3/7.

Bakers were buying flour quietly at £8 to £8/5/ per ton. Bran and pollard had heavy sales at £4/15/.

At Darling Harbour yesterday 3501 tons of wheat and 190 tons of flour were manifested to arrive.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

Unless otherwise specified, values are for distributing lots only.

PRODUCE.

DAIRY.

EGG MARKET STILL FIRM.

The condition of the egg market in Sussex-street yesterday morning was practically unchanged. With one exception, agents were obtaining 1/4 to 1/5. One house reported obtaining 1/6 for choice selected qualities. However, as this house was alone, the figure barely justifies quotation. The market for railways was decidedly firm. Quotations were at 1/2, with choice short-distance qualities at 1/3. Rivers' eggs were unchanged at 1/ to 1/1.

Other lines were selling well at late rates. The butter market was unchanged. There was a possibility of a rise on Thursday, but this did not come off. A cable from London placed the price of second-quality at 111/.

Current quotations were:—

FORAGE AND GRAIN.

A DULL MARKET.

All branches of trade in Sussex-street yesterday morning were practically at a standstill, owing to it being the last day in the month. Very few agents or merchants were to be seen, and there was a general air of desertion about the "street."

The market for onions was steady at late rates. Supplies of Brown Spanish varieties are, of course, none too plentiful; and consequently there is fairly good demand for Globes at £8.

Other lines were dull and unchanged.

At the firewood auction sales, 36 trucks of wood were offered. Prices were a shade lower all round. Friday and Saturday are usually dull days in firewood.

Current quotations were:—

FORAGE.

Chaff.—Victorian: Wheaten, £4/15/; oaten, £4/5/. Tasmanian: Oaten, £4 to £4/5/ a ton.

RAILWAY MARKET.

WHEATEN CHAFF FIRM.

Yesterday's yarding included a very strong selection of wheaten chaff. This produce was unusually plentiful, and sold most satisfactorily—5/6 per cwt. was obtained, an advance of 1d on Thursday's rates. Oaten chaff was in better favour also, and was firm up to 4/8.

Lucerne chaff and hay remained undistinguished as to their rates per cwt. Chaff returned 5/6, and hay 5/2.

Produce placed in position for sale totalled 112 truckloads, and consisted of:—Hay 12, chaff 78, wheat 9, maize 6, oats 3, barley 1, potatoes 2.

The following consignments were manifested to arrive:—Chaff 67, hay 14, maize 10, wheat 5, potatoes 3, rye 1, barley 1.

Sales effected were:—

LONDON EXTREMELY BUOYANT.

BANK RATE DOWN—CONSOLS UP.

AUSTRALIAN EXCHANGES ACTIVE AND FIRM.

The buoyant condition of the Sydney Stock Exchange since the New Year holidays has been a complete surprise to most operators. The buoyancy was even more pronounced yesterday morning, and is such a complete reversal of the state of affairs that ruled during the last three months of 1913 that a leading operator remarked: "All of us were at sea when we assumed that the New Year would open with the market in an aggravated state of stagnation."

The cable information to hand yesterday morning was to the effect that the London Stock Exchange was extremely active at boom prices. Business, it was stated, was so brisk that values rose by leaps and bounds. The English bank rate had dropped from 4 per cent. to 3 per cent., and British Consols had jumped from £74 to £76. A fortnight ago they stood at £71¾. The bank rate in Paris had fallen from 3½ per cent to 3 per cent., with the Continental bourses showing great activity in speculation.

A leading member of the Sydney Stock Exchange remarked: "I am not in the least surprised at this recovery of the London money market from the recent financial stringency. It is not generally known locally that between January 1 and 5 the amount of money distributed to the British public in the shape of dividends on Government stocks aggregated over £20,000,000. The payment of this immense amount of money into the bank accounts of the people drawing the dividends must naturally have lessened the financial stringency, and accounts in a large measure for the speculative activity on the London Stock Exchange. It is not a matter for surprise that with money so plentiful Australian loans have been subscribed for in some cases fourfold, and that in several instances the price of Australian stocks has advanced as much as 20/ to 40/."

The officially cabled "middle" quotations to hand yesterday of the London Stock Exchange operations on Thursday fully bore out private cabled advices regarding the activity ruling and the continued advance in values. The local market could not otherwise than respond to this state of affairs, so that the vestibule of the Exchange has not presented such a busy scene since the days of the Budgery, Bullfinch, and Ardlethan booms.

How long it will last goodness only knows. It is the general opinion that the movement has nothing whatever to do with the prospects of the mines, whether they be silver, lead, zinc, copper, gold, or tin, though many operators express the opinion that prices had come down very low during the recent depression, hence they consider there is room for a recovery in values. Not so long ago, however, they said that the prices of both shares and metals were too high, and must fall.

A glance at the list of "Stock Exchange sales" will show that the chief business of the market was concentrated in Barriers, and that in the large number of sales recorded values were on the up grade all along the line. Copper stocks were rather quiet, with firm sales in Hampdens and Mount Morgans. The record in the case of gold propositions was not a good one, both as regards the amount of business done and the prices realised.

On the other hand, the Ardlethan group of tin shares showed a solid market all round.

Even the most rabid "bull" could hardly expect the market to keep up the pace set in the morning. The sky-rocketing of values was too tempting to the "bears," so they commenced to sell "short," especially on terms—at least this was the belief of many onlookers. The effect was that the upward trend of values ceased, in Barriers particularly, followed by a slight easing of prices towards the close of the day. With the exception of a few transactions booked in copper, gold, and tin stocks, Barriers were most in evidence.

MINING IN THE STATE.

BOWRAVILLE, Friday.

A stir in mining is setting in again on Yarrahappini Mountain and the surrounding country. For some time a man named Johnston, prospecting in the vicinity of an old shaft for molybdenite, has succeeded striking it in promising quantities of slate. Sydney mining firms have been communicated with, and experts visited the place, with the result that a large area of country is being marked, as outcrops of molybdenite are seen for miles. As the market for the metal is exceptionally good, speculators are on the look out to secure claims. A shaft which was sunk some years ago has been cleaned out, and a syndicate formed to proceed with development work. Promises of substantial monetary assistance have been given by Sydney speculators.

QUEENSLAND TIN MINING.

BRISBANE, Friday.

Whilst speaking at a local function at Croydon last night, Mr. John Donohue, of the Croydon State tin mine, which has just put through a most successful crushing, said he had been manager of the Stannary Hills Company for nine and a half years, also manager and part-owner of the Lass o' Gowrie mine at Stannary Hills for six years, and had visited and reported on behalf of an English company on the tin mines of the Malay Federated States. In his opinion, the Croydon tin lodes were the most promising he had ever seen. There were more lodes and outcrops there than in any other part of Australia.

BARRIER MINES.

BROKEN HILL, Friday.

At the B.H. North mine, during the past fortnight, section 10 winze from the 1250ft level was deepened to 47ft, in 15½ per cent. ore. Section 13 winze was sunk to 115ft, in 15 per cent. ore. Diamond drilling at the 1400ft level, 200ft south of the main crosscut, proved the lode at that point 100ft wide, the ore averaging 16 per cent. lead, 10oz. silver, and 10 per cent. zinc.

A STREET THIEF.

At a quarter-to-five on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. M. J. Southam, of Waimate, Todman-avenue, Kensington, was walking along that avenue, near Dowling-street, accompanied by her three daughters.

A man of about 25 years, dressed in a brownish speckled tweed suit and a panama hat, came up behind them and grabbed Mrs. Southam's handbag.

Mrs. Southam retained the bag, however, and the thief struggled to get possession of it. So rough was he that Mrs. Southam was thrown to the ground.

Miss Bertha Southam says she could identify the thief.

ON THE MARKET.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—You will hardly have forgotten the tidal wave of virtuous indignation that swept over your columns when it became known that I had declared myself to be "on the market," and counselled our people to sell their votes "to the highest bidder." It would seem that nothing more iniquitous had been heard of in N.S.W. since Parliamentary Government began.

Time brings some strange but sweet revenges. And it is only poetic justice that your own columns should give testimony to the fact that I am not alone in my wickedness. May I quote the cable?

London, Tuesday Evening.—A special conference on the Labour party's electoral and parliamentary policy has been opened in Glasgow. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, M.P., leader of the Labour party, defended the party's support of the Government, on the ground that they saw no reason to turn out 'Tweedledum' for 'Tweedledee.' The speaker vehemently denied that any secret bargains were made. It was the Labour party's duty to support the party making the best offer. The conference by a large majority approved of the policy.

Now, I have all along contended that no sane people ever do give their votes except "to the highest bidder." And, although you will probably hold that the Labourites are not sane people, either at home or abroad, the fact remains that they do exactly what I wanted our people to do, and you will find that nobody will criticise their action.

I am, etc., M. J. O'REILLY.

Bathurst, Jan. 29.

[It is for us, and for people of our way of thinking, a question of decency. We do not in any circumstances sell our vote or offer it to any man or body of men of whose character and opinions we are doubtful. It is a trust between us and the representative whom we believe to be sincerely intent on the best government of the State. It does not in the least degree matter to us what Mr. Ramsay MacDonald may say. It is right to support the man you believe in. It is wrong to support the man you don't believe in, whether he will job in your favour or no.]

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Horseracing at Rosehill and pony and galloway racing at Victoria Park bid for the support of metropolitan sporting folk this afternoon, while the Cessnock Jockey Club caters for northern district racegoers. Victorian sportsmen assemble at Sandown Park; the Western Australian Turf Club brings its summer meeting to a close at Perth, and the Queensland Turf Club holds its January meeting at Eagle Farm.

Entries will be received up to 4 p.m. on Monday next, February 2, by the secretary, Mr. J. Denmeade, for five events on the card for the Wollongong Turf Club's meeting on the 10th proximo, and for which 145 sovs prize-money has been provided. Included in the programme is a race for two-year-olds over four and a half furlongs.

Patrons of pony and galloway racing are this afternoon catered for at Victoria Park, where due provision has been made for the requirements of a large gathering. The track is first-class going, large fields are assured, and interesting sport may be anticipated. The usual transit service will be in vogue, special trams from Circular Quay and the railway loop landing visitors at the racecourse gates, while the ordinary traffic to Zetland will also be available. The first race is timed to start at 2 p.m., and the results of the racing may be anticipated as under:—Zetland Purse, Caedmon, Simola, Noble Guard; Fourteen Hands Handicap, Aspindel, Queenie Soult, Glen Belle; Maiden Handicap, Rose Colour, Strixia, Rose Tuck; Fourteen-one Handicap, Haurient, Wee Loch, Morven Lass; Fourteen-two Maiden Handicap, Lady Poseidon, Red Seal, Toybe; Zetland Plate, Patrovader, Trustworthy, Yucca; Encourage Stakes, St. Moritz, Malt Glory, Lord Playful.

The February meeting of the Moorefield Racing Club takes place on the 14th proximo, and the programme drafted for the fixture demands the attention of owners and trainers on Monday next, for at 4 p.m. nominations close with the secretary, Mr. J. Lamrock. The stake-money totals 700 sovs, of which 125 sovs go to the Flying Handicap, Juvenile Handicap, February Handicap, and Welter Handicap, and each of the other races carries [illegible] sovs.

[illegible]gowra Jockey Club (February 25) and [illegible] Park Racing Club (February 24) race meetings have been granted registration by the A.J.C.

The candidates for civic honours at the municipal elections to-day, include Mr. J. S. Brunton, a prominent racehorse owner, whose popular colours have been carried to the front by Maltine and other good performers.

The dispersal sale of the Belltrees Stud matrons takes place on Tuesday next, when Messrs. H. Chisholm and Co., in conjunction with Mr. Norman Ebsworth, will sell by public auction, at Scone, the 53 high-class thoroughbred mares comprised in that famous breeding establishment. A number of the matrons have foals at foot, and are stinted to such well-known sires as Cakewalk, Grist, Wallworth (imp.), Larino (imp.), Merv (imp.), and Ruenalf.

Our Goulburn correspondent wires that the racehorse purchased at the local races on Thursday by Mr. Thomas Haylen for £55 was Valjean, instead of Wombah, as reported.

Our local correspondent telegraphs that the South Broken Hill Jockey Club has adopted a programme endowed with £350 prize money for the Easter Monday meeting.

ROSEHILL RACING CLUB.

JANUARY MEETING.

The first race meeting for the current year under the management of the Rosehill Racing Club takes place this afternoon, and the bill of fare drafted for the occasion promises to bring about highly interesting sport. The track is reported to be excellent going, and large fields seem assured. The transit service by rail includes special trains starting from the Central Railway Station at 11.[illegible] (horses and attendants), 11.53, 12.7, 12.22, 12.40, 12.51, 12.56, 1.8, 1.21 and 1.27 p.m., the 12.53, 12.51, and 1.8 p.m. stopping en route at Strathfield to pick up passengers.

The sport commences at 2.10 p.m. with the January Stakes, in which the brunt of the battle should fall to Malthusian, Oweenee, Miocene, and Herringbone, and the judge may declare for Oweenee, Malthusian, and Miocene.

Valior, Virgillia, Comedietta, and Gracelle should have most to say in the settlement of the contest for the Granville Stakes, and the numbers may be hoisted for Virgillia, Comedietta, and Gracelle.

A large field is promised for the Juvenile Stakes, and the most likely to fight out the finish are Makea, Lord Linnet, Prince Palatine, Barboune, and Tondoro, while Barboune, Tondoro, and Prince Palatine may pass the post in order.

An interesting race is promised for the Flying Welter, in which the chances of Malthusian, Noogila, Coronata, Guncar, and Hobble Skirt seem the brightest, and the honours may be divided by Hobble Skirt, Coronata, and Guncar.

Rue Victoria, Firm, Britain, and Tartanus read as well as anything in the Rosehill Handicap, and the places may be filled by Britain, Tartanus, and Firm.

The sport winds up with the Carlingford Mile, in which Malthusian, Border King, Iolite, and Blueberry should have most to say at the finish, and the situations may be occupied by Border King, Blueberry, and Iolite.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES.

The following club fixtures have been arranged for to-day:—

Bonnie Doon Club: Monthly medal.
Cammeray Club: Continuous competition.
Concord Club: Eclectic stroke, 18 holes, two-thirds usual handicaps.
Drummoyne Club: Continuous stroke.
Killara Club: Silver putter.
Manly Club: Silver medals, A and B grades.

KILLARA CLUB.

The Killara Club's annual report for last year has been issued. It shows that the roll comprises 225 playing, 19 junior, 13 county, 39 ground, and 63 associate members. There were 26 new playing members elected during the year. In the interclub matches the "A" and "B" teams were not successful. The opening meeting held on May 17 attracted a large entry. The amateur competition was won by G. Rinnie, with a score of 84—10=74, and the open professional event was won by D. G. Soutar, with a score of 143+6=149. During the year the president, Mr. H. Y. Braddon, was compelled to resign on account of pressure of business, and the position had been filled by Mr. C. E. Graham.

The principal events of the year were won by the following players:—Club champion and Killara Cross (for the third time), R. Colquhoun; Springdale Cup, G. P. Dwyer; Hoylake Cup (presented by Mr. W. S. Cook), P. C. Andrew; president's trophy, G. Hird; captain's trophy, Mr. T. Hosmer; knock-out tournament (singles), L. Upward; knock-out tournament (doubles), Purdom and Cox.

A competition open to winners of "A" and "B" grades of the silver putter competition from December, 1912, to November, 1913, for a trophy presented by Mr. G. P. Dwyer, was won by T. W. V. Read. The committee found that it was unable to keep the greens on the old course and those on the new in order at the same time, and it was accordingly decided to play on as many of the new greens as possible, and thus keep within the club's means. When the alterations approved of have been completed the committee is of opinion that the course will give general satisfaction.

CRICKET.

EIGHTH ROUND WILL CONCLUDE TO-DAY.

The eighth round of grade matches, which was commenced on the 17th instant and suspended on the 24th owing to the interstate match between New South Wales and Victoria, will conclude to-day. Low scoring was a feature of the first day's play, and several interesting finishes should result. The positions of the teams are as follow:—Balmain, 242, against University, none for 25; Gordon, 231, against North Sydney, four for 17; Glebe, 141, against Redfern, seven for 109; Waverley, 271, against Sydney, one for 10; Petersham, 192, against Western Suburbs, four for 138; Middle Harbour, 127 and three for none against Central Cumberland, 115. MOTOR CYCLING.

FIXTURES.

Canberra Club: Week-end club run, starting from the Glaciarium at 9.30 a.m.

CANBOORA CLUB.

A special general meeting of members of the Canboora club will be held at the club rooms on Tuesday evening, at 8.15. The following have recently been elected members:—Messrs. Henry A. Voss, H. Hogg, F. Miller, F. Astle, A. Benson, A. Jefferies, H. Saunders, A. Mitchell, H. Bagiest, A. Hewell.

The club hon. secretary, Mr. A. Levi, writes that several club members who journeyed to Newcastle to compete in the Great Northern Motor Cycle Club's reliability trial, complained at the manner in which certain detail arrangements of the trial were carried out. Some of the riders were sent out over an unknown course by themselves, instead of being paired off with local competitors. A misunderstanding with the control officials at Stroud also led to several Canberra clubmen running on to Gloucester instead of Dungog. This was about 28 miles out of their course.

SYDNEY CLUB.

Forty-seven members of the Sydney and Kookaburra Motor Cycle Clubs have completed a successful holiday tour in the mountains and district beyond. The result of a competition which was held at Yetholme was:—

J. E. Meller (5-h.p. Iris.) 1
P. Audsley (3½ h.p. Prem.) 2

Members will leave Barry's at 8.30.

A meeting will be held at the club rooms on Monday evening at 8.

ARROW CLUB.

W. G. Hammond, after an absence of six months, has rejoined the Arrow Club, and will figure from back marks in both road and track events during the season. It is stated that "W. G." has lost none of his old-time form.

CARNIVAL IN MARCH.

Arrangements are well advanced for an athletic and cycling carnival, to be held at the Sports' Ground on March 3, the net proceeds of which will be devoted towards erecting the roof on St. Patrick's Church, Church Hill. The programme will include a one mile cycling handicap (first prize £10, second £2, third £1), under the direction of the League of Wheelmen; and a 75yds all-comers' foot-race (first prize £6, second £2 10s, third £1 10s, fourth £1). Entries (2s 6d) for both events entries will close on February 23 with the secretaries of the respective leagues.

NORTHERN SUBURBS LEAGUE CLUB.

The Northern Suburbs District League Club will hold a half-mile handicap and three miles scratch race at the Sydney Sports' Ground, in connection with the Ladies' Athletic Carnival, on February 10.

The annual general meeting of the club will be held at the Union Hotel, North Sydney, on Monday evening at 8. Fifty-nine races were held during the season. The receipts for the year amounted to £565 16s 6d, and the expenditure to £565 9s 1d, leaving a credit balance of 7s 5d. The amount distributed in prizes was £301 0s 9d, which includes £33 5s for trophies.

Mr. H. M. Mackay, the club hon. secretary, will not seek re-election for office for the coming season.

AUSTRALASIAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Australasian Lawn Tennis Association was held last night, the president, Mr. P. B. Colquhoun, M.L.A., being in the chair.

A resolution was moved on behalf of Western Australia that the profits derived from the last Davis Cup match in America, amounting to £600, be divided equally between each of the States and New Zealand. An amendment, proposed by New South Wales, was, however, carried, which provided that the matter of distribution be deferred until the financial statement of the next Davis Cup matches was received. The proposed alterations of Davis Cup rules, submitted for consideration by the Lawn Tennis Association (England) were before the meeting; but consideration of them was postponed for a fortnight.

The Tasmanian Association wrote to notify that Mr. H. S. Utz had been appointed a delegate in the place of Mr. R. G. Priddle, resigned.

ATHLETICS.

COMBINED CLUB MEETING.

The Sydney Sports Ground will be available this afternoon, when the majority of amateur athletic clubs will decide a programme of events for their members.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP AND AMERICAN CARNIVAL.

Nominations will be received at the New South Wales Sports Club, Hunter-street, to-day for all events in connection with the annual State championship meeting, which will be decided at the Sydney Sports Ground on Saturdays, February 14 and 21. The All-American team of athletes will take part in the carnival. In addition to the usual 16 championships, four handicaps, open to members of the N.S.W. A.A.A. has been included in the programme, 75yds and ½-mile the first day, and 120yds and 1000yds on the second day. Entries will also be received for the meeting, which will be held on the same ground under electric light on Tuesday, February 17, for which the following events are to be contested. Throwing the javelin, throwing the discus, putting 12lb shot, running high jump, 75yds hurdles, 600yds and 75yds, all the foregoing are handicaps. An 880yds interclub relay race for three men, one to run 440yds and two each to run 220yds, has been included on the list; also the South Sydney, East Sydney, Redfern, and Sydney Amateur Walkers' clubs will contest one club handicap each.

Taking into consideration the splendid form displayed by the American athletes at the recent Australasian championships, it may reasonably be expected that some of our existing records will be beaten, especially in the field games, which events E. R. Caugney and R. Templeton will be seen in action. G. L. Parker, who won the 100yds, 220yds, and 440yds Australasian championships, will attempt to lower the 100yds record, which is 10s, and, with favourable conditions prevailing, he should go very close to achieving his object. Probably, the one-mile record may be lowered by J. A. Power, who won the mile championship at the Australasian championships in 4m 25 4-5s. The present record is 4m 23s, and stands to the credit of G. Wheatley.

AMERICAN ATHLETES.

IN MELBOURNE.

The American athletes will participate in the first day of a two-days' meeting at the Melbourne Cricket Ground this afternoon. Additional interest is being taken in this meeting, as several New South Wales athletes intend competing. G. L. Parker (America), J. Burton (Victoria), and J. S. Bradley (New South Wales), will meet in 50yds, 75yds, and 110yds special scratch races, and J. W. Fraser (New South Wales), and R. Templeton (America), will be seen in action in 120yds hurdles event. It is also likely that J. A. Power (America), and A. F. Thorpe (New South Wales) will meet in a special mile scratch race.

SPORTS GROUND FIXTURES.

The following fixtures will be held at the Sports Ground next month:—

February 2, Monday night, Daunt's athletic handicaps; 4, Wednesday night, electric light sports; 7, Saturday afternoon, athletics and cycling; 10, Tuesday night, ladies' athletic sports; 11, Wednesday night, electric light sports; 14, Saturday afternoon, American athletes; 16, Monday night, Daunt's athletic handicaps; 17, Tuesday night, American athletes; 18, Wednesday night, electric light sports; 21, Saturday afternoon, American athletes; 23, Monday night, Olympic fund cycling carnival; 25, Wednesday night, electric light sports; 28, Saturday afternoon, athletics and cycling.

BILLIARDS.

FRED. WEISS DEFEATS A. HARDY.

On Thursday evening, at the Gresham Hotel, Fred. Weiss, the ex-champion billiardist of Australia, defeated A. Hardy, in a game of 750 up, by 68 points. Hardy was in receipt of 500 points. Weiss's best breaks were 162, made principally by top of the table play, and which included 46 consecutive cannons, 115, 93, 92, 63, 38, 36, 35, and 22 (unfinished).

SAILING.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES.

Royal Prince Alfred Yacht Club: Basin Cup.
Mosman Amateur Club: General handicap.
Sydney Amateur Club: A and B classes.
Port Jackson Skiff Club: Handicap.
Sydney Flying Squadron: Handicap.

NORTHCOTE CUP.

ARRIVAL OF VICTORIAN CRAFT.

The two Victorian 6-metre yachts, The Rip and Killara, which will endeavour to lift the Northcote Cup for the southern State, arrived by the Canberra yesterday morning. They were towed to their moorings in Careening Cove, off the club-house of the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron. The Rip, which is painted black, is the larger boat of the two, and appears larger, although when measurements are taken into consideration they both rate as 6-metre yachts. The Killara, which is painted white, is jocularly referred to by the Melbourne sailing men as "The White Hope."

The boats are both being rigged, and will be in commission with as little delay as possible.

Messrs. L. R. Benjamin, W. S. Dagg, and G. L. Beauchamp accompanied The Rip, and Messrs. V. Parker, J. E. Chalmers, and A. Byrne The Killara, and were met on arrival by the secretary of the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron and Messrs. F. Albert and E. E. Sayer, owners of the defending yacht Rawhiti II., with Mr. C. Du Val, of the Royal Prince Alfred Yacht Club, were present on board the steamer to give the Victorian representatives a welcome to Sydney. A couple of trial spins have been arranged to take place early in the week between Rawhiti II. and Mr. R. Bromley's Birrong.

SYDNEY FLYING SQUADRON.

For the above club's 18ft handicap race, to be decided in the usual two heats and final, this afternoon, the following handicaps have been allotted:—First heat: Blanche (W. Winspear), 4¼m; Enid (J. M. Firth), 3¼m; Livonia (J. Robinson), 2¼m; Swastika (C. Stewart), 2¼m; Acme (P. Harry), 1½m; H. C. Press (G. Press), 1¼m; Admiral II. (F. T. Newton), 1¼m; Gelding (R. Seashell), 1½m; Arline (W. Edney), 1m; Nimrod (W. J. Duncan), 1m; Kismet (W. Dunn), scratch. Second heat: Eagle (R. Futton), 4¼m; Sunny South (J. Allen), 4¼m; Lilian (G. Degan), 3¼m; Mona (O. Hahn), 3¼m; Quibree (O. Taylor), 3¼m; Desdemona (A. C. Roberts), 3m; Pastime (S. Richardson), 3m; Eunice (B. B. Lloyd), 2¼m; Scot (J. Smith), 2¼m; Advance (H. E. Thompson), 2m; Mavis (F. W. Moppett), ½m. After calling at the usual Balmain wharves, the steamers Kulgoa and Koree will leave Fort Macquarie at 3.15 sharp to follow the contest.

SYDNEY AMATEUR SAILING CLUB.

The following are the handicaps for the A class boats of the Sydney Amateur Sailing Club, the first boat of which will start at 3.15 p.m. to-day, being for light to moderate and heavy weather:—Triton (W. E. M. Taylor), scr, scr; Mimosa (Captain Christiansen), 1m, 2m; Gilleena (R. Moore), 2m, 2m; Dawn (O. Backhouse), 3m, 2m; Vagabond (E. C. Gale), 5m, 6m; Mischief (S. Spain), 6m, 6m; Scot Free (J. Walters), 8m, 8m.

B class handicaps are:—Ubique (G. P. Meredith), scr, scr; Snowdrop (R. L. Bacon), scr, scr; Merry Widow (A. G. H. King), 5m, 6m; Margarita (L. Witton), 8m, 8m; Doreen (E. G. Stinson), 8m, 10m; Sonia (A. Speer), 8m, 10m.

SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS.

TO-DAY'S CONTESTS.

FINE PERFORMANCES ANTICIPATED.

The Australian Swimming Championship Carnival will be held at the Domain Baths this afternoon. Representatives of all the States will figure in the events, the opposition being strongest from Western Australia, Queensland, and Victoria. Four races have already been decided in Brisbane, and the interest in this afternoon's events has been increased by the fine showing of Finlay, Springfield, and Finney against Longworth, Healy, and Barry of this State.

The star items in this afternoon's programme are the 220yds free style and 100yds breast stroke championship of Australia. In the former, Longworth (the holder) will have strong opposition in Cecil Healy, who only lost the State championship by a foot. Both men consider the furlong their favourite distance, and have prepared themselves for a strenuous contest. The Victorians, I. Stedman and T. W. Mason, are expected to swim exceedingly well, the former being the most promising swimmer produced by the southern State in recent years. Mason is well known here as a competitor in many previous contests. Owing to his sensational defeat of Cecil Healy in last Saturday's hundred for third place, Finlay, the Western Australian is also expected to put up a close race. Although better known as a breast stroke swimmer, he has lately developed the "crawl" to such effect that he accounted for Healy over the sprint distance. The 220yds race therefore should provide a very fine contest, and, with all the men at their top, it is not too much to expect new figures to be put up.

The breast stroke event should result in a keen struggle between the holder of the title, W. Finney (Victoria), and E. G. Finlay (Western Australia). The latter won the 220yds event in Brisbane by inches only from Finney, both men completing the distance in better time than record.

As Barry and Solomon will not take part in any of the regular events, arrangements have been made for these two champions to try to better the 75yds record. It should be a magnificent struggle.

The diving displays promise to excel any previous effort given by Mr. L. McCarthy and his troupe, as special rehearsals have been held. The hand-balancing dive from the 50ft tower will again be carried out by Fraser, and the members of the team will perform many flights with several dives leaving the high tower simultaneously. A new clown has been procured to assist C. Northcote in the role of mirth-producer.

A special list of novelty events has been made, two new items being scheduled in the "Natatorial Derby," and "Who's looking for trouble?" Handicaps and junior events make up a very diversified and entertaining programme, which will commence at 3 p.m. The doors will be opened at 2.

ABBOTSFORD AMATEUR CLUB.

Carolan, 20s; Walter Marshall, Arthur Marshall, 25s.

AMATEUR SWIMMING UNION.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

The annual conference of the Amateur Swimming Union of Australia was held yesterday at the Sports Club. The president (Mr. James Taylor) occupied the chair, and the delegates present were:—W. W. Hill, hon. secretary (New South Wales); H. Snape (Victoria); F. E. Duncalfe (Queensland); E. C. Johnson (South Australia); E. G. Finlay (Western Australia); and F. Molloy (Tasmania).

The first question was that of the status of F. Beaurepaire. The Victorian Association had ruled that he was an amateur, and the executive of the union had ruled otherwise. It was decided to submit the case to the International Swimming Federation meeting, to be held in Buda Pesth during May. In the meantime, Beaurepaire cannot take part in amateur swimming events.

It was decided to hold the next conference in Western Australia during the 1914-15 season.

The New South Wales A.S. Association introduced the question of the suitability of baths in other States. The delegates agreed to approach the municipal authorities with a request to provide proper facilities and accommodation for swimmers.

The case of C. Mills (Tasmania), who had been disqualified by the Football Union, and who desired to take part in the swimming championships next Saturday, was considered. The conference decided that he could not swim until disqualification had been removed by the Football Association.

The questions to be submitted to the International Federation next May, when the Olympic games programme for the swimming will be drafted, were discussed. It was agreed to hold this matter over until Monday next at 1 p.m., when it is proposed that all the interstate swimmers and local champions should meet and make suggestions to the executive in regard to the distances and the conditions of the swimming events at the Olympic Games.

The report with regard to the failure to secure Duke Kahanamoku for a visit this year to Australia was received, and it was decided to invite him next year, the secretary to submit a definite scheme as to the expenses and the itinerary in the different States.

It was also decided to invite the Amateur Swimming Association of England to send Hatfield, the distance champion, to compete in the Australian championships next year. It was pointed out by the conference that the visits of Australian swimmers to England had never yet been returned.

An application by the New Zealand Amateur Swimming Association to enter into the championship agreement was considered. It was decided not to accede to the request, on account of the geographical position, and the difficulty in securing representatives who could afford the time to go to New Zealand, such as swimmers from Western Australia and other States.

Messrs. Taylor and Hill were re-elected president and hon. secretary respectively.

It was agreed that, on important matters, the president should have the right to consult with Messrs. D. S. Carter (Brisbane) and H. Snape (Victoria).

SENIOR CADETS.

SPORTS UNION FORMED.

At a meeting of brigade majors, area officers, and senior cadet officers, held last night, with the State Commandant (Colonel Wallach) in the chair, it was decided to form a senior cadets' sports association for the holding of an annual championship meeting.

The various events that will comprise the programme will be open to all senior cadets of New South Wales.

The following were elected officers of the association:—President, Major P. L. Murray, A.M. staff; members of the executive committee, Captains C. M. M'Naughten and B. I. Swannell and Lieut. A. D. Fisher; hon. secretary, Captain H. D. L. Woods.

THE GUN.

BATHURST, Friday.

A sweepstake under the auspices of the Bathurst Gun Club resulted:—

No. 1 sweep: Divided between J. Lupp (26yds) and "Cosmos" (25yds), 2 kills. No. 2 sweep: Divided between A. Cutler (27) and Raglan (26), 3 kills. No. 3: Won by A. Cutler (27), 5 kills. No. 4: Divided between J. Lupp (26) and A. Cutler (27), 5 kills. No. 5: Divided between J. Lupp (26) and A. Cutler (27), 5 kills. No. 6: Divided between J. Lupp (26) and J. Bullock (23), 2 kills. No. 7: Divided between J. Lupp (26) and A. Cutler (27), 2 kills.

BOXING.

SUMMERS v EVERNDEN.

An important welterweight contest is to be held at Baker's Stadium to-night, between Arthur Evernden and Johnny Summers. Summers, who is still titular champion of England, and holder of the Lonsdale belt, was also champion of the Empire until recently beaten on points by M'Cormick. Since that match reports from his quarters at Parramatta indicate that he has made a recovery in form, and particularly in speed. During this week Evernden, who previously trained at the Stadium, has been quartered at Brighton-le-Sands with Eddie M'Goorty and Matt Wells, with whom he has had valuable practice. When the pair last met Summers won on points.

At 8 o'clock there will be a 10-round preliminary, in which Dan Tierney will be pitted against Billy Hannan, who claims the lightweight championship of New Zealand.

THE BAKER CIRCUIT.

The Stadium management is promoting a skipping competition, to be held at the Thursday matinees. A shadow-boxing competition is also proposed. For skipping, the greatest number of skips in one minute and the style of the competitor are taken into account. The shadow-boxing is to be judged by three competent judges. Entries will be received at the Stadium.

Nat Williams leaves for Melbourne on Sunday night, accompanied by Duke Mullins and Al Lippe. He will work in Melbourne with Hughie Mehegan for his contest with Herb M'Coy.

D'ARCY DEFEATS HANLEY.

At the Olympic Athletic Club, Newtown, last night, Les. D'Arcy, of Maitland, defeated Young Hanley, of Newtown, in five rounds, the towel coming from Hanley's corner to save a knock-out.

As was to have been expected from the records of the men, Hanley never had a chance with the Maitland boxer; and the match was a bad one from the start. D'Arcy used both hands to some purpose, and boxed with confidence, but had to be cautioned in the second round for palming. In the fifth round D'Arcy outclassed his opponent, and sent him down for eight seconds before the towel came in.

The weights, as announced, were, D'Arcy, 10st 11½lb; Young Hanley, 10st 7½lb. Mr. W. Weekes was referee.

Harry Ireland, 8st 13lb, and George Prentice, 9st, boxed the preliminary, Prentice sending Ireland to the boards for the full count in the ninth round.

OLYMPIA TOURNAMENT.

To-night the finals of the Olympia Club's £600 tournament, which has been proceeding for some weeks past, will be entered upon. The draw for this evening is as follows:—

11st 4lb Division.—George Brewer (Windsor) v Jim Maloney (Redfern).

10st Division.—Fred Kay (Miller's Point) v Arthur Tierney (Newtown).

9st Division.—Theo. Burns (Surry Hills) v Jimmy O'Brien (Redfern).

A special six-round contest will be put on between Jack Humphries (Alexandria) and Jimmy Dell (Redfern).

AMERICAN ITEMS.

FONDDULAC (Wisconsin), Jan. 30.

Ad. Wolgast knocked out "Rudie" Unholz, the Boer lightweight, in the second round last night.

WILLIAMSPORT (Penn.), Jan. 30.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the ex-world's champion, fought a no-decision six-rounds bout with "Knock-out" Sweeny last night. Fitzsimmons knocked his opponent down repeatedly, and, according to the ringside opinion, he showed much of his old-time speed and hitting power.

A PRIZE FOR CARPENTIER.

PARIS, Jan. 30.

The Academie des Sports has awarded Georges Carpentier £400 as a prize for his victories over Bombardier Wells, the English heavyweight.

FIRE AT CHILDERS.

C.S.R. COMPANY'S MILL DAMAGED.

CHILDERS, Friday.

Fire did considerable damage to the C.S.R. Company's mill at Childers at an early hour this morning. When the outbreak was discovered at 3.30, the whole of the fodder room was ablaze. The chief engineer called up as many hands as possible, and efforts were made to save the eastern end of the mill where the bulk of the machinery was located. The fire was got under control at about 8 a.m.

It is believed to have originated in the fodder room.

The eastern end of the building, containing a large quantity of machinery, was saved. Mr. Fletcher, the manager, says that it is impossible at present to estimate the damage, but it appears to be considerable. Fortunately all the manufactured sugar had been despatched before the outbreak. Another account estimates the damage at £8000.

A SWAGMAN SHOT.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Arising out of a shooting incident near Queen's Bridge, early this morning, when a swagman named Michael Ryan was taken to Melbourne Hospital with a bullet wound in his thigh, Alfred Connor, 26, a fireman on the steamer Burrumbeet, was brought before the City Court to-day, charged with having inflicted grievous bodily harm on Ryan.

Constable Hogan, who arrested Connor while he was struggling to get free from Ryan and his mate, said that Connor admitted having fired shots, and charged them with having robbed him of his watch and chain. He added that he only fired in the air, and did not intend to do any harm. Ryan replied "You did; you fired to kill."

At the watchhouse Connor declared that he had made a mistake; neither of the swagmen had robbed him.

The case was remanded until Tuesday.

PARRAMATTA DISTRICT.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

The following cases have been set down for hearing at the Parramatta Court of Quarter Sessions, which opens on Monday:—Robert Woolf, escape; James Christie, horsestealing and larceny; Frank Abbott, forgery and uttering; William Barker and Cusack Kaye, larceny and false pretences; Walter Smith and George O'Brien, horsestealing and larceny; Alfred Edward Croft, assault; William Francis Mason, breaking, entering, and stealing; Reginald Mainwaring Paine, stealing; George Higgins, false pretences; Richard Phillis, assault; John Skilcorn, publishing false balance-sheet; John Patterson, manslaughter.

CASTLE HILL TRAMWAY.

On Thursday evening a meeting was held at Baulkham Hills, when it was decided to form a Central Hills Tramway League, embracing Castle Hill, Baulkham Hills, and Kellyville residents with a view to induce the Railway Commissioners to carry goods on the Baulkham Hills tramway. Messrs. T. R. Moxham and J. C. Hunt, Ms.P., addressed the meeting, and it was decided to at once approach the Railway Commissioners by deputation.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

There is a general complaint in regard to the lack of accommodation at the Parramatta High School. A large number of scholars have qualified for entry, but there is not nearly enough room to accommodate them. It was expected that the new school building would have been erected before this, but it has not yet been started, and there does not seem to be any prospect of getting a larger building for some time to come.

AS YOU LOVE YOUR BABY

YOU MUST PROTECT HIM AGAINST SUMMER DIARRHOEA, WHICH BECOMES EPIDEMIC IN HOT WEATHER AND CARRIES OFF THOUSANDS OF INFANTS IN A FEW WEEKS. HOW EVEN IN ENGLAND THIS SCOURGE CARRIES OFF THE LITTLE ONES IS SHOWN BY THE FOLLOWING:

"The Medical Officer of Health for Manchester reports that during the past week 29 deaths of children were due to diarrhoea, 28 of the children were under 12 months. The number of deaths gives but a small idea of the prevalence of the disease in the City."—Manchester Guardian, August 20, 1913.

"Thirty-five deaths of children under two years from diarrhoea and enteritis were registered last week, as against 10 last year and 19 in the previous week."—Birmingham Daily Post, August 19th, 1913.

"The Summer Disease (diarrhoea) has already made its appearance in Leeds, both among children and adults. 'If this sort of weather continues,' remarked a Leeds doctor yesterday, 'there will no doubt, be a lot of disease.' At present we are only experiencing the beginning of it."—Leeds Mercury, August 22nd, 1913.

Every baby who is artificially fed is particularly subject to the ravages of this disease, while he has also to face the dangers lurking in impure and unsanitary milk. Every careful mother knows only too well the difficulties of obtaining a satisfactory milk supply, particularly during these hot months.

TO PROTECT YOUR BABY

feed him on GLAXO. GLAXO is simply the solids of the purest milk with extra cream and milk-sugar added, modified by the Glaxo process, which causes the nourishing milk-curd to form into minute, soft particles, easily digested by even a weak baby. Being in a dry form, it is not affected by hot or thundery weather. It is prepared by the simple addition of boiling water, so that each feed is fresh, clean, germ-free milk. Neither milk nor cream has to be added to Glaxo.

HOW BABIES' LIVES WERE SAVED IN THE SUMMER DIARRHOEA EPIDEMIC OF 1911.

From the Annual Report of the Health and Sanitary Circumstances of Rotherham: "During the month of September 240 babies under one year of age were fed on Glaxo and only one died. Amongst the remainder—about 160—37 died."

IN THE HANDS OF A DOCTOR GLAXO IS A VALUABLE CURATIVE AGENT IN CASES OF SUMMER DIARRHOEA—BUT

"PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE."

and every mother who is rearing her baby on a manufactured food should immediately purchase a tin of this unique preventive of Summer Diarrhoea. It is far better to have Glaxo at hand than to have to lose valuable time sending for it. Baby so quickly loses strength, flesh, and vitality when once in the grip of Summer Diarrhoea.

TRADES SCHOOLS.

NEW SYSTEM.

ADVISORY COMMITTEES.

Considerable progress is being made by the Department of Public Instruction regarding the development of the trades schools under the new scheme of technical instruction introduced by Mr. Carmichael.

The Minister for Education stated yesterday that the department had received assurances of support from all persons interested, and he furnished a list of the various associations and unions that have been invited to nominate members of the advisory committees. In addition to the representatives of various associations and gentlemen prominent in the Government service and among private firms, the Superintendent of Technical Education, the Assistant Superintendent, and the lecturer-in-charge of the particular trade will be members of each advisory committee.

The constitution of the advisory committees is to be as follows:—

1. Building Trades Advisory Committee.—The New South Wales Institute of Architects, one representative; Master Builders' Association, three representatives (selected to have one expert in carpentry, one in masonry, and one general expert; Master House Painters and Decorators two; The United Furniture Trade Society of N.S.W., one; The Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, one; The Sydney Progressive Society of Carpenters and Joiners, one; United Operative Bricklayers' Trade Society of N.S.W., one; Operative Stonemasons' Society of N.S.W., one; The New South Wales Association of Operative Plasterers, one; The New South Wales Branch of Painters, Paperhangers, and Decorators Employees' Association of Australasia, one.

2. Engineering Trades Advisory Committee.—Mr. E. E. Lucy, chief mechanical engineer, N.S.W. Government Railways; Mr. D. Imm, works manager, Clyde Engineering Works; Mr. W. R. King, chief draftsman, Mort's Dock Engineering Company; Mr. Barr, naval constructor, Sutherland Dock. The undermentioned societies have been asked to nominate representatives: Engineering Association of New South Wales, two; The Amalgamated Society of Engineers, three; The Australasian Society of Engineers, three.

3. Sanitary Engineering and Plumbing Advisory Committee.—The following have been asked to nominate representatives: The Metropolitan Board of Water Supply and Sewerage, two representatives (one selected should be specially interested in sanitary engineering and the other in plumbing); Master Plumbers' Association, two; The Operative Plumbers' Society of New South Wales, two.

4. Tanning Trades Advisory Committee.—The following associations will be represented: The Master Tanners' Association, two; The Tanners, Curriers, and Leather Dressers' Association, two.

5. The Boot Trade Advisory Committee.—The following societies will be represented on the Boot Trade Committee: The Master Bootmakers' Association, two; The New South Wales Branch of the Australian Boot Trade Employees' Federation, two.

6. Electrical Engineering Trades Advisory Committee.—The following societies: Electrical Engineering Association, two; Electrical Trades Union of New South Wales, five; the electrical engineer, City Municipal Council; the electrical engineer, N.S.W. Government Tramways; J. F. Donohue, manager, Electric Light and Power Supply Co., Ltd.; A. J. Hansen; F. O. O'Donnell; Allan Warburton.

7. Printing Trades Advisory Committee.—The following associations: The New South Wales Master Printers' and Connected Trades Association, three representatives; The Sydney Daily Newspapers Employers' Association, one; The New South Wales Country Press Association, one; The Sydney Printers' Overseers' Association, one; The New South Wales Typographical Association, one; The Letterpress Printers' Machinists' Union, one; The Sydney Lithographic Society, one; The Bookbinders and Paper Rulers' Union, one.

8. Tailors' Cutting Advisory Committee.—The following associations: Master Tailors' Association, three; The Amalgamated Journeymen Tailors' Association of N.S.W., three.

9. Applied Art Advisory Committee.—C. L. Jones, manager, David Jones and Co.; C. Batholomew, Beard, Watson, and Co.; G. Rose, Esq., Beale and Co.'s Piano Factory; Ernest Wunderlich; Charles Wunderlich; D. H. Souter, William Brooks and Co.; John Shorter, Australian manager, Doulton and Co.; J. V. Rowe; G. Kollestrom, manufacturing jeweller; Y. E. Jacobs; McIntosh, sculptor. The following society will be asked to nominate representatives: Institute of Architects, Royal Art Society and Society of Artists.

10. Baking Trade Advisory Committee.—The undermentioned associations: Master Bakers' Association, three; The Operative Bakers' Association of New South Wales, three.

11. Coachmaking and Motor-car Building Advisory Committee. The undermentioned associations: Master Coach-builders, Wheelwrights, and Motor Body Builders' Association, three; The Amalgamated Coachmakers Railway Car and Waggon Makers, Wheelwrights' Society of New South Wales, four. (In selecting the representatives, it is desired that an expert in one of the following branches should be chosen. Light and heavy bodybuilding, motor-car building, wheelwrighting, and coachsmithing). The following: W. H. Elston, Government Railway Carriage Workshops, Redfern.

Students wishing to join the Balmain trades school for instruction in the engineering and building trades and in applied art may now make application for admission. An officer of the department will attend at the school from February 2 to 6 from 7 to 9 p.m.

JAVA EXHIBITION.

AUSTRALIA'S REPRESENTATION.

STATES HESITATE.

Providing Australia desires to be represented at the Colonial Exhibition which Java is holding at Samarang in August, she must make up her mind in the matter within the next fortnight.

Yesterday Mr. William Butter, organising secretary of the Exhibition, received a cable from Java informing him that after February 15 it would be impossible for pavilions and courts to be erected providing for Australia's representation.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

So far Japan, China, the British Indies, and Holland, of course, have announced their decision to take part in the Exhibition. Western Australia is the only Australian State that has decided to take part.

"The hesitancy of Australia is inexplicable to us," said Mr. Butler yesterday, "at Samarang you will have the chance of showing China, Japan, Holland, Java, and the people's of the British Indies, the Straits Settlements, Federated Malay States, included in the latter category, what wonderful products are grown and manufactured in Australia. We are certain that large numbers of persons living in the East Indies would import from Europe if they saw for themselves that they could secure as good an article which was produced close at hand, namely, in Australia. Australia, through the medium of this exhibition, has a golden opportunity of increasing her export trade with the East. Her trade with Java during the past five years has grown 75 per cent in spite of the fact that people have sought her products rather than having had them introduced by Australia. The Dutch Government does not grant a preference to Java, so Australian-grown or manufactured products have no undue tariff wall to face. Moreover, they are not handicapped by such heavy freight charges as those imported from Europe."

Mr Butter added that 1200 square yards of space had been reserved at Samarang, and as soon as Australia made up her mind in the right direction, the buildings necessary to accommodate her exhibits would be built. Plans and specifications had long been prepared. Within the course of the next few days a deputation of influential business men will wait upon the Prime Minister (Mr. Cook) and urge him to give the decision of the Commonwealth.

WOLLONGONG SHOW.

WOLLONGONG, Friday.

The second day of the Wollongong Show was held in fine weather. A large crowd was present, and keen interest was taken in the various ring events. Some fine jumping was witnessed in the first stage of the Wollongong Hunters' Plate of £30, for which 11 entered. The show was to have been officially opened by the Premier (Mr. Holman), who sent word at the last moment that he would be unable to attend owing to pressure of Cabinet business. Mr. J. B. Nicholson, M.L.A., filled the breach, and referred to the necessity for removing the showground to a spot nearer the railway station. Awards:—

CITY BY-ELECTION.

LANG WARD.

TWO PROGRESSIVE MEN.

The election of an alderman for Lang Ward to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of the late Lord Mayor (Mr. A. C. Cocks, M.L.A.), will take place to-day. The hours of polling are from 8 a.m. till 6 p.m., the Town Hall being the polling place. The two candidates—Sir Allen Taylor, M.L.C., and Mr. J. Spencer Brunton—are men of a calibre required in the civic life of Sydney, and it is expected that the contest will be a close one.

Mr. Brunton is at the head of the well-known milling firm of Brunton and Co. In 1900, when president of the Chamber of Commerce, he convened the meeting that resulted in the reform movement which led to the ousting from office of what is known as the "old brigade" of aldermen, and the return in their stead of the late Sir James Graham, Mr. Thomas Hughes, Mr. J. Lane Mullins, and others, who have, unfortunately, since retired from office. He has travelled a great deal, and taken a keen interest in methods of handling traffic, town planning, and other municipal problems. He is a man of proved business capacity, prudent and progressive, and has been identified with Lang Ward for over 20 years.

The past work of Sir Allen Taylor in the City Council is too well known to need reference. "I may," he states in his address to the electors, "be privileged to say I am still a warm advocate of city progress on sound commercial lines, and unless this course is followed closely year by year our early future means a continuance of stagnation. The stability of our city is beyond doubt, and it is the duty of our public administrators to be prepared to accept with courage the fullest responsibility in grappling with its immediate requirements, and provide the necessary conveniences to enable our business to be carried out on economical lines, and with comfort and safety. I am a firm advocate in demanding greater powers to enable our civic government to be carried out on lines in keeping with the demands of its people. The narrow, pessimistic spirit of parochialism must be avoided, and a foundation laid for sound, economical, and progressive administration."

THE WEATHER.

TEMPERATURES RISING.

110 DEG. AT CUE.

Further easting of the pressure systems has brought the centre of the "high" over the Tasman Sea, and its rear isobar over the SE States. To the westward tropical and Antarctic influences predominate.

With this distribution of atmospheric pressure, very little rainfall has occurred over Australia.

In New South Wales none whatever was reported. It was also absent in South Australia, but some scattered light falls were received in the Territory, north from Katherine. In Tasmania light to moderate amounts in the west, and in Victoria light at only a few stations. Even in Queensland, where such good rains have fallen lately, only a few light amounts were received. Also in Western Australia rain was practically absent.

The 9 a.m. temperature readings yesterday showed a general increase over those of Thursday. The largest differences reported were: 15 deg. higher at Kiandra, 13 deg. each at Wentworth and Deniliquin, 12 deg. at Coonabarabran, 11 deg. at Hay, and 10 deg. higher at Forbes, Mudgee, and Goulburn.

As on Wednesday, none of the maximum registrations on Thursday reached 100 deg. The highest was 95 deg. each at Collarenebri and Jerry's Plains.

Reports from the extreme SE corner were absent yesterday morning, but Kiandra advises a night temperature of 32 deg.—the lowest in the State.

At 9 a.m. it was fine and clear throughout, except for a little cloud and haze at a few places.

In the other States, the highest temperatures were experienced in Western Australia (where the heat-wave conditions have been lingering). Cue advised 110 deg., Carnarvon 109, Marble Bar, Onslow, and Winning Pool, each 108, and Hamelin Pool, Kalgoorlie, Southern Cross and York, each 106 deg. In Queensland the highest was 104 deg., at Urandangie.

STATION REPORTS.

Messrs. Gibbs, Bright, and Co. have received the following telegraphic advices of rainfall:—

W. Bull, Downs Station, Winton, Queensland, dated Jan. 24, 14, rainfall 21st and 22nd; head station, 15 points; Coolobooka, 28 points.

North Constantine Station, Cloncurry, Queensland, dated Jan. 26: 1 inch 7 points of rain, head station, 22nd, 4 inches 5 points; Williams, 19th, 4 inches 97 points; dip in different falls.

Fort Constantine Station, Cloncurry, Queensland, dated Jan. 27: 82 points rain, head station, yesterday.

MORT'S DOCK.

EFFECTS OF THE NEW ZEALAND STRIKE.

The half-yearly meeting of the Mort's Dock and Engineering Company, Ltd., was held yesterday, Mr. Kelso King presiding.

The chairman, in moving the adoptions of the report and balance-sheet, which is summarised in our financial columns, referred to the earnings having been less satisfactory during the past six months than experienced in recent years. The result was due to several unfavourable circumstances, the chief of which were caused by the very serious strike in New Zealand, which greatly affected the volume of shipping between the Dominion and the port of Sydney, and the smallpox scare, which was even more widespread in its influence and disastrous to the trade of the port than anything of that nature hitherto experienced. The margin of profit is so small that unless the docks and works are kept fairly busy throughout the year a favourable report can be looked for. Shareholders would notice that in order to pay the regular dividend at the modest rate of 6 per cent. per annum, as well as to provide for depreciation of the plant, the board had been obliged to appropriate a portion of the undivided balance brought forward from past year's earnings. As far as can be judged at this early period, the prospects were sufficiently good to permit the expectation of more favourable results during the current half-year than the company had just experienced. Among the improvements, mentioned as being in hand last year, was the alterations to the boiler shop, now completed, and the installation of a 20-ton electric crane, now almost finished; these additions to the plant would enable the company to build boilers of 2000 h.p.

Work in connection with the new foundry was proceeding rapidly, and that undertaking should be completed this year. It would be equipped with the very latest improvements, including up-to-date cupolas, blowers, loam mill, and core-making machinery, also electric travelling crane of five, 10, and 30 ton capacity, which would enable engine castings up to 30 tons to be made. A fourton reverbatory brass furnace has also been built to meet requirements for manganese or phosphor bronze propeller blades for mail steamers, and other large brass castings. The lengthening of Woolwich Dock was proceeding with as much expedition as possible. The contracts in hand include the building of two oil barges for the Australian Navy, and a large suction dredge for the Victorian Government; both of these important undertakings are proceeding satisfactorily.

The motion was carried.

AUSTRALIAN BANK OF COMMERCE.

AN EXPANDING BUSINESS.

The half-yearly meeting of the Australian Bank of Commerce was held at the banking house yesterday. Sir William P. Manning, chairman of directors, presided.

The chairman in moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, said that the figures presented to the meeting that day, compared with those of 12 months ago, showed an expanding business, and at the same time an extremely strong position. They would observe an increase of £381,543 in the bank's gross position—the total figures to-day exceeding the sum of £6,000,000. For the period under review, deposits had increased by £434,107 8s 11d (including an increase of over £160,000 in fixed deposits). On the assets side liquid securities had increased by £406,898 13s 7d. The amount of advances and other debts due to the bank was practically unaltered.

Bank premises had been reduced £14,686 3s 2d, by reason of the sale of surplus and unnecessary lands in connection with various branches. The liquid securities as against liabilities to the public, showed a holding of over 55 per cent., or in other words, for every pound entrusted to the bank by the public the bank held 11s in liquid securities. Total assets compared with total liabilities to the public disclosed a ratio of 194 per cent.—a very strong position indeed.

After making the usual provisions, the profits were £62,262, as against £60,092 12 months ago, out of which the directors appropriated the sum of £10,000 to reserve, which fund now stood at £35,000. Very satisfactory progress had been made in the realisation of old assets.

The directors were pleased to report the inauguration of an officers' provident fund, to which the bank had arranged to contribute for a period of years, in order to place it on a sound basis. The past season, from the pastoral and agricultural point of view, had been beneficial. A check had been placed on the tendency shown in some districts a short time back, to enhance unduly the values of agricultural land. But at the same time the directors had taken every opportunity to make advances on desirable securities when offered. They regretted, through advancing years, Mr. Charles Henry Myles, had resigned his seat on the board. Mr. Myles had been a director since the foundation of the bank, and they felt sure he carried with him the shareholders best wishes, as he did the directors, on his retirement. Mr. Herbert R. Lysaght had accepted the position of director, vacated by Mr. Myles. The general manager, Mr. A. P. Stewart, after many arduous, trying years in the service of the bank, had requested for some time past to be relieved of his onerous duties. It would be superfluous on the directors' part to remind shareholders of the splendid services rendered to this institution and shareholders by Mr. Stewart. His indomitable courage and tenacity had been unfailing, and also his sagacity in dealing with the business of the bank generally. The task of the directors in replacing a man of Mr. Stewart's calibre was not a light one. In securing the services of a man of Mr. Charles McA. C. Shannon's experience and attainments they felt sure that the shareholders were to be congratulated.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Herbert R. Lysaght and carried unanimously.

The chairman moved "that on the eve of the retirement of Mr. Alexander Pentleton Stewart from the general managership of the Australian Bank of Commerce, Ltd., the proprietors place on record their great appreciation of the splendid services he has rendered to this institution."

Mr. A. L. Mullens seconded the resolution, which was supported by Messrs. Harton and Scott, and carried unanimously.

The chairman stated that the dividend was payable at the close of the meeting.

TRADES AND LABOUR.

LABOUR COUNCIL'S NOMINATIONS.

THE TIMBER COMMISSION.

The members of the Timber Commission left last night for Melbourne, en route for Western Australia.

NAMBUCCA BAR.

STEAMERS HELD UP.

BOWRAVILLE, Friday.

The condition of the Nambucca Heads is still a source of considerable anxiety and trouble. Although the Myee passed in on Monday there was not sufficient water for her to cross out again. The Hastings is still held up inside. The dredge Latona left for the Macleay, and is now at Port Macquarie. Telegrams have been sent from the progress association to Mr. Briner and Mr. Morton, requesting them to endeavour to induce the Navigation Department either to send the dredge Neptune from Sydney to cut a channel from outside or order the return of the Latona. The position is now serious. The combined associations will arrange a deputation to wait on the Minister in Sydney to urge the claims of the district, which is losing thousands of pounds every week because of the block. Material for railway construction is now being sent to the Macleay, and carted to the main camp about Warrell Creek.

FEDERAL MACHINE.

DOUBLE DISSOLUTION NECESSARY.

KALGOORLIE, Friday.

In the course of an address at a complimentary banquet in Kalgoorlie Sir John Forrest referred to the present situation in Federal politics. He said that there was no doubt that in the light of recent events and the present situation the Federal political machine had broken down. It was not right to allow public affairs to be made the play of parties, and the only way out of the difficulty was a double dissolution, which would enable the people to give a mandate to one party or the other. He expected that both parties would shortly agree to this course. He thought he could say that in the near future their masters—for those who had the votes were the masters—would be called upon to send back a Government strong enough to carry on the affairs of the country.

THE WOODWORKER WILL GET WHAT HE EARNS.
Not what he wishes and prays for does a man get, but what he really EARNS.
It's no use kicking against FATE in the abstract, and letting the "other fellow" come in with modern tools in the concrete.
For the go-ahead woodworker there's nothing like having GOOD tools—good through and through.
And that's why we ask you to get

EVERY WOOD SHOP NEEDS A FAY AND EGAN No. 254 BENCH HAND PLANER AND JOINTER.
In a small shop it will take care of all planing, jointing, rabbetting, etc.
In a large shop it will start quicker and do the small jobs just as well, and at less cost, than its bigger brothers.
If several like it are placed at different points in a large shop, they will save many a step and greatly increase output.
It is so handy that the hand plane is practically eliminated wherever it is used.
It can be placed on a bench, a cabinet, or on an iron pedestal.
It takes up small floor space.
It consumes hardly any power in operation.
It is quickly adjusted for different kinds of work.
It has tables with lips of steel, mounted on inclines.
It cannot cut off any fingers, as it is fitted with a patented circular safety cutterhead.
It will turn out perfectly smooth work because its safety head is round, runs true, and is fitted with thin air-hardened "Tungsten" steel knives, which require sharpening only once a week if jointing attachment is properly used.
It has made money for every wood shop in which it is used.
It is sold at a price within the reach of any shop owner, and quickly pays its own way.

MACHINERY.

INCREASE YOUR OUTPUT
BY USING BETTER LATHES.
DRUMMOND'S.
There isn't any doubt that high speed machine tools have come to stay. You simply MUST have them to make good in the fight for business. If you want a better output—and, of course, you do—instal Drummond's Lathes. For accuracy and speed they set a very high standard, and we invite you to a critical inspection. If you cannot call ask our expert to go into the matter by letter.
3½in DRUMMOND LATHE, for precise work and model engineering. The headstock can be set over for making small taper cock plugs, boring the holes to exact angle, and many other little jobs of like nature. The tail stock can also be set over for long taper turning, or to obtain positive accuracy for piston rod and other parallel turning.
4in DRUMMOND LATHE is built along the lines of the watch and clock makers' precision lathe, but is much heavier in type. It is full self acting and screw cutting, both the saddle and the cross slide of the slide rest are fitted with T slots—a slotted angle plate fitting the cross slide being also included.
Other Drummond Lathes in stock are:—
5, 7½, 9, and 12½ inch.
And amongst the Machine Tools we sell you can get:—
DRILLING MACHINES, RADIAL DRILLS, BLOWERS, PUNCHING and SHEARING MACHINES, HACK SAWS, SHAPERS, POWER HAMMERS, MILLING MACHINES.

MOTOR CARS, BICYCLES, ETC.

ON THE PURCHASE OF A CAR.

Extract from "The Lancet," issue of Nov. 8, 1913.

"One of the most usual queries which the writer receives is—'What make of car do you advise for a Doctor?' Naturally, it is invidious in these notes, specially to recommend any one particular make, though frequently 5 or 6 types can be suggested which will fulfil the needs of the inquirer, and from which he should be able to make his choice.

"The one point which should be borne in mind by a medical man in search of a car for professional use, is that the chief cost in the maintenance of the car is the tyre bill, and, therefore, he who wishes to keep his running expenses down should not get a bigger car than he can afford to keep up. The lighter the car the lower the tyre bill, and also the lower the repair bill. Good design, first-class materials, and care in erection eliminate many repair bills.

"In the WAVERLEY CAR Light Cars Co., Ltd., of 115 Great Portland-street, London W., have produced an automobile that is excellently suited to meet the Doctor's demand for a medium-powered car, equipped and ready for the road at a moderate price. It is always important in the case of light cars to distinguish between those that are built for speed only and those that are designed for accommodation. The WAVERLEY has a London-built and very roomy body, and has a particularly good spring suspension in the back wheels. I had one of these cars for week-end test, and gave it a good 150 miles sampling through London traffic and up and down some of the really severe hills round Guildford. I was impressed by the extreme smoothness of the driving effort at moderately high speeds, freedom from engine vibration, and flexibility. As a result of my test, I found the steering facile and the engine answered rapidly to the depression of the accelerator pedal. The car had a good turn of speed, and behaved throughout the trip in a satisfactory manner. The Petrol Consumption was from 30 miles to the gallon.

"A plaint of the owner driver is inaccessibility, and many a motoring Doctor has complained to me of bruised knuckles and wasted time in trying to do some small adjustment or repair. In this car the magneto can be released by undoing a thumb screw, the undoing of another discloses the valve tappets, and the petrol tap can be taken out in a trice. I think if I were buying a car, these facts would greatly influence my decision. An important point with Doctors is starting the engine from the cold. I found this car to start easily after a night's rest with a sharp swing and no special effort was needed to give that swing. I also noticed that the fittings of the car were neither cheap nor shoddy, and that these parts, which, so often on low-priced cars, 'tell the tale,' were as well made and finished as could be desired."

EVERY PERSON studies Economy, but all Motor Car Buyers and Users do not know how to practise it. Low running and repair costs form the true economy of motoring. These can only be obtained by having a car of good quality, which costs a little more in the first place, but saves continual expense afterwards, and leaves its owner free from the worries attendant on breakdowns. If you consider your pocket, the car for you is an

ARGYLL.

Not only are Argyll Cars cheap to run, but they possess many distinctive features and an appearance which is extremely smart and graceful.

CAR LOGIC.

A good make of Second-hand Car is a better investment than a new cheap Car. A new car depreciates from 30 to 50 per cent. the first year, a second-hand car bought at the right price is always a saleable asset.

We have Cars and Lorries that have had very little use going for half, or less than half, their original cost, and we are authorised by the Owners to guarantee their condition. We have sold hundreds of Cars, and can refer you to satisfied clients throughout the country.

Among the Cars we have for sale are Single and Double Seated Cars, that have been left with us for sale by the Owners, who have gone to Europe or are going during the next few months.

Write to us, stating the class of Car you want, and we will forward particulars of the Car we would recommend for your purpose, if we have one that would suit you.

Assistance given to purchasers, who are also taught to drive gratis.

"ARMSTRONG-WHITWORTH" CARS!

Our large display embraces all the modern and popular types, with H.P. of 15-20, 17-25, 22-5, and 25. Seating capacity to suit all requirements is represented by the single-seater (with its wide, deep seat), carrying three persons; the Torpedo body, which seats four, and the big Tourer, which seats five or six in comfort.

We would invite your inspection of several "ARMSTRONG-WHITWORTHS" now in our Repair shop, which have run well over their 50,000 miles. You need only examine one or two of the crucial parts in order to have brought home to you the quality of material that enters into the construction of the famous Elswick Car.

SECOND-HAND CARS.

Just now we have an especially fine range of these, and a rare opportunity is afforded the motorist to secure a sound car of modern construction at an exceedingly moderate price.

NORTH-BRITISH TYRES!

With their deep tread and heavy walls, these tyres have proved repeatedly that they can withstand the ruts and loose surfaces of our roads. All sizes are stocked by us.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE TO THE RUDGE MULTI.

Mr. Theo. Mason, writing from Albury, says:—"I am very pleased with the Multi-Rudge. After six months, during which I have, with very little experience, ridden thousands of miles, mainly in hill country, over unmade roads, it is as good and reliable as new. Between the 'gate' gear and free engine, I can just about crawl out of any broken gully, you could well drive a horse and sulky over. My business takes me largely into the Mountains, particularly in the winter months, so it is having a hard test, and stood it to my entire satisfaction. Apart from a 'blow out,' I have never been stuck up. Buying another later, or in recommending it to my friends, I reckon the extra cost over many another make, well justified."

The Rudge is the Motor Cycle for the man who wants the maximum results.

It is one of the foremost English motor Cycles, and has won its way to the front by reason of its superiority.

In the recent Sydney-to-Melbourne Reliability trial the Rudge-Multi gained TWO GOLD MEDALS AND FULL POINTS FOR RELIABILITY.

Call in our Showrooms, and see the Rudge-Multi. We are open till 9 on Friday evening.

We will send you our Catalogue M35 post free on request.

AGAIN THE "DOUGLAS" WINS.

F. Mellor, on his "Douglas," won the one-mile speed race at Newcastle in remarkably good time on Anniversary Day.

THE GREAT NORTHERN ANNUAL RELIABILITY TRIAL

resulted in three riders dead-heating for first place. One of these machines was a 2¾-h.p. Douglas ridden by F. Mellor. The other two machines were 6-h.p. and 3½-h.p. respectively. Therefore, the Douglas draws with honours in its favour. Every time the Douglas proves itself the superior machine.

In N. S. Wales it boasts of its superiority in the Zenith Cup, the Canterbury Hospital Sports, the Sydney to Melbourne Reliability Trial, and now the Newcastle Reliability Trial.

The superiority of the Douglas is proved by the fact that other large English Manufacturers are adopting the horizontal double engine as used in the Douglas.

We are still booking orders to arrive, notwithstanding the fact that we are landing over 20 machines a month; so don't procrastinate and be sorry—order now.

EVERY MAN CAN HERE READ A REASON WHY HE SHOULD OWN AND RIDE A 3½-H.P. "SPEEDWELL" MOTOR CYCLE.

More than any other machine, the Motor Cycle is the vehicle of practical utility. Its readiness for instant action, its handiness, and its modest requirements in the way of accommodation make it superior to all other means of locomotion.

And, with the 3½-h.p. "Speedwell" you can go anywhere, over any sort of road, at any speed from 4 to 50 miles an hour. This Motor Cycle makes you free and independent to go where you wish, when you wish to. No waiting for trams. No waiting for trains. Its upkeep cost is of no account when you consider the distances you can cover and the saving of time, inconvenience, and bodily fatigue.

Of the numerous excellent makes of Motor Cycles on the market, this stands out as the recognised leader. Its supreme popularity entitles us to make this statement. Not for racing alone, but for Reliability, Hill-climbing, Touring Efficiency, Endurance, and Economy of Operation.

We should take great pleasure in showing it to you—will you call?

PALMER CORD TYRES TRUE TO SIZE!

THERE IS NO VARIATION IN CIRCUMFERENCE.

PALMER CORD TYRES.

The trustful motorist, buying, say, an 895 mm. tyre, takes it for granted that it IS 895. But recent disclosures in the "Autocar" show that such reliance should not be placed in all makes of tyres—one set of covers of a certain make, on being tested, proved to be 5⅛ inches under size.

Palmer Cord Tyres are standardised—they NEVER vary. Each tyre is true to its marked size. Palmer Cords are, size for size, larger than many so-called over-size tyres.

OVERLAND.

Revealed in a searching analysis by a British Motor Engineer, acting on behalf of "The Motor," March 18, 1913,

STARTING.—The starting up of an Overland engine is quite a good feature.

ENGINE.—On the Overland we should perhaps lay ourselves open to the possibility of [illegible] little if we said that the engine was noticeably quieter than the average high-grade car, [illegible] running along in traffic, or parading gently at 12 m.p.h., the engine was inaudible to the passengers.

CLUTCH.—The clutch on the Overland car which we tested was nothing short of a [illegible] derful paradox. Its construction is the personification of simplicity—in operation it was [illegible] tion. A clutch nearer to perfection than that on the Overland Car has never fallen to our lot.

TRANSMISSION.—Here, again, one can pass a high degree of praise relative to the question of the quiet running of the indirect gears.

BRAKES.—The action of the brakes was smooth and progressive, the great charm, however, [illegible] already pointed out, that on no single occasion were we aware of the operation of the brakes by reason of any noise emanating from them.

FINAL.—We have now dealt with the leading points of this car, relative especially to the three units of construction, dealt with at length, namely, the clutch, the gear box, and the brakes, and the opinion which we formed was of no uncertain order. One cannot risk making comparisons, as the old adage tells us that they are odious. Assume, however, in an endeavour to evade the dictates of the proverb that we coin a new car in imagination, and call it the "[illegible] tion." Its specifications shall be according to a standard type of car, its price shall be either £355 complete, twice that sum, three times the amount, or yet four times. If the creature of our imagination were to materialise, we do not see how we could hope to find anything better in the respective units alluded to than those existing in the Overland car, which we have tried.

In epitome, then, the Overland Car is an Aristocrat in its class, and in certain units of its chassis, an aristocrat in any class, whilst from the pecuniary consideration it is of exceptional value.

YOU DO NOT KNOW HOW GOOD AN "OVERLAND" IS UNTIL YOU'VE TRIED ONE.

INSTRUCTION IN SANITARY SCIENCE.

The attention of Shire and Municipal Officers and the Public in this State is invited to the Correspondence Course of Instruction in Sanitary Science conducted by the Sydney Technical College. This Course has been specially designed to prepare for positions as Sanitary Inspectors Ladies and Gentlemen who are debarred owing to distance from Sydney from attending the Classes at the Central Technical College. Persons resident in the City and Suburbs are not eligible to take this Course, and must attend the ordinary College Lectures.
This Course, besides preparing students for the Sanitary Inspector's Certificate issued by the College, covers the requirements for the Royal Sanitary Institute's Certificate as Inspector of Nuisances.
The Public Health administration offers a most promising field to ambitious young men not afraid of hard work; and this Course enables them to qualify for higher, more responsible, better-paid positions.
Pamphlets giving full information as to this Course may be had on application to JAMES NANGLE, Superintendent of Technical Education.

THE COMMONWEALTH MOTOR SCHOOL, 24a King-street, Camperdown. Phone, Newtown 800.

MOTOR DRIVING MEANS MORE MONEY.
If the experience is gained where the reputation for first-class training is sound, and will stand investigation. People from the country frequently tell us that Motor Schools in Sydney are notorious for charging high fees without giving proper tuition. Now we consider this a slur upon the name we have for fair dealing. 30 PUPILS PASSED CITY POLICE TEST last month.
By all means avoid institutions whose reputation is unknown or doubtful. In order to convince those who may be contemplating entering this well-paid and increasing profession, that MOTORCAR AND ADAMS' VOTAP SCHOOL is entirely above suspicion, we earnestly solicit thorough searching inquiries. We will gladly show original letters from satisfied pupils, also others from Motor Car Importers and Engineers of the highest standing in Sydney, who not only send outside inquirers, but even their own.
VALUED CLIENTS TO OUR MOTOR SCHOOL.
Five minutes' interview with us will cost you nothing, but may save you keen disappointment in the future.

THE QUESTION IS—
"HOW CAN I EARN MORE MONEY"?
That is the question to which the only answer is "Increase your earning powers." You can do this best through Stott's Correspondence College (The original Stott), 70 Pitt-street, Sydney.
The first step to promotion is to mention the subject in which you are interested and apply for a free copy of our Illustrated Booklet.

J. S. W. HAIR FOOD

IS OF PROVED EXCELLENCE.

The general efficiency of J. S. W. Hair Food has been proved by hundreds of users. Many a proud possessor of beautiful hair can say, "It's all due to JOHN STRANGE WINTER'S Hair Food Preparations." Just now, when the hair has been tried by the summer's heat and is inclined to be broken and dry, a little massaged into the roots each night is most refreshing, and of inestimable value. It will stimulate the young hair, which is now growing, and endow it with a softness and glossiness indescribably attractive. The two lotions being oily and non-oily, J. S. W. Hair Food satisfies the needs of every person.

HAVE YOUR SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

PERMANENTLY

REMOVED BY ELECTROLYSIS

What are you going to do about that disfiguring growth of hair on your face?
Don't continue to pull the hairs out, because in time you will increase the growth tenfold, and the hairs will gradually grow stronger, coarser, and uglier.

There is no successful home treatment for PERMANENTLY removing SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS.

ELECTROLYSIS is a certain, safe, and satisfactory cure, and is recommended by the Medical Profession. However, you cannot do this for yourself, any more than you can be your own dentist. It must be performed by an EXPERT.

I AM AN ELECTROLYSIS EXPERT, and will remove your Superfluous hairs

PERMANENTLY,

without causing you the slightest pain or discomfort.

Do not put the matter off until another time. Make up your mind to call and see me during the week. REMEMBER, paying me a visit places you under no obligation whatever.

CONSULTATION AND ADVICE FREE.

WHY OUR PLATES ARE SO SUCCESSFUL.

Plates are the last resort in dentistry—that is, they are a substitute in cases where all the teeth of one jaw are missing. Your next thought is of what materials the best plates are made from, and where they can be had. Perhaps in no field of the profession has research extended so thoroughly as in the proper plate material.

The fact has been thoroughly established that Refined Rubber is the only satisfactory, lasting material for the construction of Plates. Too many dentists attempt to secure results with other substances, either because of cheapness—which means bigger profits—or through antiquated notions and ignorance.

Only the best materials are used in the making of the Spencer Nolan Plates, which means longer service and greater efficiency. SET OF ARTIFICIAL TEETH, UPPER OR LOWER, FROM ONE GUINEA.

THE FASHION CORSETS

OF THE PERIOD.

Kabo Kabo Kabo Kabo Kabo — Style is, of course, a great feature to consider when buying Corsets, but comfort and service should be ranked as equally important. In "Kabo" Corsets you get foremost style, absolute comfort, and excellent service.

THEY ARE BUILT ON LIVE MODELS.

Kabo Kabo Kabo Kabo Kabo — You will find the Kabo the proper Corset for all occasions—for the home, for the street, the theatre, or the recreation ground. They conform to every motion and position of the figure.

Kabo Kabo Kabo — They are loop-laced, have untarnishable metal mounts and double-strip interlining, which prevents the bones from breaking through.

AINSWORTH'S

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

At eleven o'clock on Thursday night the Great Pitt-street Fire was at the height of its fury, and the tongues of fire and hail of burning fragments seemed determined on a wild bout of destruction.

Whilst regretting the great losses in adjoining premises, Ainsworth's are pleased to announce, owing to the well-directed efforts of Sydney's fire-fighters, they escaped without a singe, a scratch, or a drop of water.

Even the "Plum of a Sale" Plumes on the Windows are as fresh as paint, and the GOLDEN DROPS OF AINSWORTH'S FIRST SALE ARE PLEASING THOUSANDS.

REANEY'S REMOVING.

Back to City-road—in a fine, modern surgery over the new E. S. and A. BANK, LTD. There right opposite Grace Bros.—on the first floor, REANEY is opening—on Monday next—
AN UP-TO-DATE DENTAL PARLOUR, for the benefit of his old Western Suburbs friends.
He is bringing back his marvellous ambidextral skill—his wonderfully painless System of Extractions, and an expert staff of assistants.
NOTE.—Dentist Reaney will, in future, confine his energies to CITY-ROAD, Oxford-street being a branch only.
Come and see him Monday. Bring your teeth troubles and get his FREE advice.

TEA—INCOMPARABLE LIPTON'S.

According to the poet, "man wants but little here below." This statement is to be accepted tolerantly as poetic license. However, if he wants little here below, modern exigencies demand that his helpmate should get the best.

THEREFORE, INSIST ON HAVING LIPTON'S QUALITY TEA.

Lipton's great expert, Mr. H. C. Till, guarantees that the tea offered to the Australian public is the purest and the highest grade Tea in the world.

PRICES, 1/3 TO 2/ PER LB.

It is identically similar to the tea supplied to the English, German, Spanish, and Italian Royal Houses.

LADIES,

SATURDAY IS ALWAYS

AN EVENTFUL DAY AT FOY'S SUMMER FAIR.

THOUGH A SHORT SHOPPING MORNING, THERE ARE ATTRACTIVE OFFERINGS IN THE SECTIONS DEVOTED TO HOUSEWANTS,

DRESS GOODS, COSTUMES,

LACES, GLOVES, BOOTS,

HATS, FURNITURE.

AT SAVINGS ALMOST TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

THE SUMMER IS STILL WITH US!

MONEY SPENT AT THE "FAIR" IS A WISE OUTLAY!

TO-DAY IS AN OPPORTUNITY OF GREAT INTEREST TO SHREWD BUYERS.

WHATEVER YOUR NEEDS—BUY NOW, AND ENJOY THE CONTENTMENT OF THE THRIFTY.

LADIES, TAKE TIME AND THINK BEFORE YOU TOUCH YOUR SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS,

for if you are not careful of what you do you will spend time, money, and many hours of sorrow when you find the little hairs YOU THOUGHT you had so CAREFULLY DESTROYED peeping through the surface.

I ASK YOU NOW,
HOW MANY OF YOU SIT IN FRONT of your mirrors and say:—"If I had only reasoned before I touched the hair I might have known I would only break and remove the top of the hairs?"

THE FOLLICLE MUST BE DESTROYED and

THE HAIR REMOVED.

"I must ask the aid of someone who has made a study, and had some experience, for, like everything in life, it takes years to become perfect; but it is through many failings we find success."
NOW, ONE WORD OF ADVICE.
Come to the expert of thirteen years' standing, and you can have all the superfluous growths removed; and THINK OF IT, I WILL FORFEIT £100

IF I FAIL TO CURE YOU.

So call and see me, and have a trial treatment

FREE OF CHARGE,

then take the hairs away and have them examined under a microscope; you will see the root of the hairs.

THIS MUST CONVINCE YOU.

You will, perhaps, not come to me, thinking my fees will be too high; IN THAT IDEA YOU ARE MISTAKEN, as I guarantee to remove so many hairs and you can take twelve months to have the number specified removed.

FACE MASSAGE.

The system I employ improves the skin greatly, by increasing the sluggish circulation, emptying out the secluded pores of harmful secretions, gives tone to the skin itself through the agency of proper exercise, so commonly neglected, and, finally, builds up the lazy, tired, and unused or wrongly used muscles of the face. Sometimes it is necessary to use a skin and tissue builder; this I have found in

NETTOYER FACE CREAM.

It will feed up the starved tissue of the skin; it helps to clear the skin; and is invaluable for use before applying powder to the face.
GUARANTEED NOT TO PROMOTE SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.
PRICE, 3/6 Small Pot, 6/ Large Pot; Postage 6d extra.
If you suffer with SUNBURN or

FRECKLES,

TRY NETTOYER FRECKLE CREAM.
It will remove them, and also whiten the skin. Only one price, 5/ per pot, 6d extra for postage.

THE QUESTION REDUCES ITSELF INTO THIS:

Are you willing to trust to luck when buying Biscuits, or are you going to ASSURE yourself of getting the finest and purest made?

Very well, then—

INSIST ON ARNOTT'S ONLY!

Here are the reasons:—

They are the purest, daintiest and most wholesome. They have a flavour that defies description. Other leaves imitation impotent. Indeed, they are quite the best from every standpoint.

"ARNOTT'S ONLY, PLEASE!"

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

ST. JAMES'-CHAMBERS,

KING STREET (opp. Queen's Statue),

January 31, 1914.

Dear Mr. MANAGER,

I'm determined that no Dentist in the world will treat your readers more considerately, more liberally, or more carefully than I. With this object in view, I wish them to know that with regard to Artificial Teeth, I'll make them, and they can be worn for a month to see that they are satisfactory; if they're not, the Patient can return them, and I'll give the money back.
Further, I'll also give a Written Guarantee that I'll keep them in thorough order—against accident or otherwise, for three years—without any further charge.
As you know, I've been at my present address for the past 25 years; this fact in itself speaks volumes. In case anyone asks how much a Set of Teeth costs, tell them from £3 3s.

Yours Faithfully,

CHARLES I. HARRIS.

P.S.—By the bye, I nearly forgot to state that I'm here from 9 in the morning till 9 at night.
